Wheat Made a Cent in the Chicago Trading Yesterday.

TOO MUCH RAIN REPORTED YET.

Corn Still Advancing in Fractional Quotations—Oats Active and Higher—Provisions Lower and Cattle Weak.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKETS.

CHICAGO, June 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Contrary to general expectations, the wheat market was very "gamey" to-day, and prices advanced materially, though toward the last some of the improvement was lost. July wheat sold down to 77¾c, "on the curb," last night, yet this morning it opened at 77¾c, and with a very slight reaction to 77½c, the market advanced a full cent. It took about an hour and a half for July to get to get to 78¼c, at which point free realizing caused ¼c reaction, but the recovery was prompt, and the price went to 78¾c. It subsequently broke back to 78¼c, and the trading thereafter was within the limits of 78⅛@78⅝c, and the close was 78¼c, a net gain of ⅝c on the day. December opened at 76¾c, ranged 76¾@77¾c, and closed at 77¼c. June ranged at 80@81c, and closed at 80c. Considerable trading was done in September at 75@76¼c. July and December were favorite futures, however, but a strong indisposition to make new contracts in July is manifest, except among the purely scalping element, to whom the month they trade in is a matter of indifference so long as they can prompt "action." December was relatively stronger than July and gained an even cent. September gained ⅝c. The weather was favorable in some localities and unfavorable in others. Northwestern advices indicate an extension of rain area in the spring wheat districts, and the signal service reports clearing up in Kansas and the southwest. Elsewhere in the winter wheat districts heavy rains are still continuing. These reports come in from Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska. Kansas City wires that some new wheat will arrive there this week, and that the movement southwest of there is expected to begin the first week in July. Rains have interfered with the harvesting in that section to a very considerable extent.

The continuance of rain upon the already submerged fields of corn made the uneasiness of short sellers of that cereal still more pronounced than on the day preceding, and, coupled with small receipts, gave some warrant to their anxiety. A good demand for shipment both here and at the seaboard, likewise contributed its aids to the bull side of the market, and it was still further assisted by the strong tone in the wheat market. The export clearances were fair and the shipments hence on a liberal scale, taking into account the meagre arrivals. New Orleans shipped to Dunkirk, yesterday, 100,000 bushels. Trading was, at times, quite active, and a growing interest from outside speculators is beginning to show itself. Prices, as on the day before, eased off towards the close; July, after advancing to 35¾c, selling off and closing easy at 34¾@34½c, which is an advance of ⅛@⅜c on yesterday's final figures. Charters were made to take out 165,000 bushels.

Oats were active and higher. The strength in other markets helped this cereal slightly, but the advance, which was chiefly in near deliveries, was due principally to the shorts covering. There were few oats for sale until prices had moved upward ¼@⅜c, when the improvement was checked by free offerings, and part of the advance was eventually lost. July sold up ¼c to 23¼@23½c, and back to 23c, while May was around 26@26¼c. The receipts continued liberal, and local stocks were reduced 103,300 bushels. No. 2 oats, to go to store, sold at 22½@22c.

The provision trade exhibited a weakness that was somewhat surprising. In the face of a stronger market for hogs, a comparatively good cash movement, and an apparently considerable independence upon the part of packers, a depressed feeling held control. Speculative holders acted as though they had lost confidence and were unable to discern anything encouraging in the situation. They were willing to admit the healthy and legitimate character of the market, but they believed that the indications were, nevertheless, on the side of lower prices. July property, at all events, was offered freely, and the speculative lines dropped quite sharply. In pork the day's actual decline was from 10c to 15c, and in lard and short ribs 2½c to 5c.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—CATTLE.—The run, and especially the number of prime native cattle among the receipts, is a surprise to all concerned; that there would arrive as many cattle as last week, no one expected, and the chances are that the number will exceed that of last week. As might be expected, business to-day was slow from the opening to the close, the market closing weak, with a large number left over. As to prices the general report was that a lower range than yesterday was the rule, but how much lower was not so easy to get at, some salesmen quoting good natives 20 to 30 cents lower than on Monday. Choice to extra beeves, $3.90@4.35; medium to good steers, 1,350 to 1,500 lbs, $3.70@4.15; 1,200 to 1,350 lbs, $3.50@3.95; 950 to 1,200 lbs, $3.40@3.85; stockers and feeders 10c lower, at $2.25@3.40; cows, bulls, and mixed, weak at $1.40@2.85; slop-fed steers, $3.60@3.90; Texas steers, $2.20@3.55; bulk, $2.60@2.80, and cows, $1.60@2.10.

HOGS—Business was brisk with an upturn of about 5c all around, the bulk of the best mixed making $4.25, against $4.20 yesterday. A few common sold at $4.15, and a few fancy heavy at $4.27½@4.30; light sorts, $4.40@4.45, and singeing sorts at $4.60.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, June 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—STOCKS.—As on yesterday, the activity in stocks was early confined to a few stocks. Among these were St. Paul, Atchison, Rock Island, Union Pacific, Reading and New England. The action of the market the first hour included a slight rally at the opening, a sharp decline in the grangers and the coal stocks, followed by a second rally, which, however, did not cause prices to regain the opening figures. The first prices were improved from the close last night, from ⅛ to ⅝ per cent. Reading, Burlington and St. Paul showed the best gains. A slight further improvement was made when the weakness of last evening appeared, and everything retired below the opening figures, Union Pacific losing ⅜ per cent; Lackawana and Missouri Pacific, ¾ each; Reading, Rock Island and Atchison, ⅝ each, and the others smaller fractions. In the reaction which followed prices recovered most of the losses before 11 o'clock, and after that hour a better tone prevailed and further fractional advances were made, which put a few stocks at better than the opening figures. Trusts, which were not active early, became more animated toward noon, and sugar trusts bulged to 114½, and Oregon Transcontinental moved up to 37. At noon the market was active and strong at the best figures. The stock market reached the best prices of the day not long before the close, when a dragging decline again brought prices down to about the closing figures of yesterday. Transcontinental lost ⅝ per cent from the top, yet had a net gain of ⅝ at the close; Jersey Central closed a point higher at 113⅝; Northern Pacific, preferred, gained ½; Burlington, St. Paul, Lackawanna and Chicago Gas trust each gained ⅜ to ½ per cent for the day; Union Pacific lost ½; Atchison, Northwestern, Rock Island and Missouri Pacific closed at about last night's prices. Sugar trusts touched 114½, sold off to 113⅝ and closed at 114¼, or a gain of 2⅝ per cent over last night. The total sales for the day were 211,682 shares.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK.

Cattle.

Thursday, June 20.

There were too many cattle at eastern points and the markets there were in a too unsatisfactory condition to admit of the market here being sustained, although the receipts were light. The trade was very slow, the shippers being timid buyers and the packers not seeming to want many. While some were calling the market 5c lower than yesterday, others 5@10c lower, and still others fully 10c lower, all were were agreed that the market was 25c lower than Monday. As a matter of course good butchers' stock would not show any such decline, although it is lower. Choice native feeders have not declined to an appreciable extent, being scarce and in good request, but as much could not be said for light and common stockers.

Hogs.

To-day's hog market was active and very nearly 5c higher. The bulk of all the hogs sold at $4.00 with quite a number of trades in good light hogs at $4.02½ and $4.05. There was one trade at $4.07½. The hogs were all sold early and the pens cleared.

Sheep.

The market was bare of sheep again to-day. A load was received, but it was consigned direct to a packer and was not offered on the market.
