

MERCHANTS' WEEK AND FAIR

The Autumnal Celebrations to Occur Simultaneously.

AMUSEMENTS IN LARGE DOSES.

A Grand Double Bill of Attractions to be Provided for Omaha's Country Visitors—Last Night's Meeting.

Will be Held Together.

Mercantile week and the fair are to be held at the same time. This was decided by the Merchants' week committee last evening.

Joseph Garneau called the meeting to order, and W. G. Taylor was installed in the secretary's chair.

Then arose the question of a suitable date. Mr. W. A. L. Gibson thought no wiser plan could be provided than to double attractions on the visitors. Let the fair and merchants' celebration come together. While our country contains are here, give them amusements in large doses.

Mr. William I. Kierstead approved Mr. Gibson's sentiments. He also suggested that he was a very fastidious sort of man who would not consider a trip through this fair and New York City worth the time he would spend in coming to Omaha.

Mr. Louis Heimrod said something about cutting the week to three days, but his proposition was not considered at all.

John A. Wakefield thought the management was catering too much to the fair directors. "If you want to raise money for the fair why not come out and say so at once? It seems to me that we might save our merchants' week and have a quiet, pleasant gathering of merchants."

Mr. Wakefield is chairman of the committee on finance and an important member of the executive committee, and everyone felt better when he came into line after awhile and said he would work as hard as anybody to make it all a success.

And then there was the other question of money. How to find out the necessary amount, how to raise it and what to spend it for, were serious questions.

Joseph Garneau suggested $10,000, and said he didn't doubt but $5,000 could be raised easily.

Mr. Wakefield wasn't very sanguine, and said he thought hard work might raise the stake to $1,000.

"Nonsense," replied Garneau, "we can raise $500 here in this meeting."

"Put down five dollars for $50 right now," Kierstead shouted.

"We can raise $500 among the packers of South Omaha," came from H. H. McKay, of the pork-packing business. "A fine crew of Mr. Wakefield says, the fair knocks $500 off the subscriptions, it will save $1,500 in another way. It will be so much amusement we won't have to pay for."

When this discussion ended all committees need to report on their respective duties at the next meeting, and in that way show the necessary total.

As to the way outdoor amusements should be conducted, no one had a plan to urge very strongly. Plans which had been suggested in this Bee were mentioned, and the following suggestions were made. First, there might be ward organizations of horse-men, informed or carrying torches, who, well trained, could be used for any purpose. A banner to be given the best drilled organization would stimulate hard work in the direction of efficiency. If the old plan of getting out a number of floats might be adopted, it is a little more expensive than the others, but always good. Last, a brilliant display of fire works, made from the tops of the New York Life and Bee buildings, where everyone could see them. Each of these matters will be well received, but no action was taken.

After deciding to meet hereafter every Tuesday night, the committee adjourned. Mr. William F. Bechtel's resolution that the officers of the fair association and the Coliseum directors be invited to meet the executive committee next Tuesday night was adopted.

The secretary announced the following committees and the meeting adjourned: Finance—John A. Wakefield, W. N. Babcock, W. H. Clark, N. H. Falconer, C. B. Moore, John A. Moshans, Ed Martin, Charles Metz, Robert E. Perine, J. H. S. P. Moore, J. H. Mack, Simon Oberholzer, William Flomming, H. Haubeins, G. D. Morris, C. Burnister, L. O. Jones.

Decorations—Louis Heimrod, James Stephenson, Ernest Kiall, W. A. Page, Max Becht, G. A. Yates.

Admission—Samuel Rees, George Darrow, S. P. Morse, G. H. Mack, Simon Oberholzer, William Flomming, H. Haubeins, G. D. Morris, C. Burnister, L. O. Jones.

Carp's Letter.

THE SUNDAY BEE will contain an interesting description of the Suez canal, with its surrounding territory, a history of its construction and a bird's-eye view of Beirut.

PUBLIC WORKS.

Meeting of Contracts and Other Important Matters.

The board of public works yesterday opened the following bids for grading Thirty-second avenue from Ed Craigton avenue south to the city limits. F. C. Peterson, 10-10; Canfield & Fleming, 13c; C. F. Williams, 15c; C. A. Jensen, 10-10; Ed Callahan, 10-10; Ryan & Co., 12-10. Peterson being the lowest bidder, he was awarded the contract. The following bids were received for grading Thirtieth street from Union south to the city limits: Canfield & Fleming, 12-10; C. F. Williams, 13c; C. A. Jensen, 13c; Ed Callahan, 15c; Ed Phelan, 10c; Ryan & Co., 13-10. Canfield & Fleming were awarded the contract.

