A New Paper at Hastings.

Hastings is to have a new daily paper, which will be issued in about two weeks The new journal will be republican in politics and will be conducted by Walt Mason and John W. Kinsella, of the Omaha Demo crat. The former will have the editorial, and the latter the business management. It is claimed that the parties who are behind the movement are men of means, and that a first-class paper will be issued.

The New Consolidated.

The capital stock of the Omaha Street Railway company at present amounts to over $4,000,000 and is to be increased soon to $5,-000,000. The bonded debt amounts to $2,000, 000. About $4,000,000 has been spent in making the system what it is.

Business Failures.

J. W. Walker, a Howard street produce commission merchant, secured his bankers, the Omaha National, in $3,800, by chatte. mortgage. They took possession of his stock and accounts yesterday, and were at ouce garnisheed by the Davis Milling company of St. Joseph, Mo., for $1,800, on past due claims.

Mr. Walker is well known in Omaha and throughout the state and was formerly man-ager of the Union Cattle Company. He is known to be a man of strict integrity and his statement that his assets are largely in excess of his liabilities made recently to the mercantile agency is not doubted.

It is understood that he will liquidate his debts at one hundred cents and return to his position with the Union Cattle company, His unsecured liabilities are of small amount.

Announcements.

Robert Downing will appear at the New Grand on Friday and Saturday with the usual Saturday matinee, opening his engagement with Sheridan Knowles' sublime tragedy "Virginius." At the Saturday matinee "Count Claudio," which is an adaption of Maria Coveil's strong novel the "Vandetta" and which has met with marked success wherever it has been given, will be produced. For the Saturday evening's per-formance another of Mr. Downing's latest successes will be put on, the title of which is "The White Pilgrim," and adaption of Herman Charles Manuale's beautiful poem of the same name. Mr. Downing is a prime favorite and a large business should be done. There will be no advance in prices for this engagement. The sale of reserved seats will

Preparations for the Coming Display.

The executive board of the Western Art association held its regular meeting at Mr. G. W. Laninger's Tuesday night. The entire evening was taken up in discussing the oming exhibition and perfecting arrangements for it.

Mr. Fred Knight reported that the exhibition committee had examined a number of rooms in various buildings about the city and recommended that the exhibition be held in THE BEE building. Mr. Rosewater had generously offered the society the free use of five rooms on the second floor of THE BEF building at the north end. Mr. Knight stated that these were the most conveniently arranged and best lighted conveniently arranged and best lighted rooms in the city and the committee were of the opinion that the offer should be accepted. The board concurred in the opinion of the committee and decided to noid the exhibition at that place, opening Monday evening, November 18, and continuing one week. Ex-hibitors will be requested to have their ex-hibits at the rooms not later than the 15thinst. It is also requested that artists send their names and the names of their pictures to Mrs. Mumaugh at once in order that the catalogue may be prepared before the exhi-

It was unanimously decided that medals be awarded instead of money pures, but the proviso that the successful competitor be barred from future competi-tion elicited considerable discussion. Some of the members were of the opinion that the lists should be kept open to all members of the association without reference to their success. After arguing the matter for some time, however, the members agreed on the provision, and as the matter now stands, the society will offer a gold medal for the best society will offer a gold medal for the best werk in oil, the winner to be prohibited from further competition in the oil class.

The advisability of the secrety offering a medal in the water color and china decorating class was discussed at some length, but it was thought best to have but one society medal. Mr. Lininger announced that he would offer a medal, to be known as the "Lininger medal," for the best water color, and Mr. Fred Knigt offered a medal, to be known as the "Right medal," for the best work in the "Knight medal," for the best work in tne "Knight medal," for the best work in china decorating. These prizes are subject to the same rule, regarding the winner, as

The next step was to decide that not more than three "honorable mentions" may be given in each class. The judges will decide whether or not there are exhibits worthy of this distinction.

The question of judges was next taken up and the exhibition committee were instructed to appoint three judges. There will be no secrecy concerning the judges, but they will be announced, and it is proposed to select men who are above suspicion and not sus ceptible to "bulldozing."

