CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKETS.

CHICAGO, August 20 .- Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- There was a little flurry in September wheat to day that caused some excitement for a few minutes, but aside from that the market ruled duil and uninteresting. It was sadly in need of "elixiration," to use a newly coined phrase descriptive of Brown-Sequard's rejuvenating process. Statistics and most of the news had a bullish flavor, but there was no snap to speculative inquiry and values didn't appreciate. Indeed, the market seemed to have an undertone of heaviness. Four out of five of the scalpers were bearish, but their influence just now is not important Their operations sometimes make a change of 1/c of such a matter, but these trivial variations in quotations possess no significance. The news that was most industriously circulated for speculative effect was a dispatch from Russia via New York that the Russian crop would be an average one and that it would exceed the recent estimates. This report had not much influence in view of the recent official and semi-official utterances to the contrary, but it was used as a club, and there was considerable selving on the strength of it by George Smith, Cudahy and others. English cables were flatly contradictory, but those usually regarded as the most reliable represented the weather as unsettled and the market firm on that account and small offerings. New York operators had it that the foreign market was depressed and lower on clearing weather and expected heavy shipments of American wheat. Not strictly in harmony with the bear information came well authentreated reports that ocean freight room was in demand at the seaboard for "wheat to arrive." In addition it was learned that new business to the extent of nine boat loads had been worked in New York. The amount on passage decreased 850,000 bushels. This was a bull item of no consequence. The northwest continues to keep the mails and wires laden with bearish advice and opinion, but as yet the statistics do not particularly favor that side. Receipts of spring wheat are not coming up to expectations, but it might be well for those who are disap-pointed because the whole spring wheat crop has not yet been shipped in from the country to remember that a year ago yesterday a hard frost destroyed millions of bushels of wheat in the northwest. This year the crop has been saved, but the date is nevertheless very early to go into mourning over the fail-ure of the crop to come to the front. There were rains throughout Montana, the Dakoand Northern Minnesota yester-and last night, and a cold s of considerable severity is following. The approaching cold wave caused a small-sized scare in corn, but trade is so lethargic that actual frost in the corn country would hardly "wake em up," seemingly. The impending low temperature had ingly. The impending low temperature had no effect on wheat, however. December opened at 78½c, advanced sparingly to 78½ @78%c, and sold off to 77½(@775½c. From that point there was a raily to 77½c, and that was the point at which a large proportion of the business of the day was done. The market clung to 77½c with a sort of torpid tenacity. Toward the close, nowever, the increased offerings produced a weak feeling and the price got to 77½c, where it rested at the close. August opened at 77½c. September opened at 77¼ which was ½c advance over yesterday's last price, and was led up to 77½c, with only a few sales. The led up to 77%c, with only a few sales. The price subsequently worked back to 76%c and closed at 76%267%c. As compared with yesterday, near months are just a shade better and late futures %c lower.

The usual featureless and duil corn market was not deprived of its recent characteristics. The foreign markets were steady to firm, and export inquiry at the seaboard was good and shippers here were free buyers. The clearances from Atlantic ports were small, and New Orleans only figured for a shipment of 36,000 bushels. The weather throughout the corn belt was favorable for the growth of grain, but colder weather was threatened from the extreme northwest. Prices underwent but little change. September, the active month, being confined to a range of less than 34c. It opened at 3514@ 3536c, sold down to 353c and closed at 3516@

Oats were duli within 1/3c range, ruling nearly steady. Receipts were less than expected, though they proved liberal. In the eculative market there was little desire to trade, with some business in No. 2 white oats for this and next month. No. 2 August veaker at 24@24½c and September at 23½c. May oats were offered moderately at 24c and September stood near 2014c, with August at a shade discount. No. 2 oats to go to store sold chiefly at 20%c.

In provisions the day's developments showed little or no change in the situation.

