

EIGHTEENTH YEAR.

THE DEAD AND THE GRATEFUL

How America Remembered Her Sleeping Defenders.

LOVE AND TEARS FOR THE BLUE.

Tears and Love For the Gray—The Day at Washington, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Chicago and New York.

The Day at New York.

New York, May 30.—Though the early morning did not give promise of a fair day, yet it could not be said to be a very unpleasant prospect. Rain fell only lightly and at irregular intervals, while as the morning advanced the rain ceased entirely and the sun at times broke through the clouds.

All public buildings displayed their flags at half mast, but there was a very meagre display of bunting elsewhere except at the hotels and newspaper offices. The points of vantage along the line were taken up by sightseers at an early hour, and the reviewing stands were filled before the parade started.

The parade was reviewed by Governor Hill, Vice President Morton and Major Grant. After the parade the members of the G. A. R. went to the various cemeteries and decorated the graves.

The G. A. R. arranged its memorial services to-day at the Metropolitan General Grant's tomb in Riverside park. At the entrance to the tomb a floral arch was erected, bearing the inscription: "Enshrined in the hearts of his countrymen. Above this was a shield with the national colors, also of flowers, and this was surmounted by a floral cross with the Grand Army motto, 'E. P. C. I. The interior of the tomb was a mass of flowers and evergreens, so great as to completely hide the casket.

Chas. Yen Heng, Chinese consul general, secretary at Washington, sent a floral device bearing his name.

Many G. A. R. and other organizations also sent more or less decorations to the left side of the tomb a platform was erected, on which exercises were held. About five thousand people were present. The Rev. J. M. Buckley, D. D., L. D., delivered the oration. The Seventy-first regiment fired a salute, and Chas. Yen Heng, Consul General, closed with a prayer.

The United States man-of-war, Galena, lying in the river below the tomb, and fired five minutes of music. The interior of the tomb was a mass of flowers and evergreens, so great as to completely hide the casket.

Chicago, May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—During the parade, to-day, there was a rude row between Grand Army men, who had the work in charge, and two representatives of the Old Soldiers' and Sailors' association, which nearly resulted in crime. Just as the crowd was gathering, Post Commander McDonald, of Meade post, of Erie-wood, who was in charge of the parade, placed a flag on the ground, and was approached by Captain W. H. Mahoney and his brother, H. W. Mahoney, of the Old Soldiers' and Sailors' association, bearing a large floral offering, on which was inscribed: "In memory of the Old Soldiers' and Sailors' association, Camp Douglas."

"You can't bring that in here," said McDonald. "You say, and why?" asked Mahoney. "Well, we'll take it in, or there will be some dead men around here," replied one of the brothers.

The men set down the floral piece and there was a scuffle, but the men were separated, and while some parties who gathered were engaging McDonald, the Mahoney brothers rushed to the front of the parade. There were no attempts to remove it, although threats were made, and McDonald was told that the floral offering was the property of the Old Soldiers' and Sailors' association in a spirit of rivalry.

Brooklyn, May 30.—President Harrison breakfasted early at the residence of Joseph F. Knapp, in company with Secretary of the Navy Tracy and mayor Chapin. After breakfast several prominent citizens called and shook hands with the chief executive. It was near 10 o'clock when the president and his party started out to review the parade.

The Grand Army men, who were in the lead, were packed on the Fort Greene plaza and the intersecting streets as the head of the column passed by. The G. A. R. men, they were very much excited. They held their hats to the man who had been their comrade in arms. Secretary Tracy was on the parade, and he, too, came in for a graceful welcome. The veterans and paid firemen and the letter carriers got their share of the day's honors.

Washington, May 30.—Although the weather prospects were dubious this morning, the veterans of the late war turned out in good force to make their annual pilgrimage to Arlington, the soldier's home and other grounds where the remains of old comrades lie. There were very few evidences of business activity to be seen and the spirit of the day was generally observed.

The Grand Army men were concentrated in their efforts upon Arlington. Attorney General Miller was the representative of the administration of that place. General D. A. B. was the orator of the day, and a poem was delivered by Eugene F. Ward, of Kansas. Appropriate music was rendered by the Marine band, and a salute was fired by a battery of artillery.