The details of the exhibition having been arranged, the board considered the momentous question of providing some sort of enter-tainment for the coming season. A course of lectures was suggested, and Miss Butterfield, of the committee on entertainment, re-ported that three gentlemen in Chicago had been communicated with, and could be secured to give lectures on art during the winter, They are Prof. Paine, an artist of high standing, who was educated abroad and is one of the most prominent members of the Chicago association; Prof. Spread, the originator of the Art institute in Chicago, and Prof. Platt.

The committee were empowered to make arrangements and dates with the above gen-tlemen and were also instructed to secure several local art critics to deliver lectures to the society at short intervals. The names of several gentlemen in the city, who are thoroughly posted on art matters, were sug-gested, and a most entertaining course of ectures will soon be announced. The association proper will hold its regular meeting at Lininger's gallery next Tuesday evening, at which time a full attendance is desired.

MADE A BRIEF CALL.

General Crook Spends a Few Hours in Omaha En Route East.

General Crook arrived in Omaha from Fort Leavenworth yesterday morning and deat 4 o'clock, from where, after a brief stop, he will return to Washington. The general is accompanied by Captain C. S. Roberts, one of his aids. They have been out on a tour of inspection among some of the western posts, principally Fort Lewis, the new fort at Denver and Fort Leavenworth. Some time ago an order was issued from the war depart-ment, abolishing three or four posts, among them Lewis; but it will not be possible to move the few troops stationed there, said General Crook, before next winter. In conequence thereof provision .s being made for heir maintenance and comfort at that point during the winter. Work at the new fort near Denver is pro gressing nicely, according to Captain Rob erts the buildings are nearly all completed and the troups to be stationed there will have very satisfactory quarters.

As General Crock could only remain in Omaha a few hours he took advantage of the opportunity to see as many of his old friends as possible. He visited department head-quarters in The Ben building, briefly, shook hands with General Brooke and staff then went to lunch with some friends at their residence, where he remained until train

CONGRATULATIONS.

Railway Mail Cierks Smoke the Health of His First Born.

C. M. Cotterman, a railway mail messen ger on the Omaha and Cheyenne run, is rejoicing over his first born, a boy of twelve pounds avoirdupois. He sent a box of cigars to the main office in this city, with an accompanying request that all the other messengers smoke his health, Each man favored with a fine cigar left his card and congratulations written thereon. Some of them were quite pointed, expressive and funny. T. H. Cole advised Mr. Cotterman as follows:

"When he gets big enough to whip his dad send for me." H. Heather puffed heavy columns of blue smoke towards Cheyenne "with the wish that he may be able to 'grip' with the old man some day." J. E. Davis' card bore the suggestive

BYRON REED OBJECTS.

He Will Appeal From the Postoffice Site Appraisment.

Byron Reed entered a complaint yesterday morning against the postoffice appraisement. Judge Dundy asked him to make a statement of his proposed causes for appeal in case the report should be confirmed, but in this he refused to give either the court or anybody else an advantage by asserting that they would be known when the papers were filed.

"Mr. Clerk, are there any written objections on file as to why the other numbers should not be approved," inquired his honor.

"There are none," replied the court.

"Who is your lawyer, Mr. Reed!" was the next query.

"Who is your lawyer, Mr. Reed?" was the next query.

"I have Beckett and Judge Woolworth."

"Well, the time for you to show cause will be extended until Saturday morning,"

Feeling slightly encouraged at this show of fairness in his favor, Mr. Reed arose, approached the beach and announced that he wished the same objections on his property entered on behalf of the Folsom heirs.

"All right, it will be done, and I suppose you are entitled to the usual sixty days in which to file your appeal."

At this somebody ventured a suggestion about further delay, whereupon Judge Dundy earnestly declared his intention of having the report properly made up and forwarded as soon as possible to the secretary of the treasury at Washington. "I have notified treasury at Washington. "I have notified him already that our state law requires the government to make a deposit of the amount called for in this appraisment but I don't presume any of the property owners can draw on it until the appeal cases are settled."

The judge also intimated, apparently for Mr. Reed's benefit, that he would not brook any trifling delays, and unless the causes, which must be shown next Saturday in writing, are good, they may be overruled.

Mr. Reed then left the court room in anything but a pleasant frame of mind to re and thing but a pleasant frame of mind to go and consult his attorneys.

It is understood that his objections will be t is understood that his objections will be based chiefly on the charge of informality in the report as well also as the inequality in valuations placed on his lots as compared with some of the others.

