grees now being discussed by various correspondents is one which springs perennial in the breeder's breast, says the Breeder's Gazette. It has been wrestled with by each succeeding gen-eration ever since discriminating eration ever since discriminating buyers of herd book stock first began evincing preferences for this or that particular strain of blood, and is probaoly no nearer receiving its quietus at the present time than it has been at any former period. Those who hold that there is little but the useful and prac-tical worth considering in the case of pedigreed animals naturally develop a deep antipathy to anything savoring attaching value to cattle of any line of descent without the full number of pounds of flesh or milk insisted upon by the most exacting of utilitarian standards. On the other hand those who find an indefinitely charm cluster ing about names invested with an extraordinary history in either sale or shaw-ring, insist that the bare standard of the butcher or the dairyman is not always to be regarded as the best from which to estimate values of stock main tained for breeding purposes. The Gazette imagines that there lies somewhere a golden mean in these matters which will be found more worthy of adoption than either of the two ex tremes. There is a virtue in so-called "high" breeding if it be truly rich in actual merit. There is a world of wisdom in the view that insists upon rigid adherence to first principles and the practical purposes for which each breed is reared. In medio tutissimus ibis is hours. Young Burrell, a boy telegraph operator from Michigan, who was spending the night with him, sprang through the window when Jobst was shot, but the assassin fired after him with his rifle, and killed him before he had gone twenty yards. The murderers then robbed the station, breaking open the money drawer. All they got was

They anticipated finding the monthly shipment of bullion from the Jay Gould mine, but this had passed through the night before. After completing their hellish work the murderers, both armed with Winchester rifles, took to the hills. The alarm was soon given and Sheriff Jefferies, with a posse of forty men, started from Helena in pursuit, while a crowd from Fort Marysville also joined the chase.

The robbers were surrounded in the moun tains, about five miles from Silver, where the sheriff called on them to surrender. They replied by shooting at him, and prepared to sell their lives dearly, having buried themselves up to the shoulders in sand. They were soon over-powered and killed, their bodies being rid-dled with bullets. They were then brought into Helena, where they and their victims Jobst and Burrell, will be burried to-morrow The robbers are strangers and foreigners It is thought they are brothers, and that their name is Quade. Our gov ernment has failed to protect our property and when in the event of such a failure people try to protect themselves, those wh do not understand the circumstance, and sometimes think they do not care to investi gate, cry out with horror at what our people who do know, think the only means. me say that an investigation will con any honest man that our people can find relief only in organization.

"Thieves were among us in such numbers as to alarm even those who were slow to be lieve them guilty. Just the day before the last steal was made, Maupin, Gannon, Bab cock and others prominently mentioned in the gang, were either among their sympa-thizers in the county or at isassett or Ains-In an interview with a member of the commission to-day, he stated they were hopeful, yet realized that much work and patience had to be done and exercised. At the council in the morning the allotment part of the bill will be again carefully explained; and, it is hoped, satisfactory. The commission go from here to Pine Ridge, and it is believed there will be much less trouble there, if a majority of signatures can be procured here. There is no doubt that if the commission had reached here a month ago their worth. At the same time Doc Middleton long noted as a thief, with three other sus picious characters, left the train at a small station on the railroad west of Ainsworth With all these facts before our people some of them would not believe the rumor that there was a big steal on. The cattle were taken, and to cover their tracks the thieves fired the reservation, and for two days the air was so full of smoke as to almost obscure the sun. These were the circumstances just previous to the night of Newell's killing.
"Our people, regardless of committee af filiations, were aroused to a feeling of des peration. Two at least of the men were in the county. A hundred determined were in the saddles. You know the result.

