Prof. J. S. Shoup, formerly principal of the High school here, but now of South-land, Ia., was in the city, yesterday, the guest of the Ogden.

In police court yesterday morning J. Har-rison and Paul Genno were fined for fight-ing, and three drunks were assessed the pre-scribed prohibition tax.

The funeral of Harriet, the infant dangh-ter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Grosvenor, will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence. 114 Grace street.

W. H. Dooley, one of the proprietors of the Ogden house property, left last evening, over the "Q" for his home at Leroy, Ill. He will return about the 1st of September.

Seven parties were run in yesterday for peddling without a license. They all paid costs and then secured the necessary permit for transacting business on the street.

The case of Elliott vs. the county was not completed in the superior court, yesterday, although two days had been consumed on the $50 case. It will be concluded, this morn-

The Northwestern Legion of Honor, gave an enjoyable social last evening at K. of P. hall, to the member of the order and their friends. The evening passed very pleasantly.

Spring cleaning in the council chamber has taken the shape of fresh paint and paper, new covers for the tacles and aldermen's desks, etc., greatly improving the appear-ance of the room.

The friends of the Berean Baptist church are invited to attend a strawberry and ice-cream festival, to be held this evening in the new chapel, corner of Third avenue and Seventeenth street.

Mrs. Bella Robinson, the accomplished pl-anist of this city, has composed an opera, "The Smugglers of Senooton," and it will be presented here for the first time on the even-ing of the 25th inst.

Two Omaha scavengers, who were plying their occupation in this city without a li-cense, were yesterday given a hearing, and assessed the costs in the case and ordered to take out a license before resuming opera-

Thomas L. Stephens, Glenwood; M. A. Burns, Mapleton; B. F. Clayton and William Beezley, Macedonia, and William Johnson and H. A. Munger, Cedar Rapids, were among the Iowans, registered at the Ogden yesterday.

The council has ordered all the public fountains put in order, and they will be cleaned out and the water turned on. As it costs the city nothing for water, the only vonder is that this move was not made some time ago.

Sam C. Noble leaves this evening for Minneapolis, where he will visit a short time be-fore going to Montana, where he proposes to make a fortune. He has been in that part of the country before and is satisfied that here is money to be made there.

Clyde Powerly, a nine-year-old boy who came to this city from Chicago, is working out a $14.60 fine on the streets for vagrancy. He became an intolerable nuisance, and something had to be done to keep him from

One Building Falls. About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the southeast corner of the building adjoining Dohany's opera house, and occupied as a cigar store by J. L. Templeton, tumbled into the street. The cause of the fall was the excavation made just east of the building for the cellar and foundation of the new Marcus the cellar and foundation of the new Marcus block. The wall had been undermined, and props set up to keep the wall in place. The heavy rain of Tuesday night loosened the bank so that it caved, carrying the supports with it, and the mischief was done. Fortunately no one was passing at the time, or serious if not fatal injury would have resulted, as the heavy capstone of the corner pier was dashed to the ground several feet from the building, and falling bricks rattled around on the sidewalk. The floor settled at an angle of several degrees, but did not dump into the cellar. Work was im-mediately commenced to strengthen the wall, and in a half hour it was fairly well secured. The damage is small and will cause no serious inconvenience. The accident calls attention to one thing, and that is the number of new buildings now going up in the central portion of the city, and the consequent danger to the public.

going up in the central portion of the city, and the consequent danger to the public. Several new fronts are also being put in, an d the walls, deprived of the support of the old front, are in a decidedly shaky condition in many instances. The situation calls strongly for a building inspector, and the at-tention of the council is called to the matter. Said a leading architect, yesterday after-noon, while viewing the wreck at the above mentioned building: "This would not have happened if the city had a competent build-ing inspector to look after dangerous walls. He would not have allowed the wall to have been left in such an uprotected condi ion, and the accident would have been averted. and the accident would have been averted. The same theory can be seen all over the city where new business houses are being greeted. There are half a dozen on Broad-way and two or three on Main street, and erected. There are half a dozen on Broad-way and two or three on Main street, and the public is constantly passing and re-passing, not knowing whether there is immi-nent danger of the exposed walls falling on them or not. It is ridiculous that in a city of this size no ouilding inspector is appointed to attend to such things. Perhaps the council is waiting until some one gets killed before taking any action in the matter. It is a fact that they are running a terrible risk, and they will find it out one of these days in a way that will be anything but pleasant. Or course, the contractors take all the chances that they can, and have the walls reasonably secure, to save the expense of extra precautions, but an inspector would want to be on the safe side, and no chances would be taken. The city has thus far been very fortunate, for it is nothing but good luck that has saved it from these accidents, but there is no telling when a chance will dome. The right way is thd beat way, and an inspector should be appointed at once."

