HE PUMPS WELL.

Senator Manderson Speaks on Several Interesting Matters. Senator Manderson returned from Washington yesterday and shortly after his arrival was met at the Millard. "I have nothing in the shape of news about matters at the capital not already known," said the senator. "The speakership is absorbing more attention, of course, than anything else and will be the chief topic of interest until settled."

"How do you regard the situation?" "Well, Reed and McKinley are the strong candidates. Each has his own special strength and neither commands enough to elect him. This naturally leaves the friends of other aspirants, for instance, Heverson and Canon, very hopeful. They anticipate that after it has been fully demonstrated that neither Reed nor McKinley can be elected unless the support of one or the other, it will be much easier for them to effect a combination favorable to one of the lesser lights. As a matter of fact, however, either Reed or McKinley can control his followers sufficiently to keep them from going to the other. So far as I have been able to ascertain, the contest is very close, and I think the republican members will hold their first caucus about the 25th of this month."

"According to reports, senator, you had quite a tilt with the civil service commissioner, Moran?" "Oh, the little affair was considerably magnified. I did however, enter a complaint against having a physician to the Omaha-Winnebago Indian agency appointed from another state and credited to Nebraska, because we have enough good and competent men of our own who are entitled to all places that belong to us. The interview lasted about two hours, and probably I did some plain talking. Mr. Moran's excuse for his action was that he could not find any application on file, recommended by the Nebraska delegation."

"I asked him how he expected the delegation recommended when they had not been notified that a vacancy was to occur." "He regrets the affair very much, and on my arrival home I had a letter from him stating that he would like to see me when I return to Washington." "There is nothing new in regard to Nebraska appointments. I said nothing to the president about changes in either the Omaha justice or the United States district attorneyship. There are no complaints against the present incumbent, and probably nothing will be done regarding them until after congress meets."

"I called to see Attorney General Miller about appointing the title to the new site for Fort Omaha, but he was not in the city. This matter is now in his office, and its delay is due entirely to the pressure of business."

"What do you mean talk about to-day brother Julius?" "Oh, he told 'bout Samson beat the Philistines, or you know I must cry to think them poor cretters couldn't get no Salvation Oil!" "I have a new remedy for coughs! Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has stood the test for forty years."

LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE. Judge Dundy's Suggestion to Possible Dissenters. Judge Dundy made a pertinent remark yesterday morning on complaints which, it is expected, will be made against the reappraisal of property on the new postage site. "It will stand those fellows well in hand," said his honor, "to keep their eyes open about appealing from the awards. If they try to appeal, it will require sixty days time to get their cases ready for trial. This would involve them into January, and transfer their hearing from Omaha to Lincoln, where the court will then be in session."

Furthermore, I can tell Mr. Hitchcock and Mr. Byron that it will be a very hard matter for them to get a jury composed of men from all parts of the state, who can be convinced that any lot of ground in that block is worth $20,000."

"That is a fact," replied Mr. Henry Estabrook, "and you know I must cry to think them poor cretters couldn't get no Salvation Oil!" "I have a new remedy for coughs! Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has stood the test for forty years."
