

A FEW MORE HEADS DROP.

Thirteen Union Pacific Freight Clerks Discharged.

THE RAILWAY CONDUCTORS.

Special Rates Made By the Trans-Missouri Association—The Nebraska City Tournament—Railroad Notes.

Reducing the Fare.
Yesterday thirteen clerks in the local freight office were discharged on account of the dullness in business and several more will be discharged as soon as Major McClintock arranges for "consolidation."

According to reports from other departments, but few men are retained who are not actually needed. No further reduction, it is said, is to be made in track or trainmen for the present, and the indications are that the number of the latter may have to be increased. Complaints are made that serious delays are made in the switching of cars for unloading and loading, owing to the small force employed in the yards. At the Union elevator the workmen stated that they were compelled to stop work for a considerable length of time on account of the cars not being switched to the unloading point.

Special Rates.
The Trans-Missouri Association has decided to make the following rates: To all state fairs, one fare for the round trip from and to any point within the state; non-partisan prohibition convention at Lincoln, June 5, one and one-third fare for the round trip; on July 4, one fare for the round trip to all points within a radius of 200 miles inside the state. Several special rates on minor matters have also been established.

The Conductors Arrive.
About 200 members of the Order of Railway Conductors arrived in Omaha yesterday afternoon over the Burlington on their return from Denver, where they have been in annual session. The delegation occupied ten Pullman vestibule cars. A stop of one hour was made here, during which time the visitors were the guests of the Harry Canham lodge, O. R. C. A large number of them were driven about the business centers of the city. After an hour's sojourn the delegation departed for points east.

Tournament at Nebraska City.
The firemen's tournament will be held at Nebraska City today and the Missouri Pacific will run a special train from this city to that point. The rate is one fare for the round trip. The train will leave at 9 o'clock in the morning and return leaving Nebraska City at 10:30 in the evening. A large number of people from this city will attend.

It is Now Permanent.
The dining car service, recently inaugurated on the Union Pacific between Omaha and Denver, according to reports received at headquarters, is meeting with large patronage. Luxuries have been added to the already existing menu and the officials state that the service will be further improved. They are jubilant over the result of the undertaking.

INDORSED FOR COLLECTOR.

Sixth Ward Republicans So Honor W. A. Grant.

The Sixth Ward Republican club met in weekly session in the headquarters on Twenty-sixth and Lake street last night. Frank Spoor was elected chairman and called a large assembly to order. After transacting routine business the following resolutions were presented by Ed Taylor:

Resolved, By the Sixth ward republican club in regular session, that we cordially and unhesitatingly recommend for appointment to the position of deputy collector of internal revenue of this district our worthy fellow member, W. A. Grant. His faithful and untiring adherence to republicanism, together with his undoubted integrity and qualifications, render him especially fit for such appointment.

Resolved, That the president and secretary of this club be instructed to present a copy of these resolutions to Senator Manderson, Congressmen Campbell and Hon. John Peters, and urge their endorsement of Mr. Grant in the name of the club.

Mr. Grant was present and thanked the club for the honor shown him.

The matter of choosing a candidate for the school board, from the Sixth ward, was then brought up. Under the by-laws of the club no caucus could be held under the name of the club, and an adjournment was taken. The meeting reorganized as a caucus with Lee Halsey as chairman. It resulted in developing the fact that there were numerous candidates in the meeting for a position on the school board, and as many factions correspond. To avoid a split an adjournment was taken till Monday night. The more prominent candidates are Michael Cody, H. C. Coryell, Charles Kelsey and Andy Dauble.

REV. HENRY JACOBSON.

He Delivers an Interesting Lecture at the Jewish Synagogue.

Rev. Henry Jacobson, of Macon, Ga., is the second minister who has been extended an invitation by the trustees of the congregation of Israel to preach sermons, from the merits of which the congregation proposes to select a rabbi to succeed Dr. Benson, who has retired from the ministry to enter the practice of law.

Mr. Jacobson is a tall, slender, smooth-faced man, whose age is just twenty-five years. He delivered a lecture last night at the Harney street synagogue. He is a man of pleasing address and preached to an audience that was highly delighted with his discourse. His subject was "The Effect of Religion on Every Day Life." He spoke particularly in reference to "God's Love." Mr. Jacobson is a very fluent talker, and seemed to create a very favorable impression on the congregation.

