

LISTEN TO OUR TALE OF WOE.

Omaha Attempts to Pull Through With Four Puny Hits.

BUT IT WAS A GLOOMY FAILURE.

The Second Humiliation of the White Sox Witnessed by the Largest Crowd of the Season.

Following is the standing of the Western association clubs up to and including yesterday's games:

Table with columns: Club, Played, Won, Lost, Per Ct. Lists standings for St. Paul, Omaha, Sioux City, Denver, Minneapolis, St. Joseph, Des Moines, Milwaukee.

St. Paul City 0, Omaha 2.

What's the matter with the little goddess of Fortune, anyway? Can it be possible that the old girl never intends to grin on Omaha again?

Just think of it! Again, yesterday afternoon, the ruthless warriors from the land of the Sioux knocked out the White Sox, knocked them out so hard, and so completely that some of them couldn't be recognized by their own names.

And it would require a derrick to lift the gloom that now rests upon the city.

What made yesterday's calamity particularly heart-rending was the fact that it happened in the presence of the biggest crowd that has assembled at the park this season.

The entire enclosure was alive with people, and thousands must have fully for a thousand or more. They lined the outfield in buggies and carriages, crowded on the benches like flies on a lump of sugar, and filled the grandstands to the very top.

There were ladies there, too, by the score, and their radiant smiles were topped with a pleasing effect to the scene.

And every soul, almost, had gone out for the express purpose of cheering and applauding for Omaha. Nobody dreamed she would be compelled to aghast bow her royal head to the Corn Huskers.

But they were not to have, every one of them, and they had more fun with Omaha than they ever had of.

It disgusted the ladies in the reserved seats to see them act so.

Our Parisian friend, Monsieur Strauss, was the first man up, as usual.

He didn't remain very long before he caught the sphere on the end of his bat and sent it whizzing like a musket shot way out over right field.

He didn't make three runs, but he did make three for that fleet-footed representative of the Darwinian theory, Mr. Cline, of Louisville, Kentucky.

He made an elegant running catch, and Strauss, who was tearing away for record, turned round and sheepishly came back to the bench.

It hurtled back again on an altitudinous foul to Powell, but Mr. Flanagan was more lenient with Crooks, and gave him his base on balls.

Jack was out for the start, and anybody could see that—without any unnecessary delay he made a bold dash for second.

He stated in on his vest front, and the bleachers vociferated with joy.

Then, to everybody's astonishment, he made a clean strike of ball, and the excited multitude went on with their start.

This success, however, was too much for Crooks, and he imagined that he bore a charmed life—as they used to say in Beadle's dime novels.

So giving his pants-let a hitch, he absolutely essayed to steal home. When he reached the plate he found Hellman there waiting patiently for him with the ball.

Why it hadn't been a clip!

For the Indians, who Cline reached first with his usual luck, which came this time in the shape of an error big enough to work for a living, by Joe Walsh.

He bore a charmed life—as they used to say in Beadle's dime novels.

So giving his pants-let a hitch, he absolutely essayed to steal home. When he reached the plate he found Hellman there waiting patiently for him with the ball.

Why it hadn't been a clip!

For the Indians, who Cline reached first with his usual luck, which came this time in the shape of an error big enough to work for a living, by Joe Walsh.

He bore a charmed life—as they used to say in Beadle's dime novels.

So giving his pants-let a hitch, he absolutely essayed to steal home. When he reached the plate he found Hellman there waiting patiently for him with the ball.

Why it hadn't been a clip!

For the Indians, who Cline reached first with his usual luck, which came this time in the shape of an error big enough to work for a living, by Joe Walsh.

He bore a charmed life—as they used to say in Beadle's dime novels.

So giving his pants-let a hitch, he absolutely essayed to steal home. When he reached the plate he found Hellman there waiting patiently for him with the ball.

Why it hadn't been a clip!

For the Indians, who Cline reached first with his usual luck, which came this time in the shape of an error big enough to work for a living, by Joe Walsh.

He bore a charmed life—as they used to say in Beadle's dime novels.