General Sheridan's tomb, especially, was decorated by the bands of the various regiments, and the monument to General Gabriel S. Paul was unveiled with an appropriate address by Chief Justice Charles Drake.

Flowers were very freely offered to the tomb by a committee of the Logan Guard of Honor.

St. Matthews' church mass was celebrated for the repose of the soul of the late General Sheridan, and for the soldiers who fell in battle.

The attendance at Arlington cemetery was unusually large. Mrs. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. McKee and Dr. Scott, of the white house, brought a bouquet of flowers, which was placed on General Sheridan's grave. General Schofield and staff, and Senators Sawyer and Manderson were present. The first ceremony of the day was at Sheridan's monument. Here the members of the G. A. R. committees of the Woman's Relief corps, and of the Logan Guard gathered, and within the inclosure around the monument the Marine band played a dirge, an old veteran pulled a rose and the flags which have covered the monument since it was placed in place fell to the ground, exposing to view a plain granite shaft thirteen feet high, bearing on its face the bronze bust and medallion of General Sheridan. The Woman's Relief corps threw handfuls of roses around the base of the monument, and later in the day the children of General Sheridan added their floral contribution to the heap which kind hands had strewn about their father's grave.

AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, May 30.—The memorial monument on the site of the Haymarket anarchist riot of May 4, 1886, was unveiled this afternoon.

The monument was presented to the city on behalf of the citizens by H. C. Crane, and accepted by Mayor Creighton. There was no procession. The monument consists of a marble base surmounted by a bronze figure of a policeman in uniform of heroic size.

Slow Philadelphia Observed It. PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—The day was generally observed as a holiday. The ceremonies incident to the decoration of the soldiers' graves were more than usually interesting.

General Meade Post No. 1, G. A. R., of which the general was a member, after being reviewed to-day by General W. F. Sherman, proceeded in the afternoon to the cemetery, where the statue of General George C. Meade was decorated. Services were held over his grave. In the evening a banquet was held at St. George's hall, at which 500 persons were present, including Chauncey M. Depew, General Sherman, General Noble, the secretary of the interior, James Tanner, commissioners of pensions, and many others of prominence.

At Laraine. LARAIN, Wyo., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The exercises of Memorial day of the nature of the dedication of a soldiers' monument, which has been erected in the city cemetery by Custer post, G. A. R. The monument consists of a massive grey granite pedestal, surmounted by a bronze statue of a soldier in uniform, who dedicatory address was delivered by the Rev. D. R. Landis.

At the City of Mexico. CITY OF MEXICO, (via Galveston) May 30.—Memorial was duly observed by the American ladies of this city, who went to the United States cemetery provided with flowers and decorated the soldiers' monument.

NEBRASKAN OBSERVANCE. The Patriotic and the Loyal Turn Out. FREMONT, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The day was observed in Fremont in grand style and with impressive ceremonies. A large number of people from the surrounding country were in the city to assist in doing homage to the soldier dead. The procession from the city to Ridge cemetery was very impressive. The exercises were held in a large hall, and a large number of flowers were strewn upon the graves of the seventeen soldiers who lie in that silent city of the dead.

At Beatrice. BEATRICE, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Large numbers from all parts of the county attended the Memorial day exercises here. Rawlins post held exercises in high school park, at which the Y. M. C. A. band played, and a large number of flowers were strewn upon the graves of the soldiers.

At Lincoln. LINCOLN, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The day was observed in Lincoln in grand style. A large number of people from the surrounding country were in the city to assist in doing homage to the soldier dead. The procession from the city to Ridge cemetery was very impressive. The exercises were held in a large hall, and a large number of flowers were strewn upon the graves of the seventeen soldiers who lie in that silent city of the dead.

At Omaha. OMAHA, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The day was observed in Omaha in grand style. A large number of people from the surrounding country were in the city to assist in doing homage to the soldier dead. The procession from the city to Ridge cemetery was very impressive. The exercises were held in a large hall, and a large number of flowers were strewn upon the graves of the seventeen soldiers who lie in that silent city of the dead.

