

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

OFFICE, NO 12 PEARL STREET.
Delivered by carrier in Any Part of the City at
H. W. TILTON, MANAGER.
Telephone:
Business Office No. 43.
Night Editor, No. 5.

MINOR MENTION.
N. Y. Plumbing Co.
C. B. Music Co., 535 B'way.
Reiter, tailor, 310 Broadway.
Evans' laundry, 724 Broadway.
D. W. Otis, city and farm loans.
A marriage license was issued yesterday to John A. Spencer and Johanna C. Knab, both of this city.

The colored base ball tournament was a flat failure. Poor playing and a slim attendance were the prime causes of the flop.

Unity and All Saints Guilds will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. M. Weather, on Hancock street, to settle up affairs connected with Chautauqua. A full attendance is requested.

Mr. and Mrs. Gladwin and children were sent to Des Moines last evening. Bertie Wilson, the last of this notorious and disgusting trio, will be held a day or two and then ordered to leave the city.

The grand jury was occupied yesterday afternoon in preparing their indictments, which will be returned in court before Judge Carson this morning. To-day will be the last day of court until the 18th inst.

Dr. F. S. Seybert is the happy father of a bright baby boy. The youngster will hardly be in form to enter the state regatta races at Spirit Lake this year, but will be on hand when the regatta is secured for Manawa.

An independent jury arrived at the home of Captain and Mrs. W. A. Hayes on North First street Thursday. The captain is the most joyful man in the city, and insists that nothing is too rich for the blood of the little stranger.

The condition of Joseph Dileon, the carpenter who sustained a fractured collar bone by being run over by the small truck Thursday night, was somewhat improved yesterday, and no serious results are anticipated. The accident was due to his own carelessness.

All members of the Rebecca degree, I. O. O. F., are requested to be present at the hall this evening to practice in the beautiful work. By order of the N. G. Mrs. E. B. Edgerton.

The Portawattamie County Fruit Growers' and Gardeners' association will hold their regular monthly meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Hayes.

War has broken out again in the vicinity of the packing sheds. A fight between two men was arrested last evening on a warrant charging him with disturbing the peace. He gave bail and was released. O'Boyle recently figured in court in a case against some boys, who had gotten into trouble through relentlessly gauding him. Michael is an old hand at this business, and will undoubtedly make fun when the case comes up for trial.

Have your old furniture upholstered, good as new. R. Morgan, 725 Broadway.

J. Zoller & Co. have moved to 100 Broadway with the largest stock of groceries on Upper Broadway.

One of the finest dry goods stores in Council Bluffs is the new establishment just opened at 406 Broadway.

Bodine roofing will last longer and give better satisfaction than any roofing made; will not curl, crack or split, and makes a perfect roof. The entire roof. Birkinbine Engineering and Supply company, 115 Pearl street, Council Bluffs, Ia.

Notice the beautiful finish given collars, cuffs and shirts by Cascade Laundry company.

C. B. Trunk Factory moved to Chapman's old stand. Largest trunk factory in west.

Personal Paragraphs.
Mrs. Aedie Maurath leaves for West Union today.

Judge H. H. Trimble, of Keokuk, was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Eugene Westervelt, of Sioux City, is the guest of Mrs. Arthur W. Cowles.

Edward Everett is home from St. Paul's school, at Concord, N. H., for the summer vacation.

Deputy Sheriff Clay Root returned yesterday morning from Mount Pleasant, where he took Mrs. Meyers. He was one of the passengers on the "Q" train that collided with the freight near Fairfield.

Parties desiring loans on real estate from one to five years in small and large amounts. A. A. Clark & Co.

Council Bluffs Furniture company for good goods at low prices. 407 Broadway.

Bechtel hotel, central location, first class.

Have our wagon call for your soiled clothes. Cascade Laundry Co.

City steam laundry, 34 Main, tel. 141.

Splendid bargains at Marcus' clothing store before removal to new building.

List your property with A. A. Clark & Co.

Steam and hot water heating, first-class plumbing. Work in hotels, clubs, houses, etc. 515 Pearl street, Council Bluffs.

