

THE CITY.

Jim Marshall, charged with arson, was held in the district court in the sum of $1,000.

Captain S. R. Cowles, formerly in charge of the transfer steamers of the St. Paul & Omaha between Sioux City and Covington, has been appointed chief inspector of the new steel bridge of that company between the same points.

The Mitchell Meeting. Joseph Barker, Richard Berlin and Joseph Garneau left last evening to attend the railroad meeting at Mitchell.

Motor to South Omaha. This morning the motor company will commence regular service between the city and South Omaha. Trains will leave Sixteenth street and St. Mary's avenue every twenty minutes during the day for South Omaha.

Watch and Blood. A silver watch was picked up at the curbstone in front of Nella King's sporting house last night. There was a pool of blood near it and it is supposed there was a fight, but the police have, thus far, been unable to discover the owner of the time piece.

Run Over. Mrs. S. Lane was run over by a grocery delivery wagon at Eleventh and Harney street yesterday. The team was running away. Mrs. Lane vainly endeavored to avoid them. The wheels passed over her body and one of her horse's hoofs struck her on the head, making a very serious wound.

The police patrol wagon was sent for, but the woman was unconscious and could not tell where she lived. She was then taken to the station and attended by the city physician.

"Lord" Booth Out in the Cold. Evelyn Booth, better known as "Lord Booth," who has been running a saloon on Fourteenth street, is in trouble. He came here some time ago and purchased of Dennis Cunningham the saloon, giving his note and a mortgage of $5,000, secured on the stock. The building he claimed to have rented at $50 per month. But very few payments were made, and Cunningham was forced to put up his mortgage to three live mechanics, after which he sold the saloon to Billy McCune.

The young man is once more on his own resources.

Omaha Must Win or Lose. A mass meeting will be held at the First Methodist Episcopal church on Davenport street, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth, this evening, to formulate plans to defeat the attempt by Chicago to take from Omaha the Methodist general conference of 1892. The reason for immediate action is that in a few weeks the commission having power to change the place of meeting, meets and to that body Chicago will present its claims for the session. Immediate action must be taken and the business men of Omaha, the clergy of all denominations, city officers, and all interested in maintaining Omaha's rights are requested to be present.

New Sidewalks. Sidewalks must be laid on the following streets on or before the 28th inst., otherwise they will be put down by the city and the cost assessed against the abutting property:

North side of Webster street from Thirtieth to Thirty-first street, 6 feet wide. North side of Cumby street from Thirtieth street west to Lowe avenue, 6 feet wide. East side of Twenty-fourth street from the Elkhorn & Missouri railroad track south to Commercial, and on the north side of Commercial street from Twenty-fourth street to Sherman avenue, 4 feet wide. Thirty-sixth street between Farnam and Leavenworth streets, both sides, 6 feet wide, also on the west side of Thirty-first street between Leavenworth and Farnam streets, 6 feet wide.

Death of Mrs. Frank W. Hills. Mrs. Minnie Hills, wife of Frank W. Hills, and daughter of Mr. Henry Brown, quietly passed away at 12:45 p. m. Sunday. The burial will take place at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow from her late residence, 2015 California street.

Mrs. Hills was intelligent, accomplished and devout—a beautiful character, a lovely daughter, a noble wife, a true friend, a kind neighbor, and a good neighborly relation.

She has a choice spirit in a wide social circle, but aside from the family group she adored, she will be missed and best remembered as the faithful organist and faithful worker in the Methodist church.

Mr. Frank W. Hills and all the family have the tearful sympathy of many friends.

Religious Railroad Men. There was a large meeting of railroad men from every branch of the service at Hoyt's opera house Sunday evening to listen to the W. C. T. U. railroad evangelist, Mrs. Jennie Smith of Baltimore, Md. Every seat was filled by earnest, intelligent, interested railroad workers.

Miss Smith recounted her victory through the crucible of suffering which lasted for over ten years and which led her to devote her life to the spiritual uplifting of railroad men and policemen, as they had been her constant benefactors.

For the thorough accomplishment of this work, she proposes to organize a national association of railroad men and their families.

Mrs. Spurlock of Plattsmouth, was introduced and read the proposed constitution. The Rev. Mr. Savage then asked for the approval of the railroad men present, which was granted by raising the hand. It was almost universal.

The leaders feel that it will have an organization perfected and under way in Omaha and feel much encouraged.

The Omaha Theosophists. The annual meeting of the Omaha branch (vedante) of the theosophical society was held at its rooms, No. 245 Sholey block.