For grading the alley between Ninth and Tenth streets a contract was awarded to Ed Callahan and bid 17c. The board told them to take the afternoon and decide themselves who shall have the contract.

F. L. Reeves was awarded the contract for building an extension of the south branch of the North Omaha sewer from the corner of Thirty-first and Farnam streets, southwest to Thirty-fourth and Jones, at $4,200.

The board yesterday afternoon discussed the matter of throwing out a bid submitted by Kelly & Co., which contained an extra provision. The bid was finally rejected after Mayor Palfrey had exhausted the subject and himself.

Through the fault of either the city engineer or the contractor who did the paving, the alley on Leavenworth street, between Ninth and Tenth is not properly drained, and, in consequence, a pond of stagnant water has formed at the place. It will be required in and removed.

In keeping with the story told by Chairman Balcombe of the board of public works, regarding catcumber streets, comes the story that Tuesday night, while paving in North Twenty-ninth street, a horse in No. 1115, fell beneath a horse which was standing at the place. The animal dropped into the hole and was hidden up to his shoulders.

Lara Nelson, James Harold and Erastus Young, of Omaha, are U. S. Federal officers. Holdrege, have been notified to fill up the pond of stagnant water upon their property on Leavenworth street, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth, before August 1. Many complaints have been made by property owners against this nuisance.

Sidewalk Insects. A. H. reports seven million of wooden sidewalks already laid this season. Only one-quarter of a mile of stone pavement has been laid.

The editor of the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post has for years been subject to cramp colic or fits of indigestion. Mr. Butcher, the leading druggist there, advised him to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I took the medicine and not only found relief on that occasion but have several times since tried its virtues and found relief in every instance."

THE OLD RING IS BROKEN.

Non-Partisan Members Now Dominate the School Board.

Ever since the last school board election efforts have been made to create a division of the members, with the avowed purpose of breaking up the old combine and cliques which have prospered for a number of years.

The new members are said to have formed a compact looking to a thorough reorganization of the committee. Secret meetings have been held, and a definite line of action was mapped out and agreed upon. Evidence of the first attempt to surface when Mr. G. G. Goodman was a week ago elected to the presidency of the board, vice Mr. Henry T. Clarke.

Meanwhile the old combine were busy. They held meetings, endeavored to induce some of the newly elected members into their camp, and even went so far as to offer the latter inducements to strengthen the ring which had been strongly formed.

The new men held, however, that they had not been elected as ringsters, that they had been chosen as non-partisans, and that as non-partisans they proposed to act.

At the adjourned meeting Thursday night a committee of five members was appointed to effect the reorganization. The attempt to bring about this change created a hot discussion and stubborn resistance on the part of the old faction. The committee, however, stuck consistently to a new order of things which hereafter prevail in the school board.

A leading member of the board was seen and questioned about the complexion of the new committee and the change they would bring about in the affairs of the school board. He said:

"The reports published in the morning papers don't do justice to the question just raised. 'The public has been clamoring for this very change for a long time. Heretofore, all the work and all the glory have been in the hands of a few men. Now, just consult that list of committees and see if anyone has been named. Each one of the fourteen members is chairman of some committee and each name appears somewhere on four executive committees, and everyone felt better when he came into line after awhile and said he would work as hard as anybody to make it all a success.'"

And then there was the other question of money. How to find out the necessary amount, how to raise it and what to spend it for, were serious questions.

Joseph Garneau suggested $10,000, and said he didn't doubt but $5,000 could be raised easily.

Mr. Wakefield wasn't very sanguine, and said he thought hard work might raise the stake to $1,000.

"Nonsense," replied Garneau, "we can raise $500 here in this meeting."

"Put down five dollars for $50 right now," Kierstead shouted.

"We can raise $500 among the packers of South Omaha," came from H. H. McKay, of the pork-packing business. "A fine crew of Mr. Wakefield says, the fair knocks $500 off the subscriptions, it will save $1,500 in another way. It will be so much amusement we won't have to pay for."

When this discussion ended all committees need to report on their respective duties at the next meeting, and in that way show the necessary total.