Pork and lard exhibited a trifle more strength, but for short ribs prices receded to a lower point than yesterday under unex-pected selling. Offerings of short ribs ex-ceeded the demand as a rule, and the char-acter of the realizing rather indicated liquidation upon the part of some of the tired holders. The trading generally was com-paratively slow and the buying witnessed sented no special feature. The day's actual changes in prices show a decline of 5c on September and October short ribs and an advance of 2%@5c on the same deliveries of lard and 5@7%c on all pork futures. January lard and short ribs closed unchanged.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, August 20 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. !- CATTLE. -In addition to the fresh arrivals of 5,500 natives, 4,000 Texans and 2,000 northwestern rangers, there were about 3,000 "stale" natives on the market, some of the latter having been carried over since last Thursday. The general demand was in a strained condition, but the sharp upturn in values of %c per pound, which British advices reported, enabled sellers of all good cattle-and by good cattle is meant ripe, fat, dry-fed steers-to exact steady prices. All other descriptions of natives, including cows, sold unevenly, without regard to any basis of values and at all kinds of prices. Range cattle received the preference over grassy natives, and sold fairly well at full steady rates, a number being taken by shippers for eastern markets. As for the week past, a number of grass natives had again to be carried over to-night. The sgain to be carried over to-night. The stocker and feeder trade was lifeless and but few transactions occurred. Hoos—The quality of to-day's supply showed considerable improvement over yesterday. This fact, together with the strong opening for provisions, influenced a little better feeling in general trade, though the movement was by no means brisk. Early sales of heavy were generally 5c higher, but later the market weakened on packing grades, big rough 400-pound averages selling lower and with difficulty bringing $3.85@3.90, while good backing droves of desirable weights sold largely at $4.00@4.05. There was but little competition for heavy shipping shapes, and packers bought most of this class at $4.10@4.15. Selected medium weights for shipping purposes met with a pretty good demand and sold readily at $4.20@4.25. Light descriptions were only in fair request and sold no better than yesterday; in fact York and the so-called Anglo sort were fully 5c lower, making only $4.50@4.55. Light light selections dragged at $4.65@4.70.

FINANCIAL.

cent through the entire list, did not cause any additional bear talk or hope. The adverse news was sufficient to ordinarily cause a flurry and a much sharper decline. The fact that little stock was brought out and was taken by good parties rather afforded encouragement to the bulls. Action in trusts was traceable to the banks, and goes to show that the best institutions are unwilling to accept those securities on time loans. It also goes to show that the bank interests will fight any unreasonable raid on the part of the bears touching standard railroad shares. This left the bull side of the trade feeling better last night, notwithstanding the losses recorded during the day. The effect was also felt this morning when the market opened with animation and first prices generally 38@34 per cent over last night. The only feature was the transactions in trust stocks. The sugar trust was remarkable, with a gain of 2 per cent at 109. Cotton off, however, resumed its decline of yesterday and dropped to 48, against 49% lart evening. Sugar, after a further advance to 10914, reacted to 10714, while lead declined a fraction. Late in the hour there was a partial reaction. In railroad shares, Burnington sold ex-dividend at 103%, and up to 104, thus regaining half the dividend from the close yesterday. Wabash preferred moved up % per cent to 34%. Delaware & Hudson went to 1494 and Lacka wanna to 146. Other changes up to noon were unimportant. The pest prices of the day were reached after 12 o'clock, when grangers were strong on reports of earnings. Burlington went to 104%, closing at 104% exdividend. St. Paul touched 72%, but closed steady at 77%. Big Four gained 114 per cent to 7714, and Chesapeake common 36 per cent to 2514. Coal stocks were unusually strong. Delaware & Hudson closed at 149,

OMARA LIVE STOCK.

Cattle. Tuesday, August 20.

To-day's operations on the cattle market amounted to considerable in the end, but were devoid of life. There were no strictly choice or toppy beeves on the market. than half of the cattle were natives, and a very large proportion of the offerings was made up of westerns, Texans and half-broeds that had been fed more or less corn. Few of them were good, and even those that had had some corn were not very fat. Aside from a few odds and ends the native beeves from a few odds and ends the native beeves sold at $3.50@4.25, principally at $3 55@4.00, and the westerns at $3,10@3.50. The market on strictly choice or 'prime beeves could be quoted steady, and fair to good eattle 5@10c lower than last week. When it came to the common grades there was almost no market, the buyers not making much of an effort to buy and bidding 20@25c lower than the high point last week. The demand for cow stuff was quite good, and although there were more here than there have been during the past two days, the market was stronger and higher. In some cases sales were made that were fully 10c higher. The prices pand for cows ranged from $1.75 to $2.50, but largely from $1.95 to $2.25. The market on feeders and stockers did not show any material change. There were quite a good many cattle of that description and a quite a good many buyers in the yards. As high as $3.00 was paid for some good feeders.

The shippers and light hog men started out in the morning paying steady prices for good light hogs. A good many light sorts went at $4.00 and some light mixed at $3.90@3.95. The market was quite active on the lights and clearance was soon effected, but directly the reverse was true of heavy hogs. The ship-pers bought a few good loads at $3.80, or about 5c lower than yesterday. The heaviest packers, however, held back, and when the shippers had filled their orders all they would give for the balance was $3,70@3.75. The heavy hog market was extremely slow. salesmen being very rejuctant to make so great a concession. At midday there were still a good many loads unsold. It would be safe to call the market on heavy hogs 10@15c

English Metal Market. A London caple to the American Metal Market, dated August 16, reports the follow-

There is again a fair turnover, principally in tin, and prices continue to gain in strength.

