OFFICE, NO 12 PEARL STREET. Delivered by carrier in any part of the city...

MINOR MENTION. N. Y. P. Co. Gleason coal.

C. H. Music Co., 538 E. W. Evans' laundry, 724 Broadway. D. W. Otis, city and farm loans.

Dean Gardner will officiate at St. Paul's church next Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Rev. E. N. Harris, pastor of the Bethany Baptist church, is spending his vacation in travel in the south.

Emma Woodward, a white woman with a tendency for affiliating with the negroes, was arrested yesterday morning on the charge of vagrancy.

William Elliott has secured a judgment in the superior court for $50 against the county for services rendered during the smallpox epidemic. He brought suit for $50.

A letter from Will J. Gratian, Alton, Ill., states that he is enjoying a delightful summer vacation, and that his father, Joseph Gratian, is spending the summer in Europe.

The school board held a meeting last evening for the transaction of routine business. Mr. Schoenigen was not present, so the matter of electing high school teachers was postponed.

Regular communication of Bluffs City Lodge, No. 1, A. F. and A. M., this evening, at 8 p. m. sharp. All M. M. in good standing are cordially invited to be present. By order of the W. M., J. H. Palmer.

Lieutenant Charles Palmer, who has been sick for a long time, has slowly recovered, and will start in a few days for Salt Lake to try the effects of the climate there. He will be the guest of his uncle, S. S. Walker.

The city fathers are after more and better illumination in the transaction of routine business. The electric lighting system is being put in, and hereafter the aldermen will conduct their deliberations under the brilliant rays of the electric light.

Work on the improvement of Indian creek, between First and Second streets, has been commenced. Piles are being driven, and an embankment will be made of willow, earth and stone, to prevent a further washing away of property in that locality.

Satelli K. R., infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Schreffler, died Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock, at the residence of F. Keenan, No. 418 Glen avenue, of cholera infantum. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock this morning from St. Peter's church.

The physician who attended the young German, injured at the beer garden Sunday afternoon, states that his injuries were not inflicted by an officer's club, but were probably caused by a fall on the curb. This corroborates the story told by Officer Doyle, who made the arrest.

The Kline-Bishop gossie comedy had another full dress rehearsal before Squire Hendricks yesterday afternoon. This is the case in which the gossie trespassed on the plaintiff's garden, and destroyed a quantity of "garden asparagus." Judge Aspleworth inflicted a fine of $5 for trespass, and the last suit was brought to obtain damages.

J. L. Peters, bookkeeper for John Lindor, was profoundly surprised yesterday afternoon when his family announced to him that he had been named as the father of a girl and boy, the healthy babies. Mr. Peters is perplexed and surprised, but highly elated.

W. F. Brooks and Myrtle Lee, the pair found in Baylis park at an unusual hour, were yesterday fined by Judge Aspleworth. Brooks was fined $1.50, and the woman $2.00. A bootlegger was also fined $2.00 for disturbing the peace. He had "shined" up for a party, who refused to settle, when Holmes grabbed his hat and disappeared.

The Union Pacific has set the city a good example in cutting the weeds on its property at the transfer and around the dummy depot. There are dozens of places about the city where similar work is badly needed. It is hardly probable that there is a resident of the city who cannot make up his mind to do some work where such work would be productive of beneficial results.

Saturday night a freight car in the lower Wabash yards was broken open by a gang of tramps, and a case of shoes and a package of hardware stolen. A gentleman named Gleason, who resides in that vicinity, notified Station Agent Blanchard, who in turn called for the police by the telephone, but no answer was received. The authorities state that no telephone message was received. Where was the jailer at the time?

B. Zevely, secretary of the board of trade, is busy sending invitations to the farmers of Pottawattamie county relative to the bluegrass picnic to be held at Creston next month. He is asking every farmer to contribute some farm product, if nothing more than a basket of potatoes. The picnic will be held on the 23rd of August, and will be a grand affair. It is calculated that this expedition will result in a great benefit for the western part of the state.

Sunday afternoon while Dr. C. B. Judd with others were walking on Manawa beach near the hotel, some unknown driver drove the doctor down with a team. The shoulder of one of the horses first struck Dr. Judd on the side, which wound him around the neck, and he fell against the front wheel of the buggy, producing a very severe shaking up and bruising, that has resulted in prostration. The doctor seems to have been prostrated, as there was plenty of room for the carriage, and from the fact that the driver instantly put whip to his horse and soon got out of sight. The force of the concussion was no great that the doctor's clothes were badly torn.

