

Increase its force of cavalry and artillery on the Galician frontier, in consequence of fresh movements of the Russian columns.

OMAHA STILL IN THE LEAD.

St. Paul Gets Another Drubbing of an Emphatic Kind.

CLARKE BLUFFED THE VISITORS.

Other Games on the Diamond—Close of the Bicycle Race—General Sporting Matters From all Parts of the Country.

St. Paul Yesterday Again.

Well, Omaha just simply knocked all the conceit out of St. Paul yesterday afternoon, and now the Apostles think they can't play ball a little bit.

There were about fifteen hundred people present and they kept the air resonant with wild acclamations.

It was such a pretty sight to see the white socks pound the life out of the Minnesota gang.

Tuckerman was in the box for the visitors and several times before the expiration of bombardment he wished he was in his grave.

Daddy Clarke did the twirling for the home team, and he had the foe at his mercy.

Omaha received a couple of kalamines in the first and second innings.

In the second inning Andrews took first on balls, and he immediately "sashayed" around to third on Walsh's dandy single.

Walsh made second in the throw. He sent both men flying across the plate on a timely hit to left.

Not to be outdone, the Saints came in for their half. One run, however, was all they could do.

Cackling Carroll made a hit and stole second—yes, and third, too. In sliding to the latter place he struck a finger out of play.

He got home on Werrick's out at first. Messitt opened up the fourth with a corker for a couple of bases. Canavan was retired at first, but Jack made a hit on the play.

Clarke reached first on an error. Strauss knocked out a couple of sacks for himself, scoring Messitt and Clarke. Conroy took first on a muff by Tredway, and Crooks was hit by a wild whizzer on T. over Werrick's head.

Head and Strauss were out on the play, and Crooks went to third. Andrews and his game leg stole second, and then run home with Crooks on Riley's error, which also made Walsh's third.

Nagle went out at first, Walsh reaching first on the play. Messitt then made his second appearance on the base, and he was out on a hit by hitting way out to left for a clean home run.

Everybody screamed with delight as Scraggy Jack pranced around the square like a young colt. He then made a hit and scored on Tuckerman's wild throw.

Strauss' out ended the inning.

In the seventh, eighth and ninth Omaha added a single score to her total in each, and in the ninth St. Paul bagged four. These, however, were a pure gift from Clarke.

The game was ended, and he very sensibly made up his mind to take no risks with his arm. So he just tossed the ball in to the catcher, and they managed to touch him up a little.

It was a miserable day for ball playing, and the game was much delayed by the clouds of dust that over and over enveloped the diamond. With good weather the white legs would have annihilated Mr. Tuckerman, and as it was he was badly disgraced.

The score: OMAHA.

Table with 5 columns: AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Rows for Omaha players: Strass, 5 1 1 0 0 0 0; Cleveland, 4 0 0 0 0 0 0; Conroy, 4 1 0 0 1 0 0; Crooks, 2b, 5 2 3 0 6 5 0; Andrews, 1b, 3 3 1 0 12 0 2; Canavan, 3 0 0 0 0 0 0; Nagle, c, 5 0 3 13 10 0; Messitt, m, 5 2 3 0 1 0 0; Canavan, 3 0 0 0 0 0 0; Clarke, p, 5 2 0 1 0 4 0. Total: 43 14 13 3 27 30 5.

Table with 5 columns: AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Rows for St. Paul players: Hawes, 1b, 4 0 1 1 0 0 0; Murphy, m, 4 0 1 1 0 0 0; Pickett, ss, 5 0 0 0 1 2 1; Strass, 2b, 4 1 0 0 0 0 0; Carroll, 3b, 4 1 1 0 3 0 0; Kelly, cf, 3 1 0 0 1 4 1; Werrick, 2b, 3 1 1 0 4 3 1; Canavan, 3 0 0 0 0 0 0; Farmer, c, 4 1 1 0 3 2 0. Total: 34 6 6 2 27 14 0.

Table with 5 columns: AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Rows for Omaha: Omaha, 0 1 0 0 0 1 1-14; St. Paul, 0 1 0 0 0 0 1-4-6.

Runs earned—Omaha 3, St. Paul 2. Two-base hits—Strauss, Messitt, Canavan, Werrick, Hawes.

