THE London Telegraph is doubtful whether any important result can come from the Pan-American project. The the United States was in round figures wish is probably father to the thought in the case of this esteemed trans-Atlantic contemporary.

A move for a federal election law h alrendy been made by the introduction in the senate of bills to make and alter the regulations as to the time, pisce and manner of holding elections for representatives in congress. The details of these measures are not at hand, so that we cannot say whether they propose a radical change from the existing system in the election of repre-sontatives, or merely a strengthen-ing and extension of the law, as recommended by the president in his mesnago room,

A FEDERAL ELECTION LAW.

The constitution gives congress abso lute power to devolve on the general government the whole direction and control of the election of members of the house of representatives. The language of the fundamental law iso impginge of the fundamental law is: "The times, places and manner of hold-ing elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the legisla-time threeof, but the congress may at any time, by law, make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of charging sounders." The question is as chousing sonators." The question is as to how far congress may wisely go in giving the general government direc-tion and control of the election of represontatives. In discussing this que resonances, in discussing this ques-tion the president suggested that it unight be sufficient to strengthen and extend the present law, which gives only a partial and qualified supervision of these elec-tions, and expressed the opinion that this would scover, and the whole better this would secure, on the whole, better results than can be attained by a law taking all the processes of such elections into federal control.

atompt in congress to impose addi-tional restrictions upon immigration. Neither the volume nor character of recent immigration offers any reason for additional restrictions. The persistent demand for them comes from sources which are often potent with politicians. While the South Ameri-

cult for them to come to the United States. The question is, has this coun-try attained all the growth and devel-opment if is capable of?

Most people blindly opposed it because, they said, it would benefit Fred Gray, William Wallnee, Max Meyer, John A. Wakefield and other stock-holders of the exposition building. It is not to be doubted that the conervative sentiment of the country will approve this view. No one will question that Peesident Harrison as strongly de-sires as any republican to secure in every portion of the country a full and Nearly all admitted that we wanted ; market house; that it would be of incal-culable benefit to the city; but they fair expression of the popular will in the election of members of the house of representatives, or that would not take the exposition building off the hands of the owners for sixty-five thousand dollars, although its cost was nearly one hundred thousand and he is not as anxious as any member of his party that colored citizens shall everywhere be protected in their polit-ical rights. LET THEM GO SLOW. The law governing the laws of school district bonds only requires a majority of the votes cast on any proposition to make the bonds valid. While the total vote on the school bond proposition voted for at the city election is only about sixty per cent of the total vote cast for the city ticket, the bonds never-theless have carried. It is to be hoped, however, that the board of education will not attempt in the face of public opinion to trade off the Hartman and buy a school house site within a few blocks of it for a new school house.

This is manifestly a speculative job. There is no necessity for selling the Hartman school and this is no time to sell it. The whole the number of immigrants who entered the United States was in round figures four hundred and twenty-two thousand, scheme bears evidence of jobbery on its face. The board has enough leeway for real estate deals already. The leeway for

Some other way of dis-posing of the valuable privilege, more advantageous to the government, should be found. The statutes author-ize the scorigtary of the treasury to lease the exclusive right to take fur Those who urge this policy are moved only by the thought of present advant-age to themseives, indifferent to the future development of the country and seals in Thehring sea to re-sponsible marines for a period of twenty years, at an an-nual rontal of not less than fifty thouperiod never reflecting that had such a policy prevailed in the past the United States prevalued in the past the United States would not be the wealthy, powerful and properous nation it is. For the de-sirable classes of the old world-those sand dollars and a revenue tax of two dollars upon each fur-scal skin taken during the continuance of the lease. Under this arrangement the Alaska who now constitute the most industri-ous, thrifty and self-reliant portion of our people-there is still abundant company has grown enormousy rich, and it exercises as much power over Alaska and the natives as the East and they should be given all proper encouragement to come. The existing law is ample for excluding these who are undesirable, and all that India company once exercised over the native population of India. It has been shown to be of the most despotie and exacting character, but even if this were not the case such a monopoly of congress need do is to make adequate provision for its thorough enforcement. THE DOG-IN THE-MANGER SPIRIT. The defeat of the market house prop-osition is another striking illustration trade is in violation of the fair and impartial spirit of this government.

