DESECRATING THE SABBATH.

Subject of Rev. Wilbur Crafts' Discourse Yesterday Morning.

THE WICKED SUNDAY PAPERS. One of the Great Enterprises Which It Is Proposed to Stamp Out—A Monster Petition to Congress.

Rev. Wilbur Crafts, secretary of the American Sunday Union, preached at the St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church, yesterday afternoon, on the observance of the Sabbath as a day of rest.

Mr. Crafts has been making a tour of the states in the interests of the cause of which he is the champion, and on his present trip has visited twenty-two cities.

Rev. Crafts' discourse, which was the subject of his text, Nehemiah XIII, 19—"No burden on the Sabbath day."

The speaker first described the two wings of his subject that are often confounded, the Christian and the "American Sabbath."

These two wings bear the same relation to each other as crime and sin. Sin is an offense against God, while crime is an offense against man.

"The most important Sabbath is the one of which I shall mainly speak," he said. "At present we are asking congress for a law enforcing the observance of the Sabbath on the part of the military and civil service and inter-state employees."

The nation should be a model for the citizen, and therefore should not countenance laws allowing Sabbath breaking. We had a petition before congress last winter, with 10,000,000 signatures, asking for a Sunday law.

The largest petition ever presented in the history of our country was for a law enforcing the observance of the Sabbath on the part of the military and civil service and inter-state employees.

"The Sunday rest for the soldier is almost secured, and is now under consideration by President Harrison, although the papers assert that he has already approved of it. But this is newspaper anticipation."

"In Toronto, in the city of 100,000, the Sabbath is strictly observed, yet there is no congress of business and no disaster to the sick. A telegram on Saturday or Monday answers the need of the sick."

"To enact a law that on one day the laborer shall rest, is not unconstitutional. It does not compel him to worship, and can not be construed to mean that he must observe the constitution of the United States."

"Congress shall make no law for the establishment of religion." And yet, in the face of this sufficient, we have passed laws interfering with the religious liberty of every civil employee when it decreed that mail should be handled on Sunday.

Nearly every man in the postal service is troubled in his conscience over this law. The United States should stop smothering the constitution of the United States, and the constitutions of a majority of the states.

"The United States should stop smothering the constitution of the United States, and the constitutions of a majority of the states. There is a national Sunday law provided for in section 7 of the constitution, which says: 'The president shall have ten days (Sunday excepted) to consider all bills.'"

THE GOOD SHEPHERD.

Organization of a Universalist Church of That Name.

For three or four weeks past Dr. A. J. Patterson, of Boston, has been working here in the interest of the general convention of Universalists.

This work culminated in the organization at Masonic hall yesterday of a church of sixty-eight members.

The services were deeply interesting. After the devotional exercises, three children of Mr. Noah Faith were brought to the altar and were baptized.

The formula in this church is somewhat peculiar. At least, the formula of this minister was different from any noticed in this city before.

Recognizing the scriptural truth that "the church is the body of Christ," the organization which is to embody His truth and spirit carry forward His work in the world.

The preacher took each child in his arms, and holding his hand in the water, said, pronouncing the name of the child: "I receive you into the arms of the Christian church, to be its child, the object of its love and care, and I dedicate you to truth, purity and loyal christian service, in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit."

Then the meeting was formally organized by the choice of Dr. Patterson as moderator and Mr. G. E. Hertram as clerk, pro tem. The speaker first described the two wings of his subject that are often confounded, the Christian and the "American Sabbath."

These two wings bear the same relation to each other as crime and sin. Sin is an offense against God, while crime is an offense against man.