Three-base hits—None. Struck out—By Clarke 2, by Tuckerman 1. Passed balls—By Clarke 4, by Tuckerman 1.

Milwaukee 13, Denver 6. DENVER, Colo., April 27.—The second game between the Milwaukee and Denver teams resulted in a victory for the former team by a score of 6 to 3.

The visitors showed their batting powers, and by a bunching of hits in the eighth and ninth innings, secured ten runs, which the Denver boys could not overcome.

The home team played a miserable game. Score: DENVER.

Table with 5 columns: AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Rows for Milwaukee: Dalrymple, 1b, 3 1 1 0 3 0 1; Smith, 3b, 5 0 1 0 3 3 1; Hays, 2b, 4 1 1 0 2 0 0; Rowe, 1b, 4 1 0 2 11 0 0; Dolan, c, 4 0 3 0 3 5 0; McLeod, rf, 4 1 2 0 0 1 0; Hays, 2b, 4 1 0 0 3 0 0; McAndrews, 2b, 3 0 0 0 1 4 0; Healy, p, 4 0 0 0 1 4 0. Total: 35 13 11 27 15 1.

Table with 5 columns: AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Rows for Milwaukee: Poorman, rf, 3 2 2 0 1 0 0; Alton, 3b, 5 1 1 0 1 0 0; Hays, 2b, 4 1 1 0 2 0 0; Sutton, 1b, 4 3 1 1 3 5 0; Morrissey, 1b, 5 1 3 0 12 1 0; Lowe, cf, 4 0 1 0 1 2 0; Hays, 2b, 4 1 0 0 3 0 0; Griffith, p, 3 0 0 0 3 0 0; Crossley, c, 4 1 1 0 6 0 0. Total: 35 13 11 27 15 1.

Earned runs—Denver 4, Milwaukee 6. Home runs—By Strass, Messitt, Canavan, Werrick, Hawes.

Two-base hits—Smith, McClellan, Poorman, Morrissey.

Wild pitches—Healy 1, Griffith 1. Double plays—Sutton to Herr, to Morrissey.

Struck out—By Healy 2, Griffith 5. Stolen bases—Denver 3, Milwaukee 3. Time of game—Two hours.

St. Joseph 18, Des Moines 5. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 27.—St. Joseph won today by following every Des Moines error with a hit. Schellhaas catching was the only feature, except, perhaps, the ragged fielding of Des Moines. Score: DES MOINES.

Table with 5 columns: AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Rows for St. Joseph: Patton, rf, 6 0 0 0 0 1 3; Mackay, 1b, 4 0 0 0 0 0 0; Macfarlan, ss, 4 1 2 0 0 5 1; S. Smith, 1b, 4 2 3 0 12 0 0; Phelan, 3b, 3 1 0 0 1 0 0; Hart, c, 4 0 1 0 1 0 0; Council, 3b, 4 1 0 0 4 1 1; Trahey, c, 4 0 0 0 7 4 2; Emmer, 1b, 3 2 0 0 1 0 0; Alexander, p, 2 0 1 0 6 0 1. Total: 40 5 3 1 27 19 10.

Des Moines. ST. JOSEPH. Earned runs—Des Moines 1, St. Joseph 4. Two-base hits—Schellhaas, H. Smith, Ardner, Krier.

Three-base hits—S. Smith. Double plays—Macfarlan to Phelan to S. Smith.

Base on balls—Off Emmer 6, off Alexander 5, off Council 4.

Passed balls—Trahey 3. Wild pitch—Emmer 2. Time of game—Two hours and thirty minutes.

St. Louis City 7, Minneapolis 8. ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 27.—It was a pitched battle to-day, and Hengler took the game by a gift of two bases on balls. Duke, the new pitcher for the visitors, threw too swift for the locals. Score:

Table with 5 columns: AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Rows for St. Louis: Cline, rf, 4 2 1 2 4 0 0; Glenn, 1b, 4 1 1 1 10 0 0; Powell, 1b, 4 1 1 1 10 0 0; Brogan, 2b, 4 0 0 0 3 2 2; Burks, ss, 3 0 1 0 1 5 0; Bradley, 3b, 3 0 0 1 1 1 0; Gennis, c, 3 0 0 0 1 1 0; Croty, c, 3 1 0 2 3 4 1; Hengler, p, 4 2 2 0 4 0 0. Total: 33 7 7 8 25 16 4.