This morning at 10 o'clock he will deliver another sermon, and also one Sunday afternoon.

Close of the Art Exhibit.

The art exhibition was brought to a close last night, and all those officially connected with it are profuse in their assertions of the great success accomplished. The attendance, day and evening, has been good, the sale of pictures large and, as a consequence, every person interested is perfectly satisfied. The receipts from admitted tickets, amounting to nearly $500, a sum sufficiently large to pay all expenses and leave a nice balance in the treasury. Add to this an equal sum expended by visitors in the purchase of paintings, and it will be seen that the interest has been fully up to expectation. The association has been given encouragement in various ways to hold another and more extensive exhibit in the near future. The use of a large hall and any outside assistance that may be desired have been extended.

POCKETING THE PLANS.

The Unsuccessful City Hall Designs Held By the Committee.

The council committee on public buildings has refused to return to the architects owing them the unaccepted plans of the city hall. As a consequence, some of the architects are exceedingly angry. F. M. Ellis has declared his intention to replevin his and make the city pay the cost and has notified the mayor and city attorney of his action. Sidney Smith says that they can have his but that he will go to court and make the city pay a handsome price for them. At the same time Mr. Smith took occasion to express his opinion of the idea of having any one but experts pass upon plans.

Mendelssohn, Fisher & Lawrie said that they had applied to the city clerk for their designs and had been told that it was the intention of the committee to retain all the plans until the contract had been formally awarded to Fowler & Heindorf. He said further that while the plan of the last mentioned firm had been accepted, the contract had not been awarded to them. He said the architects had given a sufficient bond and had presented working plans and specifications. In the event of a failure to produce a bond or to draw such specifications and working plans, as to enable the building to be erected, it would be necessary to fall back upon some other of the plans submitted.

"Will you go to law to compel the committee to return your plans?"
"No, indeed. We are entitled to them, even under the proposition asked for plans, which stated, in substance, that the plans not accepted would be returned after the committee had made its award. But if we went into the courts it would be said that we did so through spite, because our plans had not been accepted. It is, nevertheless, an injustice, because we will be deprived of our work for an indefinite period."

"Said another architect: 'I can't get my plans, but I can't help that. I have no guarantee that they will be returned to me at all. Neither do I know but that while they are in the committee's hands, they are subject to the inspection of the successful architect. These architects, however, have put the best men they could get on the work, and they will not be able to get those specifications out of me for three months to save them from purgatory.'"

Richard Trevellick's Lecture.

Richard F. Trevellick addressed the Central Labor union in Washington hall last night. He wanted for labor a working day of eight hours, and, speaking for trades unions, guaranteed that their members would devote the extra leisure hours to their families, recreation and the study of governmental problems, and not to the saloon. He said he did not know but that while they are in the committee's hands, they are subject to the inspection of the successful architect. These architects, however, have put the best men they could get on the work, and they will not be able to get those specifications out of me for three months to save them from purgatory."

AN AMERICAN IN HAYTI.

Trying to Force an Engineer Into Hypolite's Army.

New York, May 24.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Bernard Campbell, engineer, who with three other signed articles in New York to serve on a steamer in the West Indies, told to-day the story of his sufferings in Cape Hayti, where he says an effort was made to impress him into the service of General Hypolite on the gunboat Le Carondelet.

Campbell hired to serve on a steamer plying between ports in the West Indies, and when he reached Cape Hayti, he found that he was wanted to serve in Hypolite's navy and refused, saying "that vessel is a pirate and the United States does not recognize that flag. I am an American citizen and won't serve under any other flag."

Campbell thinks that the officers of the steamer which carried him, and American Consul Goulet, conspired together to force him into Hypolite's service. He says that he saw Consul Goulet paying North Haytien money to Americans for service in Hypolite's navy. After hesitating and making excuses the consul gave him a pass to Monte Cristo.

His adventures, getting to Monte Cristo, Campbell tells as follows: "I had already engaged a small steamer to take me there, but as I stepped on the wharf three Haytien soldiers attacked me. I managed to knock two down and the other retreated. I had guns but did not use them, evidently intending two take me alive. Two others now approached. I was knocked down and lay under it and clung to a timber, and after they had finished searching for me I quietly swam to my boat, to which my clothes had been already removed. At 1 o'clock on May 15 we sailed out of the harbor. At Monte Cristo I got my papers signed by the governor."

A TRIP TO CANADA.

