PRUNING THE SERVICE.

The present congress should take prompt steps to provide for the retirement of a large number of army officers, who, under existing statutes, are useless encumbrances to the service.

The law has provided two lists to which the retired army officers may pass. The first, called the disability list, is limited to four hundred, and vacancies are filled from the officers selected for retirement by the various retiring boards.

The second list is for officers who are over sixty-four years of age and who on that date pass from active service into retirement on three-fourths pay.

With a view to meet the situation Senator Hawley has introduced a bill in the senate providing for the immediate retirement of all officers who have been found incapacitated for duty or may be found so until July 1, 1890.

The plan would at once relieve the army from the stagnation which at present results from having a large number of officers incapacitated for service and anxious to retire, but who cannot under the existing statutes be cared for on the retired lists.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post advises that the members of the senate finance committee, to whom the Windom silver bill will be referred, are generally favorable to the plan proposed by the secretary of the treasury.

The number of bills introduced in congress for bridges over the Missouri river indicator that several new and enterprising railroads are determined to share in the long haul of Nebraska's abundant crops.

BOSTON makes a feeble but no less successful attempt to compete with Texas in the business of train robbing. The manner of holding up the psycho citizen proves that the business is not far behind the southwest in wild and woolly cut.

THE king of Portugal proposes to convince the British government that Pinheiro's slaughter of the Makololos was in the interest of Christianity. Meanwhile Britain's "forces of civilization," in the shape of a naval fleet, are sufficiently near Lisbon to assist the youthful king in accepting Albin's view of the situation.

THE supremacy of Chicago as a grain market is rapidly waning. Instead of recovering lost ground by offering shippers the inducements of reasonable rates, the elevator and warehousemen proceeded to strangle the goose that laid the golden egg by advancing storage fees.

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.

The difficulty of forecasting the changes which the world will have in store for the United Kingdom and the European continent grows out of the fact that so much depends on the lives of individual statesmen far advanced in years.

The death of Mr. Gladstone, of France Bismarck, of Spain Crespí, and of Senor Sagasta would be the signal for a reconstruction of parties, if not of political programs in the various countries.

While the immediate prospects of Brazil are overcast, the new year opens full of promise for Peru. The arrangement at last effected with the European bondholders frees the country from the millstone of public debt.

The Pinkerton men have a steady job in holding up the state of Pennsylvania by the tail. Allison's majority in the senate is not as large as the republican majority in the legislature.
