the Division Team. The annual rifle competition of the division of the Missouri was brought to a close on Saturday last, at Fort Douglas, Wis. took place in the camp of one of the regiments of the nationol guard of that state, and was visited, among others, by the governor.

Forty men took part in the shoot, representing the departments of the Platte, Missouri, Dakota and Texas. From this number a team of ten and two alternates was selected to constitute the division team, which next year will enter the competition for the army team.

army team. The team from the department of the Platte consisted of Lieutenant Goodin, Seventh infantry: Sergeant Saladiu, Com-pany I, Eighth: Private Corrie, band, Sev-enteenth: Private Obrenberg, M, Second; Sergeant Gerher, F, Twenty-first; Sergeant Dietz, F, Seventeenth; Corporal Davis, B, Sixteenth; Corporal Evans, G, Sixteenth; Sergeant Brennan I, Second: Sergeant ELrgeant Brennan, I, Second; Sergeant El-C, Second.

Of these, four were selected for the division team, being a larger number than was selected from the team of any other department. The following are the names, the order in the team and the score made in four days' shooting:

Lieutenant Goodin, second, 535; Private Corrie, third, 529; Sergeant Dietz, fourth, 520, and Corporal Davis, tenth, 507.

The first four members of the division team receive large gold medais, the others silver ones. The order of departments and scores was as follows: Platte, first, 4.977; Missouri, second, 4.915; Dakota, third, 4.865, and Texas, fourth, 4,593. There were eight scores of 170or better and 30 of 160 or better. The average score of each marksman was 164 21-40. Captain Coolidge in command of the de-

Trials and Tribulations of the Lost Ten Acres.

The ten acre tract belonging to Douglas county"discovered" by Auditor Evans Tuesday, has a history. According to the abstracts and records its geology, which extends back to 1857, when George W. Scott was the owner, is very difficult to trace. It shows remargable carelessness on the part of a great many people. The property was first cut from an eighty-acre strip, which has been conveyed at least a dozen times to as man different parties. It sold twice at sheriff's sale, and now belongs to Gibson. With each trausfer of the eighty, this ten-acre lot, deeded in 1859 to the county by Henry Z. Chapman, has been included; though when the B. & M. railroad company wanted a right-of-way through the land, it was smart enough to find out to whom it belonged and secure a title to three of the ten acres from September 21, 1857, George W. Scott sold his interests to William Scott and James W. Pickard. The latter subsequently released his claim to Scott, who sold the whole of the land to Elias Brock, and on September 2 the property fell into the possession of John D. Scott. He in turn, and on November 18 of that year, made a transfer of the land to James D. Taggart. August 5, 1858, Taggart sold out to J. L. Wheeler, and, while he still retained the ownership, it was knocked down by the sheriff to Martin & Bros., to satisfy a judgment against him. Thereafter the property was purchased successively by J. D. Kellogz, Mary M. Berger, James A. Taggart, King & Wood, and, finally, Chapman. Since the county be came possessed of the small strips, it has been included with every sale and transfer been included with every sale and tradstor of the eighty acre tract made, though at no time has the county title been disputed or injured.

The question, however, may be raised eventually, because there are five hundred mortgages on the property and their holders may want a whack at the estate. It is prob-ably the most valuable part of the whole tract. The man who purchased from Gibson sult. will be the one most likely to come out loser.

Mr. F.W.Gray told a reporter of the causes that led to the presentation at the council meeting Tuesday night of the communication from J. A. Naugle & Co. complaining of Major Balcombe's methods of inspecting cedar block pavement. "The trouble," said Mr. Gray, "is that Mr. Balcombe is so strongly prejudiced against wooden pavements of any kind that he is not competent to treat us fairly. He has threatened in open meetings of the board to make the rules of inspection of our work so rigid that it would be unprofitable for us to do business. He has hindered us in every way possible When we were at work on Harney street ho had the work stopped because colored blocks were being used. The board met and a resolution was adopted instructing the inspectors not to reject blocks on account of their color. The Merchants of Atchison Request a Change in Through Rate Making. J. O. Phillippi, of the Missouri Pacific, has returned from Atchison, where he attended a meeting of the state board of transportation of Kansas to take testimony in a case in which the merchants of Atcaison preferred charges of discrimination against the Missoury Pacific and the Santa Fe.

