Marrage licenses were issued yesterday to William Nielson and Katie Nielson, of Carson, and George W. Leach and Alice A. Grover, both of Douglas county.

Frank Wilson and Ed. Smith, the two men arrested for stealing seven pairs of boys' pants from the store of Metzger Bros., had a hearing before Squire Schurz yesterday and were sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

A basket sociable, oyster supper and dance will be given at the residence of E. M. Girard, corner of Seventh and N. Twelfth street, to-morrow evening, for the benefit of Lodge No. 415, I. O. G. T., to which all are invited.

Mr. J. W. Bell has been promoted to the position of local passenger agent for the Northwestern railroad company, instead of ticket agent, as previously announced.

Residents on Hilde street are complaining bitterly because Dr. Houghton ordered the removal of a diphtheria patient to a vacant house on that street. The physician states that all quarantine regulations were carefully observed and that there was no exposure to the residents of the locality.

Several of the journeymen barbers of this city who are members of the Barbers' union are interested in the removal of the union from the union at the Masonic temple, in Omaha, on the evening of November 6. Arrangements have been made for a special motor train to bring home those who attend from this city. It is expected that about fifty couples will go from here.

The state vs. McElroy and Dundie, for forging certificates for wool scissoring, was not completed in the district court yesterday afternoon. The evidence for the prosecution is strong and the court adjourned. The defendants are indicted on five counts, but by agreement one trial will decide all of them. The case will be resumed this morning.

Friends in Need.

Mrs. Hertha Stevenson died yesterday of diphtheria at her home on Benton street. She was living here with a younger sister and a brother, D. C. Stevenson, who is employed as a clerk at the "Q." freight office.

The sickness of the sister had complicated the case, so that the sad outcome found them in very straitened circumstances. The employees of the "Q." freight office, on learning of the death of the sister, immediately provided a handsome casket and raised a party for the stricken family. The company also provided a funeral home to take care of the remains.

Another Case of Coal Oil Killing.

Dr. J. H. Cleaver was called last evening to attend Mrs. J. Anderson at the home of the secretary of the Council Bluffs Insurance company, who was badly burned at her home, No. 24 Frank street, while trying to build a fire in the furnace. The fire did not progress satisfactorily, and she used some oil to help it along. The inflammable fluid blazed up, and she was severely burned.

Death of C. F. Reed.

Shortly before 7 o'clock last evening Charles F. Reed, the janitor at the government building, and an old and respected citizen, fell dead of heart disease at his home on Graham avenue. He had finished his usual day's labor at the federal building but a short time previously, and returned home in his ordinary good health apparently, when he expired almost without warning.

THE NEWS ABOUT THE BLUFFS.

Judge Macy Refuses to Rejoin the Electric Motor Company.

A REVENUE OFFICE WANTED HERE

Coal Oil Gets In Its Work Again—Death of C. F. Reed—A Railroad Official Severely Cared—General Notes.

The Motor Injunction Refused. Judge Macy rendered a decision in the fifth avenue injunction case, in which it is sought to enjoin the motor company from running a line down that avenue. The court held that the law touching steam railroads would not be applicable in the case of an electric motor line, which would come nearer the class of a regular street railway, the principal objections to the former being the steam engine, which is not wanted in the latter case. He decided that the city had a right to grant a charter to the street railway company, and that such a charter was sufficient for the building of the line in controversy. For these reasons he refused to grant the injunction asked for by some of the property owners, and the company relieved from their agreement to refrain from pushing the work beyond a certain point, the case having been decided in their favor.

It may be stated that the objection to the building of the line at four or five blocks of Pearl street, which consider themselves near enough to the motor line for their own safety, is not a valid one. The street the residents are even more anxious to secure the motor than these others are to have it ruled off the street, and were most anxious to see the decision of the court. They argue that they are entitled to just as much consideration as the residents at the other end of the street, and are, of course, greatly pleased with the court's decision of the matter.

After this case was disposed of by Judge Macy, the argument of a demurrer to an indictment filed by Colonel Bailey in the case of George vs. McElroy and Dundie, was heard and overruled.

A motion for the continuance of the session case against E. A. Benson was then argued by E. H. Sheafe and Attorney Ogan. This was taken under advisement.

He Nears Where to Buy.

