Frank Sloan and Jerome Pentzel, two of the jurors in the case of Edward Ore, the boy who stole a lot of clothing from a Murray house guest, took exception to the article which appeared in THE BEE relative to the verdict returned in that case. They state that the prosecution produced the owner of the goods and Landford Silaway to prove the value of the articles stolen, and claim that Mr. Silaway was not as well qualified to judge of the value of second-hand clothing as the members of the jury were. They claim that their verdict was in accordance with the actual value of the goods.

She already has eight pieces in her repertoire, and will add another, an entirely new one, before leaving Omaha.

FOURTH WARD REPUBLICANS.

A Lively Time Over the Naming of a Proxy.

About sixty members were present at the meeting of the Fourth ward republican club last night. Moses O'Brien, president. The object of the gathering was the election of seven delegates to be voted for at the republican primaries next Wednesday.

The primary object of the meeting was accomplished without any trouble whatever. Fred Gray, P. E. Moore, E. Rosewater, Elijah Dunn, M. Goldsmith, R. D. Daneau and Moses O'Brien being chosen delegates.

Then the trouble began. It seems that J. H. Webster and Pat Hawes, two of the members of the central committee, have moved out of the ward. The former is an enthusiastic Broatch man—at least he so declared himself—and wished to give a proxy to some one who coincided with him. In order to satisfy Mr. Broatch that everything was all right, he proposed to give a proxy to a man who would allow him to select either Justice Anderson or Moses O'Brien.

In the meantime J. K. Sadborough had understood from Webster that he was to have the proxy. Later, when Webster learned that O'Brien and Anderson were opposed to Broatch, he decided to give the proxy to his proxy. Last night he gave it to A. P. Nicholas.

Sadborough was somewhat aggrieved over Webster's action, and reproached him for not keeping his word. When he had finished his statement Webster arose to finish his position. He said he had been in favor of Broatch, and did not want to give his proxy to an anti-Broatch man. When Webster had concluded the anti-Broatch motion, A motion was made to spread Sadborough's remarks on the record. Some one moved to put Webster's remarks on the record. The first motion carried, the second did not, for Webster objected.

A motion to select the judges and clerks for the primaries was lost, it being decided to postpone until next Tuesday night. The meeting then adjourned and the trouble began.

R. D. Daneau accused Webster of borrowing $15 from him to work in Broatch's interest, and Webster retorted by saying that Daneau had said that he need not mind the cash, as Broatch would pay it back. Daneau then retorted that Webster was a liar, and Webster retorted by calling Daneau a gentleman.

Then Joe Van Alstien got up and resigned as a member of the club, and was invited to get up by all the members present. Some one shouted harmony, and the meeting adjourned amid a perfect din of exclamations.

Second Ward Republicans. The republicans of the Second ward will hold a meeting at 1423 South Thirtieth street this evening at 8 o'clock to make arrangements for the primaries and discuss other important business connected with the coming city election.

Second Ward Democrats. About forty of the Second ward democrats met at the corner of Sixth and Williams last night for the purpose of organizing a democratic club. Mr. William Holmes was made temporary chairman, and Mr. Daniel O'Connell, secretary.

Chairman Mulvihill delivered an address in response to a resolution, when his election was announced. He said he was duly thankful for the honor conferred upon him, and predicted the defeat of the republican party and the triumph of the democratic party.

Secretary O'Connell made a short speech, advocating a permanent club in the Second ward, and dwelt on the necessity of putting good men in the field at the coming election. It occurred to some of the members that they needed a few more vice presidents, and it was moved to change the number to three. John F. Murphy and John Schroeder were then elected to be vice presidents.

A bill of laws was presented to the club by John Fuchs, which was read and provided among other things, that there should be a captain appointed in each precinct to take charge of the registration and election lists in that precinct, and to see that no one is getting out a full vote.

A committee on patronage was also proposed, for which to investigate the corrupt practices in the ward who holds a public office and report his ability, etc.

A committee, consisting of Messrs. William Holmes, John Schroeder and John Fuchs, was appointed to consider the constitution and by-laws and report.

A bill of laws was then taken to allow those present to sign the roll of the club. Vice President Riebe announced that the democratic city central committee will meet to-night at Julius Meyer's rooms on Farman street, and suggested that a committee be appointed to see if the place for holding the primaries can be changed to a more central place. It is now at Sixteenth and Vinton streets, at the south end of the ward. He moved that a committee be appointed to call on the central committee and ask that the place be changed.

The chair suggested to put the motion to a vote, but it was not carried. The committee on constitution and by-laws, mentioned above, will report to-night at the meeting of the club.

The Club Not Incorporation. Constables Sullivan and Lane, of the Eighth ward, called at the BEE office last night to state that a meeting of the Eighth ward republican club was held last night, and that several propositions to endorse candidates for the mayoralty were proposed. Among the candidates mentioned were A. L. Strong, William P. Bechel and Mayor Broatch. The club adjourned without taking any action, whereupon Dennis Lane and several others went into secret session on the matter. The gentlemen wished it stated that whatever action was taken, the Eighth ward republican club was not responsible.

Cruelty to Animals. Omaha, Nov. 15.—To the Editor of THE BEE: In a city like Omaha, where there are so many kind hearted and liberal minded people, why does not some one take up the cause of the street cat horse; where are the high and mighty of the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

What is especially referred to is the treatment of the horses on the West Farman street car line which has the most bills and is one of the longest lines. On any slippery morning (sometimes during the day they sand the tracks) you can see the poor beasts struggling up the long hill, slipping, falling and injuring themselves more or less and surely it hurts any humane person to witness this.

The majority of the drivers treat the horses as kindly as possible, though there are exceptions in this which are in all others; however, this may be said in their extenuation, that when a man's bread and butter depends on his making certain time, regardless of the condition of the roads, he is not to think the horse can stand blows better than the man go hungry. In the hills in the business part of town there is an extra horse to help pull the car up the incline, but on the hill at the top of the incline, the horse is not to be allowed to rest, but to keep on going until it is worn out.

It is a pity that the humane people of Omaha do not take up the cause of the street cat horse, and do something to relieve their suffering.

Yours truly, A. G. BEECHAM.

IN its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of this disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had constant cough, which was greatly reduced in a few days, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—J. H. Edson, M. D., Middletown, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Richard, Darion, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board consulted me, and advised me to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. YOU ARE FOOLING

Away money if you buy an overcoat without looking at our stock. Our assortment overshadows everything of its kind in the city. Never in all the years that we have been in business have we had such vast quantities of fine and elegant overcoats, and never were they sold at such low figures. We are in the height of the season, our overcoat department is booming, you will always find it crowded and why is it so? Are the people crowding our store because we give them poorer goods or charge more than others? Would they come to us to buy overcoats that can be had cheaper elsewhere? NOT MUCH! They come here because they know they can save money, and save considerable too, our large business is the result of our ability to buy right and the will to sell right, our large business is the result of fair dealing and of value than you can get elsewhere for your money.

And in no article can we prove that to you quicker than in an overcoat. Clothing Houses as a rule make more profit on overcoats than they do on other goods. It will take but a glance at OUR PRICES to convince you what a great difference there is in the way WE sell overcoats and the way others are selling them. You need but look at the elegant wide wale and all wool cassimere overcoat which we have marked $8, or at the fine chinchilla garment, satin lined throughout, velvet piped and made up in excellent style, which we offer at $8, and hundreds of other garments marked equally as low.
