The Omaha St. Joseph Game.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 16.—Special Telegram to THE BEE.—By far the most exciting game seen in St. Joseph this year was witnessed by a fair sized crowd to-day, between St. Joseph and Omaha.

Both pitchers held out wonderfully well, considering the length of the game, and grew more effective towards the end of the game than they were at first.

The pitching was exceptional. For Omaha, Crooks did the best work, with two chances and one error.

For St. Joseph, the best work in the field was done by Arden, who made several brilliant stops and a great running catch.

Up to the ninth inning it looked like a victory for the home team. In this inning, with two men out, Cleveland came to the bat, and after two strikes had been called on him, lifted the ball over the fence.

The game was a close one, and it was not until the twelfth inning that the home team caught the train for Denver.

GENERAL McRIBBEN.

His Opinion on the Matter of the Removal of Fort Omaha.

General D. B. McRibben, of Washington, a retired officer of the United States and father of H. C. McRibben, purchasing agent of the Union Pacific, is in the city, accompanied by his wife. They are en route to California and Oregon, whither they go in the hope that the health of Mrs. McRibben, who is an invalid, may be benefited.

The general, while in active service, was at one time stationed at different posts in that part of the country, and he anticipates much pleasure in revisiting his old stamping ground.

In conversation last night with a Bee reporter, the general said that he was generally understood at the national capital, that General Kelton, assistant adjutant-general of the army, would succeed General Duffin, who will be retired the last of the month.

General McRibben, he said, had been mentioned in connection with the office, but he thinks it somewhat surprising to find that objections are being made. He wondered at the time why the people here should desire any change, as the trade that the regiment brings with it is decreasing, and the post, where it now is, even if additional ground could be secured, I think that the passage of another bill would be unnecessary.

General and Mrs. McRibben will leave this morning for Portland. Their son was unfortunately called away to-day on business, and he will not be expected to visit for some time with him. The general is a most courteous and agreeable gentleman, and a pleasant conversationalist.

AMUSEMENTS.

Gilmore's great spectacular attraction, "The Twelve Apostles," opened a second engagement at Hay's opera house last night to a large audience.

Several improvements have been made in the piece, and two new comedians, Elmo and Mlle. Bonfanti, have been added to the cast.

The specialty features were excellent. Among the members of the company were Frank J. Conroy, an actor; Jacques Kruger, the celebrated comedian; Neil Florence, Harry Braw, Helen Fox, and Miss Florence Ashbrook.

Don't fail to read the three-sheet bills, posted yesterday, announcing the Elks' second annual picnic at Boyd's opera house next Monday night. They will not only tell you who the principal performers are, but also convey the pleasing information that the picnic will be a grand success.

Frank J. Conroy, who has distinguished himself; Jules Lombard and Captain Kinzie are to give "The Fisherman" at the plantation melodrama, by an excellent quartette of male singers, will be a feature of the first part, and that "Mr. Sampson, of South Omaha," promises some rich scenes.

The Chicago Drainage Bill.

Springfield, Ill., May 16.—Governor Pifer was seen, to-day, by an Associated press reporter, who called his attention to the Chicago drainage bill.

The bill was certainly not that his excellency was using his influence to the prejudice of the Chicago drainage bill.

The reports, it is asserted by friends of the measure, have been circulated by its opponents, who have stated that the bill, while opposed to it, was intended to assume the power of a veto and was using his powerful influence to defeat the bill in the legislature.

Chicago, May 16.—The ground State street horse car, containing a dozen passengers, started down a long grade toward the bridge to-night just as the bridge was being swung for the passage of a vessel.

The driver failed to notice the swinging bridge until it was partly open, and the car was barely able to stop the car on the brink of the river by sheer good luck.

"Hemorrhage may take place from the kidneys or from the mucous membranes, particularly that of the nostrils." So writes T. Granger Stewart, M. D., F. R. S. E., Ordinary Surgeon to H. M. the Queen in Scotland, in a Professor of Practice of the University of Edinburgh, in an article on Bright's disease.

Child Marriage in India.

A sensational case has recently excited public attention at Bombay, in which Holker's son-in-law was charged with cruelty to his child-wife.

The facts adduced in the evidence show that the husband was forty-seven years old and the wife nine. The accused has already been married fourteen times.

The father of the child sold her for rs. 20 a month. She was seen on the parapet of a house greatly agitated and threatened to throw herself into the street.

When a policeman entered the house she stated that her husband had beaten her and threatened to kill her if she failed to undo a knot in his hair within five days.

Evidently the case was a gross one, and the evidence was deemed insufficient to prove habitual cruelty. The facts of the case still further illustrate the ubiquitous cruelty of the existing practice of child marriage and show the necessity of a law in the interest of common humanity, of an early reform of Hindu marriage customs.
