

THE CITY.

A. L. Ward, late detective of the Metropolitan police, will open a detective agency.

The case against Hans Peterson, charged with keeping his saloon at Fifteenth and Webster, open on Sunday until he was heard by Judge Berk on Thursday.

While Miss Grace Perine, the daughter of P. L. Perine, was driving out Farnam street yesterday afternoon, she was slightly injured by a kick from a frantic horse.

The Second United States infantry band and the Musical union will give an excursion to Waterloo, July 7. Seventy-five musicians will furnish music for the occasion, and a most excellent programme has been prepared.

J. B. McCoy, of the revenue department, has been assigned to duty in charge of the division of which Omaha is headquarters, and has control of the revenue agents of the division. Mr. McCoy left last evening for Helena, Mont., to transfer the revenue office there from the old collector to the new one.

The cost of sweeping the streets of Omaha for the month ending June 22, amounted to $2,494.81, which is about $800 more than was ever previously paid for street sweeping in one month.

Charles E. Fanning & Co. have the contract for sweeping the streets, and during the month they swept 3,042,455 square yards of paving.

The Omaha Motor company and the Omaha Street Railway company have paid into the city treasury up to date for paving destroyed the sum of $22,577.88. The companies have to pay the entire original cost of the paving for all destroyed in construction of their tracks, and in addition to that are required to put down new track at their own expense.

City Physician Ralph began yesterday to put the members of the fire department through a rigid physical examination. He examined some of them yesterday and will continue the examination to-day and to-morrow until the work is finished. This is the first time the firemen of Omaha have been required to undergo this kind of an examination.

While the three small children belonging to the Rinchart family, now playing an engagement at the Edsel Museum, were going from their boarding place to the theater, they were stopped by a young woman who induced them to go with her to the Union Pacific depot. The absence of the children was discovered when the time came for them to go upon the stage. The theater was closed and everyone turned out to hunt for them. They were finally found at the depot, but the young woman had disappeared.

New Water Pumps.

The new pumps of the waterworks company at Florence were placed in operation yesterday morning and a clearer quality of the water is promised as soon as the machinery is in fair working order. Work will also be commenced in a few days upon the company's additional 15,000,000-gallon reservoir at Walnut Hill.

Florence Items.

But little interest was manifested in the election of school moderator. The day was disagreeable and but few people manifested sufficient interest to vote. A very small vote was polled. V. W. Smith was elected by a small majority of one vote.

Mr. Smith is an old resident and has held a position on the school board for years.

Two persons were charged with drunkenness, fined, and in default of payment were sent to jail.

Myers in Secret.

The county commissioners held a meeting yesterday afternoon with Architect Myers, and considered matters on which he was called here from Detroit to give his opinion on.

Mr. Myers, Superintendent Coats and the contracts spent the forenoon out at the hospital making inspections and deciding disputed points. The commissioners expected to go to the building also, but neither Myers nor the superintendent invited them, consequently they remained at their room in the court house examining complaints from the taxpayers.

Run on July 4.

JIM CLEIGHTON IN DENVER.

What is the Apostle of Rotten Paving Doing in the Rockies?

In the Denver Republican of a recent date appears an article, published below, which would seem to indicate that the exponent of rotten wooden pavement was endeavoring to get a slice of the public improvements which are contemplated by the people of the sanitarium of the Rockies:

MOUNT ON MAHONEY.

Hon. James Cleighton, ex-chairman of the board of public works of Omaha, is in the city, a guest of the St. James hotel. Mr. Cleighton is a man of character, and has been identified with that party in Nebraska politics for many years. During the past three years Mr. Cleighton has had on hand a bitter fight with THE OMAHA BEE, relative to the location of the Omaha city hall, which contest Cleighton came out second best by a heavy majority, and the city hall is to be erected beside the Bee building. THE BEE is crowning yet.

Last evening a reporter for the Republican found Mr. Cleighton in the rotunda of the St. James, smoking a cigar and intently reading a newspaper while waiting for his train. He said: "You have a city here that Omaha may well be jealous of. It is a beautiful place, and I wish I could afford to live here. This afternoon I had the pleasure of meeting Colonel Dodge and Mr. Crocker of your board of public works, and most of what you have done is wonderful. The short time Mr. Crocker has been engaged in this business, he has become wonderfully well read on all that pertains to public improvements."

ALL WILL WANT IMPROVEMENTS.

"What do you think of the contemplated improvements for Denver?"

"I think it is a step in the right direction, to be sure, but the work will not be done until we have a better government."

Mr. Mount's suspicions, it seems, have been aroused by the fact that Mahoney addressed a letter to Roche, asking him to prepare and submit to him a statement of expenditures last year for stationery used by the various county officers. This transaction was not made known to the board until Mahoney laid Roche's reply and report before that body last Saturday. Since then Roche has been asked to furnish the board with a copy of his letter, which should have been shown to the commissioners.

When asked why he suppressed the letter, Mr. Roche said: "It was a private communication asking me to make my report to Mr. Mahoney, consequently was not a matter of public record." Mr. Mount said: "I hear Mount has been intimating that Mahoney is in my employ, but my opinion is that Mr. Mahoney knows his own business, and the commissioners had better not get him started after them."

STATE DEVELOPMENT.

The Board of Trade Convention to Accomplish It.

To-day delegates from forty towns in this state are expected to attend the meeting of representatives of the board of trade of Nebraska in this city.

