

I. O. JONES IN CHICAGO!

Learning from traveling men and others that the wholesalers were having a very dull trade, the idea struck us that it might be wise to visit the Chicago market, and see how anxious the manufacturers were to unload. They were found mighty anxious, and ready cash speedily induced them to close out a great many large and small lots at 50 cents on the dollar. A. L. Singer & Co. and Chas. F. Kellogg & Co. were among the large makers of fine clothing from whom the purchases were made $40,000 Worth of Clothing.

CHICAGO, April 26.—[Special to THE BEE.]—It is reported in business circles to-day that the largest sale of clothing made this season was yesterday consummated by A. L. Singer & Co. to L. O. Jones of Omaha. The amount is reported to be in the neighborhood of $40,000, and the goods are to be shipped to Omaha at once.—[OMAHA BEE, April 26th.]

The purchase made and instructions for shipment given, a great problem confronted us: Where can the goods be displayed; my store is entirely inadequate; it will hold neither the goods nor the people who will throng to see them. After a long study, light came and the nut was cracked. The result, startling as it may seem, is that on Thursday next the people of Omaha will visit

JONES in McSHANE'S BARN, W. Corner 15th and Dodge-sts.

“What! Sell clothing in a barn?” Well, why not? Fuller, the druggist, has taken the contract to de-oderize and de-fumigate the establishment, and then on the opening morning to spill upon its threshold a bottle of “Attar of Roses.” And who is there among men of sober sense who would object to save $15.00, $10.00, or even $5.00 simply because the clothes were not sold from a plate glass corner. Now, a word about the clothing. It is not venerable because of age; it has no whiskers, is not even old enough to shave, but in fact and reality is new and fresh, and made from neat and stylish patterns of all wool fabrics. It is not an aggregation of trash and shoddy, but clothing which will grace the form of any man and do him honest service. We at least have enough sense to know that our reputation for business integrity is in the balance until the truthfulness of our announcements are proven by the investigation of that great grand jury—THE PEOPLE. You and your friends will be welcome at the opening of this great sale on

THE POOR HOUSE.

Hascall Will Come Into Possession of Property Tomorrow.

To-morrow the time expires when Douglas county must, if called upon, release its possession of the poor farm and house to people who purchased them in 1857. The house and its immediate grounds were bid in by I. S. Hascall, on an understanding that he should have possession May 1, 1889. It was supposed that the new hospital would be completed, and that the old quarters would not be required longer than this spring. But, with the best work that can be done, the hospital will not be ready for occupancy before the first of August. Hascall has not intimated whether he proposes to demand possession, and the commissioners are wondering what course they will be called on to pursue.

Inauguration Day.

Store closed all day.

W. B. FALCONER.

Chosen Friends.

Hon. H. H. Morse, of New York city, supreme chancellor of the order of Chosen Friends, was at the Paxton on Saturday and Sunday, the 27th and 28th inst. Mr. Morse visited the city in the interest of the Chosen Friends, which is a fraternal benefit society, having over forty thousand members and increasing at the rate of 1,000 a month. He appointed Mr. E. P. Davis, H. Jacobson, H. Cory E. Vaux, Omaha, and H. Theilgaard, of this city, a board of supervisors for Nebraska, and they will prosecute the work of establishing chapters and securing members.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 25cens a bottle.

Rev. James Patterson.

Rev. James Patterson, secretary to Bishop Worthington, who died at his home 912 South Twelfth street, last night, was a canon of Trinity cathedral and at a meeting of the bishop and clergy in the Episcopal rooms yesterday the Rev. Dr. Doherty and Canon Burgess of Plattsmouth were appointed to prepare suitable resolutions on his decease.

The Rev. Dr. Doherty was also appointed by resolution to prepare a memorial of the deceased to be published in the diocesan paper.

The funeral will leave the residence, 912 South Twelfth street, at 1:30 o'clock, and service will be had in the cathedral at 2:30 p. m. to-day.

Rev. James Patterson was born in Scotland in 1826, where he completed the ground work of his education. He graduated in theology at Nebraska college and Divinity school in 1859, and was ordained by Bishop Clarkson, April 4, of that year, and served to the parishhood January 15, 1871, by the same bishop. He was one of the original incorporators of the Cathedral Chapter, was its first clerk, which position he held up to time of his death. He was rector of Holywell hall from 1870 to 1875; missionary rector of Holy Trinity, Bellevue, from 1875 to 1877; assumed the rectorship of St. Mark's in 1878; was a member of the standing committee of the diocese and secretary of the same since 1872; secretary of the annual council of the diocese since 1870, also of board of trustees of Nebraska college at Nebraska City, was for some time one of the examining chaplains of Bishop Clarkson. In 1873 he was associated with Rev. Dr. Garrett and Hon. J. M. Wolworth of this city in the editorship of the "Guardian," a monthly journal. When Dr. Garrett was made bishop of northern Texas the name of the paper was changed to that of "Church Guardian" and has since been conducted by Rev. Patterson. The deceased was married in 1849, his wife dying in 1876. He had one son, George Patterson, a coal merchant in this city.

Indian Territory.

I have used Swift's Specific for a scrofulous and nervous disorder resulting from a broken skin, and I can truly say the very best medicine made. It "sure cures" me, for which I am very grateful.