Important to Ladies and Gentlemen.
I have established an extensive dyeing and cleaning works in this city and desire to call attention of ladies and gentlemen of Omaha and Council Bluffs to the fact that I have furnished my works with the latest improved machinery known to the trade, that I have had over sixteen years' experience, and that I use only the very best dyes and chemicals. I clean and dye everything but fur goods. I call special attention to my new cleaning process by which the garment is not rubbed and which restores the original lustre to the goods. Ladies' and gentlemen's summer garments, such as flannels or silk, made to look as good as new. Dresses, clothing, silks, shawls, laces and plumes dyed in superior manner. Motor fare allowed on all goods brought to works, or wagon will call at residence. G. T. Scholes, 212 Broadway, Dye Works, Twenty-sixth and Broadway, Main office 113 South Sixteenth, Omaha.

The Suspended Fight.
The much postponed trial of the barbers' cases finally came off yesterday before Judge Aylesworth. It was the case of the Sunday closing against the anti-closing barbers, but it appears on the docket as the case of State vs. Hohn and Bernhardt. John Lindt appeared for the prosecution and Colonel Sapp for the defense. The case was argued and evidence and the case was argued and finally submitted last evening. Judge Aylesworth took the case under advisement and will give his decision at 10 o'clock this morning. The fight has now narrowed down so that but two barbers are fighting the closing movement, and these are the defendants in this case. It is stated that it comes to a hard fight. Hohn will be the only one who will stay to the finish, as it is reported that Bernhardt has had enough and is willing to close if all the other shops will do the same. It is not now expected that the fight will be as long and bitter as was anticipated at first.

No Explosions.
When persons keep cool and use our "Sun Dial" gas stoves. Four holes, roaster and bakeover. Costs 7 cents per hour when running full blast. New York Plumbing Co.

The adjourned annual stock holders' meeting of the Council Bluffs and Omaha Chautauqua assembly will be held at Council Bluffs, Ia., at 4 o'clock p. m., Monday, July 8, at board of trade room.

J. M. OUSLER, Secretary.

Insure your property with A. A. Clark & Co.

Goodbye, Chautauqua of 1889. Notwithstanding that the Chautauqua

IN AND ABOUT THE BLUFFS.

How the Fourth Was Spent By Manawa Visitors.

THE EFFECT IN POLICE COURT.

Carbee Again in the City—The Barbers Will Soon Settle the Sunday Closing Question—General and Personal.

How Manawa Celebrated.

Thursday was without question the greatest day in the history of Manawa, the difference in the appearance of the lake between the latest celebration of the national holiday and that of a year ago being very marked. The streets of Manawa were thronged with people, and it was not until nearly noon that the grand rush commenced. From about 11 o'clock until after 7 in the evening, the stream of humanity continued to flow toward the lake. Arriving there, the crowd divided, a part going across the lake, others to the grounds of the Schuetzen Verein, some to Athletic park, and the remainder staying on the grounds around the hotel.

It was estimated that there were fully six thousand people at the lake, and these figures are undoubtedly very nearly correct, as the motor line carried 4,180 passengers from the city to the lake, and at least two thousand either drove down in private cars or were patronized the back and bus lines. The motor line was unable to furnish transportation during the afternoon to all who desired to go to the lake, and every train left from twenty to fifty would be passengers standing on the platform at the dummy depot, unable to find a standing room on the heavily loaded cars.

An athletic programme had been prepared for the afternoon at the park, and was witnessed by several hundred people. A glove contest, bicycle race, sprinting race, and several similar numbers were on the programme.

The grand barbecue was one of the principal features of the day. A large ox was roasted and served up to the hungry visitors about 2 o'clock. Very early in the day it was evident that the lawless element, comprising the sports and toughs generally, was to hold high carnival on the south side of the lake, and the greater part of the respectable element either remained on the north side or merely came to the lake for a ride on the steamers and returned without having done anything but eat and drink.

There was but one thoroughly disgusted and homesick man to be seen, and that was Captain Vic Keller, of the steamer Nellie Koller. His boat was a party of a dozen or thereabouts, and the skipper had to tie up and watch the rival boats carrying hundreds of hands of passengers back and forth until long after midnight, when he was left with his chagrin and disappointment as best he could.