So giving his pants-let a hitch, he absolutely essayed to steal home. When he reached the plate he found Hellman there waiting patiently for him with the ball.

Why it hadn't been a clip!

For the Indians, who Cline reached first with his usual luck, which came this time in the shape of an error big enough to work for a living, by Joe Walsh.

He bore a charmed life—as they used to say in Beadle's dime novels.

So giving his pants-let a hitch, he absolutely essayed to steal home. When he reached the plate he found Hellman there waiting patiently for him with the ball.

Why it hadn't been a clip!

For the Indians, who Cline reached first with his usual luck, which came this time in the shape of an error big enough to work for a living, by Joe Walsh.

He bore a charmed life—as they used to say in Beadle's dime novels.

So giving his pants-let a hitch, he absolutely essayed to steal home. When he reached the plate he found Hellman there waiting patiently for him with the ball.

Why it hadn't been a clip!

For the Indians, who Cline reached first with his usual luck, which came this time in the shape of an error big enough to work for a living, by Joe Walsh.

He bore a charmed life—as they used to say in Beadle's dime novels.

So giving his pants-let a hitch, he absolutely essayed to steal home. When he reached the plate he found Hellman there waiting patiently for him with the ball.

Why it hadn't been a clip!

For the Indians, who Cline reached first with his usual luck, which came this time in the shape of an error big enough to work for a living, by Joe Walsh.

The Milwaukee had their "more so" in error makings. Score:

Table with columns: Player, AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Lists stats for Poorman, Lofgren, Morrissey, Herr, Sutton, King, Hassamer, Shenkel, Mills, and Totals.

ST. PAUL.

Table with columns: Player, AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Lists stats for Hawes, Murphy, Pinkett, Carson, Kelly, Werrick, Broughton, Farmer, Maires, Tredway, and Totals.

BY INNINGS.

Table with columns: Milwaukee, St. Paul. Shows scores by inning.

SUMMARY.

Earned runs—Milwaukee 4, St. Paul 7. Bases on balls—Poorman, Lofgren 2, Herr 2, Shenkel, Mills 2, Hawes, Carroll, Tredway, Broughton.

Struck out—By Shenkel 3, Maires 4, Werrick 2.

Double plays—Herr to Morrissey. Passed balls—Farmer 2.

Wild pitches—Shenkel 2. Stolen bases—Norman 3, Sutton 3, Mills, Hawes, Carroll, Broughton.

Hit by pitcher—Poorman, Hawes, Murphy, Farmer 2.

Time—2 hours.

Denver 15, St. Joseph 3.

Denver, May 19.—The home team numerically pounded Knell in today's game, and won by the large score of 15 to 3.

The visitors were outplayed at every point. Hoffman pitched a splendid game and was ably supported by every member of the team.

Score:

Table with columns: Player, AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Lists stats for Twineham, Smith, McClellan, Rowe, McQuinn, Klossman, Silch, Hoffman, and Totals.

ST. JOSEPH.

Table with columns: Player, AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Lists stats for Cartwright, Curtis, Kriebel, Arder, Mahoney, Grant, Smith, Whitney, Knell, and Totals.

BY INNINGS.

Table with columns: Denver, St. Joseph. Shows scores by inning.

SUMMARY.

Earned runs—Denver 3, St. Joseph 1. Three-base hits—Knell, Curtis, McClellan.

Double plays—Curtis to Mahoney. Bases on balls—Off Hoffman none, off Knell 7.

Hit by ball—Twineham, Silch. Struck out—By Hoffman 4, by Knell 5.

Passed balls—Twineham 1, Mahoney 1. Wild pitches—Hoffman 1, Knell 1.

Time—2:10.

Umpire—Cusick.

Grand Island 14, Kearney 3.

Grand Island, May 19.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Grand Island, won today from Kearney, being three games out of four. Hoar's work was excellent and his support fine. Kearney had no speed, and Walsh at short and Johnson at first made very costly errors.