As to the way outdoor amusements should be conducted, no one had a plan to urge very strongly. Plans which had been suggested in this Bee were mentioned, and the following suggestions were made. First, there might be ward organizations of horse-men, informed or carrying torches, who, well trained, could be used for any purpose. A banner to be given the best drilled organization would stimulate hard work in the direction of efficiency. If the old plan of getting out a number of floats might be adopted, it is a little more expensive than the others, but always good. Last, a brilliant display of fire works, made from the tops of the New York Life and Bee buildings, where everyone could see them. Each of these matters will be well received, but no action was taken.

After deciding to meet hereafter every Tuesday night, the committee adjourned. Mr. William F. Bechtel's resolution that the officers of the fair association and the Coliseum directors be invited to meet the executive committee next Tuesday night was adopted.

The secretary announced the following committees and the meeting adjourned: Finance—John A. Wakefield, W. N. Babcock, W. H. Clark, N. H. Falconer, C. B. Moore, John A. Moshans, Ed Martin, Charles Metz, Robert E. Perine, J. H. S. P. Moore, J. H. Mack, Simon Oberholzer, William Flomming, H. Haubeins, G. D. Morris, C. Burnister, L. O. Jones.

Decorations—Louis Heimrod, James Stephenson, Ernest Kiall, W. A. Page, Max Becht, G. A. Yates.

Admission—Samuel Rees, George Darrow, S. P. Morse, G. H. Mack, Simon Oberholzer, William Flomming, H. Haubeins, G. D. Morris, C. Burnister, L. O. Jones.

Carp's Letter.

THE SUNDAY BEE will contain an interesting description of the Suez canal, with its surrounding territory, a history of its construction and a bird's-eye view of Beirut.

PUBLIC WORKS.

Meeting of Contracts and Other Important Matters.

The board of public works yesterday opened the following bids for grading Thirty-second avenue from Ed Craigton avenue south to the city limits. F. C. Peterson, 10-10; Canfield & Fleming, 13c; C. F. Williams, 15c; C. A. Jensen, 10-10; Ed Callahan, 10-10; Ryan & Co., 12-10. Peterson being the lowest bidder, he was awarded the contract. The following bids were received for grading Thirtieth street from Union south to the city limits: Canfield & Fleming, 12-10; C. F. Williams, 13c; C. A. Jensen, 13c; Ed Callahan, 15c; Ed Phelan, 10c; Ryan & Co., 13-10. Canfield & Fleming were awarded the contract.

For grading the alley between Ninth and Tenth streets a contract was awarded to Ed Callahan and bid 17c. The board told them to take the afternoon and decide themselves who shall have the contract.

F. L. Reeves was awarded the contract for building an extension of the south branch of the North Omaha sewer from the corner of Thirty-first and Farnam streets, southwest to Thirty-fourth and Jones, at $4,200.

The board yesterday afternoon discussed the matter of throwing out a bid submitted by Kelly & Co., which contained an extra provision. The bid was finally rejected after Mayor Palfrey had exhausted the subject and himself.

Through the fault of either the city engineer or the contractor who did the paving, the alley on Leavenworth street, between Ninth and Tenth is not properly drained, and, in consequence, a pond of stagnant water has formed at the place. It will be required in and removed.

In keeping with the story told by Chairman Balcombe of the board of public works, regarding catcumber streets, comes the story that Tuesday night, while paving in North Twenty-ninth street, a horse in No. 1115, fell beneath a horse which was standing at the place. The animal dropped into the hole and was hidden up to his shoulders.

Lara Nelson, James Harold and Erastus Young, of Omaha, are U. S. Federal officers. Holdrege, have been notified to fill up the pond of stagnant water upon their property on Leavenworth street, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth, before August 1. Many complaints have been made by property owners against this nuisance.

Sidewalk Insects. A. H. reports seven million of wooden sidewalks already laid this season. Only one-quarter of a mile of stone pavement has been laid.

The editor of the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post has for years been subject to cramp colic or fits of indigestion. Mr. Butcher, the leading druggist there, advised him to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I took the medicine and not only found relief on that occasion but have several times since tried its virtues and found relief in every instance."

THREE HUTCHINSON MEN.

They Want to Establish Connection With Omaha.

OBJECT OF THE MOVEMENT.

County Officials Endeavoring to Carry Water on Both Shoulders—A Romantic Escapade from the East.

