THE CITY.

The office of the board of public works was yesterday removed to the room in court house basement recently occupied by City Treasurer Rush. Park Officer Goodrich found an old woman lying on the sidewalk on Creighton avenue, south of Hansoom park, last night. She was respectably dressed, but was barefooted and too weak to walk. She gave her name as Marie Ballock, and said she lived with her son, Mathias Ballock, at Eleventh and Bancroft, but was unable to account for Curbstone Cutters. The cutters of the curbstones which are being put in on Vinton street from Twentieth to Twenty-fourth, claim that the city inspector is too exacting in his demands on them and they have therefore quit work. The inspector says that they were not prop-erly fitting the stones to each other, and were not putting sufficient dirt back of the curb to hold it up.

Williams Suspended. J. H. Williams, the colored janitor at St. Barnabas school, was suspended by Charles Wehrer, chairman of the committee on heating and ventilation. Williams is accused of improper conduct toward the children of the school. His case will be called before the board at its next regular meeting. The complaint was filed by Mrs. P. H. Alian.

Too Confiding. Jesse Bohannon and Mary Payton, both colored, were old-time lovers. Jesse left his sweet heart in Chillicothe, Mo., and came to Omaha several months ago. After saving up a few dollars he sent for Mary, stating that they would be married upon her arrival. Mary came. The two occupied rooms in the same building at No. 414 South Thirteenth street. Mary now claims that Jesse seduced her on the promise of marriage, but failed to keep his promise. Yesterday she reported her condition to the police, and will at once commence proceedings on the grounds of breach of promise.

A Cowardly Revenge. George King, of Pilger, Neb., was brought here yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal Lyons, under arrest for sending obscene matter through the mails. King once worked in the Central Pacific railroad shops and was discharged. As a means of revenge It is alleged he has been sending let ters containing vile abuse to the master mechanic. Philip H. Douglas, who not only reported him, but turned the letters over to the authorities. King was taken before Commissioner Anderson and bound over in the sum of $500 to appear at the next term of court for trial. He gave bail and was re-

The Biggest She Had Seen. She was from one of the interior hamlets of Iowa, and had come to see the wonderful features of the metropolis of Nebraska, of which she had read a great deal. Her attire, her air of strangeness, her intense curlosity, and her evident pleasure at everything she saw, plainly showed that she was entirely unfamiliar with city life and city sights. Yet, withal, she had that affected dignity peculiar to country girls who have been cautioned to be very careful when they been cautioned to be very careful when they visit the city.

Having viewed the attractions in the business portion of the city pretty thoroughly, and wondered to her heart's content at the large buildings, the flue stores, and the seething tide of humanity on business bent, the buccile maiden boarded the grip car of a cable train at the postoffice. She sat in silent enjoyment of the novel experience until the train reached the Coliseum, when turning to the conductor she exclaimed in a voice audible to all on board:

"Well, I declare, if that am't the biggest to house I ever saw."

There was a general smile, and the conductor found it difficult to repress a guffaw while explaining to the astonished maiden the real character of Colonel Prince's big structure. It was a suggestive commentary, thomes.

THE INQUISITION.

It is Being Prosecuted in Secret by the Grand Jury. The grand jury apparently has a prolific source of information concerning the private as well as the public actions of the county commissioners for the past two years, Some time ago the county purchased a buggy for the use of the superintendent of the poor farm, paying therefor $60. The grand jury has ascertained that the purchase was made of a negro who was employed at the time by Commissioner W. J. Mount.

Commissioner Turner was called before the jury and asked about the purchase. He admitted that he had not seen the buggy, but took Mount's word to the effect that it was a bargain at $60. He said he wasn't was a bargain at $400. He said he wasn't authority on buggies himself, but no man living could get an advantage over him in purchasing or swapping wagons.

Superintendent Mahoney, of the poor farm, was called, and told what he thought about the buggy. It was good enough for him. He wasn't proud, he said.

Charles Ross, who was assistant superinintendent of the county hospital, was called and asked for his explanation of the contracind asked for his explanation of the contractor's action in changing the plans of the hospital without having consulted the archi-

Commissioner Turner was recalled and questioned on this point. He evidently didn't give much light on the subject. In speaking of his testimony afterwards, he said: "It didn't take 'em long to find out that I didn't know as much as they thought I did."

