There was a much lighter attendance at the Heine concert at the Presbyterian church last evening than would have been the case but for the numerous other attractions in the city. An entirely different programme from that of the preceding evening was rendered, and it was greatly appreciated by the audience present. It is stated that this talented family will give another concert in this city in about two weeks.

Rev. Dr. Cady of the Baptist church, will deliver the address next Sunday at 5 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church. Subject: "The Holy Spirit Under the Old and New Dispensations." The subject has been appointed has been deferred until the Sunday following. Rev. Mr. Franklin not being able to keep his appointment. A box will be placed at the door for the collection of contributions for individual expenses.

The ladies of Trinity M. E. church gave an enjoyable social last evening at Lucy's hall, on South Main street. Refreshments were served, and an interesting musical and literary programme was rendered. The ladies have already cleared money, and will make the first payment of $400 on the lot recently purchased by them. Their success is very encouraging, and reflects credit on their energy and hard work.

It is learned that Willie Benjamin, the boy who was killed by Indians last Saturday evening near Pender, Neb., was a nephew of H. S. Reynolds, who has the farm on which he lived here with his uncle when he was three years of age, leaving here about four years ago to live with his parents at Dunlap, from which place they removed to Pender. The first intimation Mr. Reynolds had of the sad affair was the account which he saw in The Bee Sunday morning.

The dance given last evening at the Merriam block by the young ladies of St. Paul's church was a very successful affair. There was a large attendance and the evening passed very pleasantly. The room was fully as large as expected, and a neat sum was netted for the treasury. Dalbey's orchestra furnished the music, and the coöperation of the evening was all else required to make the occasion most enjoyable.

A lively wolf chase took place at the driving park yesterday afternoon. The hounds were uncoupled after giving the wolf a start of about half an hour. The chase was confined to the area inside the mile track, the greater part of which is covered with weeds about two feet high. This rendered it necessary to hunt him by scent, and the run was a fine one. The wolf was "jumped up" several times, but was not caught for about two hours, when he was quickly dispatched. There will be some great sport to-day.

J. P. Peterson has purchased the property on Upper Broadway known as Platter's or Burhop's hall, and has taken out a permit to repair the structure. The cost of remodeling will be about $2,000, and the building will be put in quite presentable condition. It has acquired a rather tough name of late years, being used exclusively for variety shows and the lowest classes of amusement. It is stated that with the changes to be made a new order of things relative to the use of the building will also be effected.

"Not Dead, But Sleeping," was the motto attached to a dorky who sat in the doorway of Wisner's Broadway lively stable yesterday afternoon. A rope around his neck was attached to a beam overhead, while the stars and stripes floated lazily from a pole stuck in his waist band. The dorky lumbered slowly, oblivious of everything, and the coroner in particular, until that official, who had been sent for in haste, arrived on the scene and declared a violent kick where it would do the most good. Sleep vanished, and the sleeper followed as soon as he could dissolve partnership with the rope.

THE MOTOR COMPANY'S BONUS

Attorney Sims Enjoins the County Treasurer From Paying It.

THE FOX CHASE GOES TO-DAY.

A Fumigation That Resulted in Something Besides Smoke—A Brick Test—Police Points—The Bowling Club.

A Big Injunction Suit.

A petition has been filed with the clerk of the district court wherein Jacob Sims prays that County Treasurer Plummer be enjoined from paying to the Omaha and Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company the tax voted by the city to aid in the construction of the wagon bridge between the two cities. The petition sets forth that the bonus in 1887 amounted to $37,217, and for 1888 $37,837.94. That the amount collected for 1887 has at different times been paid to the companies, and that the treasurer be enjoined from paying to the person or persons to whom the amount collected for 1887 had been paid, the amount for 1888, on the grounds that no such company as the Omaha and Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company exists.

Said Attorney Sims in speaking of the matter: "I have no fight to make with the motor company except that I want to protect the taxpayers of this city. The company was organized by Council Bluffs men, and it was to that company that the taxpayers voted the bonus. Afterwards a new company was organized, partly of Omaha men and partly of Council Bluffs men, from the Iowa company. The new company is a Nebraska company, organized under the laws of that state, and the articles of incorporation are filed there. The money of the company is deposited there, and the mortgage which they gave to the Mercantile Trust company of New York was given by the Nebraska company. The present company is not the company that was organized under the laws of the state of Iowa, and should not receive the money from the taxpayers of this city that was voted to the Iowa company."