Hutchinson and Omaha.

A. L. Forsha, W. Moore and H. Whitelida, a delegation of leading citizens from Hutchinson, Kan., were in the city yesterday on railroad business. Telegrams received Thursday heralded their coming.

They want the Union Pacific to extend its line from McPherson, and also take in a new road now being constructed from Hutchinson south. Two years ago subsidies were voted to the Union Pacific, through Reno, Logan and Harper counties, but they expired in the latter two counties before any work was done, and would have expired in the latter two counties had they not been renewed.

The company then up and built the road from Hutchinson to the south boundary. This company has had the honor of Kingman and Harper revoked and will push the work right along. Having connection with the Santa Fe, Missouri Pacific and Rock Island already, Hutchinson people now demand a road which will direct some of their trade to Omaha. They have been to the state of Kansas, all the work and all the glory have been in the hands of a few men. Now, just consult that list of committees and see if anyone has been named. Each one of the fourteen members is chairman of some committee and each name appears somewhere on four executive committees, and everyone felt better when he came into line after awhile and said he would work as hard as anybody to make it all a success.

And then there was the other question of money. How to find out the necessary amount, how to raise it and what to spend it for, were serious questions.

Joseph Garneau suggested $10,000, and said he didn't doubt but $5,000 could be raised easily.

Mr. Wakefield wasn't very sanguine, and said he thought hard work might raise the stake to $1,000.

"Nonsense," replied Garneau, "we can raise $500 here in this meeting."

"Put down five dollars for $50 right now," Kierstead shouted.

"We can raise $500 among the packers of South Omaha," came from H. H. McKay, of the pork-packing business. "A fine crew of Mr. Wakefield says, the fair knocks $500 off the subscriptions, it will save $1,500 in another way. It will be so much amusement we won't have to pay for."

When this discussion ended all committees need to report on their respective duties at the next meeting, and in that way show the necessary total.

As to the way outdoor amusements should be conducted, no one had a plan to urge very strongly. Plans which had been suggested in this Bee were mentioned, and the following suggestions were made. First, there might be ward organizations of horse-men, informed or carrying torches, who, well trained, could be used for any purpose. A banner to be given the best drilled organization would stimulate hard work in the direction of efficiency. If the old plan of getting out a number of floats might be adopted, it is a little more expensive than the others, but always good. Last, a brilliant display of fire works, made from the tops of the New York Life and Bee buildings, where everyone could see them. Each of these matters will be well received, but no action was taken.

After deciding to meet hereafter every Tuesday night, the committee adjourned. Mr. William F. Bechtel's resolution that the officers of the fair association and the Coliseum directors be invited to meet the executive committee next Tuesday night was adopted.

The secretary announced the following committees and the meeting adjourned: Finance—John A. Wakefield, W. N. Babcock, W. H. Clark, N. H. Falconer, C. B. Moore, John A. Moshans, Ed Martin, Charles Metz, Robert E. Perine, J. H. S. P. Moore, J. H. Mack, Simon Oberholzer, William Flomming, H. Haubeins, G. D. Morris, C. Burnister, L. O. Jones.

Decorations—Louis Heimrod, James Stephenson, Ernest Kiall, W. A. Page, Max Becht, G. A. Yates.

Admission—Samuel Rees, George Darrow, S. P. Morse, G. H. Mack, Simon Oberholzer, William Flomming, H. Haubeins, G. D. Morris, C. Burnister, L. O. Jones.

Carp's Letter.

THE SUNDAY BEE will contain an interesting description of the Suez canal, with its surrounding territory, a history of its construction and a bird's-eye view of Beirut.

PUBLIC WORKS.

Meeting of Contracts and Other Important Matters.

The board of public works yesterday opened the following bids for grading Thirty-second avenue from Ed Craigton avenue south to the city limits. F. C. Peterson, 10-10; Canfield & Fleming, 13c; C. F. Williams, 15c; C. A. Jensen, 10-10; Ed Callahan, 10-10; Ryan & Co., 12-10. Peterson being the lowest bidder, he was awarded the contract. The following bids were received for grading Thirtieth street from Union south to the city limits: Canfield & Fleming, 12-10; C. F. Williams, 13c; C. A. Jensen, 13c; Ed Callahan, 15c; Ed Phelan, 10c; Ryan & Co., 13-10. Canfield & Fleming were awarded the contract.

