

THE DAILY BEE.

E. ROSEWATER, Editor. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION...

A MERITED REBUKE.

Nine years ago Iowa was the banner republican state. The state which gave James A. Garfield eight thousand majorities in 1880, has gone democratic in 1890...

Other like combinations threatened by the same laws that have driven these to the wall, the outlook is certainly most promising for an early end to combine for controlling the production of the country...

OMAHA AS A CATTLE MARKET.

There was a time when Council Bluffs and Omaha were rivals for commercial and industrial supremacy in the Missouri valley. In those days jealousy and contention were so intensely engrained upon the popular mind that a word in favor of Omaha from any prominent man or paper at Council Bluffs would have aroused a storm of indignation...

ticket could be trusted to deal fairly with the people on the transportation question. It is equally true as to all the other states that local issues were uppermost in the popular mind, and that the tariff question played an insignificant part everywhere.

This result of the county election clears the field for the city campaign. The lesson of the returns is a warning to the republican party that success can only be secured in a close contest by placing reputable men on the ticket...

Colonel Carson, the able Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, appears to have a very good chance of being elected clerk of the next house of representatives. He is thoroughly qualified for the position, has the necessary vigor and energy for its somewhat arduous duties, and is very popular.

General Gentry's retrospective view of last year's work of the weather bureau indicates a storm moving in the direction of Washington. Dubious clouds hover over the treasury, and the temperature is falling rapidly in the bureau list. Signals of distress have been ordered at the methods to warn congress of the coming gale...

The modified Australian system of voting was a pronounced success in Massachusetts. Nebraska will probably emulate in the experiment within the next two years.

THE SUGAR TRUST DECISION. The supreme court of New York has affirmed the decision of Judge Barrett, rendered some months ago, ordering the dissolution of the North River sugar refining company, one of the corporations in the sugar trust.

THE BEE was the only daily in Omaha and in the district that upheld the non-partisan judiciary principle, and the result shows that in almost every instance that THE BEE expresses the sentiment of the people.

DEMOCRATIC candidates for city offices are blooming at an alarming rate. The result of the county election fills them with the belief that they can carry everything. It is possible that the voters will fool them a trip.

JUST where the county poor house management lands in the shuffle is yet to be determined. The new county board must make a clean sweep of the barabaras infesting county affairs and place reputable men in subordinate positions.

FOURAKERISM in Ohio, Mahonianism in Virginia, Tom Plattism in New York and prohibition in Iowa are responsible for Tuesday's defeat. When the party drops side issues and sticks to the principles in which it was cradled, it will do away with disasters in off years.

EX-SECRETARY BAYARD will have the hearty congratulations of his fellow-citizens upon his marriage to Miss Clymer, and there are none but will wish the couple many years of happiness. Mr. Bayard is still a vigorous man, who should have years of usefulness before him.

RIGID economy is the watchword in North Dakota. The new state officials are not at the threshold with a deficit in revenue, which will prevent the extravagance from rushing through the legislature reckless schemes.

With the American Cotton Seed Oil company abandoning the trust form and securing a legal status, the sugar trust forced to dissolution by the courts, and...

A STATE OF UNCERTAINTY.

Caused by the Agitation of Prohibition in Nebraska.

WHAT IT HAS DONE IN IOWA.

A General Depression of Property and Stagnation of Business—If Prohibition is Defeated in Nebraska a Great Boom Will Follow.

An Interview with an Iowa Man.

Mr. W. G. Altright, one of Omaha's most successful real estate men, has returned from California and will remain in the city for a few days. "Why are you not pushing your business in Omaha at the present time?" he was asked. "Because it is unprofitable," he replied. "During the first six weeks of this year I had more inquiry for property than I had during the entire year of 1888. When it was voted to submit prohibition business stopped, and since then it has been very quiet."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

Under county, was caught by a car-woman in a 300-foot well and buried under seven feet of earth. The man was sent for John McNamara, of Council, an experienced well-digger, who hurried to the scene, and after seven hours' work succeeded in rescuing the man. The man's head was badly injured, but he recovered and was discharged. It had not been for McNamara's skillful work Haskett would undoubtedly have perished.

Flour is to be supplied with water from a 100-foot well which is now being bored. The ladies of Darvontown have presented the Young Men's Christian association with a fine piano.

Henry Bartram, living near Muscatine, purchased a piece of red June apples from his trees last week.

