Jersey's Guest.

Copyright 1889 by James Gordon Bennett, Jr. Paris, Oct. 10.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to THE BEE.]—The Boulangerists organs state that the general will make a few weeks' stay in the Channel Islands. This was putting the matter recalls the celebrated epigram invented for the occasion of the defeat of the radical party. It is likely that this rupture of the alliance may lead to a schism in the conservative party, a portion of which will, in all probability, cut loose from the Comte de Douze, and, choosing its own leaders, follow a more moderate and less obstructive policy. Herce, of La Casagrange, in La Autourie, depends upon the action of the Comte de Douze and pleads for a continuation of the same policy.

Under these conditions it is evident that the conservative party is destined to undergo a total transformation.

The London Quinine Market Has the Fever and Ague.

Copyright 1889 by James Gordon Bennett, Jr. LONDON, Oct. 10.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to THE BEE.]—The quinine market has the fever and ague. Three months ago quinine was selling for 11 pence an ounce. This morning it sold for 15 pence and this afternoon for 14½ pence, the sudden drop being caused by Lewis & Peat, the largest operators in Manning Lane, dumping some of the 1,000,000 known to have been in their possession when other operators expected them to hold on for a bigger price. Sales today were large in two great speculative marts, "Brunswick" and "B. and S." stocks are said to be low and the bulls declare that the price will go to 18 pence before the end of the month. A rumor of a sale of the firm of Lewis & Peat said to have been in their possession when other operators expected them to hold on for a bigger price. Among the other speakers was Congressman Proctor Knott, whose address was the warm tribute of a personal friend.

Sudden Rise in Scotch Warrants.

Copyright 1889 by James Gordon Bennett, Jr. GLASGOW, Oct. 10.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to THE BEE.]—An extraordinary and sudden rise took place today in Scotch warrants, in Glasgow the pig iron price advancing from 53s 1½ to 54s 1½ for cash. The cause is traced to heavy withdrawals from stock. They were 3,777 tons, which leaves 99,554 tons laid out. Additional strength was given to the market by makers' iron being further raised from 15 to 26 pence per ton.

Eleendogans Workmen Unearth Them While Digging a Sewer.

THEY, N. Y., Oct. 10.—A dispatch from Eleendogans says the village is greatly excited over a discovery made to-day by workmen. While digging a sewer the men came upon a skeleton, and a coffin containing the bones of a human being. The stone was washed off and found to bear the inscription and date of the death of Lord Howe, who was killed at the battle of Mifflin during the Revolution. The remains will probably be reinterred at once in the village cemetery.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Oct. 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The Lawrence county delegation to the first South Dakota legislative session for Pierre today. They were accompanied by a large delegation of representative citizens, who go down with the senator and representatives to work for Hon. Alden C. Moody for United States senator. Moody's election is regarded as certain in this part of the state.

Business Troubles.

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—At the Boston office of the Anthony Loan and Trust to-day the statement that the company had gone into liquidation was denied, though it was admitted that a course might be adopted later. It has been decided, it was said, not to do any more new business. Confidence was expressed that not a dollar would be lost by the mortgage holders.

AN INTERESTING SUIT.

One Which Vitiates Concerns All Members of the Association.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—An important lawsuit is on trial before Judge Clifford, which vitally concerns the mutual benefit insurance societies all over the country, and fills the court room with representatives of almost every society of the kind having a branch in Chicago. It is the case of Betha Daiborg to recover a $2,000 benefit for the death of her husband, from the supreme lodge of Knights of Honor. Prior to July, 1885, J. Daiborg, the plaintiff's husband, was a member in good standing of Chicago lodge, No. 933. At this time Daiborg was ill and had some trouble with the officers of the lodge over the payment of sick benefits. He claimed to have been unfairly treated, and when assessment No. 144 became due he failed to meet it. Under the rules of the lodge he was allowed thirty days to pay up, and, failing to do so, was suspended. Soon after Mrs. Daiborg tendered the amount of the assessment to the officers of the lodge, and she was given a blank application for reinstatement. This she refused. The failure of Daiborg to pay the assessment was held to be a forfeiture of his membership, and the lodge refused to pay the benefit. ## THEY HAVE FOLDED THEIR TENTS

The Session of 1889 Is Ended and Everybody Is Getting Ready to Depart—The Next Meeting in Denver.

WASHINGTON BUREAU THE OMAHA BEE, 513 FORTY-SEVENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10.

The reception to-night at the home of Mrs. General Logan ends the triennial convocation of the Knights Templar. Thousands left the city to-day and to-night and nearly all of those remaining will leave to-morrow. By Saturday Washington will have assumed its normal condition. The one hundred brass bands which have paraded the streets for four days and nights are departing, and there is less noise and more music. Late to-night the city is a scene of departing and returning. The city of marching commanderies, many of them accompanied by ladies, all going from headquarters singing songs, waving hats and handkerchiefs, and having a great good time. It is conceded that this has been one of the most pleasant and successful convocations ever held. The attendance of the knights who participated in the parade is as near twelve thousand as can be computed. Outside of this there were probably two thousand who did not participate in the capacity of knights. The largest number that has attended any of the convocations ever held was 9,000, so that there were 5,000 more at this convocation than any of those in the past. Fully twice as many ladies have accompanied the knights here as were ever in attendance upon a convocation before. There were quite a number of ladies here who were not in the neighborhood of sixty to seventy thousand visitors. This is the most careful computation of the number of visitors in Washington since the convocation of 1886, and it is not in excess of the number actually present.

As usual the California Knights Templar have achieved great success. They have been open day and night since they arrived on the coast. The ladies of the California commandery, who have been in the city since they arrived, have been very successful in their efforts to raise money for the benefit of the California commandery. mandary to visit Nebraska and assuring them of cordial treatment.

"The Nebraskaans are delighted with what they have seen of Washington. There is no such street as Pennsylvania avenue in the world for a parade," said Mr. Kory, and he expressed regret that the convocation was held in Washington. I have not been in Washington since the war and I have seen a lot of things that I have never seen here. I have been especially interested in the pavements and think them the finest ever saw. We are adopting the same style in Omaha."
