The Horses and the Bykers. Another fine crowd assembled at the Coli seum last evening, and the horse-bicycle chase was resumed amidst much enthusiasm Owing to Miss Lizzie Williams' partial disa bility, brought on by a fall from an unruly bronche on the first evening, the bicycliennes consented last night to Beardley putting in third rider, which he did in the shape of a wild and wooly cowboy, and no less a person than Broncho Charlie. His daring horsemanship was not long in metamorphos ing the race, for in the first two hours' rid ing, with the assistance of his fair companions, Miss Williams and Miss Raber, he cut down the lead of the bykers from six miles to six laps. If Broncho Charlie is allowed to continue, there is little doubt but that the horses will win. Beauty Baldwin, who looks as winsome and pretty as ever, was the first of the bicyclieunes to appear last night, and the way she her glistening wheel flash ellipse was a caution to severa of the champions of the world who occupied prominent seats on the reserved sides. The little lady is yet a great favorite with all patrons of the Coliseum. Miss Kittle Brown, however, shows more improvement in riding than any of the fair cyclists, and was rapturously applauded last night as she lead the fiery pronchos in their weary chase. She was also the recipient of several handsome floral offerings. Louise Armaindo and Miss Lily Williams are riding well, and were both given an evation on their appearance. The equestranism of Miss Lizzie Williams and Jennie Rober is much admired, while Broncho Charlie's dust ing style evoked salvo after salvo of enthus

OMAHA, May 28 .- To the Sporting Editor of THE BEE: When I left this city for New York, three weeks ago, I issued an accept ance to Mr. Flagg's challenge on behalf of Miss Williams, I posted a deposit of $25, to make a match for six days, two hours per day, and to allow any and all lady bicyclists to enter. That forfeit has remained uncovered up to this time. But as all the champion lady wheelists are now in Omaha. I am still same kind of a race, and to make the sweepstakes $50 or $100 each, no-body barred and no favors asked. If three or mere start, the gate money to be divided into three shares-50, 30 and 20 per cent, th winner to take the whole sweepstakes money Now this is my last any final challenge nd if any person means business let hir and if any person means business let him cover this money, which I deposit with you in good faith. Enclosed you will find $50, which speaks for itself; $50 or $100 is plenty to run for, and will prove who is the beslady bicyclist in the world. T. W. Eck.

Articles of Agreement. Articles of agreement entered into this the 28th day of May, by and between Robert Neilson, of Boston, and Ned Reading, of Fort Omaha, for a series of three races, 25, 50 and 100 miles, for $300 a side, $50 a side of which is posted, to-day, with the sporting editor of THE BEE, the balance of the money to be put up Monday, June 3d. It is furthe stipulated that the winner of two of the events out of three to take the stakes and 6 per cent of the gate receipts, the dates of the races to be the 6th, 7th and 8th of June and to be run in the order named above Both riders to be on the mark at 3:45 shar on the evening of the 6th, at 7:30 on the 7th and 4:30 on the 8th. Another Challenge. Coliseum Building, May 28, 1889. - To the Sporting Editor of THE BEE: In behalf of Ned Reading, the soldier, I hereby chal lenge Robert Nelson of Boston, for a series three races, 25, 50 and 100 miles, for $250 c side, the winner of two out of three of said races to take the stakes and gate money, and the races to come off on dates to be mutually agreed upon. As a guaranty of good faith have this day deposited $50 as a forfeit with the sporting editor of Tim Bes.

Jonn S. PRINCE. A Sensible Suggestion. Senator Morgan says he is still waiting for the alleged backer of Miss Williams to cover his forfeit of $50 in behalf of the champion, Miss Jossie Oakes, and it does seen strange that after all the talk from the for mer's backers that they should fight shy of Morgan's forfeit, which evidently means business, and the flery challenge of the lat ter must still be ringing in the ears of the defied ones. A match race, with the cash up, between the fastest four lady bicyclists should prove an interesting event.

They have gotten up a purse down there for a fight with La Bianche, the Marine, but it seems that Smith is missing. He has not been in Omaha, that is, to any ene's knowledge.

Hastings, Neb., May 23 .- | Special Telegram to The Bee. 1-All day was consumed by the testimony of witnesses for the prose cution in the Mrs. Aldrich murder trial. Much of it was of no special interest, and nothing of a sensational character elicited. A Daylight Robbery.