At Grand Island. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was fully observed in this city. Loyal post, G. A. R., and the Soldiers' Home had over two hundred soldiers in line, who were assisted in the parade by all the civic societies in the city. Rev. G. W. Savage delivered the memorial address in court house square to fully 6,000 people.

At Kearney. KEARNEY, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was observed here with due respect to the fallen soldiers. Delegations from neighboring towns were present, and the streets were crowded. Two thousand people gathered in the cemetery to strew flowers.

At Elwood. ELWOOD, May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Impressive Memorial services were held here to-day, consisting of music by the brass band, addresses, and the decorating of a monument with flowers, that fitly commemorated the departed heroes.

Friend Turns Out. PHELIX, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The day has been a big one for this city; the procession was over a mile in length. The afternoon exercises were held in Warren's opera house, which was packed; Rev. H. C. Harmon, of Ulysses, delivered the leading address and was followed by Rev. J. A. Barker.

At Exeter. EXETER, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The afternoon exercises to-day at this place were very impressive, and were attended by a very large crowd. The procession was about half a mile long. The exercises at the city hall were conducted by Elder Harlow, of Geneva.

At Hebron. HEBRON, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Decorations day was patriotically and generally observed here. The places of business were all closed. The streets were crowded with people who had turned out to honor the dead. Services were held in the opera house, which was tastefully decorated with beautiful flowers. Colonel E. M. Carroll was the orator of the day. He delivered a scholarly and able address, which was attentively listened to by an appreciative and intelligent audience.

At Dakota City. DAKOTA CITY, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Decorations day was observed at this place to-day. The ceremonies consisted of speaking, singing and exercises usual to the day. The graves of the dead heroes were beautifully decorated by the citizens. Over one thousand people were in the line.

At Nebraska City. NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was observed in Nebraska City to-day, by the blue and gray, under the auspices of the G. A. R. Captain G. M. Humphrey, of Pawnee city, was the speaker of the day.

At Fort Stanton. FORT STANTON, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The memorial exercises held here, to-day, were of a most imposing nature. Hundreds of people lined the streets and avowed witnesses of the parade. The entire body marched to Fort Stanton, where services commemorative of the day were observed. Colonel Poland delivered an original poem, and the oration of the day was by Chaplain Thomas W. Harvey, United States army. The most pleasant sight was the presentation of a handsome silk flag by Sumner Post, G. A. R., to the public schools of Stanton. Judge Hobbs, of Stanton, presided very feelingly in behalf of the board of education. The weather was simply grand, and every business house in town was closed.

At Ashland. ASHLAND, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The procession to-day consisted of the Ashland Silver Cornet band in their new uniforms, the Boy McCook Post, No. 34, G. A. R., 100 strong; fifty flower girls, dressed in white; the Woman's Relief corps in carriages; a Loyal legion of 200 children in uniforms; the Citizens read band; the uniformed and ununiformed ranks of Knights of Pythias, 100 in all; the three fire departments, and a large number of citizens and citizens in carriages. Rev. McConnell, of the First Baptist church, made the memorial address. The most beautiful decoration being in town, a soldier of the Nebraska W. R. C., it being a pyramid three feet in height given by Hon. W. G. Bentley, who had worn the gray.

At Juniata. JUNIATA, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Exercises of Memorial day passed off most successfully, more than one thousand people being in town. A wagon carrying forty-two girls, representing the states, soldiers on horseback, and about one hundred carriages, formed a procession about half a mile long. Eleven soldiers' graves were decorated, including a soldier of 1812. At 9 o'clock Mrs. Morgan, president of the Nebraska W. R. C., delivered an address to a large audience.

At Long Pine. LONG PINE, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—About one thousand people assembled in Long Pine to-day for the purpose of strewing flowers on the graves of the country's defenders. The exercises were held in the Baptist church, where Rev. Meacham and Rev. Decker were orators of the day. They then marched to the cemetery, headed by the Long Pine Cornet band, a company of state militia, Grand Army men, school children and citizens, when the usual ceremonies were gone through with.