A prominent and wealthy citizen of Little Sioux, Ia., came to the city yesterday and purchased a bill of the Council Bluffs market company's general establishment. Among the lot were two magnificent royal wilsons, of the newest and best quality, and a pair of lovely new patterned Mopette. The goods were sold at the special sale that has been running all the week, and the amount was a handsome return for the time and expense of making the trip from Little Sioux to the city, and the goods were taken home to the place where they were wanted, and had a stock as large as found in any wholesale house to select from. The purchase of the goods was made in a very satisfactory manner, and all expenses if they come from any point north of Council Bluffs and buy even a small bill of goods.

Kicking For a Revenue Collector.

Several complaints have been made lately by the cigar manufacturers of the city regarding the trouble experienced by them in getting stamps from the revenue office. A short time ago the office of the deputy revenue collector was removed from this city to Bedford. Before that time, however, the same trouble was experienced, as the stamps were kept here, but the dealers were required to await their arrival from Burlington. It is argued that the stamps might just as well be kept here, in which case none of this annoyance would result. Philip Loeffel, a resident of this city, has written to the collector, but has not yet heard from him or received his stamps, and in consequence is delayed in making a shipment.

Inquiry at several of the stores revealed the fact that all had experienced the same annoyance. Two or three reported they had lost money in this way, and that they had never recovered it. The money was traced on one occasion as far as the Burlington office, but there all trace was lost. Said one of the dealers: "We are just as much entitled to have the stamps here as any city, and it is a great nuisance to have to go to Burlington to get stamps here in time to ship when the goods were wanted. Not only this, but it is costing us a great deal of money to contact our business. We have to make a monthly and yearly report, and each time we pay 50 cents to the collector, and then we are obliged to acknowledge them. When we had a deputy collector here this would not be the case, as he had to do that, and it did not cost anything. We had to wait while he sent the money to Burlington for the stamps. There are more saloons licenses, and more other things to be done here than in nearly all the other cities in the state combined, and for this reason alone there should be a revenue office here. If we had a deputy collector here, he would be able to handle all the business, and he would be able to get the stamps here, and that is what we will have if there is any possibility of getting it."

Wire Flower Stands.

The finest thing in the line of wire flower stands that has ever been made, is now being manufactured by novelties are on sale at Shugart & Co's., No. 11 Main street. He Deserved the Caring.

Yesterday was the thirty-fifth birthday anniversary of Major W. M. Marshall, general agent of the "Q." By the way, he had many occasions to remember it, and was continually meeting with hearty congratulations. The most important event occurred during the forenoon, when the major was presented with a beautiful gold-headed cane, the offering of a special committee of his friends. It was handsomely engraved with initials and date. While it was a beautiful token worthily to attend the day, thousands who wish it may be a half century yet before it will afford him any other than a mental source.

Members of the City.

James Callahan, fireman of Union stock yards, No. 3, is off for a three weeks' marriage vacation. The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kudrnan was buried Thursday afternoon at 10 o'clock in the morning at the residence of the bride's parents, Omaha, Wednesday evening.

There will be a meeting of St. Agnes choir in the church Saturday evening. All members are urged to attend. The Omaha Turnverein will be present at the National hall, on Saturday evening, at National hall, and give an athletic exhibition.

Contractor John W. Saively has finished his contract in putting the stock yards sewer to the river. Mr. Saively was obliged to go through 400 feet of quicksand. William C. Lieberknecht, pressman at the Omaha, was married at the residence of the bride's parents, Omaha, Wednesday evening.

Inspector J. J. Green, Justice J. Levy, and Judge G. Reuther are candidates for the democratic nomination, and E. O. Mayfield and John Smith are candidates for the republican nomination for justice of the peace.

Members of South Omaha Lodge No. 33, O. T. B., will go to Omaha on the 7:30 P. M. train, Friday morning, to attend the funeral of their late brother, Peter Heiland, killed in the Gibson railroad wreck. Mr. Heiland was a member of the Supreme lodge.

About People.

Mrs. Clarence Bronize is visiting friends in Neligh. J. W. Woodward has returned from Springfield. Mrs. Thomas Rock has gone to Denison, Ia., to visit friends.

Contractor R. R. Stewart will return to this city from Missouri. J. W. Templeman, of Watertown, S. D., is the guest of Dr. M. Glasgow. Mrs. D. S. Curtis, who has been visiting her son in Denver, has returned home.