The bath houses were well patronized, several hundred heated patrons dispersing themselves in the water, both at Manhattan and Manawa beaches during the afternoon and evening.

The motor line, steamers and bath houses were not the only enterprises that enjoyed a liberal patronage, however, as the hotel scene is the greatest success since the lake is reported that nearly 800 people were fed there, and in the evening the dining room was not cleared until after 10 o'clock. The parlors, balconies, halls and every room in the hotel were all occupied to their fullest capacity.

Being passed off quietly until after dark, with the exception of two or three little "scraps" on the south shore. It is to be stated that the scene of the evening was such as to cast a deep shadow of discredit over the doings of the entire day. This cannot be said of the north side of the lake, where everything was as orderly and well conducted as could be desired, even up to the time that the last motor left, when the roughs, returning from the other side, created a momentary disturbance, which was the only one of the day.

The dance at the hotel in the evening was highly enjoyable and was participated in by several scores of dancers. Across the lake the most disgraceful orgies were indulged in by about two thousand men and women. A great many of them were returned to the city by the police.

It was a sight that shocked and disgusted hundreds of the men who saw it. Scenes were there enacted openly a disgrace to the city which is totally unfit for publication. From Manhattan beach to Wright's landing was a stream of howling, intoxicated creatures of both sexes. It was impossible to step from the path without stumbling over the prostrate form of some beer-laden individual sleeping off the effects of his enormous and deep potations. It was a scene that probably none who saw it ever saw its equal before, or will care to witness again. It would be impossible to fully convey the situation without seeing it as it actually existed.

This is one of the objectionable features that led those interested at the lake to petition for the incorporation of the new town of Manawa, and it is safe to predict that after such incorporation is effected, there will be a reputation of Thursday's wild orgies. Officers will be on the ground to promptly put a stop to such proceedings, and lawless scenes will be tolerated. Unless this is done the south side of the lake may as well be given over to the toughs and dedicated to their disgusting orgies. One man is not enough to keep order, and the attempt to do so can result in little less than the most disgusting farce.

The motor trains to the city during the evening were densely packed. Considering the immense crowd it is a wonder that no accidents resulted. Whenever incoming trains arrived at the depot at the lake hundreds of people would rush forward, seizing the railing and running along beside the cars, in order to secure seats when the train stopped. Nothing but the greatest vigilance on the part of the train men prevented serious if not fatal injury to many of the excited passengers.

The crews of the motor boats were so severely taxed to handle the crowds. Engineer Mikessell and Fireman Wright displayed commendable energy and patriotism by the handsome decorations which they placed upon their motor and train.

The only serious row of the evening was that upon the last motor from the lake, leaving shortly before 2 o'clock. Among the passengers were Jimmy Lindsey, the middle-weight pugilist, Fatsy Fallon and several other sports, and it was from this gang that the trouble emanated. Lindsey had taken part in a glove contest at the lake during the evening, and had won, and was getting partially intoxicated. Just as the train left the lake Lindsey, who had been making quite a disturbance, turned around and struck a young man named Hohn on the chin, tumbling him over the side of the train and on to the ground. Lindsey then turned his attention to cleaning out the entire train of five coaches. He smashed right and left indiscriminately, and there were soon several black eyes and bloody noses to be seen. Ladies screamed and began a wild rush over the backs of seats and from car to car to get out of the way of the drunken bully. Everybody was terrorized, and the men all seemed afraid to get in the way of the pugilist. Several parties who tried to quiet him were knocked down for their interference, and still the ball went on. The train was stopped fully twenty times, and at every stop Lindsey would get out and attack the whole crowd to come out and fight him. Women were insulted and pushed off the cars by the intoxicated brute. The train stopped at Third avenue and the police were sent for. Officers Cusick and Beswick were soon on hand, and took the starch out of the pugilist in a hurry. A new set of his friends bristled up and insisted on going his bail, but the nervous officers would not have it that way, and the gang skipped for the other side of the river to escape broken heads.

Among those who were brutally assaulted by Lindsey were Will Chenoweth, James Watson, William Connor. Lindsey was undoubtedly discovered last night, and his name has been filed against him.