A New York Banker Disappears With $20,000.

New York, May 24.—[May excited Hebrews thronged the private banking office of Max Goldberg in Greenwich street. All of them had deposited money with the banker at 163 Ridge street, or at the Greenwich street office. Banker Max has not been seen in town since a week ago Wednesday. His bank suspended payment Tuesday, and as his wife has cleared out of the Ridge street building and moved up town, they feel very uneasy. Max had $20,000 deposited with him. His brother, Ignatz Goldberg, fled to Canada two years ago and has not been heard of since. He left a number of thousands of dollars deposited with him as a banker, by poor people. The Goldbergs are Polish Hebrews and did business among ignorant and poor people, chiefly of their own nationality. Max had 600 depositors.

UNPARALLELED BRUTALITY.

A Butcher Hangs Up a Dog and Skins Him Alive.

Jenney City, N. J., May 24.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Frank Surken, aged twenty, employed at a butcher shop on Harrison street, Hoboken, is under arrest for almost unparalleled brutality to a dog. Mrs. M. McFadden, a neighbor, makes the complaint. She alleges that Surken enticed a large Newfoundland dog into the butcher shop, muzzled the animal, and after impaling its hind legs upon a long wooden pole, killed it alive, as he would the carcass of a sheep. The butcher abused her for interfering, and threatened her with his knife. The dog was dead when the police reached the butcher shop. Surken had no explanation to make when arrested. He was locked up.

STOPPER PRIVILEGES VIOLATED.

Chicago, May 24.—[The southwestern railroads have an agreement by which grain may be stopped in transit at the Missouri river for a period not exceeding thirty days. At a meeting in Chicago last week a proposition was made that the stop-over privilege be extended to six months. The Missouri Pacific was foremost in opposing this motion, and after long discussion the proposition was voted down. Chairman Midgett has just issued a circular to all the southwestern lines notifying them that the Missouri Pacific has all along violated this thirty day agreement, as he has discovered upon investigation, and notwithstanding its apparent sincerity in opposing an extension of the limit, it has been stopping grain in transit as long as six months. Mr. Midgett therefore authorizes all other roads to make a six months limit. It is feared trouble may follow as a result of the deception that has apparently been practiced by the Missouri Pacific.

CARED FOR NOTHING BUT THE MONEY.

Baltimore, Md., May 24.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Mrs. Abram Smith, of Hagerstown, Md., was arrested last night on the return of her husband, who disappeared nearly twenty years ago. Soon after their only child, a daughter, was born, the couple quarrelled and separated. The husband went away and, nothing more was heard of him. His child grew to womanhood, believing her father dead. Several years ago the missing man returned, leaving an estate, which Mrs. Smith claimed for her daughter. The Washington county court, under the seven years' absence or death law, awarded the daughter the legal heir. Smith, on his return, did not seek a reconciliation with his wife or recognize his child, but after engaging a lawyer to prosecute a claim to his father's estate, left as suddenly as he came.

Each was provided with a rifle, cartridge belt and revolver, and a search of their baggage brought to light a small brass cannon, ammunition therefor, and fully $1,000 in cash. In addition to this they had fishing tackle, dark lanterns, base ball outfits, and other paraphernalia of sportsmen. All these accoutrements were of the finest kind. ## A GREAT SCHEME.

Platt Engineering a Plan to Knock Out Hill's Vetoes.

New York, May 24.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—There is much talk of a union of the local ticket of the republicans and the county democracy. It is said to be engineering the scheme. The county democracy are very sore over their defeat in the majority contest and the distribution of local patronage. The union might lead to the control of the legislature by more than two-thirds, thus enabling the majority to override Hill's vetoes. The trade will be one of local offices for legislative republicans to take the latter. With seventy-seven republicans assembled (two less than last year) the conspirators feel sure of success, for they fully expect to elect thirteen county democrats from this city. That would give the republicans four more than enough to pass the threatened charter over Hill's veto. This charter is to be one taking away Tammany's power. There is going to be the hottest kind of fighting over the senate in the interior counties, in which Hill will take an interested part. The next senate will, in 1891, help choose a United States senator in the place of our own Everts. The county's fully expect to have six senators in the senate, and they are going to have the republicans keep their end up the necessary twenty-two votes to override Hill's veto of the new charter will be forthcoming in the senate. They are the dreams of the enemies of Tammany.
