All Aboard For Chautauqua. "How can I get out to the Chautauqua grounds?" It was not strangers only who asked the question yesterday morning.

The Proposed Sapp Block. The report of a new business block on the Sapp corner, corner of Scott and Broadway, was being periodically sprung on the public with astonishing regularity for the past two or three years.

until after 11 o'clock that night, and know nothing of the kind occurred at our beach, unless it was after that time. I made careful inquiry since, and my investigations satisfy me that our beach saw no such disgraceful proceedings.

The Doctor and the Broker's Man. The other day a young London doctor who daubed from some scientific or other high motive had declined to pay a bill, had a "distress" served upon him in the most ingenious manner, says Tid Bits.

Too Eager for Money. James Staley is the latest victim to be immersed in the consummation. James is a youth of eighteen years, and has been acting in the capacity of hush lawyer at the Home restaurant for the sum of $10 a week and such other perquisites as a hush lawyer can get away from the pocket of a customer to that of an attentive waiter. James, however, had other aspirations, he longed for the almighty dollar in exceeding voracity, and mourned because he had it not. He gave good satisfaction, and his employer concluded that James was a necessary part of the establishment.

No More Sunday Shaves. The barbers of the city held a meeting last evening at Priest's barber shop on Broadway, according to previous announcement, to perfect all arrangements and take the final steps to enforce the Sunday closing law, so far as it pertains to the tonsorial artist and his work. The attendance was larger than at any previous meeting, and the business of the evening was disposed of in a manner that showed that the barbers propose to carry their point through to a successful issue.

Paving Prices. "Even those who were prepared for a great reduction in paving bids were surprised at the figures submitted last evening," remarked an alderman yesterday afternoon. "I was not prepared for quite such a tumble myself, and I understood the situation. Just think of it—$1.15 per yard for cedar block paving. Last year it was $1.35 and upwards. They even offer us brick paving for $1.72, which beats last year by 10 or 12 cents. That will make quite an item with 20,000 yards to pave."

Must Be Kept Decent. Mr. E. H. Odell read with painful interest the reporter's account of the midnight frolic of some boisterous bathers at Manawa. "It's all wrong so far as Maunhattan beach is concerned, anyway," was there personally
