Hundreds of people yesterday were en-gaged in gathering cat-tails at the foot of Broadway.

Additional petitions for injunctions have been asked against J. H. McAdams and Her-man Bergman, No. 715 West Broadway, and J. C. Hoag, lot 7, block 17, Grimes' addition. It is probable that above ten more dogs will be yelping in the happy hunting grounds be-fore sundown te-day. They will go via the hogshead of water in the rear of the county

Some of the residents of Benton street are becoming impatient to have the thoroughfare paved. It is probable the council will be petitioned to order the paving laid next spring if it cannot be done this fall.

While gathering cat-tails near the bridge along the electric motor line yesterday some children found two pairs of new shees, two pairs of socks and a couple of pairs of ladies' slippers and stockings, all new but water-E. Pennell died at St. Bernard's hospital

St. Fennell died at St. Bernard's nospital Saturday afternoon, of typhoid fever, at the age of thirty-nine years. The deceased leaves a wife and child in very straightened circumstances, and the county will be com-pelled to bear the expense of burial.

Dr. D. J. Hutchinson was presented with a handsome gold-headed cane Saturday, on the occasion of his seventy-seventh birth-day, by his children and grand children, who gathered in a family reunion to celebrate the event. It was a most enjoyable occasion.

An adjourned meeting of the stochholders of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Chautauqua assembly will be held in the board of trade rooms, Council Bluffs, Ia., Monday, July 29, at 7:30 p. m. This will be an impor-tant meeting, before which there will be new plans and devices brought out. J. M. Oursler is secretary.

The funeral of Lucille, infant daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Bennet, took place at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the family residence, corner of Washington avenue and Seventh street. A large number of friends attended the services. The remains were forwarded last evening to Coldwater, Mich.,

The proposed regatta for Lake Manawa is beginning to assume definite shape, and it is a settled fact that it will take place the latter part of next month. Hamm, Teemer, Gan-daur, Hosmer and, possibly, Hanlon and Peterson, have agreed to come, and a deposit has already been made, binding them to be here. The time is set for the fourth Sunday in August, the 25th. There will be one, and possibly, two days' racing.

Since the opening of Dr. Mercer's electric motor line in Omaha many Council Bluffs beople have taken the wrong trains and been carried out to Walnut Hill instead of across the river. All the cars are exactly alike, and the Mercer motors run around the loop, and a mistake is quite a natural occurrence. That's the reason Charlie Beno and several other Bluff's boys were detained an bour longer in Omaha on Sunday evening than they intended. If you don't want to go to Walnut Hill it is a safe plan to ascertain to a certainty that you are not aboard a Mercer motor car.

One barber shop was open all day yesterday, and it is probable that it will remain open every Sunday despite the Sunday closing order and the determination of the other barbers to enforce it. The proprietor is an Adventist and keeps Saturday as his Sabbath instead of Sunday. He closes his shop at sundown on Friday evenings and opens up at sunset Saturday night. This gives him the benefit of the Saturday night rush and the big Sunday trade. In this country a man can worship according to the dictates of his own conscience, and if he choses to do his worshipping on Saturday and his work on Sunday there is no law to invoke to compel hazy atmosphere obscured the sun, and there was just enough of a suggestion of rain to insure a delightful coolness, and enough of general uncertainty to give a piquancy to things, but not too much to create a doubt that an ordinary sun umbrella would afford all the protection necessary from the clouds. The consequence was that the attendance at the churches was larger than it has been at any time during the heated term.

Midsummer in the Churches. Yesterday was in many respects one of the pleasantest days of the summer. The

Some of the churches were closed yesterday on account of the vacation of the pastors, but, notwithstanding this, there were eighteen places of worship in the city open alike to saints and sinners. The growth of the religious societies keeps pace with the growth of the city, and while the announcement is made almost every month that a new church has been completed, started or contemplated, the proportion of churches to the population is perhaps no greater than it was a few years ago, when there were a dozen less places of worship than there are now. Thus, while it can be said that Counoil Bluffs has more churches than any other city in the state, it can not be called a city of churches. The many places where people of all religious beliefs meet and worship in their way are only another evidence of the rapid and full growth in all directions of the city itself.

The morning hour in the Congregational church was devoted to the church and mis-sionary work in the south of the Rev. Dr. DeForest, formerly paster of the church Deforest, formerly paster of the church here, but now president of the Talledaga, Fla, college. He gave a very interesting account of his educational and church work among a people where the uneducated and lower classes constitute a majority of the population. He gave flattering accounts of the progress, the enlightment Christianity has made in the south and his statements were a strong as south, and his statements were a strong as-surance of the great future of that section. A large and intelligent audience listened to the discourse. The usual services were held in the First Baptist church during the morning hour, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Cooley. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the devotional services of the Young Men's Christian association were held in the church, led by the state secretary of the association, W. A. Magee. The attendance was quite Inge. The accentance was quite.