JOHN HENNING, Leon, Indian Ter.

I have used Swift's Specific in my family for years for various disorders incident to this climate, and it has always given prompt relief. I took it myself for a nervous disorder produced by indigestion that had troubled me for five years, and it gave me the long sought relief. I induced a friend of mine to take it for a sore leg of over twenty years' standing, and it cured him.

The County Hospital.

Contractor J. F. Coats was seen with reference to his acceptance of the superintendency of the county hospital building. He said he had little or nothing to say about it. The commissioners, the contractors with their bondsmen and also Mr. E. E. Meyers, the architect, had called upon him and implored him to take charge of the building and see that it was put in absolutely safe condition. This he had consented to do, but he had not accepted the superintendency of the building. He told the commissioners that the hospital building could be made safe under the original specifications, at an expense not exceeding $1,000; that he had no idea of tearing it down; that he would do nothing under any circumstances except upon authority either of the commissioners or the architect; or both; that he would not incur any expense, except the cost of 5 cents except he be authorized so to do. His business is such, he says, that he could not afford to give his entire time to the hospital construction, and would not think of it. But if he can aid in any way in saving the building, the county is welcome to his services.

Frederick T. Roberts, M. D., physician to the royal college of surgeons, university of London, Eng., says: "Loss of appetite, loss of eyesight, dyspeptic symptoms, irregularities of the bowels, are some of the symptoms of advanced kidney disease. Warner's Safe Cure cures those troubles, because it removes the cause, and putting the kidneys in a healthy condition, enables them to expel the poisonous or waste matter from the system. This is why Warner's Safe Cure cures so many symptoms that are called diseases."

Board of Public Works.

The unexpected appearance of John B. Furry in the office of the board of public works, together with that of St. A. D. Halcombe, at 11 o'clock, brought about a special meeting of the board, which granted the Omaha Motor railway company a permit to lay track west to Thirtieth street, on Commercial street from Sherman avenue. The permission was given in the usual way, permits to be issued four blocks at a time. In addition, Dr. Mercer was notified by letter that his application on behalf of the motor company to lay down tracks on Sherman avenue from Pinkney street to Commercial street had been favorably considered. The meeting adjourned and the two members of the board present discussed the surface transportation question.

"This laying of track by the motor company on Sherman avenue and Commercial street is plain enough sailing," said Mr.

Furry. "The electric people are now working away about the fair grounds, and will probably reach the intersection of Thirtieth and Commercial streets by to-morrow night. But, in a day or two, when Mercer asks permission to lay track on Thirtieth street north of Commercial street, he will cross the electric railway people, who are also looking to Thirtieth as a highway north to the city limits. We will have to entertain his application, of course, and that the line between the companies will commence right then."

Mr. Halcombe nodded assent, and prophesied that in the end the sole proposition was to be made, and that the electric people would marry. "But in the meantime," said he, "they have lots of right of way in this city that they will have to occupy, and they are divorced now, sure as hell."

For some minutes the major was lost in a ocean of reflection, but he swam ashore and said, "That motor on Sixteenth and Sherman, won't that be a lallylular in fair times?"

The railway people are now working at Twenty-eighth and Cassius streets. They will go west to Thirtieth street and north to Commercial street. From Commercial and Thirtieth the roadway stretches north past the depot, to the city limits, and then the line of right of way is the line of contention referred to by Major Furry.

King in Limbo.

Will N. King was arrested and lodged in the central station by Officer Horvath yesterday. He is charged with forgery. He passed a check for $10 on the Continental banking house, and one for $6 on Dawley & Hawley, saloonkeepers, signed Leo, Hartley & Co.

The Y. M. C. A. Entertainment.

The recital by the elocution class of the Young Men's Christian association in the auditorium of their building, last night, drew a large crowd. Judge Taylor on enthusiasm every person present seemed to enjoy the entertainment. The latter was given under the direction of A. Gordon Robinson, who was assisted musically by Sidney Frigson. The programme was an excellent one throughout, the features of being the recitations of Mr. Robinson. Twice his name appeared and twice he responded to an encore. Mr. Abbott's flute solo pleased the audience and he responded to an encore, as did Mr. Wrightson. It fact, no gentleman's efforts passed unappreciated. The Rev. Dean Gardner presided.

A Unknown Citizen.

W. C. Lowry, warden of the Southern Illinois penitentiary, writes to Chief Seavoy for information of an escaped convict named Wilson, who, while in prison, claimed he lived in Omaha. The police know nothing about the man.

Don't Like the Music.

A petition was received by the chief of police signed by numerous business men requesting that the People's theatre band be compelled to stop playing before the house at 7:30 each evening. Manager Selton was seen and cheerfully agreed to comply with the wish of the petitioners.

Cable Men's Ball.

Over 250 tickets have been sold for the ball which will be given to-night by the conductors and gripmen of the cable line. A great time is assured. Supper will be served at 12 o'clock. Invitations have been sent to the officers of all street railways of the city, who are expected to honor the occasion by their presence. A programme has been arranged upon a grand scale, and there can be no question of the ability of the young men in charge to see every detail of it successfully carried out.

Mortuary.

The remains of Prof. J. L. Worley, late of the Omaha Commercial college, were yesterday afternoon forwarded over the B. & M. to Saybrook, Ill., where they will be laid to rest.
