WHAT HE DID SAY

Inspector Donovan's Testimony Before the Council. Paving Inspector Donovan has written a card to The Bee, in which he takes exception to the following paragraph published in the report of the council committee's investigation of the Gray-Balcombe paving squabble:

"Mr. Donovan was closely questioned by the committee and Mr. Gray, and finally admitted that the inspection demanded by Major Balcombe was so rigid that he had at times been compelled to reject blocks that in his own judgment he considered good and proper material. This was especially true of the work on Spaulding street, where good blocks were rejected solely on account of their color."

Mr. Donovan accuses the reporter of having been too industrious, and attempts to get out of his admission by saying that he referred to the fact that he rejected in bulk on Spaulding street. He says he had no doubt that good blocks were rejected in this manner.

Mr. Donovan has simply adopted the plan, in general use, of impeaching the veracity of the reporter as a method of getting out of an embarrassing situation. The facts of the case are just as reported. Councilman Bailey asked Mr. Donovan if it were not a fact that under the severe rules of inspection adopted by the board, he had not at times been compelled to reject blocks against his own judgment.

Mr. Donovan's answer was very nearly in these words: "Mr. Balcombe and the city engineer frequently visit the work and pull out blocks after I have inspected them. On Spaulding street, when the red blocks first began to come in they were rejected, although many of them were good."

"That what I wanted to get at," said Mr. Gray, "I wanted this committee to know that the red blocks were first rejected by Balcombe on account of their color."

It is very possible that Mr. Donovan intended to say that the good blocks referred to were rejected in the two wagon loads of blocks, but the fact remains that he did not so qualify his statement.