All the parties assaulted have filed charges of assault and battery, and will prosecute Lindsey as far as possible. He was yesterday fined $5.00 on the city charge of disturbing the peace. His night's fun will probably cost him about $20, with possibly a term in jail. The case will be prosecuted to the fullest extent, and Lindsey will undoubtedly discover that insolent behavior by wholesale is rather unprofitable business.

Goodbye, Chautauqua of 1889. Notwithstanding that the Chautauqua assembly closed Thursday night, the grounds were by no means deserted yesterday; in fact, it was a very lively day there until about evening. It was the inauguration of the grand clearing up process that is to remove all traces of the camp life there for the past three weeks. A line of drays was passing in and out of the grounds during the entire day, bearing away the baggage and household utensils that had been in such steady demand by the "dwellers in tents."

The work of taking down the tents was commenced early in the day, and nearly all of them have been folded away. Several of the tents were sold to visitors, and of these quite a number are yet standing. It will be but a short time until all traces of the recent lively scene there will be removed, and the tabernacle will be left alone to stand guard over the desolated and depopulated grounds.

Several of the camping places did not leave until yesterday, the young ladies in tent No. 30, Paradise Row, being the last to leave. There were six of these young ladies, Misses Ida Wallace, Winnie Grace, Marie, Nellie and Carrie Spooner and Jennie Wallace. Miss Ida Wallace was the first to enter the grounds of the Schuetzen Verein, some to Athletic park, and the remainder staying on the grounds around the hotel.

It was estimated that there were fully six thousand people at the lake, and these figures are undoubtedly very nearly correct, as the motor line carried 4,180 passengers from the city to the lake, and at least two thousand either drove down in private cars or were patronized the back and bus lines.

The motor line was unable to furnish transportation during the afternoon to all who desired to go to the lake, and every train left from twenty to fifty would be passengers standing on the platform at the dummy depot, unable to find a standing room on the heavily loaded cars.

An athletic programme had been prepared for the afternoon at the park, and was witnessed by several hundred people. A glove contest, bicycle race, sprinting race, and several similar numbers were on the programme.

The grand barbecue was one of the principal features of the day. A large ox was roasted and served up to the hungry visitors about 2 o'clock. Very early in the day it was evident that the lawless element, comprising the sports and toughs generally, was to hold high carnival on the south side of the lake, and the greater part of the respectable element either remained on the north side or merely came to the lake for a ride on the steamers and returned without having done anything but eat and drink.

There was but one thoroughly disgusted and homesick man to be seen, and that was Captain Vic Keller, of the steamer Nellie Koller. His boat was a party of a dozen or thereabouts, and the skipper had to tie up and watch the rival boats carrying hundreds of hands of passengers back and forth until long after midnight, when he was left with his chagrin and disappointment as best he could.

The bath houses were well patronized, several hundred heated patrons dispersing themselves in the water, both at Manhattan and Manawa beaches during the afternoon and evening.

The motor line, steamers and bath houses were not the only enterprises that enjoyed a liberal patronage, however, as the hotel scene is the greatest success since the lake is reported that nearly 800 people were fed there, and in the evening the dining room was not cleared until after 10 o'clock. The parlors, balconies, halls and every room in the hotel were all occupied to their fullest capacity.

Being passed off quietly until after dark, with the exception of two or three little "scraps" on the south shore. It is to be stated that the scene of the evening was such as to cast a deep shadow of discredit over the doings of the entire day. This cannot be said of the north side of the lake, where everything was as orderly and well conducted as could be desired, even up to the time that the last motor left, when the roughs, returning from the other side, created a momentary disturbance, which was the only one of the day.

The dance at the hotel in the evening was highly enjoyable and was participated in by several scores of dancers. Across the lake the most disgraceful orgies were indulged in by about two thousand men and women. A great many of them were returned to the city by the police.

It was a sight that shocked and disgusted hundreds of the men who saw it. Scenes were there enacted openly a disgrace to the city which is totally unfit for publication. From Manhattan beach to Wright's landing was a stream of howling, intoxicated creatures of both sexes. It was impossible to step from the path without stumbling over the prostrate form of some beer-laden individual sleeping off the effects of his enormous and deep potations. It was a scene that probably none who saw it ever saw its equal before, or will care to witness again. It would be impossible to fully convey the situation without seeing it as it actually existed.