For grading the alley between Ninth and Tenth streets a contract was awarded to Ed Callahan and bid 17c. The board told them to take the afternoon and decide themselves who shall have the contract.

F. L. Reeves was awarded the contract for building an extension of the south branch of the North Omaha sewer from the corner of Thirty-first and Farnam streets, southwest to Thirty-fourth and Jones, at $4,200.

The board yesterday afternoon discussed the matter of throwing out a bid submitted by Kelly & Co., which contained an extra provision. The bid was finally rejected after Mayor Palfrey had exhausted the subject and himself.

Through the fault of either the city engineer or the contractor who did the paving, the alley on Leavenworth street, between Ninth and Tenth is not properly drained, and, in consequence, a pond of stagnant water has formed at the place. It will be required in and removed.

In keeping with the story told by Chairman Balcombe of the board of public works, regarding catcumber streets, comes the story that Tuesday night, while paving in North Twenty-ninth street, a horse in No. 1115, fell beneath a horse which was standing at the place. The animal dropped into the hole and was hidden up to his shoulders.

Lara Nelson, James Harold and Erastus Young, of Omaha, are U. S. Federal officers. Holdrege, have been notified to fill up the pond of stagnant water upon their property on Leavenworth street, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth, before August 1. Many complaints have been made by property owners against this nuisance.

Sidewalk Insects. A. H. reports seven million of wooden sidewalks already laid this season. Only one-quarter of a mile of stone pavement has been laid.

The editor of the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post has for years been subject to cramp colic or fits of indigestion. Mr. Butcher, the leading druggist there, advised him to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I took the medicine and not only found relief on that occasion but have several times since tried its virtues and found relief in every instance."

The editor of the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post has for years been subject to cramp colic or fits of indigestion. Mr. Butcher, the leading druggist there, advised him to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I took the medicine and not only found relief on that occasion but have several times since tried its virtues and found relief in every instance."

The editor of the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post has for years been subject to cramp colic or fits of indigestion. Mr. Butcher, the leading druggist there, advised him to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I took the medicine and not only found relief on that occasion but have several times since tried its virtues and found relief in every instance."

The editor of the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post has for years been subject to cramp colic or fits of indigestion. Mr. Butcher, the leading druggist there, advised him to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I took the medicine and not only found relief on that occasion but have several times since tried its virtues and found relief in every instance."

The editor of the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post has for years been subject to cramp colic or fits of indigestion. Mr. Butcher, the leading druggist there, advised him to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I took the medicine and not only found relief on that occasion but have several times since tried its virtues and found relief in every instance."

The editor of the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post has for years been subject to cramp colic or fits of indigestion. Mr. Butcher, the leading druggist there, advised him to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I took the medicine and not only found relief on that occasion but have several times since tried its virtues and found relief in every instance."

THE OLD SQUARE GIVEN WALKS AND TREES, BUT NO FOUNTAIN.

The plans presented by Gardner Cleveland for improving Jefferson square and accepted Thursday by the park commissioners at their meeting, require the adding of sixty-five more trees to the fifty-one already there, also some shrubs and the putting in of winding gravelled walks. There will be no fountain.

Men of business should read the business review which will appear in THE SUNDAY BEE. This department is prepared with especial care.

JEFFERSON'S LABYRINTH.

The Old Square Given Walks and Trees, But No Fountain.

The plans presented by Gardner Cleveland for improving Jefferson square and accepted Thursday by the park commissioners at their meeting, require the adding of sixty-five more trees to the fifty-one already there, also some shrubs and the putting in of winding gravelled walks. There will be no fountain.

Men of business should read the business review which will appear in THE SUNDAY BEE. This department is prepared with especial care.

JEFFERSON'S LABYRINTH.

The Old Square Given Walks and Trees, But No Fountain.

The plans presented by Gardner Cleveland for improving Jefferson square and accepted Thursday by the park commissioners at their meeting, require the adding of sixty-five more trees to the fifty-one already there, also some shrubs and the putting in of winding gravelled walks. There will be no fountain.

Men of business should read the business review which will appear in THE SUNDAY BEE. This department is prepared with especial care.

JEFFERSON'S LABYRINTH.

The Old Square Given Walks and Trees, But No Fountain.

The plans presented by Gardner Cleveland for improving Jefferson square and accepted Thursday by the park commissioners at their meeting, require the adding of sixty-five more trees to the fifty-one already there, also some shrubs and the putting in of winding gravelled walks. There will be no fountain.