FREMONT, Neb., May 28 .- [Special to THE BEE. |- A bold robbery took place in Fremont this forenoon, perhaps the boldest ever perpetrated in the city. About 10 o'clock two well-dressed young men, each wearing a silk tile, knocked at the residence of Dr. N. H. Brown, and inquired of the hired girl if Mrs. Brown was at home. They were informed that she was not, when they asked for the doctor, and were told he was also absent. The two men then told her that they were old friends of the family, and would go in the parlor and take a seat, which they did, and the girl went about her work in the sitchen. Presently one of them went to the kitchen, and forcing the girl into the dining room, covered her with a re volver. The other man then went through the house rapidly and took such money as h could find, but only got $8.50, overlooking some valuable jewelry and two watches near at hand. They then made a hasty exi and fied. The police were immediately no-tified of the robbery, but despite the fact that it took place in broad daylight, have not yet succeeded in discovering the highway

Court in Fremont. FREMONT, Neby May 28 .- [Special to THE Beg. |- The district court for Dodge county opened up yesterday afternoon with Judge Post on the bench. The docket is unusually full, both of civil and criminal cases. The first one called was that of Hanlon vs. The Union Pacific railroad for damage by trespass, the plaintiff claiming that the side tracks of the defendant encroach upon her property near the depot. This case is still in progress. The most conspicuous criminal to be tried is that of the state against Joseph L Weber, the man who was recently arrested in Arizona and brought back here to answer for forgeries to the amount of about $15,000, committed here fifteen years ago. Weber was at that time convicted and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, but was soon pardoned out by Governor Furnas. The case will come up to morrow afternoon on a motion to resentence him on the verdict rendered fifteen years ago. This novel case has created a good deal of interest here.

Major D. H. Wneeler, George Smith, W. N. Nason, secretary of the board of trade, were escorted by a committee of the Irou Hall to the platform. The mayor was introduced and in welcoming the supreme sitting spoke as follows:

Gentlemen, one of the pleasant duties of the mayor of a city is to welcome within its gates any visiting strangers. That feeling of welcome in your case should be the more cordial inasmuch as you have dropped in on us unexpectedly. Two or three days ago no one knew you were coming, and on that account we feel the honor to be greater that you have selected our city for the sitting of the supreme organization of your order. As yet, we know very little of the objects of the Iron Hall, but we understand that, in the main, they are fraternal and, therefore, can assure you that you have come into a field where such seed can be planted in confident expectation of good results.

On behalf of the city of Omaha, I take great pleasure in welcoming you to our midst, and I am sure that some arrangement will be made by the board of trade, members of which body are present, for your entertainment during your sojourn in our city.

We want to show you all of our posses sions-we want to convince you that we are progressive city. And what we have here pect to find elsewhere in the far west. In 1880 this city had a population of 30,000; in 1885, 61,000; in 1886, 80,000, and to-day it is estimated at about one hundred and twenty thousand. We have here also, as we expect to demonstrate to you in a drive about Omaha, forty-one miles of paving, sixty-six miles of sewers and other vast public improvements, all brought about in the past few years. We have also to the south of the main city, a thriving city which is, in fact, a part of Omaha—South Omaha with a packing interest that is third in point of importance in the Uunited States, which will be disclosed to you. I will once more assure you of the cordial greeting of our citizens and say for myself that the personnel of your delegation has very favorably impressed me.

The address of the mayor was responded to by Dr. N. D. Church, of Boston, who, on behalf of the Iron Hall, thanked him for the corduality of his greeting. The mayor was also thanked for an informal reception tendered by him to the visitors at the hotel. I

Board of Directors Elected and Big Inducements Offered. The stockholders of the Masonic home remained in session to a late hour last night. The early part of its evening was taken up in adopting articles of incorporation. The articles call for a capital stock of $500,000 and an existence of thirty years. The masonic home is to be placed in charge of a board of trustees numbering twelve, from which a president, two vice presidents and secretary are chesen. The articles prevent indebted-ness or obligations of any kind on the part of the stockholders unless the same shall have previously been provided for. After adopting the articles of incorporation the opening of the donation olds for the location of the home was taken up. The follow-ing bids were made:
