An Impending Danger.

The minor associations should prepare thomselves. If the worst comes to the worst the National league is sure to make a raid upon the ranks of the leaser hodies. This, nowever, is not probable so long as there exists any uncertainty about the materialization of the brotherhood. But so sure as the brotherhood is a go the American association will coalesce with them, and this would mean a fight between the players and the league and a fight to the bitter end. In self-preservation the league would be compelled to draw ou the minor hodies for the property of the compelled to draw out the minor bodies for the compelled to the c An Impending Danger.

The Popularity of the Game.

Never before in the annals of base ball was so much space allotted to the game by the pig metropolitan dailies. This is simply because base ball as a popular sport is paramount to all other pastimes, and the journal that is substitious to keep up with the day and age cannot afford to slight base ball. Hundreds of men who never go to see a game of ball read all the matter pertaining to the game, and are as well posted simost as the regular pateons of the grounds. Whele pages are given up to base ball, in and out of season, by the great sapers of flection, New York and Philadelphia, while there is hardly a first class newspaper in the country but what devotes columns to the sport.

The minor leagues, although they have al-ways got the worst of it at the hands of the major organizations, will stick stanuchly to the National longue for the preservation of that instrument in which the absolute safety of the national game lies—the unitoual agreement. Some day—I know not when or where—the full importance of the minor leagues will be recognized. Any allegiance with the brotherhood means duaster.

A National Trap Shooting Scheme. The scheme of sending two teans of crack shots to give exhibitions over the country next season was conceived by Charles W. Dimick of Lowell, Mass. The teams have been selected, and their names published in those columns a week ago, with the exception of Frank Parmelee, who has been selected as a member of the Western team instead of Mr. Stice. There is to be forty matches at blue rock targets, the winning team of the series to hold the champlosship of the United States. The first contest will take place at Cinemant, thence the teams will move south to New Orleans and through Toxas to the Pacific coast, a match to be shot in each large city or noute and the series to end in Boston. It will be late in the season before the two teams will be seen in Omnha. For a long time there has been a good natured rivalry between the crack shots of the east and west, and this series of shoots will decide the question.

Cossip Among the Bykers.

Cossip Among the Bykers.

Many of the members of the Omaha Wheel club are wendering why the captain don't call more club runs. The weather has been exquisitely beautiful and the roads never in finer condition, and yet the boys have been called upon but once or twice this fall for exercise of this kind. If the captain is not inclined to go on these pilgrimaces himself, what is the matter with the lieutenants! Aren't they able to lend a squad of wheel men! These runs used to be of a recularly weekly occurrence, and every pleasant Sunday would see a very iroop of bykers wending their way from out the city. And is there anything more delightful, more healthful and invigorating than one of these quiet runs through the lovely rural districts on a baimy Sunsay? I think not. Of course there are some over-scruptious people who do not consider Sunday cycling just the proper thing, but how it could ever be construed into a since even an offense, I can not migino. It is certainly jost as muce of a wrong to take a gift phrough the country on horseback or a drive in a bugsy, as it is twiced, and I can't see where the objection comes is. The law says the bleycle is as necessary of the wheeled conversed in the say of the wheeled conversed in the say of the wheeled conversed in the say of the wheeled converse in the say of the wheeled conver

There is a report being whispered about that Hilly Townsend, or "Airhole Isilly," as he is known among his conferers of the gan, is in training for a ten-unite race with Frank Mittaur, to come off at the Coliseum within a rew weeks. Any way "Airhole" has had a new ast-pan put in his wheel, and it is evident is getting in reasiness for ame momentous event.

Has Frank N. Charke lost all intorest in wheeling: The day was when he was the puggest toad in the puddle, and the most popular member of the club bosides. The Ramblers are agitating the question of a purely annatur twomanent to be held in the Collscum some time this winter. If all the wheel clubs of the city would take held of the affair, and work it up properly, it would certainly prove a success, but if put in the hands of one or two irresponsible and distributed to the factor of the case with those recent tournaments, it could not fail to be anything but a miserable fasce.

Boston has picked up a promising young backstop in Arthur Shellhasse of the late lamented St. Jons. Manager Selec had his eagic eye on the young man all during the past season and intended to make an effort to sign him for Omaba.

When the Omaba management starts out to adcomplish a purpose it is generally successful, and President McCornics and his able aides-de camp, Ed Brandt and Harry McCornick, together with Manager Leonard have set about to corral the pennant winners for 1901.

The Denver News says of the Bostons and Comiskey's California aggregation: "Foggs" Crooks probably received the greatest ovation of any of the visitors. He is sore on Omaha and says: "Omaha made all sorts of promises should they win the pennant. Well, they wan the pennant and the boys got much or in other words nothing but promises."

Well, they win the peanant and the boys got mud, or in other words nothing but promises.

The Journal has little grounds for sureasm, The Her has predicted all along that Kanass City, If she wanted hase ball, would be compelled to come back into the Western association or go into the Missouri and Kanass league. She was at the tail end in the American race, and would have been kicked out bodily hadn't she so apportunely resigned. The prospects for a new ball park are growing brighter and brighter every any, and base ball nations are delighted at the prospect. If the site now under consideration is secured the cracks will be compolied to travel a little less than half as far as last season, and they can have their choice, motor, horse car or cable for a convoyance. Ans.—The proposed tax, as advocated by the Forest and Stream, American Field and other aportsman's journals is blaced at $1 on each gun. This tax is for the purpose of raising a fund to pay for game wardens to be appointed by the state's commission on game and fish for each state. All honest sportsmen realized that some new and healthy legislation is absolutely essential or our game will be exterminated, and the paid game warden system is really the only effective one that can be adopted, and to raise the money to pay them, is to be done off the men who hunt and shoot, and it strikes the writer that this is a most feasible proposition. The plantail and appriptail duck amasacutal, are identical.