Mrs. J. Leonard and Miss Maud Van Alstine, of Omaha, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Moutiers, of Lincoln, formerly telegraph operator of the B. & M. freight depot, is back in his old position for a temporary stay.

Very Unbecoming.

Lozely tints in the wrong place are left of the face, and are very unbecoming—the peculiar endorsement of our pig-tailed brethren who "nit the pipe"—is unbecoming. It suggests bile going astray, and the inferior nature of the complexion. It is a complaint and its multifarious symptoms. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an infallible specific. It restores the bowels sufficiently, but without any violence. To the secretion of bile it gives a due impulse, but banishes an excess of that saffron colored humor. It cures indigestion, flatulency, and the burning of the breath and fur upon the tongue disappear when it is used. It renews digestion, fortifies the system against any and all ailments, and cures the kidneys.

Always on Time.

Life-Sized Portraits 5c.

The Bethany Baptist church and society will hold a dime social this evening at the residence of S. S. Chapman, 710 Third street. Refreshments will be served, and everyone may have the pleasure of having his profile likeness taken for the small sum of 5c. This is cheaper than a motor ride to Omaha. The public is cordially invited.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

For Iowa Shippers.

Acting President Hancock of the Union stockyards, has issued the following letter of interest to all Iowa stock shippers: UNION STOCK YARDS COMPANY, SOUTH OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 15.—Referring to my letter of August 20, '89, I find that Chicago & Northwestern No. 39 is not a very satisfactory train to load live stock in for western Iowa, and I have arranged with Mr. Hopwood, superintendent of the Chicago & Northwestern, to handle live stock on his fast train No. 15, that leaves Jefferson, La., on Council Bluffs at 9 A. M., and arrives at Omaha at 9 P. M. I trust that there will be sufficient stock on this train every night to justify the Union stockyards in handling live stock between Council Bluffs and South Omaha.

A Successful Methodist Society.

The entertaining ladies of the Methodist Episcopal congregation never did better nor had a more successful social than that held in the church, Thursday evening, at a well-attended reception to the new pastor, Mr. David Marquette, and his wife. The reception committee was quite as successful in receiving and entertaining the guests as was the literary and musical programme in the evening. The ladies of the church are to be congratulated on their success in banqueting them. To add to the interest of the occasion, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Dawson, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Young and Misses Maria and Sarah J. Rowland, Mary Rogers and Lou Rogers and Mr. J. P. Cuoer and Master Dole Dawson, of Omaha, were present.

berian lapis lazuli, malachite, phoenites and jade.

Tables, mantels, vases, clocks and other articles are made from these valuable stones. The lapis lazuli is the most costly, but its dull blue is less beautiful than the malachite, with its brilliant greens, shades from almost black through vivid grass-green to nearly white. With these tints nature has wrought a pattern in graceful whorls and scrolls, suggesting the ripples on a pool when a pebble is dropped into it. The polish taken by the stone is exquisite.

One malachite vase in this collection is valued at $2,000 francs. The tables and stands range in price from $80 to $5,000 francs. The tops of the tables are of malachite, each being apparently a single slab, but a closer inspection reveals that they are of numerous small pieces very nicely joined together, maintaining the beauty of a very intricate natural pattern.

A fireplace and mantel, made of various Siberian stones in combination, is an especially notable feature of the display. The rich tints of the stone are brought out in strong relief, and the work exhibits great skill and taste on the part of the artisans. The mantel is malachite, while across the front and sides are designs in differently colored, highly polished Jasper.

Statues of fruit, done in stone, stand out from the Jasper base; raspberries in rhodinite; cherries in crocidolite; clusters of purple grapes in amethyst; and green grapes in jade, all so true to life that one's mouth almost waters at sight of these deliciously ripe fruit. The price of the fireplace is $10,000 francs.

An entire saloon, done in malachite, must indeed be a resplendent apartment. Statues of the gentleman and lady in charge of the exhibit described to us in terms of much enthusiasm. It is in the palace of a Russian nobleman, Count von Dervis, at St. Petersburg. The dimensions are twenty-five feet in length, thirty feet in breadth, and thirteen feet in height.

The furniture of the room is made of the same green stone, and the entire cost is quoted at 60,000 roubles.
