Holes in Their Hoses.
 "The fire department is breaking altogether too many sections of hose," said Alderman Waterman, chairman of the fire committee, yesterday afternoon. "The department is not to blame for it, and it would not happen if the hose houses were provided with suitable racks for the wet hose. The way it is now all the hose is dried in the house water to dry 30 hose house, and that is no way to dry hose. It should be laid on an inclined rack built for the purpose. This allows the water to drain without any strain on the hose, while in the tower the hose is suspended from one end, causing a terrible strain."
 "The hose invariably burst near the coupling, the very spot where the rope is tied to the nozzle. It is so weak here by the constant strain that it fails to stand the test when the pressure comes. We ought to have a hose rack in every hose house and do away with the hose tower."
 "This subject has excited considerable comment of late. It is stated that eight sections of hose have burst in the past four months. This is getting pretty costly. Each section is thirty feet long, costing $1 a foot, making the total $4500. It is a matter of time from this source alone. There is a difference of opinion, however, regarding the cause of it. Some assert that it is due to the use of such nozzles, and advance a strong argument in support of that theory. Their idea is that the hose is not allowed to drain the water through it, but when the nozzle is closed the extra strain caused by the sudden shutting off of the water is what causes the burst. As the pressure furnished by the water works is very heavy, this theory is very plausible, and there is no doubt but that these two explanations fully account for the bursting of so much hose.
 Another matter that is receiving the attention of the fire committee is that of a chemical engine. The fire department is a condition to do much better and more effective work. Chief Walters and a number of the most practical fire fighters in the city are strongly in favor of it. The recent fire at the residence of J. J. Shea, east, was a strong argument in support of the purchase of a chemical engine, as it would have had controlled the flames, and the heavy damage caused by the use of so much water would have been avoided. There are hundreds of residences in the city where the same result would ensue in case a fire should break out in them. It is especially true in the case of the large dry goods stores where the flooding of the room with water would mean a loss of thousands of dollars. With the chemical engine in the direct region of the fire is all that would be necessary.
 The action of the chemicals on the goods is not as damaging as is generally supposed. It is stated that the fire committee will inquire into the question of purchasing a chemical engine, when it next meets, and it is hoped that the matter will be fully investigated."

Cold Water Work.
 Colonel Holt, the evangelist temperance worker, organized a branch of the "W" at the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This is a young ladies' branch of the W. C. T. U., and has branches all over the country. The attendance yesterday was small owing to the rain, and another meeting will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, to complete an organization. The officers elected yesterday were: Miss Edie Moore, president; Miss Ida Hunter, recording secretary; Miss Elia Phelps, treasurer.
A Move in the Right Direction.
 Ed Snyder, a teamster in the employ of the Cascade steam laundry, was arrested yesterday afternoon, on a warrant sworn out by City Solicitor Holmes, charged with cruelty to animals. For months past, in fact ever since this laundry company first started in business in their present location, the most inhuman cruelty has been perpetrated daily in the alley in the rear of their establishment. All of the coal used by the company, as well as the bulk of the clothing, is taken in at the rear entrance, and the approach is on the up grade. Immense loads are daily backed up there, and in doing it the horses are subjected to severe beatings. Numerous complaints have been made and prosecution threatened, but no arrests followed, and the teamsters gradually lost all fear of official interference. Just why this shocking brutality was allowed to go on long unheeded, located as it was but a few feet from Broadway, in the very heart of the city, is not easily determined. It is pleasing to know, however, that it will not be tolerated hereafter.
 Snyder gave bonds to appear this morning for trial, and as soon as he was released the pressure which he was working under was charged him. Mr. Holmes will prosecute the case. Said he yesterday afternoon: "This thing has gone on long enough. The police and city marshal have walked back and forth along there for fully a year, and have done nothing to stop it. It has annoyed me greatly while I have been in the superior court to have a trial, and I made up my mind to stop it. It would cost but very little to change the grade there so that teams could back up easily, and they must either do that or carry in their coal and packages by hand. If they will agree that it shall not occur again I will move to dismiss this case, but it must be fully understood that horses are not to be battered and bruised there in the future as they have been in the past."