This is one of the objectionable features that led those interested at the lake to petition for the incorporation of the new town of Manawa, and it is safe to predict that after such incorporation is effected, there will be a reputation of Thursday's wild orgies. Officers will be on the ground to promptly put a stop to such proceedings, and lawless scenes will be tolerated. Unless this is done the south side of the lake may as well be given over to the toughs and dedicated to their disgusting orgies. One man is not enough to keep order, and the attempt to do so can result in little less than the most disgusting farce.

The motor trains to the city during the evening were densely packed. Considering the immense crowd it is a wonder that no accidents resulted. Whenever incoming trains arrived at the depot at the lake hundreds of people would rush forward, seizing the railing and running along beside the cars, in order to secure seats when the train stopped. Nothing but the greatest vigilance on the part of the train men prevented serious if not fatal injury to many of the excited passengers.

The crews of the motor boats were so severely taxed to handle the crowds. Engineer Mikessell and Fireman Wright displayed commendable energy and patriotism by the handsome decorations which they placed upon their motor and train.

The only serious row of the evening was that upon the last motor from the lake, leaving shortly before 2 o'clock. Among the passengers were Jimmy Lindsey, the middle-weight pugilist, Fatsy Fallon and several other sports, and it was from this gang that the trouble emanated. Lindsey had taken part in a glove contest at the lake during the evening, and had won, and was getting partially intoxicated. Just as the train left the lake Lindsey, who had been making quite a disturbance, turned around and struck a young man named Hohn on the chin, tumbling him over the side of the train and on to the ground. Lindsey then turned his attention to cleaning out the entire train of five coaches. He smashed right and left indiscriminately, and there were soon several black eyes and bloody noses to be seen. Ladies screamed and began a wild rush over the backs of seats and from car to car to get out of the way of the drunken bully. Everybody was terrorized, and the men all seemed afraid to get in the way of the pugilist. Several parties who tried to quiet him were knocked down for their interference, and still the ball went on. The train was stopped fully twenty times, and at every stop Lindsey would get out and attack the whole crowd to come out and fight him. Women were insulted and pushed off the cars by the intoxicated brute. The train stopped at Third avenue and the police were sent for. Officers Cusick and Beswick were soon on hand, and took the starch out of the pugilist in a hurry. A new set of his friends bristled up and insisted on going his bail, but the nervous officers would not have it that way, and the gang skipped for the other side of the river to escape broken heads.

Among those who were brutally assaulted by Lindsey were Will Chenoweth, James Watson, William Connor. Lindsey was undoubtedly discovered last night, and his name has been filed against him.

All the parties assaulted have filed charges of assault and battery, and will prosecute Lindsey as far as possible. He was yesterday fined $5.00 on the city charge of disturbing the peace. His night's fun will probably cost him about $20, with possibly a term in jail. The case will be prosecuted to the fullest extent, and Lindsey will undoubtedly discover that insolent behavior by wholesale is rather unprofitable business.

Goodbye, Chautauqua of 1889. Notwithstanding that the Chautauqua erect a strong fence along the edge of the river, so as to enclose the entire promontory, except the part in connection with the mainland, which was to be left undisturbed until the herd was found to have entered of their own accord, which they were expected to do about the end of April.

However, there was consternation and confusion in the camp when at day-break on April 8 it was discovered that a large herd of bisons had found their way on to the promontory during the night, and still remained there. Only about a mile of the barricade had been completed, and there remained another mile and a half to be done before the beasts could be surrounded.

The whole force of men, which had been steadily increasing in numbers and now amounted to over fifteen hundred, were immediately put on to complete the fence, which they succeeded in doing by daylight, to the surprise of every one, including themselves.

The bisons were now safe inside. In one corner of the kral, some fifty yards from the river, and well above it, a smaller enclosure about twenty yards square was constructed, and into this, after a short time, the entire herd, numbering twenty-four head, were driven.

Terrified by the noise of the beaters, and wild with fear, the great creatures appeared almost mad, and rushed about attacking each other with incredible fury. They continued to charge and fight like demons, amid the yells and cheers of the excited crowd, until at nightfall ten of the noble beasts lay dead or dying.