There was the usual attendance in the First Presbyterian church. Rev. J. W.
Cathcart, recently of London, Canada, but now of Emerson, In., occupied the pulpit. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the same gen-tieman preached an interesting and instruc-tive sermon at the Second Presbyterian church on Harmony street on the subject, "The Grandest View of Life." The attendance at this new and strong church was larger even than usual.

In the Broadway Methodist church the regular services gave way to the observance of "Old People's Day," and all the old patriarchs of the church and from many other denominations were present. The services began at 9:30 with a love feast, and continued with intermissions until 12. The services in all the other churches were well attended. In the majority of the places of worship the evening services were omitted, but otherwise the Sabbath worship in Council Bluffs has not been interrupted Base Imitations. Certain parties, without brains enough to originate an idea and without energy enough originate an idea and without energy enough to work up a trade on their own brands, are advertising themselves as sole agents for the celebrated Santo Rosa cigars, which we introduced ten years ago, and which now enjoy the reputation of being the best and most widely known of any 10 cent cigar sold in the entire west. We therefore desire to inform the trade that we always have been and are still sole owners and proprietors of this brand of cigars, and wish to caution the trade that all brands of Santo Rosas not this brand of cigars, and wish to caution the trade that all brands of Santo Rosas not made in factory No. 121, first district. Pa., are base imitations of the weil known Santo Rosa. See that the label has printed thereon the words P. & M.'s Santo Rosa Cuban Made. All others are imitations and are of inferior quality. The Bursting Hose. "I see you are making inquiry regarding the bursting of fire hose by the water pressure," remarked Chief Engineer Birkinbine, of the water works company, to THE BEE. "I believe that the theory of the shut off nozzies is the correct one, and that the whole difficulty lies right there. Just step over here to my office and I will show you what makes me think so."

The scribe accompanied him, and was soon placed in front of a handsome nickel plated water guage, registering a pressure of eighty-five pounds to the square inch, which varied from thirty to 125 pounds inch, which varied from thirty to 125 pounds as the elevator went up and down.

"Now, you see," remarked Mr. Birkinbine, "the elevator is being run as it should be, and stopped gradually to prevent its jumping, yet the guage indicates an increase of pressure of thirty pounds to the square inch, even under those circumstances. Now watch closely when the elevator is suddenly stopped." The elevator boy was directed to run up to the second floor and stop quickly. even under those circumstances. Now watch closely when the elevator is suddenly stopped." The elevator boy was directed to run up to the second floor and stop quickly. When the elevator started the escape of water lessened the pressure, and the guage indicator dropped gradually backward, until the elevator was suddenly stopped, when the indicator flew around in the opposite direction to 205 pounds, snapping the guage, so that the indicator falled thereafter to charge as the pressure increased or diminished."

"Well, that was a rather expensive experiment," ejaculated the demonstrator, as he examined the broken apparatus, "but here is one that they can't break," and he brought out a little testing gauge that would stand a pressure of 500 pounds. It was quickly put in place of the other and the test repeated.

When the elevator stopped, the gauge registered the pressure at 220 pounds, after which the indicator trembled and vibrated from side to side from the varying pressure of the water surging in the pipes.

from side to side from the varying pressure of the water surging in the pipes.

"That shows you just how the shut off nozzles act, and you can imagine the strain that is put on the hose. There is only eighty-five pounds steady pressure on now, but with a fire pressure of 120 pounds, think what the result would be of suddenly checking the stream. That registered 220 pounds pressure, which would of itself be pretty tough on fire hose, but it is not a steady pressure. It comes as a blow, a sudden shock, which makes an infinitely harder strain. Notice the difference in the effect of such a strain on a train of cars. Let the engine exert a steady pressure against the train, and then try the effect of the same power in a sudden bump. While the first resulted harmlessly, the other would make the splinters fly in ail directions. I see Alderman Waterman complains of the nose tower, as tending to break the hose, and it is quite prossible that his theory is correct as to why the hose bursts near the coupling. It is certain that it must break at the weakest place, and hanging the hose from that part would tend to weaken it. I hardly think, however, that as many sections would have been broken if it had not been for the shut off nozzles. They are all right if properly worked, but they must be handled by careful and experienced men. They must be worked like the clavator and closed gradually. In that way they will give Notwithstanding the rather threatening veather yesterday, there was considerable travel over the electric motor line, and a large number of visitors went to the lake. The parks were far from being deserted, although the crowds of preceding Sundays were wanting. The programme at the lake was rather slim, but the same old attractions were presented at the bathing beaches, and the patronage was very good. The coolness of the day kept a number at home, as it was ossible to find comfort without making a prolonged and vigorous search.
