Jack Crooks Goes to Columbus. Jack Crooks, Omaha's popular second baseman, and one of the most promising players in the profession, was sold through the sporting editor of THE BEE to the American association clubiat Columbus, O., Tuesday evening, the price received being $1,750, or just $750 less than could have been realized on him two weeks ago. President McCor-mick telegraphed A. C. Buckenberger, the Columbus manager, his acceptance of the price offered and permission to proceed with his arrangements with Jack, and by this time next week Jack will be enlivening the local park at Columbus with his cheery "Well! well! look at that!" He is a great young player, and his hosts of friends here all wish him the best of success all wish him the best of success in the American association, and have no fears but that he will be able to hold his own with the best players in that body.

Selee Goes to Boston. There is no doubt but that this is the last season of Frank Selee's management for Omaha, yet there is a slight likelihood of his omana, yet there is a slight inclined of his remaining another year. He has a fine offer from Mr. Soden, of the Bostons, to manage the great Bean-Eaters next season, and cannot very weil do anything but avail himself of this fine opportunity to go to the front in base ball matters. He has made an excellent manager for Omaha, and rather than go back on his word to President McCormick will remain person ever year if the mick, will remain nere next year, if the club insists upon it.

Appreciating Omaha Talent It looks just now as if Omaha could close out at good round figures no less than six of her best players, and the management will do a wise thing by selling. Nagle, Clarke, Knell, Nichols, Cooney and Walsh have all been bid for. However, only one or two of the sales will be made—probably Ciarke and Nagle. Nichols will not be sold this season

What Knell Cost. Young Knell, St. Joe's fine young twirler. was secured by Omaha for a mere song. He cost just $100 in morey to the St. Joe management and $190 to Knell, back salary due him by St. Joe. Knell is delighted to get away from St. Joe, and says that rather than play there he would rather not play at all. St. Joe, however, is getting ready to retire from baseball entirely.

Battling the Sand Burs. Bratrice, Sept. 18.—[Special to The Bee.]—Little of interest transpires in Camp Grant worthy of special mention. The sutler and his minus watermelons is still the all-absorbing theme of that dignitary and the atter abolishment of the whole militia establishment of Nebraska is now the only thing that will pacify him.

The sick list this morning brought out

three or four cases of gripes, and the vic-

> An interesting feature of yesterday's par ade was the governor's effort to ride 'Lin-den Tree.' The governor mounted the horse all right enough in town, and rode out to camp on him. Upon reaching camp he rode up to General Colby to shake hands with the field commander of all the Nebraska troops, but somehow or other 'Linden Tree' didn't like the appearance of General Colby or the horse he was riding and began to act rambunxious. The result being that the governor had to dismount or be tumbled off in a manner wholly unbecoming the chief ex-ecutive of the great state of Nebraska. The governor handled the spirited horse courageously for awhite but wisely concluded that a younger and more active man had better ride him and turned him over to one of his taff while he rode a horse of more plebean

The granger element had the votes, The granger element had the votes, but lacked the experienced wire pullers and manipulators that abounded in the ranks of the ring that has been accustomed to run county politics in the interest of corporations and monopolies. However, the grangers had been taking lessons from their essenties. A year ago the ring sprung a printed ticket for delegates to the state convention. This year the ringstors were treated to the same surprise, and it elected the delegates to the state convention. But the Laws forces, seeing that a like free election of delegates to the congressional convention would result in a solid Harlan delegation, commenced buildozing the farmers, and succeeded in reconsidering the vote to elect by ballot, and substituted in place thereof the customary ring plan of nominating by acclamation. By this method it is supposed that a delegation was secured that will be favorable to Laws. If so it will not represent the majority sentiment of this edunt?