Two more succumbed during the night, and it was a pitiable sight next morning to see the twelve survivors all jaded and gory—utterly exhausted, but still vicious and "game."

Four of the slain—two bulls and two cows—measured eighteen hands and over in height at the dorsal ridge. One huge bull, the largest of all, who is still living, must measure eighteen hands three inches.

Large covered bamboo rafts were constructed, and at some of the bisons have been driven on board these and sent down to Pekin, a distance of 150 miles; the others will follow in due course.

At the time of writing, a large cow and two smaller ones are at Polcan. The large cow, which was presented to the president, has been generously offered to the Singapore museum, and is now being skinned and prepared prior to being sent up there.

The large cow measures 18 hands 1 inch at the dorsal ridge and 16 hands 3 inches in height at the shoulder. It is so well built that the horns will now be identified, so as to definitely settle the vexed question as to whether the Malay and Indian jaguar are the same species.

Two tigers were caught in the kral, but both made their escape; several additional jaguars, however, were successfully captured.

It was intended to send one or two of the live bisons to England, if possible, as one has never been seen there. However, there is little chance of their ever living in captivity or standing the voyage.

This is said to be the first large bison kral on record.

A DISH THAT COST $16,000.
The Fabulous Sum Expended by the Romans in Eating and Drinking.

The lavish expenditure of the Romans on the cena, the great meal of the day, was often fabulous. Vitellius is actually reported to have squandered about $3,225,000 on his daily supper, though surely this must be a monstrous exaggeration.

The celebrated feast to which he invited his brother Lucius cost 3,000 slaves, and the banquet was so magnificent that it consisted of 2,000 different dishes of fish and 7,000 of fowls, and this did not exhaust the bill of fare.

His daily food was luxurious and varied beyond precedent, says a writer in the English Nation. Review. The deserts of Lydia, the shores of Spain and the waters of the Carpathian seas were diligently searched to furnish his table with dainties, while the savage wilds of Britain had to bear their part in replenishing his larder.

Had he reigned long Josephus says that he would have exhausted the wealth of the Roman empire itself.

Julius Verus, another of these worthies, was equally reckless in the extravagance of his suppers. It is said that a single entertainment, to which only a dozen guests were invited, cost 6,000,000 sesterces—6,000,000 sterling, that is—nearly $14,500,000.

His table was so magnificent that his whole life was passed eating and drinking in the voluptuous retreats of Daphne or at the luxurious banquets of Antioch. So profuse, indeed, was the extravagance of those times that to entertain an emperor was to face almost certain ruin; no dish alone at the table of Hellogabalus is said to have cost about $4,000 of our money.

No wonder these imperial feasts were lengthened out for hours and days, and that the guests, in the midst of their artifice, often revolting in the extreme, were used to prolong the pleasure of eating, or that Philoxenus should have wished, as it said, that he had the throat of a crane with a delicate palate all the way down.

GEORGE METCALF, REAL ESTATE, No. 10 Pearl St.

Below we give names of a few of the many Patrons of the Council Bluffs Insurance Co.

In Council Bluffs and vicinity. The character of the patrons named, and the amount entrusted to the company, indicate the confidence of the public in its management of doing business is best.

A BATTLE OF BISONS.
Terrible Struggle Between the Great Beasts in the Straits of Malacca.

His highness the sultan of Pahang, in the Malay peninsula, can claim to have introduced a decidedly novel feature into oriental sport since he has brought his great bison kral to a successful issue.

The bison of the Malay peninsula, called s'adang by the Malays, corresponds almost exactly with the Indian gaur, but it has never been decided by naturalists whether it is the true Gaurus gaurus or not. It is seldom shot or caught, and the few trophies existing are imperfect and do not afford conclusive evidence.

COME TO EISEMAN'S REMOVAL SALE.

Our prices for tomorrow and this week will be lower than ever. These prices mean that the goods are going to be sold.

It also means that they will go at a lively rate, and it means that those who participate in these bargains will be richer by a good many dollars than if they neglect this opportunity.

Old prices all lost sight of. Anything to get rid of our goods before moving. Read and profit by this opportunity.