Tin-Although not since holding its full Tin—Although not since holding its full advance, improved considerably early in the week in value as well as in activity. Deal-ings were especially heavy on Monday, at from 20@25s advance, most of which was noted on early 'change. Cash closed £90 and forward £90 10s, and these figures were improved 5@10s the next forenoon, and half as much in the late dealings. Wednesday's market opened at £91 10s and £92@£92 2s 6d, but quickly reacted 5s; and yesterday another 5@10s was lost; the sale of 9,447 slabs of Refined Banca, bringing an average of 54% florins per picul. At to-day's early change, there was a further decline of 10@ 15s, and 5s more this afternoon, the market closing heavy and quiet at £90 cash, £90 12s

6c forward. Corren-Favorable news from America and the local situation contribute to strengthen prices, though but little is doing on speculation, and cash bars were 10s bigher on Monday morning at £43 5s, reacting 5s later in the day; while forward ruled throughout at £42 5s for three months prompts. A fresh advance on Tuesday of 10s at early and 5s at late change for cash was accompanied by a gain of only 5s in all for forward prompts, and by the next day quotations were again back to £43 5s and £42 10s, forward having held comparatively steady. These figures were again current yesterday nominally, as no business was done; cash opened 5s higher to-day, and closed firm at £43 12s 6d, though forward prompts were unchanged at £42 10s.

ANTIMONY—Is perhaps not so firm as a week ago, but Hallett's may be still quoted fairly at £66.

Scottin Warrants - Were less freely dealt in, and at something of a reaction in values. Sales were made on Monday morning at slightly lower prices than last Friday, but the close was firmer at 40s 6d, which was again noted at the close next day, after dealings in the forenoon a penny or two higher. On Wednesday the current quotation was down to 46s 2d, to which point the market recovered yesterday after touching 46s early in the day. Prices were stoady to-day at a further advance to 46s 4d, which ruled throughout without change. Makers' quotations are for

HARD TO GET BAIT.

It Takes Sharp Work to Beat Newfoundland Officials.

Halifax, N. S., August 20 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The Newfoundland government is enforcing the bait act with a good deal of rigor. One cruiser, Lady Glover, has made eight seizures this season The masters of two vessels were sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 each or to undergo five months' imprisonment. The others were imprisoned for from five months downward. To show what the shipowners and masters of schooners are now put to, and the artifices that have to be resorted to in order to get bait, it is but necessary to describe the plan adorted by one French vessel. In her a false bulkhead was built next to the cabin. pieces of decking were cut out and the space was filled with herring. In order to hide all traces seines were carefully spread over the

CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP. A Revolver Intended for Thieves Shoots Its Owner.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., August 20 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-Frank Sorenson was fatally injured at Nanticoke, seven miles from here, this morning by a trap which he had arranged to kill thieves. Some one had been stealing pigeons from the barn. Being unable to detect the thieves, he loaded a re unable to detect the thieves, he loaded a revolver on Saturday, suspended it from a beam with the muzzle towards the door, and attached a line so that the opening of the door would cause the revolver to explode. He was himself the first to try the trap and the bullet entered his body just below the heart. Sorenson was thirty years old, and married. He is still alive, but with no possible chance for recovery. ble chance for recovery.

HIS BLOOD FOR HER BULLION. Miss Huntiongton Captures a Titled Pauper and His Debts.

Loxpon, August 20. - Special Cablegram to THE BEE. |- Another impecunious foreigner has captured an American heiress. Miss Huntington, daugher of Collis P. Huntington, of Union Pacific fame, is engaged to be married to Prince Hatzfeldt. Miss Huntington has been traveling in Spain with Mrs. John Sherwood and met the prince, who professed to be captivated with her, and followed her about, proposed marriage and was accepted. Prince Hatzfeldt is a cousin to Count Hatzfeldt, the German ambassador in London, who is likewise married to an American giri, Miss Moulton. The countess is, however, now separated from her husband and resides in Paris. Prince Hatzfeldt, who is engaged to marry Miss Huntington, used to be one of the secretaries of the legation here. He is tall and fair with a pale face and a slight stoop. He is well known in the clubs here which sporting men most frequent and is a capital fellow among his set. There is nothing against him but chronic impecuniosity and a tendency to contract debts which he has no immediate pros-pects of paying. For a while he affected the turf but had not money enough to cut much of a figure. He has been a well-known fig-ure at most of the fashionable watering places on the continent and has cultivated the acquaintance of numerous rich American girls at Monte Carlo, Baden-Baden, Hamburg and other foreign resorts. He has been assiduous in his attentions to Miss Hunting Some of the prince's friends estimate his debts to amount to 4,000,000 francs.