An attorney who represented the merchants stated that the roads discriminated as regards their through and local rates; that the sum of the through rate was less than the tocal rate on the same commodity, and in making the same haul. He requested that the local rate be made the same and to remedy the existing evil the railroads should make the through rate the sum of the two locals, with Missouri river as a basing. In answering, Traffic Manager Leeds, of the Missouri Pacific, stated that the through rate applied to inter-state traffic, and that it had no connection with the local rate within the state; and that, also, as it related to inter-state shipments, it was beyond the

AT THE BEGINNING

Of the new season it is a question with every man, where he should buy his fall clothing. You are certainly not a good judge of clothing-nobody is-The best judges do not pretend to be. Then the question arises, where can you get the best value for the least money? As everybody in Omaha knows, we have increased our business from season to season. A great many say we are getting this big trade by breaking down the prices. They may be right. But what holds our old and makes us so many new customers, is the fact that our low prices are joined to reliability and quality. It is by this "Union" that our house has received the following of the trade.

This season, we intend to make things more lively than ever. Whether other houses complain of dullness or not. We have put in an enormous stock, we have prepared for a bigger business than ever, and we propose to do it. OUR PRICES ARE BOUND TO BRING YOU TO US IF YOU VALUE YOUR MONEY AND IF YOU WANT TO SAVE IT.

This week we will give you some bargains in Fall Overcoats. We scarcely know which one of the many beautiful styles to mention specially. One nice brown Cheviot Coat with silk facing, which we offer at $5.75, you could not get elsewhere for less than $8 or $9. Another grey fine all wool Cassimere Coat, excellently made and trimmed at $7.50, would be very cheap at $10. Others at $8.50, $9.75, $10.50 and up $17.50. Those at the higher prices are the richest and most stylish garments in the market.

Our illustrated catalogue of fall styles ready for mailing. Send us name and address if you want one.

LIMITING HIS POWERS

Authority of Mr. James Affected by the New Rules. The new rules and regulations recently adopted by the board of education have been received from the printer.

A number of minor changes have been made, as also a few of considerable importance.

The number of standing committees has been increased from ten to fourteen. The new committees are as follows: Special in struction, salaries, boundaries and discipline. The committees on high school and manual training have been consolidated, and the committee on teachers and text books has been divided into a committee on teachers and examination, and one on text books and course of study.

The old rules laid down no instructions whatever as to the duties of the variou committees, and there was nothing to guide any of them except the committee on claims, the duties of which are specified by law. Under the new rules the duties of committee are made an important feature, the province of each being carefully outlined.

The duties and powers of the superintend-ent of schools are curtailed under the new or der of things. Formerly that official had the power of transferring pupils from one schoo building to another and prescribing the limit of territory for each school. This duty nov evolves upon the committee on boundaries. The assignment of teachers is now made by the committee on teachers and the superin

The committee on text books and course of study now has charge of the examination of pupils for promotion, and the fixing of the averages necessary to be attained. Formerly this power was vested in the superintenden who was allowed to exercise his judgment in this respect.

The Sad Condition of a Well-Known Book-Keeper.

The first evidence that something had got wrong with W. B. Alexander, J. E. Riley's book-keeper, whose dementia was referred to Tuesday, was discovered on Monday last. He went about talking very confidentially to some of his acquaintances, telling them of a deal which would make him very wealthy. It appears that Alexander is interested with Gordon, Potter and others in an old govern ment boat which they purchased some time ago and have been using here to bring building sand down the river. As the story goes they were destined to lose a lot of money the contractors refused to buy the sand and the matter worried Alexander great deal great deal. Tuesday, however, his disposition changed a great deal. He was unusually lively in spirits, and explained his conduct as being due to the fact that he had disposed of the boat to St. Louis parties for an excel-lent price, and would realize as his portion of the proceeds about $0,000. Later, he said to a friend, "I have made arrangements with Dewey & Stone to endorse my paper for $100,000, and if you need it I will give you Devery & Stone to endorse my paper for $100,000, and if you need it I will give you all the money you want." During the day various other strange stories coming from him were heard. He weat to S. P. Morse and ordered $1,600 worth of silk underwear and ordered $1,600 worth of slik underwear for hunself and family, made contracts with furniture dealers, clothing merchants, boot and shoe men; hired twenty-five men to go out and remodel his house, made arrange-ments with a builder to erect a six-story tower on one corner of the residence, and various other out'andish things of the same character.