WHO ARE THEY?

A Divorce Suit Which Suggests Awful Possibilities.

While rumaging among the records in the office of the district court, the reporter came across a suit recorded there which attracted his attention and suggested awful possibilities. The suit was an application for divorce and the title reads, "Samuel L. (Rouzee vs William A. Rouzee." The papers in the case were asked for. Clerk Moores colored and stammered and finally said the attorney had them. Upon being pressed, however, he admitted that the papers were on file, but said he had been requested to suppress the said he had been requested to suppress the case and could not give them out. Taking advantage of his temporary absence however, the papers were obtained. The petition sets up that the parties were married at Washington, D. C., January 30, 1870, and lived together as man and wife for about fifteen years. July 30, 1885, the defendant, William, deserted the bed and board of Samuel and has continued absent up to the present time "without just or lawful cause." Samuel therefore prays for a divorce from the erring William.

The question naturally occurs, "Have two men been living together as man and wife!"
This suggests a horrible state of affairs. Some rich developments may be expected when the case is taken up for hearing.

An Easy Way of Saving Money. The saving in an ordinary family of five, by using Walker's Wax Soap, instead of any ordinary soap, is fully ten cents per week on the actual cost of the soap, and probably five times that amount on the wear and tear of the clothes, estimating the saving at 60 cents per week, that would be $31.12 per year, and in twenty-five years with interest would amount to $1,167. Ask your grocer for Walker's Wax Soap.

Friendships in Congress. You can look down from the gallery of either house on intimacies professed opponents like that between Steele and Carline, says a Washington letter to the Philadelphia Record. The ingenuous Mr. Pickwick was not more astonished at the amiable relations of the opposing counsel in the great case of Bardell vs. Pickwick than is the average thick-and-thin partisan by the personal friendliness shown by the hottest craters on the floor for the beidest leaders of the oposition. Every-body knows how intimate Senator Cameron and Senator Butler, of South Carolina, are. How they talk together in the senate, lunch together, drive together and hunt and fish together, in closer bonds than either is with any party friend. Allison's friendship with Beck, and Reed's with Randall, are perhaps not so generally known. Hawley has many friends on the Democratic side, and so have Sherman, Morrill, John P. Jones, Evarts, Aldrich, Hale, Sawyer, Spooner and Manderson, while Wade Hampton, Vance, Colquitt, Payne and McPherson are equally popular on the republican side. Even Edmunds and Hoar have had their friends among the democrats. Hoar still keeps his, but Edmunds seems to grow more reserved continu-ally. He misses Thurman from the democratic side. They were great cronics. John De Long was the most popular republicad on the democratic side of the house. McKinley and Reed are both liked there, and so is Butterworth. Carlisle is, of course, the most popular democrat on the republican side, and then come the Breckinridges and Mills-yes, Mills, the particular target of every republican speaker.

A Preventive for Croup There no longer exists any doubt but croup can be prevented. True croup never appears without warning, and if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as directed as soon as the first indication of croup appears, it will invariably dispell all symptoms of the disease This can always be done if it is kept at hand, 50 cent and one dollar bottle, for sale by all druggists.

A New Tr atment of Hear: Disease, It is well known that at a certain stage of heart disease dropsy inevitably sets in: Prof. German See, of Paris, has long been experimenting with a view to discover what element in milk rendered it such an admirable agent to stimulate the kidneys, increase the flow therefrom, and hence prove of such great service in dropsies. The con-viction which he arrived at was that the one important element is sugar of milk. Acting on that theory he selected twenty-live patients with heart disease, in all of which there was more or less dropsy. To each he gave 100 grammes of the sugar of milk a day, dissolved in two quarts of water. In all these cases a marked effect on the kidneys was felt within twenty-four to forty-five hours, and the dropsies diminished rapidly, and after eries of treatment lasting from six to eight days, almost all such swellings disappeared. This discovery is regarded as one of the most important which has been made in the medical world in years.

Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of urio acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony: -

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertise-ment in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing com-plaint after long suffering, by taking plaint, after long suifering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

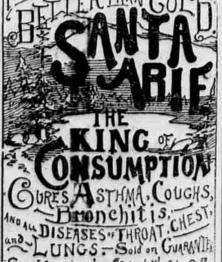

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health.
I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A.
