July Wheat Bulls Give an Exhibition of Their Power.

THEY PUT THE SCREWS ON

An Active Demand For Cash Offerings of Corn-Provision Trading Partially Demoralized-Cattle Bring Strong Prices.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKETS.

Curcago, July 26 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. !- The screws were put on July wheat this morning with just enough to impress the crowd with the feeling that the price could be shoved up through the ceiling if necessary. Rider Hutchinson, the big bond broker, victoriously bid the price from 82c to 8216c and Gifford bid 83%c without getting anything. The extent of the short interest was an unknown quantity, but the impression has prevailed in usually well informed quarters that there were two or three good-sized shorts holding out and that Hutchiason was going to force them to give in. This may not have been the status of the case, but along about noon the peg was pulled out and the word went around that the shorts had settled and that there was nothing to hold July at a premium excepting a few scattering fives and tens held in anticipation of a squeeze. "The July deal has been closed up," said one of the best posted brokers on 'change. "I can give you that straight," he added. The crowed jumped to a similar conclusion. July broke to 80%c, with offers 80%c. Subsequently the price went to Sic, where it was at the close. Aside from the July incident the market was destitute of interesting features. News was a scarce article. Cables were received to suit moderate views on both sides, but the edge of the foreign bullishness seems to have worn off to a great extent. The seaboard had new export business to report and the shipping demand has abated at interior markets. Receipts are on the increase, though the rainy weather is still interfering considerably with the freedom of the movement. The local demand is rather less urgent, though choice wheat is not likely to go begging at this stage of the movement. Trading in futures was on a moderate scale, and until the break in July fluctuations were confined to a narrow range and December opened at 79%c, and for two hours the price kept within 79%@80c. Once it got to 795667956c, but it was only momentary. When the props were with-drawn the scalpers got on top of the market and jammed it down to 79c. It recovered %c and December closed at 79%c. September opened at 77%c, ranged at 78%c, and closed at 77%c. Compared with yesterday July shows a loss of 1%c, August %c and September and December 1c. Northwestern crop estimates received yesterday were generally discredited, though wheat is conceded to be good. Reports of west along conceded to be good. Reports of rust along the northern edge of the winter wheat beit and the southern edge of the spring wheat beit were received, but had no effect. There is still too much rain through the winter wheat country.

The demand for cash offerings of corn was active at higher figures than on Thursday, but in the speculative branch of business trade was dull, fluctuations were confined to a narrow range and the feeling was very little better than steady. July was influenced by the cash demand, but September deliv-ery, which is the most active in trading, was more affected by the weakness in wheat. Outside domestic markets were firm early, but responded later in the day to the change which occurred here. There was difficulty in executing orders for export on account of ocean tonnage and the consequent higher rate asked for was felt toward the close of the market, when wheat was at its weakest. There was considerable selling out of Sep-tember corn, and there were a few minutes of activity, which was soon over, however, leaving the market quiet, with an easy feeling at the close. July closed at 36% c, and September at 35% @36c, against 36% c on the receding day. July at one time to day was a good demand at 36%c, and September at

Oats were dull and nearly stationary on the speculative market, with operators in a making mood, and the outside trade was light. As a result there were no fluctuations of consequence, and little interest at any time displayed. The feeling was about ateady, with July at 22%c, May about 3c premium and September 21%c. The repremium and September 21%c. The re-ceipts were slightly below the estimate, with 160 cars expected for to-morrow. No. 2 to go to store sold at 22½c, No. 2 white for August at 25½@25½c and September at the

In provisions trade was in a somewhat demoralized condition. Short ribs, under the support given by a couple of prominent packers, held their own quite well and prices decline. In pork, however, weakness and depression were the ruling features. It was practically wanting in support of any kind. Even the small short interest remaining in it were only half hearted in their buying, and realize, sharp declines naturally followed. Trading in pork opened at figures closely approximating yesterday's close, but from the highest quotations reported the market broke 29½c before experiencing a turn. The recovery, when it did come, was only a reaction and failed to improve the prevailing feeling. Trade was bearish, being con-trolled by advices from the country concern-ing corn and boxs, and it was impossible to develop any confidence. The day's last quo-tations stood at the lowest figures touched for lard, 2114c higher than the same for short ribs and 10c higher for pork. In pork the decline actually suffered was 121/@20c and in lard and short ribs 21/c.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, July 26 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. !- CATTLE .- The receipts were divided between 7,000 natives and 2,000 Texans. No rangers were in sight up to a late hour and none were reported in sight. Business was active and prices steady to strong on prime corn-fed stock, but all other grades of natives, especially green and grassy stock and such as had to compete with Texans, remain slow and weak. They are always left until nearly everything else is sold. There were no fresh rangers on the market. Range cattle will get the go-by as long as there are so many cheap and good natives. Texans were quoted 10c higher, making an advance of 15@20c in two days on best common and canning stock. Native butchers' stock continues to sell utchers' stock continues to sell shade stronger than at the opening f the week. Dealers in stockers and feeders reported that there was some inquiry for good stock, but that light steers were not wanted. Hoss—Trade was very slow on packers and heavyweights, with a downturn of a strong loc, closing weak at $4.15@4.20 for rough and common, and $4.25@4.30 for fair to good packers. Selected heavyweights sold early at $4.35@4.40, but later they could have been had a nickel less Light sorted. have been had a nickel less. Light sorts un-derwent little or no change, selling at $4.60@ 4.80. Light mixed sold readily at $4.45@4.50.