Tuesday night he remained down town until

What He Has to Say About the Col lectorship Plum.

T. C. Bruner, speaking about his candidacy for collector of the port, said that he had made an application for the place, not knowing that J. N. Phillips had already an ticipated him. There was no rivalry, he said, between them, except that which was friendly and honorable. Had he known that Mr. Phillips was a candidate he would not have sought the place. His backing con-sisted of leading dealers and jobbers and nearly all the bankers in the city, and a host of influential republicans throughout the state. ## A HUSBAND'S DEATH.

A Verdict for the Widow Fought by South Omaha.

In November, 1887, Ora Cunningham com menced legal proceedings against the city of South Omaha for $5,000 damages because of the death of her husband, Martin, who had died from injuries sustained by falling over a At the September term of court a year ago she got judgment for the full amount. The city of South Omaha asks to have the verdict set aside on the ground, it is alleged that after the trial evidence was discov-ered, Joseph Vance and A. F. Wood being the witnesses, which showed that Cunningham was intoxicated at the time he lost life.

A petition just filed in the district court by John W. Wayland, in which judgment for $1,000 against the Hartford Life and Annulty $1,000 against the Harwford Life and Annuity Insurance company is asked, says that on the 18th day of July, 1985, he paid a $10-premium for a policy on the life of Israel Wayland, his father. expecting of course that said policy, which called for $1.000, would be turned over to him. May 2, of this year, the old gentleman died, and two days later the "insurance company was duly notified, of his death, together with a demand for payment of the policy, which from some cause not yet stated, policy, which from some cause not yet stated was refused.

was refused. Judge Shields will, decide in the case argued before him Tuesday, Waggoner, Berny & Co., vs. Palmer and Bivin, that the service on Bivin was not legal, though there arises a question as to the practice, whether this service should be set aside by plea in abatement or on a motion to quash. Rufus L. Snodgrass, a real estate agent, has commenced proceeding against F. H. Jerome and Daniel H. Smith to recover $265 as commission a real estate deal

Honors to Comanche.

OMAHA, Sept. 16 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: I would be pleased to correct a statement in your issue of last evening in regard to Comanche, the only survivor of the Custer massacre, being still in Dakota. He was moved along with the Seventh cavalry on the 1st day of June, 1888, to Fort Riley, Kas., where he has been over since, unless he moved lately. All other actails are cor

Five Miles for a Nickel.

The double tracks on the main line of th new electric system of the Omaha street railway are now completed, and the overhead wires are strung with the exception of a gap be when Cass and Sixteenth and Twenty-fourth and Cuming streets. Inside ot two days this also will be finished. There will be eleven miles of overnead wire ready by the board of public lands and buildings, but owing to the premonitions of cold weather, the board is pushing the work on them. The capitol grounds have been plowed and will be seeded to blue grass at once. It for use.

The main line commences at Hanscom park running north to Leavenworth street east to Sixteenth, north to Cuming, west to Saunders and north on that street to the Beit line, a distance of five miles and a half. The Thirteenth street line will, for the present, remain a horse car line.

Valuable and Timely.

The Harrisburg Telegram is preparing a complete history of the Johnstown which will be published disaster. shortly in an elegant volume. It is proposed to make the book a valuable souvenir of the great calamity, excellent alike in matter and illustration. The text will be from the pen of the editor, who is thoroughly acquainted with the subject and with the district, while the most eminent artists will furnish portraits and views engraved from original drawings and photographs. We advise those who desire a superb volume, worthy of a place in any li-brary, to wait for the forthcoming work. Experienced canvassers are desired as local agents to solicit subscriptions, and should write at once for territory.