Superintendent Reynolds, of the Electric Motor company, says he will give anybody a motor who will tell him what company he is working for if it is not the Omaha and Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company. He asserts that this name appears on all the papers and passes of the company, and the stockholders, with one or two exceptions, are the ones who incorporated the company. It is hinted that the suit is brought for the purpose of adopting a 5 cent rate between the two cities. Said an attorney who ought to know: "If the suit does secure a 5 cent rate, all well and good, but if the suit holds good and the rate is not adopted by the company beforehand, Council Bluffs will whistle many a long and doleful tune before this company ever puts a 5 cent rate across the Missouri river."

Will Chase the Fox To-day.
 The date of the fox chase has been changed from Sunday to this afternoon, when the entire programme, as previously announced, will be carried out at the driving park.

Toby Brockick, who has the affair in charge, stated yesterday afternoon that the change was made, not on account of any interference on the part of the mayor, but because of the hall game that is to be played at Fairview park Sunday afternoon, between nine counties respectively. Said Mr. Brockick: "The change was made for the benefit of the hospitals of the city. The chase will begin at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and there will be four wolves turned loose and run down, besides the regular fox chase. It is expected that fully seventy hounds will be here to follow the chase, and at least 200 mounted hunters will do their best to keep up with the dogs."

Rather Expensive Fumigation.
 A very destructive fire, considering its proportions, was that which occurred about 8 o'clock yesterday morning, at the boarding house kept by Mrs. Darling, at No. 241 Vine street. The chambermaid attempted to fumigate a room with sulphur, and for this purpose left a shovel of live coals and sulphur on the floor. Opening the door shortly after, she was surprised to discover the room on fire. An alarm was given, and the department was soon on hand. Two lines of hose were laid, but no water was thrown, as the fire was put out by the Babcock chemical.

The prompt and effective work of the firemen excited much favorable comment, as the fire was confined to the one room, and no damage was done except to the contents of the room, which was occupied by C. C. Taylor, a clerk at Union Pacific headquarters, including the furniture and a number of valuable little articles belonging to Mr. Taylor, whose loss will reach about $150. The heat was intense, and the smoke suffocating. Mr. Robinson, another roomer, had his hair singed and eyes burned in attempting to put out the fire. It is thought that the total loss will amount to about $200.

Testing Local Brick.
 The following is self-explanatory:
 To the Editor of The Bee: I send you a fair average specimen brick of those recently made in Omaha and about here, and have strictly used in this city for sidewalks. They cost $10 per 1,000 in Omaha and $12 delivered on this side. If our citizens wish to see how these bricks look when laid, let them examine the pavement now being laid on Ninth street and Third avenue by Mr. Purdy. Nothing can be finer. Messrs. Mulholland, Underwood, Hardin and others have ordered the same brick for the sidewalk now ordered on Ninth street. There is no reason why brick of equality with this cannot be made in Council Bluffs. All our brick makers need is grit, as they have plenty of good material as the Omaha brick makers. The brick weighs dry five pounds and three ounces, and after firing in the water for four minutes weighed five pounds nine and a half ounces, absorbing only six and a half ounces of water. Why isn't this good paving brick? Experimenters.

Anna Brannon, Anna Williams, Charles Hagan and J. S. Burns, a mixed quartette of colored women and white men, were booked for drunkenness, and the females were also charged with drinking beer on the street. They failed to patch up a truce with his honor and were fired back behind the bars.

A Lucky Escape.
 Mrs. E. Pierce, wife of Ed Pierce, janitor at the government building, had a narrow escape from a serious accident Thursday evening while driving with her children. While passing the Van Brunt property, the horse slipped and fell on the pavement while trotting along at a good rate of speed. Mrs. Pierce had one of the youngest children in her lap, with two others sitting on the seat beside her. When the horse fell she was jerked over the dashboard with the child in her arms, and thrown upon the struggling horse. In her fall she crushed the dashboard and the other children pitched forward out of the buggy, and all became entangled in the wreck. The horse's leg was broken, the buggy shafts snapped, but Mrs. Pierce and her little family escaped without serious injury. It was a fortunate escape, as the disabling of the horse was all that prevented a much more serious result.

Mr. Champ was badly hurt, and was picked up unconscious, in which condition he remained for over an hour. His back was badly bruised, and he received internal injuries, besides several small cuts. Mrs. Champ jumped, and was not injured. Mr. Champ was able to be out yesterday, but will not entirely recover from the fall for some time.

Outlook For a Big Corn Crop.
 "These cool nights are just what we need to help out the corn crop," said a farmer yesterday. "We have had a tip-top growing season, and there is a splendid growth of stalk. Now these cool nights will check the growth, and the corn will mature. The roasting ears are already beginning to harden in some fields, and I don't apprehend any trouble from frost. This is only the first of August, and we needn't look for frost for six or eight weeks. By that time corn will all be out of the way, and I believe we will have one of the biggest corn crops we have ever had in Pottawattamie county."