For the evening year the following officers were elected: Dr. J. M. Borglum, president; Mr. W. S. Wine, vice president; Mr. T. H. Prater, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. Burness, recording secretary; Mr. C. H. Hendeledfeld, treasurer; Mr. O. Schirmer, librarian.

The retiring president before relinquishing the chair read an address, emphasizing the healthy and harmonious growth of the society during the past year. The retiring treasurer in his annual report showed that the branch had a sound financial standing.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was its well stocked library, consisting chiefly of works on occult science. In order to give the general inquirer an opportunity to make himself familiar with the scope of such matter the room is open from 7 o'clock p. m. to 9 o'clock p. m. on Wednesdays, and from 4 o'clock p. m. to 9 o'clock p. m. on Saturdays.

For the benefit of earnest inquirers open meetings are held every Sunday at 4 o'clock p. m., on which essays bearing on the subjects of theosophism are read and discussed.

The avowed objects of the theosophism are as follows:

1. To form the nucleus of an universal brotherhood of humanity without distinction of race, creed, sex, or color.

2. To promote the study of Aryan and other eastern literature, religious and sciences.

3. To investigate unexplained laws of nature and the physical powers latent in man. This is pursued by a portion only of the membership.

Pleasant to the taste, surprisingly quick in effect and economical in price—no wonder that Dr. Hall's cough syrup is the leading preparation of its kind.

NOT TO CALIFORNIA.

The Great Car Famine on Nebraska Roads.

J. S. Cameron, chief construction manager of the Union Pacific, says that there is absolutely no truth in the reports that his company proposes to extend its Utah Central line into San Francisco.

"I would not condescend to deny the stories, but they are giving us some annoyance and ought to be stopped. The California newspapers have been saying so much about the Union Pacific's movements that our connections out there, the Southern Pacific especially, begins to think we are lying to them. We have never had any intention of building the Utah Central out to Los Angeles."

"Is that a good term for you?" "Yes, I think so. There is population enough in southern California to make a state, which, coupled with Utah and the intervening territory now without railroad accommodations, to give us all the business we can take care of."

"There is just this about the situation: That great stretch of country is becoming more and more valuable. The longer the fact was becoming more evident every day that some one would go in there and build a road through it. We thought that the Union Pacific could better afford to take the lead than to let some outfit which would build merely to sell out, get in."

It has been a difficult matter for us to make the Southern Pacific people understand our position."

Since it has become known that Chief Engineer Hoque proposes to locate his family in San Francisco and live there, every one interested naturally has been wondering what his company intended to eventually construct its line to that city.

This move, however, on the part of Mr. Hoque, declares Mr. Cameron, has no such significance attached to it. The latter has just returned from Salt Lake city, and predicts that the next few months will witness in Utah a repetition of the excitement in railroad building had in Colorado ten years ago.

The Union Pacific is suffering in a business way for want of freight cars. The farmers in Nebraska and Kansas are hauling their corn to market in such great quantities that it is impossible for the railroads to accommodate ships with all the cars they want. As a consequence the grain is being dumped in large piles by the track at nearly every station.

General Manager Dickinson says he could easily use 4,000 more cars, but every western road is in about the same fix. It is, therefore, utterly impossible to get them.

Car Accountant Buckingham is tearing his hair and rushing wildly from one side-track to another all over the system, pressing everything he can get into service and doing his very best to relieve the famishing cry.

Some of the Nebraska railroad managers are beginning to think that they ought to locate their general freight agents in Chicago and let them do nothing but attend association meetings. Miller, Wood and Merchouse of the B. & M., Union Pacific and Elkhorn Valley, have gone there again to wrangle over live stock rates for Kansas.

John Angier, live stock agent for the B. & M., is the proud parent of a son, whom he has named after Harry Deuel.

General Freight Agent Moore has returned from a long siege over freight matters at Chicago.

Seats for Stuart Robinson in "The Henrietta" go on sale Thursday morning.

A BRAZEN FORGER.

A Rustic's Unsuccessful Attempt to Victimize Two Loan Agents.

A bold attempt has just failed to work the Mutual Investment company, as also F. D. Mur, of Mur & Gaylord of this city, each of $1,000 by an attempted fraudulent loan on property near Brownville, in this state.

