A MURDERER'S CELL.

It is Now Occupied by the Slayer of Peter Ruser. George Soule, who is charged of having murdered Peter Ruser, one week ago, at the latter's home at Ruser's park, had his preliminary examination yesterday morning before Justice Anderson.

The little court room was full of witnesses and spectators. The accused looked haggard and acted unusually during the trial. Rudolph Ruser, Thomas Ormsby, Calvin F. Wagner, Ernest Herkeimann, E. W. Lee, J. C. Root, W. H. Fisher, Charles W. Weaver, John Weaver, Henry Ruser, Cecelia Ruser, Joseph Bayer, Charles W. Roosevelt and B. T. Ford, were called by the prosecution to testify. Those of them who had seen the shooting detailed the facts substantially as published in The Bee. Others said they had heard Soule make threats several times that he would get even with the Rusers for refusing to let him have been once when he had no money to pay for it; also with Roosevelt, who, it appears, had offered him about one cent ago. After having purchased the revolver from Weaver, Soule was heard to declare that Roosevelt would have to look out, because he proposed to get even with him.

The defense declined to offer any testimony. It will attempt to prove, however, it claims of Soule, that he was not the man who shot Ruser, but that he was only a witness to the crime. It is also claimed that Soule was not the man who shot Ruser, but that he was only a witness to the crime. It is also claimed that Soule was not the man who shot Ruser, but that he was only a witness to the crime.

Soule was held without bail to the district court and lodged in the county jail for safe keeping.

PAIRED WITH "BLUE GLASS." Omaha Physicians Will Not Meddle With the "Elixir."

In the Omaha Clinic for August there is an editorial on "The Elixir of Youth," by James Carter, M. D., from which the following is taken:

"Local physicians are making arrangements to test for themselves the results of the 'Elixir of Youth,' the results of which will be given in the Clinic."

A Bee reporter called upon Dr. Carter yesterday to ascertain what experiments had been made in this direction by Omaha physicians, and the results thereof.

He was informed that the article in question had been written a month ago, when the subject was in its infancy, and the fascinating claims made for the elixir were still to be determined by actual experience.

MISSED THE JUGULAR.

Mike Roach's Narrow Escape From Death. Cut-Off island was not behind the other suburbs of Omaha in tragic affairs Sunday. "Oklahoma" had a shooting match, West Lawn a fight, the city proper a suicide and Cut-Off island came in with a cutting affray in which Mike Roach, a barkeeper in C. H. Yates' saloon, nearly lost his life.

The row occurred in Yates' place. Roach was behind the bar and got into a row with three fellows who refused to pay for drinks which they had purchased. Roach insisted upon being paid when the three men assaulted him. A rough and tumble fight ensued in which Roach got decidedly the worst of it. During the row one of the trio drew a knife and made a slash at Roach, inflicting a dangerous wound in the neck. The wound exposed the windpipe and cut several small arteries. The injured man was placed even with the floor for reference to let him have been once when he had no money to pay for it; also with Roosevelt, who, it appears, had offered him about one cent ago.

After having purchased the revolver from Weaver, Soule was heard to declare that Roosevelt would have to look out, because he proposed to get even with him.

The defense declined to offer any testimony. It will attempt to prove, however, it claims of Soule, that he was not the man who shot Ruser, but that he was only a witness to the crime. It is also claimed that Soule was not the man who shot Ruser, but that he was only a witness to the crime.