For $25.00-The N. Y. Plumbing Co. will put a lead service pipe and hydrant in your yard; also 50 feet extra hose. Call at once at 114 Main street.

Tenderly at Rest.

The funeral of Mrs. Susan B. McNally was held yesterday afternoon at the restdence of her daughter, Mrs. B. Terwilliger, corner of Fifth avenue and Sixth street. There was a large attendance of sympathizing friends. The floral tributes were numerous, and the beautiful casket was almost hidden beneath them. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Crofts, of the Congregational church, and were simple, but impressive. Appropriate hymns were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Hicks. A tender prayer was offered, and a few remarks made upon the words, "Let not your heart be troubled." This and other passages in connection there

Bits of humor were also interspersed, thus making the en-tertainment varied and sprightly.

The Educators' Convention.

The county superintendents of this district hold a convention at the office of Superintendent J. K. Cooper, in the court house, to-day and to-morrow. There are seventeen counties in this district, which is one of the five into which the state is divided. They are as follows: Adams, Audubon, Calhoun, Carroll, Cass, Crawford, Fremont, Harri-son, Ida, Monona, Mills, Montgomery, Page, Pottawatomie, Sac, Sheiby and Taylor. They will nearly all be represented at this convention, which will be more generally attended than any previous one. — Henry Sabin, superintendent of public in-struction, will be here, to-day, and take charge of the convention. Interesting pro-grammes have been prepared for both days and the session this evening. The superin-tendents who arrived last evening were A. W. Clancy, Des Moines; D. N. Waiker, Charles City; J. F. Lavender, Rockwell City; W. F. Kopplin, Ida Grove; C. F. Switt, Harlan, and A. L. Chaffee, of the Iowa branch of the "county school coun-cil," of Des Moines. They are stopping at the Ogden house, which is the headquarters of the members of the convention. are as follows: Adams, Audubon, Calhoun,

No More Seines in Manawa.

Several of the local sportsmen Lave deided to put a stop to the lawless seining that has been going on for some time past at Lake Manawa. Said one of them to THE BEE last evening, "It is an actual fact that there are no finer fishing grounds anywhere than at Manawa, and we cannot afford to let them be destroyed in this manner. That lake is full of the nicest black bass I ever saw, and last Sunday I saw a number of fine strings of fish weighing from one to three strings of fish weighing from one to three pounds each. If the seines are kept out of them it will more than dis-count Lake Okoboji in less than two years. There are several parties who go down there and camp out, and are just cleaning out all the fish there are in the lake. They are prety sly, and are hard to catch, but we will shut off their wind next week. Vic Kel-her caught them raising a net a while ago and made them dump the entre hand back into the lake. I have written to Fish Commissioner Clayton, at Spirit Lake, and ne will be here next week. Some of those fel-lows will get a cinching that will make them sick. We have stood it as long as we pro-pose to, and we will see now what effect coercion will have in this case.'

The city marshal is on the war path against all parties dumping refuse into In-dian creek. The creek carries off all water in very good shape, but old boots, tin cans, dead dogs, socks and similar articles are not disposed of so easily, and collect in unsightly and unbeatthy piles along the banks. The authorities have declared that this must not be, and parties who hereafter dispose of their refuse matter in this way will be prose-cuted.

A befitting tribute was paid to her noble christian womanhood, her true motherliness, and the confidence with which she looked out upon the new life as it dawned upon her even be fore she bade farewell to earth. She had been a great sufferer, the earthly tenement had become ill-fitted for the further occupancy of a spirit so pure, and she had laid it down to enter upon the new life willingly and hopefully. Fair Railway Fares

Word was yesterday received from Des Moines that the rates for the tournament would be one fare for the round trip for everybody except companies for volunteer firemen, all of whom would be carried free. The railroad commissioners acquiesced to the request of the committee from this city that the firemen be carried free, provided all volunteer firemen are treated alike. There must be no discrimination, and all will be landed in Council Bluffs free of charge. The news will be bailed with delight act The news will be hailed with delight, not only in this city but all over the state, as it is the most favorable rate ever secured for the firemen. It insures the largest attendance that ever turned out to a tournament in the state. The committee 14 to be congratu-lated on the success of its efforts.
