OUR FRIENDS, made during the time we have been with you, are as numerous as the hairs of the head, and we feel confident our methods of dealing with them, namely: squarely, honestly. uprightly, marking all goods in plain figures, and adhering closely to ONE PRICE, which is invariably the lowest that can be placed on the goods, has made these friends.

A WOMAN BRUTALLY BEATEN.

Eva Catlin is Almost Stamped to Death. BILL LEEPER'S JEALOUSY

The Woman Lies in an Insensible Condition, and it is Thought Cannot Survive - Leeper is Arrested.

Is Be a Murderer? "I have come in here to die, please do not put me out."

This was the plea of Eva Catlin, a colored woman of easy virtue, who is now lying at the point of death in Mrs. Johnson's boarding house on Tenth street near Capital avenue. No sooner had the bruised and bleeding woman reeled into Wright's saloon on Douglas street than she was thrown out bodily by the proprietor.

Eva was in Wright's saloon talking and drinking with men about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. Her lover, Bill Leeper, entered and after taking in the situation his anger became so great that he could scarcely control his tempor. "Come outside, Eva, I want to tell you something," he said. The woman followed him into the back yard and a brutal scene onsued. Leever knocked the woman down, stamped on her, beat her with his fist, and with some sort of an instrument almost cut one of her eyes clear from the socket.

Eva's internal injuries will probably prove

After getting up the woman went into the saloon, but was thrown out.

Leeper ran away, and escaped until ar-rested by Officer Dempsey at noon. The charge against him is assault with intent to Both the parties are colored.

portant changes will be made in the Union Pacific offices at Sioux City to-day. Under the present arrangements, only a general agency is maintained at that point. To-day the company will open up a city ticket office at No. 513 Fourth street. The freight and passenger business will be under the supervision of D. M. Collins eneral age George E. Another Victim of the Wreck. Another victim of the Burlington wrack at Gibson has been discovered. Her name is Mrs. M. E. Besier, and her place of residence is in the cast. When the injured were brought to this city, she was at first taken to the hospital. About one hour afterward she was taken to the home of a friend on Davenport street near Twenty-second, where bake remains owing to her injuries. The officials of the Burlington state that they knew nothing of the case until late Tuesday afternoon. No report was made of the wo-man having been sent to the hospital. The extent of Mrs. Besier's inturies has not yet been ascertained, but it is thought that they are not serious. The Burlington has finally effected a settlement with Charles Larue, who was in-jured in the wreck at Gibson, and the victim has returned to his home and family at Craig, Mo.

Larue, it will be remembered, was among Larue, it will be remembered, was almost those seriously injured, and who, immedi-ately after the wreck, was taken to St. Jo-seph's hospital. The company settled with Larue by paying him $100 in cash and bear-ing all of his expenses while at the hospital. No settlement has yet been made with H. Weller, of the Richardson Drug company, and that gentleman is yet confined to hu apartments. His injuries are said to have been very severe.

The Rio Grande to Ogden.

Traveling Passenger Agent Tibbits, of the Denver & Rio Grande, states that the combination, resulting from the extension of the Colorado Midland so as to connect as a stand-ard guage with the Rio Grande Western, is a project of the Denver & Rio Grande in which it will have a direct line to Ogden and Salt Lake. Since the work of making the Sait Lake. Since the work of making the line a standard guage road was begun, there has been much conjecture as to what line was thought to be a Burlington deal, but nothing definite in that direction could be ascertained. Mr. Tibbits states that the Rio Granda is at the back of it and that his in.

Grande is at the back of it and that his information came from official sources.