There will be at least seventy delegates present, and some of these will be among the best known men in our state.

The object of the gathering is to bring representative men together and deliberate as to what is the best means of setting up the state and attracting settlers the best people to be had. "There is plenty of room yet," says Secretary Nasen, who is president of the board. "We can double our production of corn, which last year amounted to over one hundred million bushels, you can readily see what an increase of wealth that would afford us. What is to the state's advantage is to Omaha's advantage."

"You are going to bid on some of this work, are you not, Mr. Cleighton?"

"I have many things to be taken into consideration in making that question. You have not yet got the money; thus bids must be advertised for, and by the time the city gets ready to let the contract it will be fall. In all probability your board of public works will give their first attention to the paving system, and corner catch basins, to take care of the surface drainage and water for heavy rains."

Mr. Cleighton avoided answering the question in a direct manner, but his actions indicated that he did not come to Denver for his health. He had in his hands a roll of blank contracts for paving issued by the Omaha city council.

"Mr. Crocker, from your experience in street paving, do you consider the most desirable?"

"Sandstone for heavy traffic."

"I will answer that question by telling you what I have done in Omaha. Around my residence I have asphaltum and in front of business property that I am interested in, I have sand. Dig two feet in any of your streets and you have any quantity of the finest sand. Omaha had to have sand shipped forty miles and some further. The only thing you will have to do is to make asphaltum and sand, and double our production of corn, which last year amounted to over one hundred million bushels, you can readily see what an increase of wealth that would afford us. What is to the state's advantage is to Omaha's advantage."

"You are going to bid on some of this work, are you not, Mr. Cleighton?"

"I have many things to be taken into consideration in making that question. You have not yet got the money; thus bids must be advertised for, and by the time the city gets ready to let the contract it will be fall. In all probability your board of public works will give their first attention to the paving system, and corner catch basins, to take care of the surface drainage and water for heavy rains."

Ladies, Attention.

An elegant line of ladies' costumes in the latest Parisian styles, now at parlor 1, Paxton hotel. Ladies interested are cordially invited.

TWO ROSES FAIR.

Eliza Garrison, a bright lassie, was arraigned before Judge Berkia charged with the larceny of two roses from a bush in the yard of N. N. Edwards, at Twelfth and Vine.

"Yes, I took them," said the little miss. "My little sister said it was too bad that Mr. Edwards had so many roses and we had none, so I took two of them and gave them to her. I didn't hurt the bush, and there were oh, ever so many more left. I don't see how he could miss just two of them, do you judge?"

Edwards was not present to prosecute the case, the little girl's mother having paid for the two roses.

"This case is dismissed," said General Smith the city attorney, "and I would dismiss if Edwards was here. Who don't love roses?" Why, it is appropriate a couple from a bush in my neighbor's yard every morning on my way down town."

A MULTITUDE OF ALIMENTS.

All ailments which afflict the kidneys and bladder are so numerous, that merely to name them would fill a page, notwithstanding the variety of articles written. Suffice it to say, that they are both obstinate and dangerous. To their prevention Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is well adapted. The stimulus which it lends to the action of the kidneys when they are sluggish, serves to counteract tendencies to disease, and converts into a state of pernicious inactivity, and afterwards into one of positive organic disease, which soon destroys their delicate instruments, poisons the blood and causes death. A double purpose is served by this remedy. It purifies the blood, and cures the kidneys, and drives impurities from the bladder which have no natural channel of outlet, except these organs. Constipation, biliousness, fever and ague, rheumatism and dyspepsia, are also remedied by this medicine of thorough action and wide scope.

PRACTICING WITHOUT LICENSE.

F. B. Taylor, a traveling dentist, who makes his headquarters in Omaha, was arrested in Dunlap, Ia., for practicing his profession without license. When arraigned Taylor pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $25 and costs, the total amount being $41.5. Taylor appealed the case to the district court and gave bonds for his appearance.

SELLING THE COUNTY HOSPITAL. It was rumored on the street yesterday morning that a move was being made to sell the county hospital, now in course of erection, to the sisters of St. Francis, who have charge of St. Joseph's hospital, and the county commissioners were to be prosecuted immediately.

A BIG GRADING CONTRACT. The Patrick Land company yesterday let a contract for doing extensive grading in Dundee Place. Seventy-five thousand yards of earth are to be removed, and the work is to be prosecuted immediately.

Damaged the Hack.

Frank Elmore, a hack driver, was tried before a jury in the police court yesterday morning on the complaint of having overcharged a passenger. In defense he showed that the complaining passenger had damaged the hack. A verdict of not guilty was returned.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE: WEDNESDAY, JUNE 26, 1889.

Then bring the county pay them for care, for the sick whom it may deserve to have tended.

Commissioners Mount and Anderson, when spoken to on the subject, said that they had not considered such a proposition and did not think such an one would be made either by the county or sisters.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity. More economical than any other. More lasting than the ordinary stuff, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitudes of low cost, short-weighted, or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. Royal Baking Powder Co., 125 Wallstreet New York.

STATE DEVELOPMENT.

The Commissioner Now Suspects the County Attorney.

Chairman Mount has turned his attention finally to County Attorney Mahoney, and gives expression to the suspicion that that official is in collusion with County Clerk Roche.

Mr. Mount's suspicions, it seems, have been aroused by the fact that Mahoney addressed a letter to Roche, asking him to prepare and submit to
