KILLED BY WITCHCRAFT.

An Old 'Man Drowned While Throwing Stones to Cure Consumption.

Strange and weird incidents led up to and surrounded the death of Julius Englehardt, an old man who was drowned in the river above the dam yesterday afternoon, says a Milwaukee special to the Chicago News. Engle-hardt was a German pioneer of Milwaukee, a man of means and well known several years ago. Away back in 1880 Englehardt's wife was stricken with rheumatism and doctors were consulted in vain. In 1884 were consulted in vain. In 1884 after many patient trials of all the regular schools of medicine, Engle-hart sold a large block of property to the Best Browing company and started in to investigate Christian science, faith cures and all manner of latter-day healing witchcraft. He spent many months and wang dollars investigate months and many dollars journeying over the country trying to find some-thing that would coure his wife. After a vain search he returned to Milwaukee, where he has been for the last

Last November Englehardt himself was taken down with lung trouble, and after doctoring all winter he was given up as a hopeless case doomed to an early death from consumption. In this emer-gency a regular convention of believers in witchcraft and charms was held. It was there decided that nothing would save the old man but a charm. The charm was to go to the banks of a run ning stream, there to cast publies in the water and recite an incantation. The old man was very weak, but Saturday afternoon he was carried out to a carriage by his son Gustav and a friend of the family. The trio were then driven out to the river, which above the dam is a clear and running stream. Once out there the weak old man was carried down the embankment and propped up fied that the charm would be useless if any one were present while he worked it, so the son and the friend left him. After a wait of fifteen minutes they re-near the shallow water. It was speci-sight. While looking up and down the shore one of them discovered something in the water. They looked closer and havit was the sick old man. They hastily jumped in, for the water was hardly three feet deep, and dragged him out. It was too late; the charm had worked and Englehardt was cured. He was stone dead. The son and the friend carried their dripping burden back and put it in the carriage. Then they drove back home through the city, the dead man sitting between the two live ones.

Wounded in the Army. I was wounded in the leg at the battle of Stone River. Dec. 31st, 1862. My blood was poisoned from the effects of the wound, and the leg swelled to double its natural size, and remained so for many years. The poison extended to my whole system, and I suffered a thou-sand deaths. Nothing did me any good until I took Swift's Specific, which took the poison out of my blood, and enabled me to feel myself a man again. S. S. S. is the remedy for blood poison. JOHN CONWAY, London.

Catarrh in Children.

Our little boy Stokes, now eleven years old, had catarrh from the time he was three until he was seven years of age. Sometimes his breathing was heavy, and a constant discharge from the nose. He had more or less treatment for four years, but without any benefit. We gave him Swift's Specific, and it soon cured him sound and weil. This was four years ago, and there has been no return of the disease. -

MRS. W. P. KENNON, Salem, Ala.

The Smartest Baby on Record.

There is in Fort Valley, Ga., in the person of little Dellie Harris, aged sixteen months, the greatest prodigy of the present day. She not only talks and articulates well, but knows the in-fant catechism by heart; also, the county she was porn in (Crawford), the town she lives in, the county site, the names of the president and vice-president, the governor and the mayor of Fort Valley; can count up to fifty, and says the alphabet with great rapidity. Bosides all this, she is bright in many other things which anyone would doubt did they not see and hear her talk.

Catarrh Cured.

A clergyman, after years of sufficing from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, and vainly trying every known remedy, at last found a recipe which completely cured and saved him from death. Any sufferer from this dreadful disease sending self-addressed stamped envelope to Prof. J. A. Lawrence, 88 Warron St., New York cty, will receive the recipe free of charge.

Needed No Sympathy. Chicago Tribune: "I am truly sorry, Johnny," said the friend of the family, meeting the little boy on the street, "to learn that your father's house was burnt down yesterday. Was nothing saved?"

"Don't you waste no grief on me," replied Johnny.."All of pa's old clothes was burnt up in that fire, and ma can't make any of 'em over for me this time. Tum-tiddle-lum-tum, whoop-de-doodledoo!"

Pears' soap is the most elegant tolles adjunct.

Danger in a Kies. A New Englander, after returning home from attending a horse suffering with variola, kissed his children, and in a short time every one of the youngsters was down with the disease.