At North Platte. NORTH PLATTE, May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was observed in North Platte to-day. A large number of people from the surrounding country were in the city to assist in doing homage to the soldier dead. The procession from the city to Ridge cemetery was very impressive. The exercises were held in a large hall, and a large number of flowers were strewn upon the graves of the seventeen soldiers who lie in that silent city of the dead.

At Mason City. MASON CITY, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Two serious, and it is scarcely necessary to say, here today. While the procession was driving to the cemetery a careless driver drove his team so that the pole of his buggy struck Mrs. James Bloss, who was in a carriage ahead, with probably fatal results. Brate Campbell was killed, and the driver of the team is very doubtful. The memorial address was given by J. W. Jones, of Philadelphia, has never been exceeded in this city.

At Perry. PERRY, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The memorial exercises to-day were of unusual interest. There were over fifteen hundred people in the procession. Large delegations arrived from the surrounding towns. The exercises proper were held at the cemetery, where the graves of the fallen heroes were decorated. Every soldier's grave was remembered, and over each was fired a volley by company G, state militia. The address of the day was delivered by Edmund Nichols.

At Davenport. DAVENPORT, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—After celebrating Memorial day in the customary manner, the Grand Army posts of the three cities of Moline, Davenport and Rock Island united this afternoon in general exercises at the National cemetery on the Government island. The exercises were of a most impressive nature, and the day was devoted to the soldier dead. An elaborate programme was carried out, accompanied by the firing of salutes from the batteries and the music of bands.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

of business were all closed. The streets were crowded with people who had turned out to honor the dead. Services were held in the opera house, which was tastefully decorated with beautiful flowers. Colonel E. M. Carroll was the orator of the day. He delivered a scholarly and able address, which was attentively listened to by an appreciative and intelligent audience.

At Nelson. NELSON, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial services were held in the opera house, which was packed. S. A. Seare, of Nelson, delivered an excellent oration, and some fine recitations were given. The procession was long, including the Nelson band, the post, Company H Nebraska volunteers, and citizens in carriages. Salutes were fired over the graves after the decoration. In the evening the Nelson band gave a concert, and the Aurora prize recitation.

At Dakota City. DAKOTA CITY, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Decorations day was observed at this place to-day. The ceremonies consisted of speaking, singing and exercises usual to the day. The graves of the dead heroes were beautifully decorated by the citizens. Over one thousand people were in the line.

At Nebraska City. NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was observed in Nebraska City to-day, by the blue and gray, under the auspices of the G. A. R. Captain G. M. Humphrey, of Pawnee city, was the speaker of the day.

At Fort Stanton. FORT STANTON, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The memorial exercises held here, to-day, were of a most imposing nature. Hundreds of people lined the streets and avowed witnesses of the parade. The entire body marched to Fort Stanton, where services commemorative of the day were observed. Colonel Poland delivered an original poem, and the oration of the day was by Chaplain Thomas W. Harvey, United States army. The most pleasant sight was the presentation of a handsome silk flag by Sumner Post, G. A. R., to the public schools of Stanton. Judge Hobbs, of Stanton, presided very feelingly in behalf of the board of education. The weather was simply grand, and every business house in town was closed.

At Ashland. ASHLAND, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The procession to-day consisted of the Ashland Silver Cornet band in their new uniforms, the Boy McCook Post, No. 34, G. A. R., 100 strong; fifty flower girls, dressed in white; the Woman's Relief corps in carriages; a Loyal legion of 200 children in uniforms; the Citizens read band; the uniformed and ununiformed ranks of Knights of Pythias, 100 in all; the three fire departments, and a large number of citizens and citizens in carriages. Rev. McConnell, of the First Baptist church, made the memorial address. The most beautiful decoration being in town, a soldier of the Nebraska W. R. C., it being a pyramid three feet in height given by Hon. W. G. Bentley, who had worn the gray.

At Juniata. JUNIATA, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Exercises of Memorial day passed off most successfully, more than one thousand people being in town. A wagon carrying forty-two girls, representing the states, soldiers on horseback, and about one hundred carriages, formed a procession about half a mile long. Eleven soldiers' graves were decorated, including a soldier of 1812. At 9 o'clock Mrs. Morgan, president of the Nebraska W. R. C., delivered an address to a large audience.