Excursions were run from Kearney and St. Paul. The attendance was about 15,000. Two thousand dollars changed hands. Score:

Table with columns: Player, AB, R, H, SH, PO, A, E. Lists stats for Long Pine, Kearney, and Totals.

SUMMARY.

Batteries—Rourke and McVey, Kennedy and Moran.

Earliest runs—Grand Island 2, Kearney 1. Struck out—Rourke 7, Kennedy 6.

Double plays—Hughes to Pond to Snyder 2, Pond to Snyder.

Three-base hits—McVey 2, Johnson.

Errors—Grand Island 3, Kearney 15, which Johnson made 5 and Brand and Walsh 2 each.

Passed balls—McVey 1, Moran 3.

Base hits—Grand Island 12, Kearney 16.

Johnstown 19, Long Pine 6.

Long Pine, Neb., May 19.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Result of today's game: Johnstown 19, Long Pine 6.

American Association.

CINCINNATI, May 19.—Result of today's game: Cincinnati 3, 0 1 2 0 0 0 4-8. Baltimore 0, 0 1 2 0 0 0 2-5.

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—Result of today's game: St. Louis 0, 0 0 0 0 0 0 1-1. Brooklyn 1, 0 0 0 0 1 0 0-3.

LOUISVILLE, May 19.—Result of today's game: Louisville 0, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-1. Louisville 0, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-4.

KANSAS CITY, May 19.—Result of today's game: Kansas City 0, 0 0 0 0 0 1 4-7. Athletics 1, 2 0 0 0 0 3 0-12.

The Inter-State League.

DAVENPORT, May 19.—Result of today's game: Davenport 0, 1 0 0 1 0 0 0-4. Evansville 0, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0.

SPRINGFIELD, May 19.—Result of today's game: Springfield 0, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0. Game called on account of rain.

The Base Ball Brotherhood.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Base Ball Brotherhood held its annual spring meeting at the Fifth Avenue hotel today. Those who have predicted seasonal features and a strike will be disappointed. The players discussed the classification rule question, but no definite action was agreed upon.

SMELLETH THE BATTLE AFAR

A Horse Sober, Learns to Love the Powder Smoke.

The Magnificent Spectacle of an Artillery Charge—Some Interesting Reminiscences by a Captain.

The War Horse.

The Chronicle a few days ago noted the fact that the government had paid Captain Jerome B. Cox $100 for a horse killed in the late war, twenty-seven years ago.

It is interesting to know that the animal which the captain prized so highly then met death at the battle of Murfreesboro, with which Captain Cox's military fame is most closely connected, for it was here that Cox's battery saved the day for Rosecrans by holding an important position at a critical moment against fearful odds, winning a place in history which will be held while the world exists.

Reading Wins the Race.

CINCINNATI, May 19.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.] The prediction of bicyclists that Reading last night, when Ned Reading, the soldier boy from Fort Omaha, finished first in the six-day professional bicycle contest at the exposition building. His steady, plucky work had been regarded with much favor all along, and many have said he would be up in front at the finish. Early in the evening Reading, who was a lap behind Wilbur F. Knapp, of Denver, made a magnificent start, and, passing Knapp, soon left the latter a lap behind. The positions thus gained were maintained to the end. When Reading dashed past Knapp he was greeted with thunders of applause. The British and French could hardly be called cheering, the men being nearly exhausted by their hard work, as most of the day they had been oppressively warm. Therefore, while the riding was hard, there was not much springing toward the close. Reading's effort, being practically the only one, he was beaten by being kept in a pocket by the other riders while Reading was springing. He was many times in the lead, but was beaten by him. Schock was virtually out of the race for two days past on account of the injuries he received by falls, and he looked very poorly at the start.

Nearly 15,000 people were in attendance. The amateur races were very good. At the close of the contest the stakes to Knapp Morgan were not more than two inches apart, with the advantage in favor of Prince.

