Popular Error Which Has Been

Sanctioned by Artists. I know the masters of painting from Guido, in his wonderful "Ecce Homo," down to the present time have depicted the crown that rested upon the head of our crucified Saviour as a twisted branch of bare thorns, says a writer in the New York Herald, and that is, so far as I know, universally accepted as the true crown. Some years ago an incident that oc-curred in the holy land caused me to think that this popular belief may be a mistake. A party of us who were journeying toward Jerusalem at this eason of the year, which is identical with the passion and death of the Master, had stopped to rest and lunch just after entering the hill country, some miles beyond Ramleh, when a lady of the party, who was gathering the beautiful flowers that covered the landscape on all sides, wreathed an exquisite spray, and holding it up exclaimed: "The Crown of Thorns!"

Our party was delighted with the wreath, and upon examining it we found that long, sharp thorns were concealed by the lovely pink flowers. were convinced that this was the true crown, and as we advanced toward Jerusalem we saw that the whole country, even to the walls of the city, was covered with the flowering thorn. The plant and flower are similar to what we commonly call the flowering almond, with the addition of the thorn. The bloom is thick, so that by merely entwining a branch a wreath is made,

while the long, sharp thorns set out at right angles, about an inch apart, make it a painful crown to wear upon the human brow. When we remember that the soldiers who dressed our Savior with the purple robe and crown did it as a mockery, it is reasonable to believe that they chose this plant, which was so accessible and would make a beautiful appearance, while at the same time wounding His holy brow. Many who have visited Palestine at this season of the year have doubtless had this suggested to them, yet I have never seen any comment on it in any book of travels.

Christians in South Africa.

The interesting discovery of many years ago of Jewish colonies in western China is now well supplemented by the discovery of christian clans or sects in Africa, south of Abyssinia. These wholly isolated people have retained some forms of christian belief and wor-ship since the early centuries when Egypt and the lands of the south were in the hands of the followers of Jesus. Mohammedanism arising in the seventh century cut off this section, and has obliterated christianity to the north of them. What is left, however, of the better faith is now so thoroughly degenerated that it is not worth the preserving. Africa is full of wonders. Have you rheumatism?

Have you diabetes? Have you Bright's disease? Have you any kidney trouble? Have you gravel? Have you any bladder difficulty?

Have you dropsy? Have you dyspepsia? Have you any skin or blood disease? Are you a victim of alcoholism? Are you weak and debilitated? If so, the Almighty has provided in the waters of Excelsior Springs, Mo., a pure free remedy, that as a diurctic and tonic, will more nearly prove infallible for your case than any other agency you can find on earth. "The Elms," at Excelsior Springs, is nowhere surpassed among first-clas, hotels. All charges very reasonable. Every comfort and convenience. Surroundings attractive. Climate delight-ful and healthful. Twenty-six miles from K ansas City, Mo., on the C., M. & St. P. railroad.

The Homp Smokers of Africa. A new and curious sect has recently grown up in Africa, the Bena-Riamba or "Sons of Hemp," a society of hemp smokers who, calling themselves "friends," are bound together by ties of mutual hospitality. It has had some new light thrown more it has come new light thrown upon it in the account of ca journey up the Kasai by Charles Somerville Bateman: "Its initiatory rites are a protound and unfathonable mystery, and whether to describe it as a secret brotherhood, a religion, or a conject, for the propagation of light society for the propagation of licen-tiousness I am uncertain. So far as the smoking of ihiamba [hemp] itself is con-cerned, there can be no reasonable doubt but that the Matchioko introduced it primarily for the purpose of raud, since persons under the influence of that poisonous narcotic are temporarily insane, and therefore at the mercy of the first cruel and crafty trader that came across them." Another authority, however, thinks that the society grew out of a political revolution are not the Backillonge, people in lution among the Bashilenge people in 1870, when the progressist party broke down commercial barriers, and the custom of bhang or hemp smoking was introduced from Zanzibar to become "one of the most baneful institutions in Cen-tral Africa." The following from the pen of Mr. L. P. Bardwell, editor of the Marion (Ia.) Pilot, will, we believe, be of interest to many. He says: "It is with pleasure that I certify to the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have used it in my family for years and have always found it most excellent, and especially for colds, croup and sore throat It is safe and effective. For sale byfall