WELCOMED BY THE SOLDIERS.

Omaha Visitors Inspect Fort Robinson and Enjoy It.

DEADWOOD TURNS OUT IN FORCE.

The People Glad to See the Prospect of More Intimate Relations Between the Two Cities.

Welcomed by the Soldiers.

Fort Robinson, April 27.—[Special to THE BEE.]—A more beautiful day could scarcely have been desired than that which contributed to making the reception of the board of trade at Fort Robinson an unequivocal success.

At the depot, the veteran commandant of the post, General James S. Brisban, was on hand to welcome the visitors. His appearance was greeted with a hearty cheer, and his salutation. He exchanged greetings with several of the party with whom he was acquainted, and then under his escort, the visitors proceeded to the old frontier post, past the original fort, past the headquarters of officers who still hold some of the ancient and antiquated residences until they reached the room reached.

Just as the last mentioned place was reached, in response to the bugle call which had been sounded some time before, the troops of the Ninth cavalry, of which there are four stationed at the post, made their appearance, on their way to the parade ground, where they were ordered to form in a special parade in honor of the visitors, because it was then but 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Of these troops passed the room of reception. The members were colored and everyone of them was almost a beau ideal soldier, and their bearing, their military air and grace of a Ney, and among them I noticed several grizzled veterans whose cheeks bespoke a service extending back to the days of the Revolution.

Some of these were prominent figures in the obsequies of General Hatch, the late commandant of the post, his burial in the national cemetery to rest in the national cemetery at Leavenworth.

As this troop passed the club room it attracted the attention of the members of the club, who were able to recognize and disapprove of the person, and they were glad to contribute their good wishes to the excellence in the life of a soldier.

An informal reception was held by General Brisban, and the party being warmly greeted and welcomed to the post.

The general was met for the first time by many members of the party, although they had learned to know him through his articles in the newspapers, many of which had been written exclusively for the Bee.

The reception over, the party adjourned to witness the parade. A large platoon in the rear of some of the old quarters headed by the members of the club, and a group of mounted men, Lieutenant Finley acting as adjutant. K. troop was commanded by the captain of the post, and the other troops by Captain Steadman, and B by Captain Ladd.

The average attendance was about forty men, though the unavailability of about twenty of the members of the club.

The difference in the size of the troops was occasioned by the absence of the number of members in Lincoln, and the employment of others on fatigue duty. The maneuvers of the cavalry were witnessed for the first time by nearly all the members of the club, and they were warmly and gratefully appreciated.

The colored band of the regiment, under the leadership of the band leader, played a number of pieces in a most approved manner.

The parade over, host and guests again assembled in the club room, the former being forced by a number of the younger and more dashing officers of the post. The gratification of the guests was increased by the fact that the dinner which was served was of a most excellent character.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

WELCOMED BY THE SOLDIERS.

Omaha Visitors Inspect Fort Robinson and Enjoy It.

DEADWOOD TURNS OUT IN FORCE.

The People Glad to See the Prospect of More Intimate Relations Between the Two Cities.

Welcomed by the Soldiers.

Fort Robinson, April 27.—[Special to THE BEE.]—A more beautiful day could scarcely have been desired than that which contributed to making the reception of the board of trade at Fort Robinson an unequivocal success.

At the depot, the veteran commandant of the post, General James S. Brisban, was on hand to welcome the visitors. His appearance was greeted with a hearty cheer, and his salutation. He exchanged greetings with several of the party with whom he was acquainted, and then under his escort, the visitors proceeded to the old frontier post, past the original fort, past the headquarters of officers who still hold some of the ancient and antiquated residences until they reached the room reached.

Just as the last mentioned place was reached, in response to the bugle call which had been sounded some time before, the troops of the Ninth cavalry, of which there are four stationed at the post, made their appearance, on their way to the parade ground, where they were ordered to form in a special parade in honor of the visitors, because it was then but 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Of these troops passed the room of reception. The members were colored and everyone of them was almost a beau ideal soldier, and their bearing, their military air and grace of a Ney, and among them I noticed several grizzled veterans whose cheeks bespoke a service extending back to the days of the Revolution.

