A Question of Ownership of Consider able Importance.

north of town in Saratoga precinct. The case recalls some rather interesting facts.

It appears that about twenty-one years ago,

John and Emily Rhoadebank gave their note to Caroline Chambers for $1,500, and as security executed a mortgage on four or five lots in this city, the personal property of Mrs. Rhoadebank. When the note became due and was not paid, foreclosure proceed-due and was not paid, foreclosure proceed-ings were resorted to, and a decree of judg-ment was ordered. This decree, how-ever, as it appears now, was, after considerable time elapsed, aban-oned, and the parties began a new suit, with the city, county and a number of endorsers as defendants. It should be stated though, that when the property was effect for sole under the first formulosures.

offered for sale, under the first forcelosures, no bidders appeared to buy it in. Under a second decree, it went at about enough to liquidate the taxes then due on it, something like $200, thus leaving $1,300 of the note unpaid. To further secure them, the plaintiffs levied on the ten acres now in dispute, which John Rhoadebank and his wife had in which John Rhoadebank and his wife had in the meantime, purchased from Dr. Peck. It, subsequently, by fraud, as is claimed, was taken from them, and C. C. Littleton got the land into his possession. The affair occurred Sun-day evening, March 19, in the northwest part of town, and created considerable excitement. Nolan is a rough, ignorant looking fellow,

A Divorced Wife Attempts the Life of a Former Husband.

"For God's sake, Charley, forgive me and I'll go home. God knows I'll never hurt you. God is my judge, that I never intended to kill you."

The speaker was Mrs. Nancy F. Ward, o Council Bluffs, a slightly built, refined tooking woman, of about thirty-five, as she knelt on the steps before Judge Berka's desk in the police court, imploring her divorced husband, Charles Washburn, to forgive her for an attempt she had made on his life only

"But," says Washburn, "what did you mean by threatening you would 'fix' me?"

"I didn't mean anytning," was the reply. "I have hved with you twelve long years and wish you no harm." "Why did you pull that loaded revolver on me then in Beard. Otis' store?"

Mr. Washburn, the complaining witness, says that he was married to the de fendant sixteen years ago and that after he had lived with her twelve years he discovered she was not of proper character. He accordingly left her. She secured a divorce from him. Inside of a month, it is claimed, she married Ed Ward, her present husband, but threatened Washburn from time to time that if he ever remarried she would kill him. He remained single up to would kill him. He remained single up to three weeks ago, when he was married to a young woman of this city. THE SALE OF THE SEASON

Our extraordinary sale of Summer Coats and Vests will be continued this week. This is beyond a doubt the most remarkable sale of the season, as the goods are almost slaughtered. We can unhesitatingly say that never before was such an opportunity offered to buy at one-half their value seasonable goods just at the time when you need them most.

Our 70c Coats and Vests are "all the rage." We have added this week several new patterns and you can choose now from six different styles, every one of them as neat and tasty a Coat and Vest as you ever bought for $1,50.

Another Coat and Vest which excites the admiration of every customer is the fine Mohair at $2. Such a Coat and Vest has never been offered for less than $4.

In addition to these we have received during the past few days several lots of very fine grades of thin Coats and Vests. These are from the same purchase, but were delayed on the road through the Pennsylvania flood. We have marked these goods at correspondingly low prices and offer:

Several lots of very fine Ponges Silk Coats and Vests at $3. These are garments for which other houses would charge $6.

Extra fine Drap d'Ete Coats and Vests in four beautiful shades at $3,75. These goods are the finest that can be had, are cut and made in the best of manner and fit elegantly. Fine clothing houses charge for same Coats and Vests about $7.

One of our Douglas street windows is full of these goods and is just now the most attractive place in the city. In connection with the above we offer to-day:

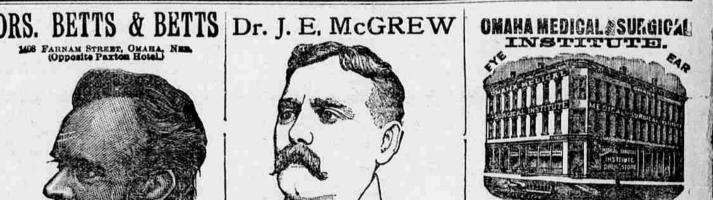

200 very fine blue Serge Suits, elegantly trimmed and made, at $8,90. We warrant this to be one of the finest Serges made and of fast color. We sold the same goods early in the season at $12.50. This makes an elegant Summer Suit.

SUMMER NECKWEAR.

We are again on hand with the most complete line of Summer Neckwear ever shown. The fact that this Department is the largest of its kind in the city insures the largest choice of styles, while the values speak for themselves. Our customers will remember the extraordinary values we gave in this Department in former seasons. We can assure them that we will do still better this season. Our stock is larger, styles are nicer and prices still lower.

C. H. Forby, who conducts a store on Douglas street, sold a small telescope to a young man Monday and accepted in payment a check for $30. The check was signed "Armour, Cudahy & Co.," and made payable to C. H. Grant or bearer. The individual indorsed the check in the name of C. E. Bigelow, stated that he had received it from low, stated that he had received it from Grant, and that his own name was Bigelow. Mr. Forby took out the value of the telescope and handed the purcheser the cash balance on the check. When presented to Armour & Co, the latter discovered that it was a forg-ery. Higelow came to Omaha about one week ago and stopped at the Millard. He departed, leaving his board bill unpaid, and yesterday morning, in arranging the mate-rial in the room occupied by him, the tele-scope was found. Bigelow has skipped and the affair has been reported to the police.