The grand jury will not conclude its labors for another week.

The grand jury appeared before Judge Wakeley at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and Foreman Clark stated the desire of the jury to visit the hospital to investigate matters to connection with the assumption of rs in connection with the examination of the charges against the commissioners' management of that institution.

Judge Wakeley granted the request, stating that there were no statutory regulations in the case. He informed the jury that what might be seen at the hospital would be used to enable the jury to arrive at a better understanding of the arridance before them but to enable the jury to arrive at a better under-standing of the evidence before them, but that no indictment could be returned upon mere observations made by the jury as a body. All indictments should be made upon actual evidence. Any information obtained on the ground should be verified by examina-tion before the jury in session.

The grand jury then took possession of a band wagon, chartered for the purpose, and drove to the hospital. One member of the body drove to the building in a private con-veyance and reached the place some minutes veyance and reached the place some minutes anead of the rest of the jury. Portly Ed Walsh took warning from the arrival of the first member of the august body, and put a force of men at work cleaning out the debris from the halls of the hospital, creating a dust that was witnessed by the visitors long before they arrived at the hospital. The jury inspected the building and made an examination of the grading that has been done and over which so much trouble has arisen.

We are willing to bear testimony to the efficacy and value of Hood's Sarsaparilia, which we have been advertising some years in our paper, having used it for blood impurities with great success. It is a preparation of standard merit, made of perfectly pure ingredients, and thoroughly effective in cleansing and purifying the system. For eruptions, boils, etc., it can be relied on every time. Our own experience with it has been most gratifying, and we are glad to give it this endorsement .- Athol (Mass.) Transcript.

A number of other trips are to be made, and by Sunday or Monday it is hoped that the new line reaching from the Belt line to Hanscom park will be ready for the public. THE COURTS.

St. Mary's Avenue Congregational

Church Loses Its Suit. The case of the St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church against the city for damages resulting from a change of grade was decided in favor of the city last evening. The court instructed the jury to bring in a verdict for defendant, which they did without leaving the box. The plaintiff was not allowed to introduce any testimony except an ordinance, the court ruling against them on account of irregularity in the proceedings. The court held that the appraisers, who made the award of damages from which the church people appealed, were not properly qualified because they did not take the proper oath, An appeal will be taken.

The Object of His Trip an Inspection of the Missouri Pacific.

Jay Gould, president of the Missouri Pacific, accompanied by S. H. H. Clarke, vice president of the road, Miss Helen Gould, Edwin Gould, Dr. Munn, of New York, and Superintendent Rathburn, arrived in the city at 3:45 yesterday afternoon on a special train over the Missouri Pacific. The train, which came in at the Webster street depot, consisted of Mr. Gould's com-bination car, a sleeper and two baggage cars, and was in charge of Conductor Hoo-

Mr. Gould stated that his health was much better than it was one year ago, and that he was feeling "first rate." The object of his trip had no special significance beyond an inspection of the road and its branches.

Regarding the building of a road from Omaha to the northwest Mr. Gould asserted that he had nothing to say concerning the matter-absolutely nothing. As far as he was concerned be had no information that would even momentarily interest the public. The construction of such a line would doubtless be of great benefit to Omaha.

When asked if in his opinion New York would get the world's fair, -Mr. Gould re-plied: "I don't know; haven't given the subect a moment's thought." Then Mr. Gould and the party stepped nto carriages and were driven about the city for an hour, during which time they visited the most important places of interest in the city. After luncheon at the Millard the party returned to the train and retired. special will leave this morning for Kansas City and from thence to Pueblo, Colo., where the party will remain a day or two, returning direct to New York.

A telegram was received from Washington stating that the papers in regard to the site for the postoffice had been received and were in the hands of the department of justice officials, whose business it is to examine titles. United States District Attorney Pritchest was seen and asked what papers were referred to in the dispatch. He said that no papers had been sent from here, and he could not account for the statement. There had been some correspondence with the attorney general in regard to the matter, but nothing else had passed. The appraisement papers are not yet completed, and nothing further will be done until they are forwarded.

Indigestion

S not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become deprayed and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich .: -

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do not be made and the contract of the contract any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."