Some of these were prominent figures in the obsequies of General Hatch, the late commandant of the post, his burial in the national cemetery to rest in the national cemetery at Leavenworth.

As this troop passed the club room it attracted the attention of the members of the club, who were able to recognize and disapprove of the person, and they were glad to contribute their good wishes to the excellence in the life of a soldier.

An informal reception was held by General Brisban, and the party being warmly greeted and welcomed to the post.

The general was met for the first time by many members of the party, although they had learned to know him through his articles in the newspapers, many of which had been written exclusively for the Bee.

The reception over, the party adjourned to witness the parade. A large platoon in the rear of some of the old quarters headed by the members of the club, and a group of mounted men, Lieutenant Finley acting as adjutant. K. troop was commanded by the captain of the post, and the other troops by Captain Steadman, and B by Captain Ladd.

The average attendance was about forty men, though the unavailability of about twenty of the members of the club.

The difference in the size of the troops was occasioned by the absence of the number of members in Lincoln, and the employment of others on fatigue duty. The maneuvers of the cavalry were witnessed for the first time by nearly all the members of the club, and they were warmly and gratefully appreciated.

The colored band of the regiment, under the leadership of the band leader, played a number of pieces in a most approved manner.

The parade over, host and guests again assembled in the club room, the former being forced by a number of the younger and more dashing officers of the post. The gratification of the guests was increased by the fact that the dinner which was served was of a most excellent character.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

WELCOMED BY THE SOLDIERS.

Omaha Visitors Inspect Fort Robinson and Enjoy It.

DEADWOOD TURNS OUT IN FORCE.

The People Glad to See the Prospect of More Intimate Relations Between the Two Cities.

Welcomed by the Soldiers.

Fort Robinson, April 27.—[Special to THE BEE.]—A more beautiful day could scarcely have been desired than that which contributed to making the reception of the board of trade at Fort Robinson an unequivocal success.

At the depot, the veteran commandant of the post, General James S. Brisban, was on hand to welcome the visitors. His appearance was greeted with a hearty cheer, and his salutation. He exchanged greetings with several of the party with whom he was acquainted, and then under his escort, the visitors proceeded to the old frontier post, past the original fort, past the headquarters of officers who still hold some of the ancient and antiquated residences until they reached the room reached.

Just as the last mentioned place was reached, in response to the bugle call which had been sounded some time before, the troops of the Ninth cavalry, of which there are four stationed at the post, made their appearance, on their way to the parade ground, where they were ordered to form in a special parade in honor of the visitors, because it was then but 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Of these troops passed the room of reception. The members were colored and everyone of them was almost a beau ideal soldier, and their bearing, their military air and grace of a Ney, and among them I noticed several grizzled veterans whose cheeks bespoke a service extending back to the days of the Revolution.

Some of these were prominent figures in the obsequies of General Hatch, the late commandant of the post, his burial in the national cemetery to rest in the national cemetery at Leavenworth.

As this troop passed the club room it attracted the attention of the members of the club, who were able to recognize and disapprove of the person, and they were glad to contribute their good wishes to the excellence in the life of a soldier.

An informal reception was held by General Brisban, and the party being warmly greeted and welcomed to the post.

The general was met for the first time by many members of the party, although they had learned to know him through his articles in the newspapers, many of which had been written exclusively for the Bee.

The reception over, the party adjourned to witness the parade. A large platoon in the rear of some of the old quarters headed by the members of the club, and a group of mounted men, Lieutenant Finley acting as adjutant. K. troop was commanded by the captain of the post, and the other troops by Captain Steadman, and B by Captain Ladd.

The average attendance was about forty men, though the unavailability of about twenty of the members of the club.

The difference in the size of the troops was occasioned by the absence of the number of members in Lincoln, and the employment of others on fatigue duty. The maneuvers of the cavalry were witnessed for the first time by nearly all the members of the club, and they were warmly and gratefully appreciated.

The colored band of the regiment, under the leadership of the band leader, played a number of pieces in a most approved manner.

The parade over, host and guests again assembled in the club room, the former being forced by a number of the younger and more dashing officers of the post. The gratification of the guests was increased by the fact that the dinner which was served was of a most excellent character.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained. The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests were most graciously entertained.

The dinner was a most excellent one, and the guests