At Long Pine. LONG PINE, Neb., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—About one thousand people assembled in Long Pine to-day for the purpose of strewing flowers on the graves of the country's defenders. The exercises were held in the Baptist church, where Rev. Meacham and Rev. Decker were orators of the day. They then marched to the cemetery, headed by the Long Pine Cornet band, a company of state militia, Grand Army men, school children and citizens, when the usual ceremonies were gone through with.

At North Platte. NORTH PLATTE, May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was observed in North Platte to-day. A large number of people from the surrounding country were in the city to assist in doing homage to the soldier dead. The procession from the city to Ridge cemetery was very impressive. The exercises were held in a large hall, and a large number of flowers were strewn upon the graves of the seventeen soldiers who lie in that silent city of the dead.

At Mason City. MASON CITY, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Two serious, and it is scarcely necessary to say, here today. While the procession was driving to the cemetery a careless driver drove his team so that the pole of his buggy struck Mrs. James Bloss, who was in a carriage ahead, with probably fatal results. Brate Campbell was killed, and the driver of the team is very doubtful. The memorial address was given by J. W. Jones, of Philadelphia, has never been exceeded in this city.

At Perry. PERRY, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—The memorial exercises to-day were of unusual interest. There were over fifteen hundred people in the procession. Large delegations arrived from the surrounding towns. The exercises proper were held at the cemetery, where the graves of the fallen heroes were decorated. Every soldier's grave was remembered, and over each was fired a volley by company G, state militia. The address of the day was delivered by Edmund Nichols.

At Davenport. DAVENPORT, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—After celebrating Memorial day in the customary manner, the Grand Army posts of the three cities of Moline, Davenport and Rock Island united this afternoon in general exercises at the National cemetery on the Government island. The exercises were of a most impressive nature, and the day was devoted to the soldier dead. An elaborate programme was carried out, accompanied by the firing of salutes from the batteries and the music of bands.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

At Des Moines. DES MOINES, Ia., May 30.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Memorial day was very generally observed here to-day. The city was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and at 9 a. m. a long procession of military and civic societies marched to Woodland cemetery, where memorial services were held. The principal address was delivered by Rev. J. S. Hullin, pastor of the First Baptist church. Business was generally suspended this afternoon.

TRYING TO DOWN SULLIVAN.

Envious Irishmen Using Cronin's Murder For That Purpose.

LAWYER TRUDE INTERVIEWED.

He Has Complete Confidence in the Honesty and Innocence of the Ex-President of the League—A Detective's Theory.

Is It Jealousy? CHICAGO, May 30.—A statement will be printed to-morrow that Alexander Sullivan engaged A. S. Trude as counsel, and that within the last three days the two have had frequent consultations. A reporter called on Mr. Trude this evening and asked him about the matter.

"Oh, I have known Alex since he was a orphan," said Trude, "and I have been consulted by him. He knows nothing about this Cronin affair. This is a question of tall-pull-up. You see, the British lion's tail, and in their arduous they get jealous and jump on each other. In the Philadelphia convention the greatest Irish intellects clashed. Alexander Sullivan came out on top, electing Henry Sheridan delegate. This made Sullivan a mark for the jealousy of every prominent Irishman who did not belong to his party. J. F. Hayes of Chicago, used to be a friend of Sullivan, but the Philadelphia victory cost him his friendship. This time is seized upon by his enemies to ruin him, but there will be a reaction."

The Daily News this evening prints a conversation between those whose names are not given, who has been watching the case closely. He thinks the three men now in jail know all about the murder and could give the police the right clue, but they never can be convicted on the evidence now in the possession of the state's attorney. One of them says, "I don't think Woodruff did the hiring of the cottage and the buying of the furniture in Chicago or even in the country. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He did not confide anything to him, merely telling him that he wanted some work done, and then made the deal with him, made a contract with Cronin. The hiring of all the rigs Coughlin attended to himself. He first met Woodruff, who he knew to be a crook and always ready for any shady transaction. He