The following are the delegates to the state convention: Tom Gainforth, Asa Lewelling, W. O. Axtell, D. M. Case, E. Soderman, Eric Johnson, R. Corbin, A. M. Vandell and A. G. Larson. Horrible Brutality.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 .- One of the most re-rest of Owen Hefferau, a hod carrier, for assaulting his caughter, Mary Jane, aged thirteen. Besides the father and mother there are three children in the family, Mary Jane,

John, aged seven, and Julia, eleven months Hefferan had his leg broken several weeks ago while at work, and his employer continued his wages. The greater part of the money was spent in drink, between 10 a.m. and 3:30 p. m. today the girl brought in sixteen pints of mixed ale.

During the afternoon Hefferan got ugly and when his wife said something to him he struck her, blackening her eye. His daughter, Mary Jane, interfered, and the rufflian, seizing her by the hair, dragged her across the room and threw her down in front of the stove. Holding her by one hand, with the other he seized a kettle full of boiling water and began to pour it on her body. The girl screamed, but her brutal father emptied every drop of the boiling water in the kettle upon her before he stopped. Her crees brought up the other tenants, who, when they saw what the brute had done, called a policeman and had him arrested The mother sat stupidly looking on at her daughter being scalded, never interfering to

The girl is so badly burned that her recovery is doubtful. The agent of the Child-ren's society and two policemen had to break in the door to get possession of the remaining children. The mother was lying drunk on the floor in a mass of filth and rags which served as a bed.

A THRIFTY LAWYER. He Went to a Funeral to Get a Fee Advising Two Cilents. Santa Ana, Cal., Sept. 18.—Considerable conjecture is affoat among the legal fraternity of Orange county over charges made in the Free Press. The charges allege that one very prominent attorney of Santa Ana in settling the estate of a deceased rancher, advised the widow not to pay a certain debt to a brother of the deceased in the old country, the same being outlawed by the statute said brother advising him to sue at once, and recommending the attorney's partner as a reliable attorney to conduct the suit. The brother returned the letter to the widow. Action has been taken for the inw-yer's disbarment to-day. There were sev eral wild rumors, adding much to the story as printed. It is said the attorney attended the funeral of the deceased and went home with the widow to secure the business. There is much conjecture as to who of four prominent attorneys is the culprit. So far all are at sea. Only those who have the disbarment proceedings in charge know the name. While the story is discredited among the majority of the legal fraternity, it is uni-versally conceded that, if true, the recreant should be prosecuted.

THE L O. O. F. PARADE. Said to Be the Largest Ever Held By

Odd Fellows. Columbus, O., Sept. 18 .- The sovereign grand lodge of Odd Fellows was not in session, having adjourned until to-morrow on account of the big parade. The parade was a neat success, the largest, it is said, ever held by Odd Fellows. The number in line is estimated at from 15,000 to 20,000. The turnout of the patriarchs militant was much larger than on any other year in the history of that branch of the order. A vory large crowd viewed the procession.

Just before the parade started Grand Sire Underwood was thrown from his horse and received painful injuries, but they are not dangerous. He is stiff and his face and one leg were cut and bruised, but, attended by a surgeon, he took part in the parade. could not take part in the reception to-night given in his honor.

The Rebekah Degree. COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 18 .- The convention of the Rebekuh degree, I. O. O. Pfelfer, Mon-tana; conductor, Nellie Arton, Ohio; guardian, Ermine Page, District of Columbia, and Elizabeth Mey, Michigan. ives Early in Court. NEW YORK, Sept. 18 .- Henry S. Ives was again early in court this morning. At a few minutes after 10 o'clock he was in his accustomed place. The lateness of the session

last night did not seem to have in any way interfered with him. The prosecution will try and finish the case to-night, but Mr. Brooke thinks the defense will exhaust at least a week. The day's work began at it o'clock. The first witness was Henry McGowan, of the firm of Kelmus, McGowan & Co. 22, 1888, the witness arranged a loan for Henry S. Ives & Co. for £52,000 from Kuhn, Loeb & Co. The collateral received was 2,500 shares Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton common stock. On cross-examination the witness said he was a witness for the prosecution in Cincinnatiat the request of Eussell. cution in Cincinnati at the request of Russell "Bage, who held a loan of the witness' firm.

"Do you remember saying to Ives you had to testify or old Sage would call in your loan, which was past due?" counsel asked.