SECRETARY NORTH comes to the resmanger spirit which prevails in this community to an extent that positively ue of the Pacific railroads by arguing in favor of an extension of the debt. He says the government is insufficiently secured and should therefore deal leniever any public enterprise is projected there are always scores of people ready to fight it because it will benefit someontly with the companies by respecting only with the comparies by respecting their wishes. If there was a possibility of the companies paying the debt in half a century there would be some force to the argument. The debts are so great that even without competition the com-nanies could not meet their obligations. It is a scheme to boost the value of stock and anythe the Borten, holden, to exe body. When the city hall was located the stock in trade of its opponents was that it would benefit Rosewater and THE BEE. This class of messbacks never took into account that the city and enable the Boston holders to un load at a profit. It is rank injustice to saddle the productive industries of the gant newspaper building in the world west with the enormous debts piled up by the Credit Mobilier and Central Pa-cific octopus. These corporations have fleeced the government and the people. They should be held strictly to the letter of their contracts, and the producers of the trans-Missouri relieved of the onerous exaction which an extension of credit will necessitate.

THE London Times expresses sur-prise that "the western states do not revolt against the heavy exactions of taxation imposed for the benefit of the cotton and iron workers of the Atlantic states," Advice from that quarter is entirely gratuitous. The London Times never has been known to be friendly to this country. When secession and rebellion were rampant in the south the Times gave concouragement to the energy in the hope that the dissolution of the union would redound to England's advantage. The loopard of 1861 has not changed

In all citics property around parks is the most desirable and valuable for residence purposes. The money expended in beautifying parks increases the value of adjoining prop-orty, thus fully compensating for the land donated. Apart from pecuniary motives, however, such generosity will endear the donors to present and suc-ceeding generations.

OUR contemporaries, as usual, are indulging in more guoss-work in their election returns. We venture to pre-dict that when the official canvass is completed next Monday the figures published in THE BEE will be found to be substantially correct. We still maintain that the republicans have elected four out of the nine councilmen and will have control of the organiza tion of the next council.

THE amateur journalist of the W. H. claims to be very well satisfied with the outcome of the election. But he is not as happy over it as he would like to have people believe. As a nonpartisan he was very enthusiastic for Rush in the W.-H., but as direc-tor of one of the banks in the McShane pool he was for McShane. Way down deep in the recesses of his pocketbook he feels very sore.

For the first time in fifteen years the of the use that is complete control of the executive and legislative branches of the governmont. This is certainly a very satisfactory showing as to the oharacter of the im-migrants. It is possible that the law was not as efficiently enforced as it should be, but this fact would not show that it is not ample for our pro-tection against an invasion of ob-jectionable classes from abroad if faithfully administered. And cer-tainly this can be done. The present policy of leaving the execution of the law to state agencies, under contracts with the secretary age it results in grave difficulties. Disputes arise as to the respective jurisdictions of na-tional and state authorities, and there has been ample evidence showing that some of these state commissions grossly wrong both the government and the immigrants. They have great opportunities to do both, and an investigation of the method of the New Yach version.

THERE is a painful lack of harmony in the epinions of the lower Douglas street hyphon. One side of the sheet insists that the defeat of Lininger was due to republicana "who were detar-mined that no man who was even su-pected of being a friend of Hosewater should warm the seat of a mayor of this city, and we have the result." The opposing section of the staff boldly asserts that "the republicans of the state assorts that "the republicans of the state consider this argument a poor one. Out of town republicans utterly disbelieve this. The idea is give even the devil his due—that instead of Resewater being held up as a dictator, in this par-ticular case, he should be credited by reason of his later work, as the true and loyal supporter of the republican nomi-nee—the nominae of his muty in conuse-the nomines of his party in con-vention assembled." The fighting edi-tor should adjourn the discordant ele-ments to a back room and hammer asthmatic unison into the staff.