Reading..... Miles. Laps Knapp.....685 3 Prince.....685 2 Morgan.....685 2 Schock.....678 2

There appears to be considerable ill-feeling over the result of the tournament. Knapp, of Denver, was in a very angry mood, to-day, claiming that Prince purposely kept him into a pocket, and thus allowed Reading to win. The local papers nearly all lean toward the president of the contest, accusing Prince of trying to defeat Knapp, assert that it was a case of "jockeying." Knapp would ride Prince, or any of all the others, and he would win. It is likely that another match will be arranged before long, possibly at Denver. Morgan is also angry at the result of the contest, which placed him behind Prince. There was hardly two inches between them at the finish, and the judges declared that Prince was ahead.

There was considerable talk in sporting circles to-day to the effect that Knapp would dispute the result of the contest, but he did not do so. He said that he would not dispute over the judges' decision, but that what Knapp or the local papers said about Prince's action. There was no proof of unfair action on the part of Knapp, and he probably stands. There was considerable yelling by partisans in the audience at the time Reading forged ahead, and much hissing when he was declared the winner.

Oakes Finished First.

NEW YORK, May 19.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—After spinning around the eight lap track in the Madison Square Garden nine hours a day for a week, the female bicycle race was brought to a close last night at 12 o'clock. Jessie Oakes, covering 120 miles and 2 laps. The others scored as follows:

Table with columns: Name, Miles, Laps. Lists stats for Kittie Brown, Beauty Baldwin, Louise Armando, Hattie Lewis, Lottie Stanley, Elna Woods, Lulu McShaw.

At the conclusion of the race some of the spectators took Miss Oakes and her wheel and carried them around the track once amid the plaudits of the large crowd.

The State Sportsmen's Association.

NORFOLK, Neb., May 19.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Evening for a meeting for the fifteenth annual tournament of the State Sportsmen's association, which opens here on Thursday next, at 9 o'clock, on the fair ground, east of this city. The paraphernalia is complete and on the ground. Live birds in abundance are in readiness, and a large number of crack shooters and amateurs will be here. Among the names of those who will be C. W. Budd, of Des Moines, the champion wing shot of America; Frank Pennington, of Des Moines; J. H. Deane, of Nebraska; J. H. Stiles, of Des Moines, and others. Budd and Pennington are to shoot for a purse of $500 during the contest. The new gun, the Remington-Union, is to be used in all government in all cases. The meeting will be all profitable and is anticipated with unusual interest.

O'Connor Wins.

TACOMA, W. T., May 19.—The regatta yesterday was a great success. O'Connor won in 14:02; Peterson second, 14:04; Hannan third, 14:14; with Lee fourth, 14:15. The course was two and a quarter miles.

Creston Bonds.

CRESTON, Ia., May 19.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Farrar & Co., a Chicago firm, have bought $5,000 of Creston city bonds at 5 per cent interest at a premium of $5.

Captain J. W. Hicks, who has secured an appointment in the railway mail service, entered upon his duties yesterday, running between Des Moines and Creston, and will be the Burlington road, recognizing the great value of the services rendered them by the Creston Volunteer Fire company, and has arranged for the transportation of the annual tournament to be held at Council Bluffs next month.

Plain History.

Swift's Specific is a simple vegetable compound, prepared from roots gathered freshly from the forest, and contains nothing of the mineral kingdom, or any poisonous substance, or any article at all which comes from the animal kingdom.

The formula of the remedy was obtained from the Creek Indians in Middle Georgia, by reliable white men, who had witnessed the wonderful cure of the tribe of Indians, of blood diseases. Mr. Hugh L. Denard, of Houston county, Ga., began using Swift's Specific, and he will testify to its use all of his life, and asserted that he had never known it to fail to cure any case of scrofula, blood taint, or contagious blood poison. The remedy has been corrected and retested every day for years. The present Company was formed in 1870, and have since been the known and reliable makers of Swift's Specific, and to-day it is sold in every city, town and country store all over America, Great Britain, and many other portions of the world.

I have seen Swift's Specific used, and know of many cases of the worst form of blood diseases which have been cured by it. I know the proprietors to be gentlemen of the highest character, and I can heartily recommend it as a great blood remedy, unequalled by anything that I know of.