A woman who abuses her invalid wife has been threatened by White Caps. The woman has been confined to her bed for several weeks.

Colonel Carson, the able Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, appears to have a very good chance of being elected clerk of the next house of representatives.

The South Dakota Educational association will hold its annual session at Yankton, Dec. 15, 16 and 17.

The Redwater irrigation canal will be six to ten feet wide at the bottom and four to six feet deep. It will be the largest irrigating ditch in the United States, if not in the world.

The St. Louis expedition was wanting, the suppression of information regarding it would be enough. This conduct is characteristic of commercial, not of scientific, enterprise.

James Linhart and James Stetel left Minot on Monday. The following day Stetel's body was found by the roadside between Minot and Grafton with his neck dislocated and his head bruised.

During President Cleveland's administration the Republic was established at Wales, Harleigh county, and J. P. King appointed postmaster at the magnificent salary of $5 per year. King got tired of his position and asked President Harrison to discontinue the office or appoint another postmaster.

William Harrier, living near Minnesota, had his right leg almost severed by a hay knife which had become entangled in one of the wheels of his wagon. He was in front of his house when the accident occurred. He dragged himself into the house, bound up the wound, and rode bareback to Minnesota for medical aid. Just as he reached the office of a doctor he fell from his horse a corpse.

OLD WAR CRIES.

What the Medieval Fighters Used to Shout in Battle. Between the war cries common throughout Europe in the middle ages and the war songs of the late centuries there is a wide difference, says the Nineteenth Century, although the object, which was to animate the troops by some common and endeared subject of reference at the moment of attack, remains the same.

STATE AND TERRITORY.

Nebraska Jottings. Broken Iowa young men have organized a business league and are preparing to start a business school.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wallinga, for more than a quarter of a century residents of Grand Island, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary last evening in a fitting manner.

Two masked men robbed Oliver Nettleton, a coal dealer and living north of Wauwatu. They entered his house, it a light, waded him up, and fired three or four shots, one of which entered his stomach. Then they compelled him to get out of bed and one of them covered him with his shooting iron while the other one extracted $100 from the safe. They fled. Then they made him stand night and left.

Maurice Hookst, living near Redford, had his right leg almost severed by a hay knife which had become entangled in one of the wheels of his wagon.

There was during the submission and carrying of prohibition. I readily remember that in the winter of 1890, when the state was in a most prosperous condition, cities were building up rapidly, farms were being improved, and there was a general air of prosperity. Shortly after prohibition was carried there came a general depression. Real estate in Des Moines, which had been booming, took a decided drop, and it became almost impossible to sell anything at any price.

"It certainly does not. A great injustice has been done under the present law in Iowa. It has destroyed the private property of those who had invested their money in good faith, and had worked hard to build up communities. Advertisements had been sent out over the state to Germany and other foreign countries showing the great advantages of the soil and other advantages, and foreigners were invited to come to Iowa and buy home land. Low, Germans came in three, purchased land, paid their bills, established credit, and had on a large amount of money, and a great deal of hard work to get a vineyard in proper state for producing. The grapes will not bring more than 10 cents a bushel, and consequently they have to manufacture wine. Then it requires several years to properly raise the wine, and the grapes are lost to the owners, and thousands of people are ruined. Private stock was confiscated and destroyed, and no compensation was granted for the same. I regard the present law as an offence to the state, and thousands of dollars have been lost without any remuneration being given to the owners, and thousands of people are ruined. Prohibition is causing a general depression, and it is causing a general depression, and it is causing a general depression."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

What do you think of Omaha's outlook? "Comparing Omaha with other cities of the west, I am convinced that we have never had a genuine real estate boom here, but that the time will come if prohibition is defeated, when we will have a boom which will surpass anything that the most sanguine citizen ever imagined."

FOR washing the hair, only the very best of soap and pure water should be used. The average soap contains too much free alkali, which draws the natural oil from the hair and scalp, and leaves the former harsh and lustreless, while it roughens the latter, causing scurf or dandruff. The purity and mildness of the Ivory Soap gives it pre-eminence for cleaning the hair and scalp. It contains no free alkali, so its use insures a clean and healthy head of hair of the lustre and softness of silk.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory"; they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Advertisement for PEARL TOP LAMP with text: "THE BEST OF COLOGNES" and "MADE ONLY IN THE WORLD".