Nebraska Republican Convention.

HASTINGS, Neb., Oct. 8.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—At 4 o'clock this morning the first of the delegates arrived upon the battle ground, and an hour later the preliminary work of the republican state convention was practically settled. From early morning until this time, however, Hastings was the scene of activity and excitement scarcely if ever before witnessed in her history. Hosts of delegates were literally packed all day long. Lobbyists buttonholed after the old time fashion and delegates were systematically worked, but the incidents of the day depart not from those of other conventions. The friends of the respective candidates claimed the necessary votes to insure the success of their favorites. Judge Reese and his following apparently worked calmly and confidently from first to last, but the same can be said of Judge Norval and his friends. Bixby's candidacy proved to be the tail of the latter's kite. The center of the campaign was the strength of the delegation from the county and the scattering votes promised him from a few of the contiguous counties. His candidacy, however, served the purpose well. He stood ready to create a field if one should be thought necessary by Judge Reese's opposition, but long before the convention hour noses were counted and Norval's friends had settled themselves ready to cast the decisive vote.

The sequel proves that the necessary pledges had been made. Bixby therefore turned over his support and the chairmanship of the convention was promised him as his portion of the honors won, hence the North Platte candidate had no opportunity to display the popular strength his friends claimed for him.

Considerable interest centered in the double-header contest from Chase and several other counties. These were heard before the executive committee of the republican state central committee shortly after 4 o'clock. In the first contest, Chase, an imperial, contested the claims of Mr. Meeker, his fellow-townsmen, who headed the delegation dubbed the straight ones. It appears that Chase headed one faction in the county convention and Meeker the other. Davis booted because Meeker defeated him. In the convention on a motion to reconsider, the Meeker faction controlled the convention, elected a ticket and delegations to the state and congressional conventions and then adjourned. Davis and his following went into the convention, elected a ticket and delegations to the state and congressional conventions and then adjourned. A GOOD ONE ON GRANT.

The Mayor of New York Pats the Lamb on Himself.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to The Bee.]—A story which is causing considerable amusement in Paris, and which is being widely repeated, is that the mayor of New York, John A. Bids, is a very good fellow. It is to the effect that Mayor Grant not long ago appointed a committee of three to visit the Paris exposition, see all it and lead themselves in settling the exposition of 1889. The story goes that the committee of three reached Paris, and, filled with a desire to do their whole duty, began asking questions right and left. Neither of them could speak French, and as English is only spoken in spots at the Paris exposition, the American committee found it difficult to get on. A Large Field for Action.

GENERAL RATE MANIPULATING.

All the Western Roads Involved, But the Very Idea of Being Punished Scoffed at by the Guilty Ones.

They All Do It.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—There is apparently a large field in the west for action by the inter-state commerce commission. It was supposed last night that the Missouri, St. Paul & Kansas City was the only road manipulating rates between the Missouri river and Chicago.

To-day's developments show that every Missouri river road has been doing practically the same thing. The only difference is the manipulation was that some of the roads gave rebates and others not. The freight out at flat at a cut rate. Others rebilled in transit, taking the lowest proportional rate. Said one of the freight men who acknowledged to your correspondent that he had manipulated the rate:

"Every Missouri river road was in it, and it would probably have never come to the surface had not the Missouri, St. Paul & Kansas City been rebilled. The rebates were given to the Kansas City, St. Joseph & Council Bluffs. The whole thing originated with the difficulty between the Rock Island and the Alton over the Kansas City-Chicago proposition for a through rate. The roads got to monkeying with the rebates and the amount of it is that none of them stopped short of manipulation."

Asked as to whether he thought the offending lines would be punished under the provisions of the inter-state commerce act, he replied:

"Well, they are, every western freight agent will be looking through the bars. Punish us! I should say not."

Now that the whole deal has been exposed, if any are fined by the association, it will not be a punishment, as far as the inter-state commerce commission taking summary action is concerned. The idea is laughed to scorn. Should a conviction be secured and the proof in this case as in many others, is ample—the roads would still continue to do as they please, and the inter-state commerce act. It is the openly expressed opinion of Chicago railroad men that the commission does not intend to make the inter-state commerce act a law, but that it will be taken behind the clause which makes prosecution optional with the commission, unless a complaint is filed. It is known the following roads have manipulated grain: The Rock Island, Burlington, and Santa Fe, each 3,000 cars; Wabash, 1,700 cars; Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City, 300 cars; Alton, 300 cars; St. Paul, 400 cars.

In view of the above an exceedingly comical occurrence took place to-day in the south-western division of the Western Freight association. It was learned that the Missouri, St. Paul & Kansas City had manipulated rates from 1 to 25 cents on shipments from Kansas City to St. Louis and that the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis had manipulated rates from 1 to 25 cents on shipments from Kansas City to St. Louis and that the Missouri, St. Paul & Kansas City had manipulated rates from 1 to 25 cents on shipments from Kansas City to