Pastor J. H. H. Church, Montgomery, Ala. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. The Swift-Specific Co., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

SMELLETH THE BATTLE AFAR

A Horse Sober, Learns to Love the Powder Smoke.

The Magnificent Spectacle of an Artillery Charge—Some Interesting Reminiscences by a Captain.

The War Horse.

The Chronicle a few days ago noted the fact that the government had paid Captain Jerome B. Cox $100 for a horse killed in the late war, twenty-seven years ago.

It is interesting to know that the animal which the captain prized so highly then met death at the battle of Murfreesboro, with which Captain Cox's military fame is most closely connected, for it was here that Cox's battery saved the day for Rosecrans by holding an important position at a critical moment against fearful odds, winning a place in history which will be held while the world exists.

Reading Wins the Race.

CINCINNATI, May 19.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.] The prediction of bicyclists that Reading last night, when Ned Reading, the soldier boy from Fort Omaha, finished first in the six-day professional bicycle contest at the exposition building. His steady, plucky work had been regarded with much favor all along, and many have said he would be up in front at the finish. Early in the evening Reading, who was a lap behind Wilbur F. Knapp, of Denver, made a magnificent start, and, passing Knapp, soon left the latter a lap behind. The positions thus gained were maintained to the end. When Reading dashed past Knapp he was greeted with thunders of applause. The British and French could hardly be called cheering, the men being nearly exhausted by their hard work, as most of the day they had been oppressively warm. Therefore, while the riding was hard, there was not much springing toward the close. Reading's effort, being practically the only one, he was beaten by being kept in a pocket by the other riders while Reading was springing. He was many times in the lead, but was beaten by him. Schock was virtually out of the race for two days past on account of the injuries he received by falls, and he looked very poorly at the start.

Nearly 15,000 people were in attendance. The amateur races were very good. At the close of the contest the stakes to Knapp Morgan were not more than two inches apart, with the advantage in favor of Prince.

Reading..... Miles. Laps Knapp.....685 3 Prince.....685 2 Morgan.....685 2 Schock.....678 2

There appears to be considerable ill-feeling over the result of the tournament. Knapp, of Denver, was in a very angry mood, to-day, claiming that Prince purposely kept him into a pocket, and thus allowed Reading to win. The local papers nearly all lean toward the president of the contest, accusing Prince of trying to defeat Knapp, assert that it was a case of "jockeying." Knapp would ride Prince, or any of all the others, and he would win. It is likely that another match will be arranged before long, possibly at Denver. Morgan is also angry at the result of the contest, which placed him behind Prince. There was hardly two inches between them at the finish, and the judges declared that Prince was ahead.

There was considerable talk in sporting circles to-day to the effect that Knapp would dispute the result of the contest, but he did not do so. He said that he would not dispute over the judges' decision, but that what Knapp or the local papers said about Prince's action. There was no proof of unfair action on the part of Knapp, and he probably stands. There was considerable yelling by partisans in the audience at the time Reading forged ahead, and much hissing when he was declared the winner.

Oakes Finished First.

NEW YORK, May 19.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—After spinning around the eight lap track in the Madison Square Garden nine hours a day for a week, the female bicycle race was brought to a close last night at 12 o'clock. Jessie Oakes, covering 120 miles and 2 laps. The others scored as follows:

Table with columns: Name, Miles, Laps. Lists stats for Kittie Brown, Beauty Baldwin, Louise Armando, Hattie Lewis, Lottie Stanley, Elna Woods, Lulu McShaw.

At the conclusion of the race some of the spectators took Miss Oakes and her wheel and carried them around the track once amid the plaudits of the large crowd.

The State Sportsmen's Association.

NORFOLK, Neb., May 19.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Evening for a meeting for the fifteenth annual tournament of the State Sportsmen's association, which opens here on Thursday next, at 9 o'clock, on the fair ground, east of this city. The paraphernalia is complete and on the ground. Live birds in abundance are in readiness, and a large number of crack shooters and amateurs will be here. Among the names of those who will be C. W. Budd, of Des Moines, the champion wing shot of America; Frank Pennington, of Des Moines; J. H. Deane, of Nebraska; J. H. Stiles, of Des Moines, and others. Budd and Pennington are to shoot for a purse of $500 during the contest. The new gun, the Remington-Union, is to be used in all government in all cases. The meeting will be all profitable and is anticipated with unusual interest.