FINANCIAL

NEW YORK, July 26 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-STOCKS-The action of the market yesterday was the cause of more than usual interest in stock circles last night. It was conceded that the bears were repulsed. They attempted to raid the market, helped by a big commercial failure. They not only failed, but before the end of the day some of their number changed front and turned bayers. The upturn was more than even the bulls expected in one hour.

There are evidences of an American and foreign combination to punish the shorts in St. Paul and other stocks, where the conditions are favorable. The taking of Burlington, Atchison and Union Pacific by Boston was the subject of much comment. It is believed by many that in the recent transactions Reading has gone into strong hands. All these things had their weight at the opening to-day. First prices showed, in many cases, an advance over last evening's closing figures of from 16 to 16 per cent, while Missouri Pacific was exceptional with a gain of % per cent, and the only marked declines were in Northwestern and Jersey Central. For a time there was a hesitating market, but later in the hour there was a firmer feeling, and St. Paul, Union Pacific and New England took the lead in the advance, though the gains were only fractional. New Cleveland, Cincinnata, Chicago & St. Louis stock, however, was strong all the way out, and after opening up % per cent, at 67, rose steadily to 6814. More animation accompanied the advance and at 11 o'clock the market was quiet and strong at the best prices reached. There was little change in prices or in the character of dealings until noon, when the figures generally were at about the best points of the morning. There was as decided a break in prices in stocks before the close to-day as there was a bulge yesterday. The weakness was not confined to any class of securities, but included the entire list. Grangers and coalers suffered the most. From the best prices of the day the decline extended from 1 to 11/4 per cent, with no recovery from the bottom figures. Not only were the gains of the forenoon lost, but prices went below the closing figures of vesterday. Lake Shore dropped buck to 101%, Burlington fell below par again, Northwestern went off to 106%, St. Paul to 6936, Atchison broke to 3536, Missouri Pa cific to 66%. Union Pacific to 58%: Sugar trusts fell back to 109, Reading to 43%, and Lackawanna to 1431. The weakness was on the raid on Reading and the attack on grangers by local traders. The following were the closing quotations The following were the closing quotations:

THE DEADLY MALARIA. Causes and Manifestations of This

Lattle Known Agent. What is this invisible agent which carries sickness and possible death so far afield and has the power to weaken the energy and stunt the growth of those who are doomed to live on malari ous soil? says the Nineteeuth Century, "We do not live," said an inhabitant of the Pontine marshes to a stranger, "we die." Malaria constitutes the chief obstacle to the exploration and colonization of the African continent, threatened to reduce to the condition of a desert vast tracts of the southern states of America, which flourished so long as they were cultivated by the negro race, which, better than any other, resists its action. Cicero, in allusion to Romulus having built Rome, remarks that he selected a healthy spot in a pestilential region ("locum delegit in regione pestilenti salubrem"). one time a terrible epidemic visited Rome which carried off multitudes of the inhabitants, including Camillus the dictator. Toward the close of this visitation the earth opened in the middle of the forum, doubtless by volcanic action, which was probably also the cause of the poisonous miasmata arising from the bowels of the earth. Indeed, the volgenerally may be taken into the list of causes which contribute to its insalubrity. The volcanic soil of Italy, we are told, acts as a sponge in absorbing and retaining an immense quantity of moisture. Hence, after a period of drouth, the tropical rains, which fall steadily for days together, make but little impression on the surface of the parched earth till the underlying sponge is saturated. The overflow then becomes sudden, the brooks rapidly fill, every extinct crater becomes a lake replenished, every valley a bog, and the country a universal swamp. So long ago as 300 years before Christ the connection between the fever swamp was fully recognized in that region of the earth But, although true that the disease is more prevalent in the low-lying grounds, it may also be found in the higher altitudes, where soil, temperature, and moisture favor its production. Still it does not haunt the damp and marshy places alone; for even in dry, sunbaked parts of the earth the malaria finds egress through the fissures of the soil keeping its base of operations in the moisture far beneath. If the upper crust is unbroken and dry it acts as a barrier against the egress of germs from below, just as a coating of water over malarious land neutralizes, for the time being, the necessary conditions of activity. When the surface water is withdrawn by the heat of the summer sun, and the oxygen of the air comes into direct contact with the decompos ing vegetation underneath, there, in all probability, may be discovered the home of the dreaded malaria.