"It is generally conceded that the commit-tee did not go to Newell's house for any other purpose than to take a thief who was stopping with him over night. He had said not a week before, when cautioned about harboring the thieves, that 'the committee could not take a man from his house while h hved.' Everything goes to prove that he lived up to this sentiment and fought till the last. He had made his home a rendezvous for the thieves the entire winter, and had perhaps interested himself in their welfare more than any other man. His triends had cautioned him. The committee had more than once told him, through individuals, that he was doing wrong. His brother, Andrew, Newell, one of our best respected, hardest working, and most intelligent citizens, had plead with him to cut loose from his connection with the band, and all to no avail. The end had come.

"The vigilantes are after the gang thieves, and, although I do not belong to the ommittee, I hope they will never lay down their arms until every thief is run out of its borders. What cise can our people do? What should they do? Let the honest people of our country say what."

Harassing a Saloon. McCool Junction, Neb., June 5 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- The saloon which opened here Monday, closed its doors to-day, a writ of error having been filed in the district court of York county, to set aside the action of the board of trustees, as being irregular. The case will come up for hearing at York on Friday. A large number of the W. C. T. U. ladies of York were met at the depot at this place yesterday morning, by a number of McCool ladies. They immedi-ately repaired to the Baptist church, where the day was spent in the interests of that society. A society was organized here with a large membership, the principal object of the meeting being to drive the saloon from St. PAUL, Neb., June 5 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-Frank Abbott, who was arrested for stealing cows a few weeks ago, was sentenced by Judge Harrison to two years in the penitentiary. The closing scene was one of the most affecting ever witnessed in the county. The prisoner was but nineteen, and was only married a few mouths ago. When the final words of the sentence was pro-nounced the grief of the young wife was un-controllable. She passed from the court room and through the streets crying aloud. As this is not the young man's first offense little sympathy is felt for him, and the sen tence is considered a just one. Doneld took him to Lincoln this morning.

A Victors Stallion.

Ponca, Neb., June 5 .- [Special Telegram to THE BRE. |- Two men named McShane, living near this city, were attacked and badly hurt by a savage stallion yesterday mora ing. The elder, who was leading the horse, was knocked down and nearly tramped to death; the son went to the rescue and the maddened animal seized his hand between its teeth and mangled it terribly. He dragged the boy several yards and literally tore one finger from the hand, necessitating a surgical operation

Another Missing Man. Louisville, Neb., June 5 .- [Special Telegram to THE BES.]-George Brock, a grain buyer at Manley, Neb., four miles below here, has been missing since Saturday. Creditors levied on his goods to-day. His friends claim foul play. He had only about $160 with him when he went to Omaha. He has handled large sums of money daily and could have run off with $2,000 to $3,000 any week this spring if he had been so inclined. Taking in all, it is a very strange case

Scramlin is Not Hayden. NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., June 5 .- | Special relegram to THE BEE. |- Dave Scramlin, a farmer living near Heartwell, Neb., arrived nere, this evening, and identified Wash Scramlin, under arrest here as Hayden, the Red Oak murderer, as his brother, who left home eighteen months ago. He was identi fied by half a dozen people positively as Hay den, so closely does he resemble the mur derer. The turn of affairs has caused con sternation among the officers.

THE COUNCIL CAUSES THE ROW.

Meeting of the State Branch of the Irish National League-Pharmacists in Convention-The Masonic Grand Lodge.

A Novel Boycott,

Font Donge, In., June 5 .- [Special Telegram to Tuz Buz.] -The most novel boycott ever attempted in the United States was inaugurated here, this morning, by the wives of several prominent citizens against merchants to prevent their holding any business relations with any member of the board of aldermen. The boycott is the result of the recent action of the aldermen in passing an ordinance allowing cows to run loose throughout the city. The ban is placed upon all branches of trade, and fully two-thirds of the women of the city solemnly pledge them-selves not to buy a cent's worth from a grocer, dry goods man, butcher, baker or other merchant who violates their ironclad demand. There is much excitement in consequence of the city councils action, and an imignation meeting, to request the imme-diato resignation of the entire board of aidermen, is strongly agitated.