O'Connor Wins.

TACOMA, W. T., May 19.—The regatta yesterday was a great success. O'Connor won in 14:02; Peterson second, 14:04; Hannan third, 14:14; with Lee fourth, 14:15. The course was two and a quarter miles.

Creston Bonds.

CRESTON, Ia., May 19.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Farrar & Co., a Chicago firm, have bought $5,000 of Creston city bonds at 5 per cent interest at a premium of $5.

Captain J. W. Hicks, who has secured an appointment in the railway mail service, entered upon his duties yesterday, running between Des Moines and Creston, and will be the Burlington road, recognizing the great value of the services rendered them by the Creston Volunteer Fire company, and has arranged for the transportation of the annual tournament to be held at Council Bluffs next month.

Plain History.

Swift's Specific is a simple vegetable compound, prepared from roots gathered freshly from the forest, and contains nothing of the mineral kingdom, or any poisonous substance, or any article at all which comes from the animal kingdom.

The formula of the remedy was obtained from the Creek Indians in Middle Georgia, by reliable white men, who had witnessed the wonderful cure of the tribe of Indians, of blood diseases. Mr. Hugh L. Denard, of Houston county, Ga., began using Swift's Specific, and he will testify to its use all of his life, and asserted that he had never known it to fail to cure any case of scrofula, blood taint, or contagious blood poison. The remedy has been corrected and retested every day for years. The present Company was formed in 1870, and have since been the known and reliable makers of Swift's Specific, and to-day it is sold in every city, town and country store all over America, Great Britain, and many other portions of the world.

I have seen Swift's Specific used, and know of many cases of the worst form of blood diseases which have been cured by it. I know the proprietors to be gentlemen of the highest character, and I can heartily recommend it as a great blood remedy, unequalled by anything that I know of.

Pastor J. H. H. Church, Montgomery, Ala. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. The Swift-Specific Co., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

SMELLETH THE BATTLE AFAR

A Horse Sober, Learns to Love the Powder Smoke.

The Magnificent Spectacle of an Artillery Charge—Some Interesting Reminiscences by a Captain.

The War Horse.

The Chronicle a few days ago noted the fact that the government had paid Captain Jerome B. Cox $100 for a horse killed in the late war, twenty-seven years ago.

It is interesting to know that the animal which the captain prized so highly then met death at the battle of Murfreesboro, with which Captain Cox's military fame is most closely connected, for it was here that Cox's battery saved the day for Rosecrans by holding an important position at a critical moment against fearful odds, winning a place in history which will be held while the world exists.

Reading Wins the Race.

CINCINNATI, May 19.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.] The prediction of bicyclists that Reading last night, when Ned Reading, the soldier boy from Fort Omaha, finished first in the six-day professional bicycle contest at the exposition building. His steady, plucky work had been regarded with much favor all along, and many have said he would be up in front at the finish. Early in the evening Reading, who was a lap behind Wilbur F. Knapp, of Denver, made a magnificent start, and, passing Knapp, soon left the latter a lap behind. The positions thus gained were maintained to the end. When Reading dashed past Knapp he was greeted with thunders of applause. The British and French could hardly be called cheering, the men being nearly exhausted by their hard work, as most of the day they had been oppressively warm. Therefore, while the riding was hard, there was not much springing toward the close. Reading's effort, being practically the only one, he was beaten by being kept in a pocket by the other riders while Reading was springing. He was many times in the lead, but was beaten by him. Schock was virtually out of the race for two days past on account of the injuries he received by falls, and he looked very poorly at the start.

Nearly 15,000 people were in attendance. The amateur races were very good. At the close of the contest the stakes to Knapp Morgan were not more than two inches apart, with the advantage in favor of Prince.