MINOR MENTION.

George Schuler and Rosa Hubmann, both of Council Bluffs, were married, yesterday afternoon, in the parior of the Creston house, 'Squire Schurz. All who have not seen "The Smugglers of Senovton' will have at opportunity to do so Thursday night, when the last performance will be given at Dohany's. A pieked nine from the gymnasium will meet the first nine of the junior club to-morrow on their grounds, corner Ninth street and Nintli avenue, at 2:30 o'clock.

M. Fifield walked into the police station, yesterday afternoon, and requested to be lecked up for two days. As he was brim full, and seemed on the verge of the tremens, his request was granted, and he will sweat at the city's expense for the next forty eight hours or longer, as the court may direct. A. H. of his daily News, a spicy little sheet, which is to be devoted enthusiastically to the interests of Missouri Valley. It remains to be seen whether the citizens of that thriving town appreciate the enterprise sufficiently to give it the necessary support. They, ought

Two good ball games are announced for Decoration day. The one at Fairview park will be the same as on Sunday, between Odell Bros.' team and the soldiers' nine from Fort Omaha. At Manawa the Garneaus will meet the Gate Citys of Omaha. Both will doubtless be interesting exhibitions of the national game. the national game.

The Congregationalists had a social last evening at the residence of Mr. W. W. Wal-lace. There seems to be a strange ill fortune attending the socials and festivals of this church, so far as weather is concerned. It has become so noticeable that rain is an accompaniment that faithful members dust off their umbrellas and shake out their waterproofs whenever a sociable is announced.

O. L. Deane & Co., of Omaha, ran against the Council Bluffs license law while moving the safes of the Wabash railway company to their new quarters in the Merriam block. The marshal arrested them as soon as the safes were loaded for running a dray without a license. They set up the claim that they were not draying, but working by the day, and the safes were then removed without further difficulty.

A search warrant case was tried, yester day, before 'Squire Schurz. J. F. Reed lost a fine shepherd dog, valued at $50, and found it in possession of a man named Miller, in the southern part of the city. For Liberty and Justice.

The attendance at the meeting held at the opera house last evening, in the interest of the land league and the oppressed people of Ireland, was very light; indeed, less than 200 people were present. Mayor M. F. Rohrer presided. The principal speaker of the evening was John Sutton, of Lincoln, secretary of the National Land league. He spoke for nearly an hour, and showed him-self thoroughly conversant with his subject, as well as an interesting and entertaining speaker.

He was followed by John P. Slavin and Emmett Tinley, both of this city. The remarks of both gentlemen were to the point, and were well received. A collection was taken for the benefit of the Irish cause, amounting to about $50. The meeting was not as well attended as was anticipated, but was more enthusiastic than could be expected from the small attendance.

The saloonists, who have been monkeying of late with the business end of the prohibition question, are beginning to realize that the temperance alliance people are crowding the pace a little too fast for them. Sam Ford and the Western house have been served with notices that there are breakers ahead . and Peter Bartel has been lodged in jail for contempt. Several new complaints have been filed, and, as a certain county official remarked yesterday, "It looks pretty tough for the saloon men." The present term of court will be a lively one, so far as the liquor dealers are concerned, if the statements of the members of the Law and Order league are to be relied upon as authority in the matter. Injunction cases without end are to be brought up, and it is stated that several parties who are selling liquor in violation of injunctions will soon find themselves in the same fix as Bartel, and will be sent to the county cylinder to rest and recuperate. The saloon men themselves incline to the belief that the coming fight will be the hottest yet experienced, and are a little doubtful as to

Trials By Jury.
The damage case of Garner vs City of Council Bluffs was on trial in the district court yesterday. The plaintiff is a non-resident and owns property on Fourteenth street. He asks the court for a judgment for $3,000 against the city because of the building of the Indian creek sewer ditch on Fourteenth street, changing the grades of that street, and polluting the waters of the creek with sewerage.

The jury in the case of Kimball & Champ vs Seguin returned a verdict for the defend-ant and were treated by him to a splendid dinner at Lanie's as an evidence of his appreciation of the verdict.

The case of Flickinger vs Siedentopf, and Saguin vs Siedentopf were continued until later in the term. These are somewhat similar to the one just decided, and are the result of tax title deeds to city property.

The opening of the Council Bluffs Furniture company will not occur today, owing to the great amount of work necessary to arrange the immense stock of furniture. The lovers of the beautiful will be surprised when they visit 407 Broadway.

More Paving.