Men of business should read the business review which will appear in THE SUNDAY BEE. This department is prepared with especial care.

JEFFERSON'S LABYRINTH.

The Old Square Given Walks and Trees, But No Fountain.

The plans presented by Gardner Cleveland for improving Jefferson square and accepted Thursday by the park commissioners at their meeting, require the adding of sixty-five more trees to the fifty-one already there, also some shrubs and the putting in of winding gravelled walks. There will be no fountain.

Men of business should read the business review which will appear in THE SUNDAY BEE. This department is prepared with especial care.

JEFFERSON'S LABYRINTH.

The Old Square Given Walks and Trees, But No Fountain.

The plans presented by Gardner Cleveland for improving Jefferson square and accepted Thursday by the park commissioners at their meeting, require the adding of sixty-five more trees to the fifty-one already there, also some shrubs and the putting in of winding gravelled walks. There will be no fountain.

Men of business should read the business review which will appear in THE SUNDAY BEE. This department is prepared with especial care.

JEFFERSON'S LABYRINTH.

The Old Square Given Walks and Trees, But No Fountain.

The plans presented by Gardner Cleveland for improving Jefferson square and accepted Thursday by the park commissioners at their meeting, require the adding of sixty-five more trees to the fifty-one already there, also some shrubs and the putting in of winding gravelled walks. There will be no fountain.

Men of business should read the business review which will appear in THE SUNDAY BEE. This department is prepared with especial care.

JEFFERSON'S LABYRINTH.

The Old Square Given Walks and Trees, But No Fountain.

The plans presented by Gardner Cleveland for improving Jefferson square and accepted Thursday by the park commissioners at their meeting, require the adding of sixty-five more trees to the fifty-one already there, also some shrubs and the putting in of winding gravelled walks. There will be no fountain.

Men of business should read the business review which will appear in THE SUNDAY BEE. This department is prepared with especial care.

JEFFERSON'S LABYRINTH.

The Old Square Given Walks and Trees, But No Fountain.

The plans presented by Gardner Cleveland for improving Jefferson square and accepted Thursday by the park commissioners at their meeting, require the adding of sixty-five more trees to the fifty-one already there, also some shrubs and the putting in of winding gravelled walks. There will be no fountain.

Men of business should read the business review which will appear in THE SUNDAY BEE. This department is prepared with especial care.

JEFFERSON'S LABYRINTH.

The Old Square Given Walks and Trees, But No Fountain.

The plans presented by Gardner Cleveland for improving Jefferson square and accepted Thursday by the park commissioners at their meeting, require the adding of sixty-five more trees to the fifty-one already there, also some shrubs and the putting in of winding gravelled walks. There will be no fountain.

CONSOLIDATED COMPANY WILL USE THE BUILDING FOR STORAGE PURPOSES.

The building of the Union Pacific, which was used for the storage of freight, has returned from a trip of inspection.

The Atlantic express on the Union Pacific arrived from the west in two sections, the first as fast freight, composed chiefly of California fruits.

L. T. Fowler, freight agent of the Union Pacific, with headquarters at Philadelphia, is in Omaha, en route to the Pacific coast. Mrs. Fowler accompanies him.

General Traffic Manager Mellen, of the Union Pacific, will arrive from Denver Sunday, but will go direct to Chicago, where he will attend a meeting of the trans-continental line, at which the controversy over the rate on bullion and ore from Colorado to Missouri river points will be taken up.

An article of true merit for the stomach, Mihailovitch's Hungarian blackberry juice.

THE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

It Closes With a Lecture on "Travels in Palestine."

The morning session of the Ministerial Institute yesterday was devoted to business. Resolutions were passed thanking the pastor and congregation for their kindness and their efforts to make the time pass pleasantly; also a resolution expressing the obligations the association felt to the press for their courtesy, etc.

Another resolution was passed condemning the liquor traffic and endorsing the pending constitutional amendment prohibiting the traffic of interest about town.

It was decided to hold the next session of the association at Nebraska City in July, 1890.

An election of officers was held, which resulted in the following being elected: President, Rev. A. J. Quinn; Secretary, Rev. W. D. Deeweese, of Dorchester, Neb.

The afternoon was devoted to sight seeing. The entire party were driven to the various points of interest about town.