Important to Ladies and Gentlemen. I have established an extensive dining and cleaning works in this city and desire to call attention to ladies and gentlemen of Omaha and Council Bluffs to the fact that I have furnished my works with the latest improved machinery known to the trade, that I have had over sixteen years' experience, and that I use only the very best dyes and chemicals. I clean and dye everything but fur goods. I call special attention to my new bleaching process by which the garment is not ripped and which restores the original luster to the goods. Ladies and gentlemen's summer garments, such as flannels or silk, made to look as good as new. Dresses, clothing, silks, shawls, lace and plumes dyed in superior manner. Motor fare allowed on all goods brought to works, or wagon will call at residences. C. A. Schoonacker, Twin City Dye Works, Twenty-sixth and Broadway, Main office 113 South Sixteenth, Omaha.

THE NEWS IN THE BLUFFS.

A Very Enthusiastic Move on the Part of the Chautauquans. FIRE COMMITTEE INTERFERES.

The Guards New Captain—The Saloon Row—Bluffs Improvements—The City Council—The County Crops.

Raising the Chautauqua Debt. A meeting was held yesterday afternoon at which nearly all the trustees and officers of the Council Bluffs and Omaha Chautauqua association were present.

The meeting was called to order by the president of the association and received the reports of the active officers. The reports showed a light deficit in current expenses and a total debt of $15,000. At this statement cast any gloom upon the members it was quickly dispelled by Mr. Wies, who jumped to his feet and cried enthusiastically.

Chairman, I will give $1,000 towards defraying that debt! Mr. Thomas Officer didn't take time to applaud Mr. Wies, but he raised in a moment from four men committees were appointed to take subscriptions in Council Bluffs and Omaha. The Chautauqua people feel confident that the debt will be extinguished within a few days.

The Fire Committee Interferes. The fire committee held a meeting yesterday morning for the purpose of looking into a certain matter to which their attention had been called by a communication from the mayor.

The committee consisted of the mayor, aldermen and two members of the fire department by Chief Walters. The discharged men were Captain Rapajlo, foreman of hose house No. 1, and Frank Markel, driver of No. 1 hose reel. The grounds alleged by the committee were that the discharged men were intoxicated and disobedient of rules.

Captain Rapajlo has been a member of the fire department for the past thirteen years, and his discharge was more than the fire committee could stand, so he was reinstated by them.

The committee then considered the waterworks question, and agreed that the fire pressure apparatus should be removed from the police station to No. 4 hose house, on Upper Broadway. This will undoubtedly be done before very long.

The Light Guards' New Captain. The Dodge Light Guards held an election last evening for the purpose of electing a captain to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Captain Cowles. But one ballot was taken, resulting as follows: William E. Foster, 23; First Lieutenant W. E. Alchison, 8; Second Lieutenant Walter E. Alchison, 7; and a few votes for other candidates. Mr. Foster is an excellent young man, and is employed as stenographer by Deere, Wells & Co.

Trouble For the Budget Dispensers. The saloon war is now on in the most aggressive style, and new developments may be expected daily. Not only has there a new element been added to the ranks of those who are striving to enforce the law, but it is stated that several of those whose saloons have been closed have made up their minds to follow the example recently set them by the barbers, and see to it that others shall not be allowed to do that from which they are enjoined. The greater part of this business is being conducted through Justice Barnett's court, and the search warrants are served by Constable Covall.

It is stated that a notice was served yesterday of an application for an injunction against the place in the rear of the Manhattan, and that several more will be served today. Some of the ex-saloon keepers are hot because they were fined and compelled to pay a fine of $500 or over for continuing the sale of beer, while others who were not fined are still allowed to continue the business. They protest against a discrimination in the matter, and bid fair to soon become the rankest kind of prohibitionists, although from unusual motives.

What's the Matter With the Bluff? One of the first things that strikes the visitor to the Bluffs as being remarkable is the large number of new buildings in course of erection in all parts of the city, and countless questions are daily asked concerning the hundreds of new roofs which are to be seen from almost any good point of elevation.

Last year the amount of public improvements excited the same wonder, and it was claimed by some that the work in this line would soon be far ahead of the city itself. That such a statement was entirely without foundation is apparent as a glance at the following figures, as to the amount of money expended thus far this year in the erection of new buildings. The amount of money expended in building permits issued by the city clerk for the first six months of the year was $25. The money considered for the same purpose, as the table below will show, but it does not include more than one-half of the buildings erected this year, permits for which were issued during the last three months of last year. The consideration does not include the large Elwanon and Merriam blocks, electric light building and others, which are still in the hands of workmen. A careful estimate by parties in position to know, places the value of improvements in the Bluffs for the first six months at $1,000,000. This includes grading and curbing contracts to July 1. The last half of the year will swell the amount largely, as all the sewerage, paving and a large portion of the grading and curbing will be done.