"It is generally understood that the council does not propose to do any paving in the city this year," said a well-known paving contractor to THE BEE reporter, yesterday, "but it is now quite certain that about 30,000 yards will be put down here this year. I understand that it is proposed to pave Sixth, Seventh and Eighth avenues from Sixth street to Eighth street, Sixth and Seventh streets from Fifth avenue to Eighth avenue. Fourth street from North to Tenth avenue, Bluff street from Fifth to Tenth avenue, and Bluff street from Fifth to Tenth avenue, and Washington avenue from Main to Eighth street. This will cost about $30,000, and will make quite a nice little job. It will finish up all the ragged ends, as you might call them, of the paving heretofore done, and will put everything in nice shape. The city will then be splendidly supplied with paving, and it will not be necessary to do any more for two years, or perhaps more. The entire business and central residence portions of the city will then be paved, taking in a strip over half a mile square, besides the long lines up and down Breedway for it full lines up and down Broadway, for its full length, and South Main street. I have been around a great deal of late, and I find our paying in Council Bluffs far greater, according to population, than anywhere else.'

An trate Female. Maggie Hawkie was tried yesterday in Squire Hendricks' court for assault and battery. The complaing witness was N. P. Jorgenson, a farmer living in Hazel Dall township. Mrs. Hawkie's farm adjoins his. and the only fence between the farms is a double line of barb wire. Mrs. Hawkie's cattle were disposed to trespass on the Jorgenson acres, greatly to the displeasure of that gentleman, and he concluded that he could not stand it. When the cattle appeared on the 231 inst., he shut them up in his corral, and notified Mrs. Hawkie that her stock was held by him for damages. She shortly went after them, and was re-fused possession until the owner paid $1.50 per head for each of the twelve shut up. She thereupon grew wrathy, and proceeded to larrup Jorgenson with a stick she had brought to use on the cattle, and when it brought to use on the cattle, and when it was broken she picked up a board and continued her innocent amusement until she was tired. Jorgenson filed a complaint as above stated, and his pugnacious neighbor was fined $10. She promptly paid the assessment, also the amount required by Jorgenson for alloged damages.

Permits For New Roofs. Building permits are being issued with a rush at the city clerk's office. "We make them come in or they wouldn't pay any attention to the ordinancs," remarked Clerk Huntington to THE BEE. "We have an offi-cer detailed for that purpose, and it keeps him busy. When a new building is started, him busy. When a new building is started, a permit must be shown, or there is trouble. You see it costs a haif a dollar to get a permit, and many of them think they will beat the city out of that much, but it don't work. If they don't come in, it costs a couple of dollars, and one lesson is enough for them. When they find they must pay anyway, they of course prefer the smaller sum. The city needs the revenue and it is bound to have it, so builders can conduct themselves accordingly."

Permits were issued yesterday to the following: C. W. Johnson, $1,100; Pierce & Plott, $600; L. M. Johnson, $1,2 0; Carbon Coal company, $2,000; S. A. Johnson, two buildings, $1,000 each; S. E. Winder, $2,500; L. E. Builard, two buildings, $1,600 each; F. I. Builard, $750. Besides these, there were several smaller ones. were several smaller ones.

Expediency in Assessing. "I see by Tue Bee that the board of equalization is putting in its time now to the complaints of the kickers," remarked a prominent citizen and capitalist yesterday. "Now I have been watching this matter of assessment quite closely for some years past and I think that I have found where the board has always made a serious mistake. Everybody knows that the assessments have not been as just and equitable as they should have been, and this has caused heavy and continuous kicking year after year. Certain parties, whose politics and position happen to be such as to render their support important, have invariably been let off with a ridicplously small assessment.

"Of course, this necessitated a corresponding increase of the assessment of a number of less favored individuals. Such a state of affairs naturally made an unpleasantness and gave rise to the gravest charges, but it all amounted to very little in the end. Now then, as to what has been done to work against the interests of the city. Assess-ments have been cut here and there, favoring this or that corporation or wealthy indi vidual, just to keep them good natured, al-though they are not in a position to materially injure the city, even if so disposed. However, one corporation, which really holds the key to the whole situation has been completely ignored.

"I refer to the Union Pacific Railway company. Their assessments have been in-creased far in excess of their comparative increase in the assessment of other companies, yet the city expects the Union Pacific balles, yet the city expects the Chion Pacine to go ahead with great improvements here. Anyone who understands the situation is aware that the Union Pacific holds the fate of the union depot scheme in its own hands, for if that company says go on and build it, the structure will be erected, whereas, if it refuses to go into the project, the plan will fall flat, as the other roads must go to the Union Pacific and will not pay for their share of the proposed new depot, and at the same time continue to pay their present heavy rentals to the Union Pacific at the transfer. In view of these facts, it seems to me that it is policy to do as much for the Union Pacific as for the other roads. I am greatly interested in Council Bluffs real estate, and I want to see a new union depot nearer the center of the city, and I also hope to see another electric motor between this city and Omaha via the Union Pacific bridge. I think that the council and board of equalization ought to take cognizance of such things while hold-ing their lengthy wrangles over assessments,"
