and gate receipts, between Patrick Dough-erty of New Brunswick and John Dwyer of Ph fladelphia took place yesterday in an old mill near Bound Brook. Six terrific rounds were fought, the battle being one of the most exciting slugging affairs ever witnessed in New Jersey. It was give and take until the fifth round, when Dwyer drew first blood. This maddened Dougherty, who went at the Philadelphia man in a visions manner. In the sixth round the men cimched and fell, with Dwyer on top. As Dougherty arose the Philadelphian struck him, and the battle was awarded to the New Brunswick man. The men were frightfully punished. About $3,500 changed hands on the result.

The Bicycle Race.

The patrons of the Coliseum have lost none of their interest in the lady bykers, as was attested by the large attendance, yesterday at the opening of the six days' race, four hours a day, with the same contestants that appeared here last month. The contest will be a better one than was given by the fair bykiennes at their first appearance. The riders are all in better condition, and give promise of making a speedier race.

The start was made yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and was a lively one from the crack of the pistol to the close of the two hours' session. The first fact made prominent was that Miss Williams will not have a were fairly started she made an effort te gain a lap by one of her old time spurts. Much to ber suprise, she found Oakes, Woods and Baldwin close after her. They wouldn't be shaken. The first mile was made in 3:48, and 15 miles and 3 laps were covered the first hour. Ar-maindo rode 15 miles and drew off from the other contestants, keeping together through the two hours, scoring 30 miles and 4 laps. The building was fairly well filled when the riders started for the two hours' evening run at 8 o'clock. At 8:30 Miss Williams made another desperate effort to put a lap made another desperate effort to put a lap between herself and her competitors. She didn't succeed. Petite Jessie Oakes was right after ner and stayed there. Beauty Baldwin lost a lap, but the Omaha favorite could not get away from Oakes and Woods. Just at the pretitest part of the race Williams and Oakes collided and both were carried from the ring. Miss Woods took advantage of the mishap and gauned a lead of the mishap and gamed a lead of two laps. Equestriennes vs. Bykiennes

Marve Bloodsley yesterday received a telegram from P. H. Butler, of Kansas City authorizing him to make a match with the lady bicycle riders to race against two ladies on horseback. Mr. Butler is a great horse-man and has had large experience in the management of chariot tournaments and equestrian exhibitions. He has at present the management of Miss Williams, the equestrienne, who was Neilie Burke's greatest rival. It is probable that a race will be made, four of the lady bleycle riders to ride against two equestriennes.

MURDERED BY TWO TRAMPS.

The Terrible Fate of a Plucky Telegraph Operator.

SHOT AND BEATEN TO DEATH. The Murderers Secure Nearly Five Hundred Dollars-Their Footprints in the Snow-Pursuit Instituted.

Forgot to Close the Door.

FOUNTAIN, Colo., April 29.-[Special Tele gram to THE BEE.]-A. S. Hastin gs was mur dered here last night by tramps. The affair occurred in the operating rooms of the Santa Fe station at this point, where Hastings was employed as night operator. The murder is known to have been committed by two tramps, and it is thought that four or five were engaged in the affair. After delivering orders to the north bound express, at 2 o'clock this morning, Hastings re-entered his office forgetting to lock the door. The tramps entered after the departure of the train and demanded that he open the company's safe. As Hastings was ignorant of the combination he was perfectly honest when he replied that he did not know how. Disbelieving him the two tramps began a most terrible assault on the defenseless operator. An examination of the room indicated the terrible nature of the struggle which ensued, and that the operator fought desperately before he fell mortally wounded. During the struggie Hastings, in addition to being bruised and scarred, was shot by some person standing behind him. The bullet entered his left shoulder, and taking a diagonal course, passed out of the right breast, above the ribs. It was found this morning lying by the safe. While their victim lay bleeding and helpless, begging pitifully for his life, his assailants calmly rifled his pockets taking $30 and the keys of his cash drawer from which they obtained $465 more. In their haste to quit the scene they made no attempt to disturb the safe in which $150 was deposited.

At the moment of the murder, snow was falling heavily and scatte murder, snow was ling heavily and soon after the discovery of the crime footprints in the snow were plainly discernible. They were those of two men, evidently of immense size, one wearing a No. 11 shoe, the other a No. 8. They were only traceable for a short distance. Neither could be mistaken for operators.

After the departure of the murderers Hastings managed to leave the station and crawl to the house of the agent, Mr. Denny, CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., April 29.-|Special about five hundred feet away; bleeding and with scarcely a spark of life, the unfortunate man, after a struggle, reached Denny's window and feebly knocking, cried, "Oh! "Who is there?" was asked, when the voice faintly exclaimed, "Hastings; hurry up, I'm shot.

Denny thereupon rushed out and found Hastings in a semi-unconscious condition, lying face foremost on the ground. He car-ried him into the hease, and, after being par-tially revived, Hastings said: "They held tially revived, Hastings said: "They held me up. I'm shot, tramps did it. Wire to Mr. Wright, Tappan, Ohio." Exhausted by the effort Hastings, who was lying in the agent's arms, expired. A posse organized and started in pursuit of the tramps, who, if captured, will in all probability be lynched. Word was tele-grayhed along the line and a number of bums captured who will be held to await instigavolver. He came to town and swore out a warrant for her arrest, and she was com-mitted to the county jail. The cause of her enmity to him is not known.