100 pieces Challies, manufactured to sell for 15c, our price now 5c.
29 pieces Challies, actual value 20c per yard, our price now 7c.
1 case best Manchester Challies, worth 30c per yard, our price now 15c.
50 pieces best imported Challies, sold everywhere from 65c to 85c, our price now 48c.

125 pieces plain and printed India Silks, worth 60c to 75c. Our price during this sale 39c per yard. Best India Silks, sold from 75c to $1.50 a yard, our price 59c.

1 case English Sateens, including fast blacks, worth 20c and 25c, our price now 10c and 12 1/2c. Best French Sateens, including the finest fast black Henrietta finish, warranted the finest and best goods made, at 25c and 30c, reduced from 35c, 40c and 50c.

2 cases finest Scotch Gingham and Seersuckers, formerly sold at 15c, 20c and 25c, our price now 12 1/2c.

1 case English Flannellettes, worth 39c a yard, our price 10c.
1 case real fine plain and striped lace effects White Dress Goods made to sell for 25c, our price now 12 1/2c.

Ribbons, Fans, Parasols and Umbrellas at cost. This is a bona fide sale. No humbug quotations but facts which we mean to sustain. Mail orders will receive prompt attention. Call and see us.

Henry Eiseman & Co.'s PEOPLES' STORE, Council Bluffs, Ia

SPECIAL NOTICES.
FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.
BOOKS YOU OUGHT TO CONSULT

FOR SALE—My up-town cigar store, at 312 B'way, is for sale cheap. Will sell stock, fixtures, and business at a bargain for selling. Have two stores and can't attend to but one. Splendid business chance for small capital. Inquire of Frank Levin, 50 Broadway.

WANTED—Good girl for general housework. Mrs. Dr. Hanchett, 120 1/2 St.

WANTED—To buy a few lots in Mullin's subdivision. Address, Wm. Larsen & Co., 10 S. Main, Council Bluffs.

FINE family team for sale, or trade for lot. Inquire 1222 West Broadway.

FOUND—Near reservoir, a pocketbook. Owner can have same by applying at Bee office, Omaha.

FOR SALE—100 feet of track in Baylis and Palmers. Must be sold. A sacrifice of $200. Korr & Gray.

FOR RENT—Furnished (for two or three months), the house I occupy, No. 324 So. 7th St. H. C. Cheyney.

WANTED—500 pieces of second-hand carpet. Also all good second-hand furniture. A. J. Mandel, Nos. 361 and 325 Broadway.

FOR EXCHANGE—Several good farms to exchange for Council Bluffs lots. Johnston & Van Patten, Everett block.

REAL ESTATE—Bought and sold and exchanged. Special attention given to exchange of titles. W. C. James, No. 10 Pearl st.

FOR RENT—Easy terms two new five-room houses, 15th ave. between High and Third sts. Sell cheap if taken this week. Inquire owner, J. Dickey, 40 H. Way.

FOR SALE—Old established general merchandise business, stock, fixtures, wagons, etc. Good room and low rent. Address, J. Dickey, 710 H. Way.

WANTED—Everybody in the city to remember that the place to buy your goods, 322 and 325 Broadway.

THE RUSSELL
SIZES FROM 25 TO 300
HORSE POWER.
Especially Adapted for ELECTRIC LIGHTING, Mills and Elevators.

No. 27 Main Street, Over Jacquemin's Jewelry Store.

A BIG LOT OF YELLOW JERSEY and Nansamond SWEET POTATOES
Cabbage and Other Vegetable Plants.
FOR SALE
By J. R. McPHERSON, GROWER.
Vegetables, Vegetable Plants, Fruits Etc.

East Pierce St. - - - Council Bluffs.

Below we give names of a few of the many Patrons of the Council Bluffs Insurance Co.

In Council Bluffs and vicinity. The character of the patrons named, and the amount entrusted to the company, indicate the confidence of the public in its management of doing business is best.

A BATTLE OF BISONS.
Terrible Struggle Between the Great Beasts in the Straits of Malacca.

His highness the sultan of Pahang, in the Malay peninsula, can claim to have introduced a decidedly novel feature into