The following table will show the number of permits issued and the money consideration of the same during the first six months of 1890:

Table with 3 columns: Month, No. of Permits, Consideration. January: 21, $34,140. February: 15, $26,000. March: 51, $60,200. April: 57, $78,100. May: 37, $30,250. June: 43, $83,775.

Total: 224, $438,110. It will be seen that the Bluffs is not only easily keeping pace with the most extensive public improvements, but that it will take a very prominent position to keep the public improvements up with the city.

This year's work is by no means insignificant, as 30,000 yards of paving, a half mile of sewerage and several thousand dollars worth of park improvements will attest. A prominent business man of the city expressed the correct view of the situation yesterday when he made the following statement: "If we hadn't had a boom two years ago I would think now that we are having just the greatest kind of a boom. There is one thing certain, and that is that our present growth, although passing off and on, and the nature of a boom is far more profitable to the city, and it is equally certain that it has come to stay."

City Council Proceedings. The city council met last night in weekly session with all the members present.

The judiciary committee reported back the petition of Mrs. Amy for remission of taxes without recommending the purchase and sale of real estate.

Alderman Everett stated that the citizens of Washington avenue who had petitioned the council to meet them as a board of health in regard to the abatement of the nuisances complained of in connection with a certain house on the mill and Second street, and that the council failed to materialize at the meeting fixed for that purpose, and moved that the council take a recess and call to order the year's business of the association and receive the reports of the active officers. The reports showed a light deficit in current expenses and a total debt of $15,000. At this statement cast any gloom upon the members it was quickly dispelled by Mr. Wies, who jumped to his feet and cried enthusiastically.

A poor complexion is made the subject of the philosophy, and it is necessary, which will make out a bill of fare which, if adhered to for a year, will certainly prove beneficial, not only to the face, but to the general health of the body. She has great faith in perspiration, and advises long walks, even in the hottest weather, with the face heavily veiled. Kitchen work is also prescribed. Not long ago a resident of Fifth avenue, who pays a cook $2.00 a week, and a maid and low cost, also in the kitchen and shell peas, mix a cake, or knead bread for an hour every day to freshen her complexion. Madame is an enthusiast to an extent bordering on madness on the subject of clean skin, and she says that there is a degree of personal neatness equally as fascinating as beauty. Without actually cleaning the hair, she will direct the work and superintend an arrangement of the hair to conceal the defects of the face. She has recipes for sweetening the breath and hundreds of tricks to make lovely women doubly attractive.

For instance, any one can manicure a pair of nails, but few are able to cure redness of the skin and swollen veins. She advises muscular action. One woman is ordered to fan herself; a log-nette mounted on a rod of silver is suggested for another, so that when not in use she may hold it in her hand, and keep the blood down the hands; a third is told to knit incessantly, and the writer has in mind two beautiful women pursuing their plan, whose names are famous on both continents, and who are remarkable for things done by this very remarkable woman, that of dressing a lady's arms exceeds everything else. Some other beautiful arms are marred by a light growth of hair, which is hid by sleeveless bathing suit and lace-sleeved walking dresses have so largely conduced. One season of bare arms on the beach is all the lesson a society woman needs; after that she takes her ocean dip in long sleeve silk mitts and a broad-brimmed hat. But the mischief accomplished, it is necessary to pluck the arms before the creature can appear in evening dress. In this operation the machine is an extreme. It goes over the arm with a pair of tweezers the day of the opera, ball, or carpet party, and drawing out the darker hair from the shoulder to the wrist, resort to some device for getting the treatment has to be repeated for each subsequent occasion, and those ladies who go in society a great deal find the low-necked and short-sleeved bodice a most expensive fashion. These visits are kept profoundly secret and are made by appointment. One lady pays the madame $100 a year to dress her right arm only, the left she does herself, and a well kept secret, the madame is kept free from the hateful shade of a dark mustache for $60 paid in monthly checks.

Some half dozen women of position and wealth go to the madame to have their hair examined and the threads of silver pulled out or touched with bleaching fluid. While many of her patrons are not in a position to keep a maid, there are more who prefer that the servants as well as the members of the family be kept in ignorance of the annoyance resulting from creeping age.

Tale Novels. The annual consignment of novels for summer reading has arrived, and comprises several interesting books. Number 98 of the Globe Library, published by Rand, McNally & Co., Chicago, contains "Three Years," translated from the German by Mrs. J. S. Park. The April number of the Rialto series, by the same publishers, comprises "Merze," by Mary E. Ryan. It is an attractive volume, telling the story of an actress. The Manhattan series for the month of July, published by the same publishers, comprises "The Trust," by Lunce C. Lillie, from the press of A. L. Hart, of York. Sanford & Co., of New York, has issued the second edition of "Francis," by Florence Vestal Kelly. This book deals with the moral question of society and handles the subject in an able manner. "Can Love Sin?" just published