Heber, the talented young artist of this city, has disposed of her copy of "The Coronado" by the celebrated painter in the Pioneer gallery in Omaha, at a Council Bluffs lady for $800, the highest price ever received by a local artist, which speaks well for Miss Heber's ability. She leaves to-morrow for Colorado on a sketching tour.
 The rate on the Manawa motor line has been reduced to 10 cents each way, instead of a quarter for the round trip, as formerly. It is expected that the change will be the means of greatly increasing the attendance at the lake, as the price is now the same as the cost of a trip to Omaha on the electric motor. The service on the Manawa is first-class, trains leaving either end of the line every half hour during the afternoon and evening and hourly during the forenoon.
 The police hauled in a fellow just evening who gave his name as DeWitt. He is reported to be an all-around crack, and his arrest followed his attempt to induce a couple of boys to commit a burglary. The two youngsters are the same ones who ran away from their home at Stuart a few days ago, and word was sent to the police here to arrest them if they showed up in this city. DeWitt will be held to answer to the serious charge against him, and the boys will be returned to their parents at Stuart.
 Mr. Barton, keeper of a livery stable on South Main street, returned home yesterday from Missouri, where he went to look for a team which was stolen from him last week by a stranger. Mr. Barton tracked him across the Missouri line, but there lost all track. He will offer a reward for the return of the team and information that will lead to the conviction of the thief.

Base Imitations.
 Certain articles, without brains enough to originate an idea, and without energy enough to work up a trade on their own brands, are advertising themselves as sole agents for the celebrated Santo Rosa cigars, which we introduced ten years ago, and which now enjoy the reputation of being the best and most widely known of any 10 cent cigar sold in the entire west. We therefore desire to inform the trade that we always have been and are still sole owners and proprietors of this brand of cigars, and wish to caution the trade that all brands of Santo Rosa not made in factory No. 12, first district, Omaha, are base imitations of the well known Santo Rosa. See that the label has printed thereon the words "P. Ladies and gentlemen of Cuban Made. All others are imitations and are of inferior quality." PERLOTT & MOORE, July 26, 1889. Council Bluffs, Ia.

Setting the Trouble in the Guards.
 Captain diet Foster, Sergeant McNeal and Corporal Finley, of the Dodge Light Guard, returned home yesterday noon from Shenandoah, where they went to confer with Colonel Castle, relative to the troubles existing in that organization. They state that the trip resulted satisfactorily to them, and express the opinion that the colonel will sustain their action. They still entertain a hope that Captain Mount, of Shenandoah, can be induced to remove here and take command of Company A, having had an interview with that gentleman yesterday morning. They will go to camp, as previously planned, Colonel Castle having assured them that they could go under command of the first sergeant without fear of being mustered out of service. The colonel will be here in a day or two and make a personal investigation of the situation and the troubles leading to it, and will then make some disposition of the case. It is now the hope of the organization that the matter will be settled, and the vacancy left open until a suitable man can be agreed upon to fill the office of captain.

The Boat Crews Home Again.
 Council Bluffs went to the state regatta and fell into the soup. She was not alone in her immersion, for Burlington was the only city in the state that escaped a dip in the pickle. The Bluffs went up with two crews, and they imagined that with this double representation she could get a secure grip on one of the prizes. It was a vain hope, and the boys returned home yesterday morning to tell just how it happened. Each crew was to carry a substitute, but Buckman, of crew No. 1, was unable to go, so his place was filled by Substitute Herman Buerdorf. On the day of the race Buerdorf was sick, and as there was no one to take his place the crew did not start. The other crew was in condition and went in to get a place, but did not possess the necessary energy. They rowed well for the first half mile, when they got out of their course. The men were not properly balanced. Dodge and Bowman overhauling Patterson and Sherraden. Those who witnessed the race aver that this made no difference as to the result, as the Bluffs boys were not in shape to win the race. The other crew might possibly have made a better showing, but neither could have won.
 Neither of the Council Bluffs crews were in training over six weeks, while the majority of the other crews had trained from two to four months. They are determined to make a better showing next year, and will not lose for want of training.
 The location of next year's regatta is attracting some attention. The matter will not be decided until next May, still it is being agitated and somewhat present. A member of one of the Council Bluffs crews, in speaking of the matter yesterday, said: "I don't believe we want it here next year. Several places that have had it are not anxious to secure it again. The Burlington boys say they wouldn't have it, and they are not the only ones who feel that way. You see, it takes about $4,000 to secure the regatta, and our folks are not disposed to subscribe that amount. As near as we could find out, Spirit Lake is about the only place that is benefited by the regatta, and they want it again. The probability is that they will get it. It would cost us something extra to fix up the lake, for a lot of work would have to be done there in the way of cutting out weeds and other similar work, in order to give a clear and unobstructed course. It sounds all well enough to talk about having the state regatta at Manawa, but half of those who talk that way haven't the slightest idea what is necessary in order to get it.