It seems that W. J. Russell of this city, vice president of the Mutual, received an application for a loan on a sixty-acre farm of Mrs. J. Q. A. Smith for $1,000, signed by herself and as appraisers appeared the names of J. Littell, J. T. Cox, J. H. Crook and Theodore Hill of Nemaha City. It purported to have been sworn to before B. H. Hoadley and had the impression of a notary public. Mr. Russell called upon Mrs. Smith and asked to see the land on which she wanted the loan. She was much surprised and said she had made no application for a loan. He then lent up the appraisers, who said they never had seen the paper before. Then Mr. Hoadley was called upon and pronounced the application a forgery. Some people, he said, had used his seal and made a clever imitation of his signature.

Mr. Frank Muir also had a similar experience, but the boldness of the undertaking is made all the more to appear because the offices of the Mutual company and Mr. Muir adjoin each other.

The application for the blanks was made some time ago. The latter were furnished duly filled out and returned to Mr. Muir. The land was appraised at $1,500, which Mr. Muir considered excessive, as $1,000 would have sufficed to have secured a loan of the amount sought.

The papers also were made out in an unsatisfactory manner and were returned to the writer should return because the application was undoubtedly a fraud.

It is alleged that the forger is spotted and will soon be placed under arrest.

ASPIRING FRAMES.

They Are Anxious to Fill the Commission and Chairman's Seat.

All the members of the county board except Corrigan are candidates for the chairmanship of that body.

Anderson relies upon Turner's voting for him; Turner relies upon Anderson and each hopes that he will be able to secure the vote of Mr. Berlin. The latter, too, is not opposed to being placed in Mr. Mounst's chair, although he has not as yet been admitted to membership in the board and is not supposed to be as familiar with the affairs of the board as the presiding officer should be.

Yet some of those gentlemen, all of whom are republicans, can be elected unless he should vote for himself or secure a vote from the democratic members, O'Keefe and Corrigan.

To secure such a vote is now the object of Messrs. Anderson and Turner. Neither of them can hope to be successful, though it is probable Berlin might be in the event of a tie-up on the part of Turner and his confederates.

O'Keefe's chances of again occupying the chair, his party being in the minority, are not very promising, though it is thought a compromise might be made with Corrigan, Turner and Berlin, O'Keefe voting for the new member of the board.

It is generally held that a great deal depends this year on the voting of the presiding officer, and there is no doubt in the minds of those who know the members of the board, that he will be the one to appoint to the office are capable of satisfying the requirements of the place.

A FLORENTINE MARSHAL.

He Arrests Thirteen Unruly Omahans on a "Fear."

A party of Omaha young bloods while passing through town on their way to a country dance, thought to give it a coat of red paint. The peace and order loving citizens were much disturbed and aroused at 9 o'clock Saturday evening by the firing of revolvers together with promiscuous yelling.

City Marshal M. Daily quickly overtook and arrested the whole party, consisting of thirteen young men, accompanied by a man of the gender sex. The ladies seemed very mood frightened, but were assured protection.

The city council, owing to the absence of Police Judge L. E. Hargraver, has declared that office vacant. It. W. Cowan was appointed to succeed him.

An ordinance making it a misdemeanor for women to enter saloons was passed.

The building-committee for the new eight-room school has decided upon the Smeal system of ventilating and heating. This will cost about $1,400.

Bills for grading the school site were passed. L. J. Lenora was awarded the contract. He does the work for 2 cents per cubic yard.

The attendance of pupils at the schools is still small, but is a gain over preceding weeks.

The young men were taken to the jail, where they put up $10 each for their appearance at the police court on Monday morning.

The following are the names given by the party: Messrs. Hall, Dempster, Faulkner, Stuart, Ebbeser, Cook, Green, Acken, Bedrick, Hill, Smith and Banks.

Cowan & Hall have recently filed a long list of names, namely the putting in of a public telephone in their store.

THE WILD WEST.

A Denial of the Sensational Yarn About Buffalo Bill.

The Associated Press dispatches Sunday contained the announcement that a syndicate of New York capitalists were on the anxious quest regarding the funds they have invested in Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, now on exhibition in Paris. It is claimed that T. C. Crawford and Mr. Cody organized a syndicate in New York city, which put $150,000 in the enterprise, and that Hill went to Paris to water the syndicate's interest. In the first place, the amount of money invested by the syndicate was trivial, and only amounted to enough to send the aggregation across the water and start it going. The syndicate was organized by Crawford, who went to Paris in the syndicate's interest. He has entire charge of the syndicate's interest and is responsible. Mr. Crawford stated that the article referred to was purely sensational and without foundation.

Billy McCune, another friend of Buffalo Bill, confirms Crawford's statements.

CONSUMPTION,

IN its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physicians. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eldon, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was unable to get out of bed. A physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. H.
