The railroad officials of Omaha fared better, probably, on Christmas than any other class of men. Every one of them received presents by the cart load. None, however, came in for a handsomer or more useful sift than J. J. Phillippi, paneral freight and pasenger agent of the Missouri Pacific. The clerks in his office had a fine surprise for him when he reached his office Curistmas morning. In front of the desit used by Mr. Phillippi he found a large leather cristioned casy chair in place of the small, rickety old affair loft, there by alm when he went home Tuesday evening. The people of St. Joe are up in arms over what they imagine is going to be a great less to their town if the Union Pacific company moves the accounting department of its Grand Island branch from St. Joe to the headquarters in this city. As can be ascertained by reading special dispatches in The Rig, steps have already been taken to brevent the move. President Anams has been telegraphed to withhold any order for removal until St. Joe, can be heard through ther board of trade and a protest that will be filled at once.

The Kansas and Nebraska freight troubles have not been settied as yet. Another meeting is to be held in Kansas City to-day. The award of differentials made for these states have been rejected however, and the Kansas reads are now preparing a schedule of rates to carrespond with those adopted by the Nebraska lines December 10.

County Court,
Judge Shields yesterday declared a divi dend of 6 and 51-100 per cent on the estate of Charles G. Havley, who was in the hardware business and made an assignment in February, 1885, with liabilities amounting to $47,000 and assets amounting to $87,000. This is the third divisiond which has been awarded the creditors in this case, Judge McCuiloch having declared a dividend of 8 per cent and Judge Shields making an order for a dividend of 8 and 42-100 per cent on February 20, 1888. The claims of J. A. Hawley and C. R. & J. C. Wilson were allowed as the outcome of suits on the original claims, and the court held that they were not entitled to the two dividends which had been declared, and this amount was turned into the general fund and a dividend declared.

Announcements.
Good plays are so rare nowadays that when such a masterpiece as William Gillettes "Held by the Enemy" comes this way a word or two of praise in advance is nelther ill-timed nor ill-anvised. The piece is mucely an American drama, its situations are intensely interesting and dramatic, and its characters true to life. The fourth act can be safely classed as a perfect trumbh of the dramatist's art, the motive and action being so simple and the effects so theillingity dramatic. "Held by the Enemy" will be presented at Royd's once a house on Friday and Saturday of this week with as strong a company of actors and activasies as has ever visited this city. The sale of seats commenced this morning.
