Hankers report no change of moment in the diametal situation. There is a brisk sarket for money and prime moreantile paper is in domand. Hates are steady and firm at 8 to 10 per cent. Very much paper is effected now a days through sheer impudence on the part of secondators who generate corporations on a paper basis and when their chromes are ready for delivery are so much pleased with the appearance thereof that they imagine others likewise will be, and summoning their natural gail to their aid they present the stuff as collateral with their promissory notes for discount and are gently refused, to their apparent surprise of backers that the death of the wonderment of backers that the sent of the wonderment of backers that the sent of the wonderment of the control of the wonderment of the control of the wonderment of the control of the wonderment of the wonderment of the control of the wonderment of

The jobbing trade of the city is holding up fairly, but it is not such as could be wished. Still, in all lines there is reported a good trade and business, while not beavy, is satisfactory for the season, the bright, dry and pleasant weather being the chief drawback and cause of complaint from retailers, who find they cannot make winter goods go when spring weather necvals.

There have been flower failures this year to date than last, and those that have come were not anespected, and in several of the most important cases reported since January 1 adjustments have been made by which creditors hope to realize 65 to 70 per cont where, as first presented, not much of anything tangible appeared in sight.

Prices show to material chances. In groceries, coffees, sugar and rice, they are steady. Hope is firm at the recent advance, Camed froods are in fair domand and steady at quotations. Deugs are firm with an active demand for quinne, which is higher, and so are samplayed, morphies and the different proparations of mercury. Opium likewise is firm with an upward tundency. The shipments of rye from Russia in the last five months of 1830 were only 32,000,000 husbels, against 50,000,000 bushels as the corresponding part of 1888.

Bearbeam reports 14,500,000 bushels as the aggregate stocks of wheat and flour in the United Kingdom at the beginning of the year, against 19,488,000 bushels one year previous.

Beltish foreign trade in 1889 was the largest known. The total import and export trade was valued at 2675,677,000, nearly 25,000,000 more than the largest previous total on record, that of 1883. Imports aggregated 4347,085,000 in value, a total never surpassed. The exports aggregated 4347,085,000 in value, a total never surpassed. The exports aggregated 4288,001,009 and were only exceeded twice previously—viz.: In 1872 and 1873, when the demand succeeding the France Prussian war was heavy. Compared with 1888 the import trade showed a gain of 193, per cent, or not quite double the rate of that in exports, which was 41-6 per cont.

Saturday. Feb. 1.

The cattle market went in the sellors' direction today. The market was higher on all grades of best and vory uneven. While it was a more to sell the general advance at more total to make the general advance at more total to make the general advance at more that much make the general sellower to the sellow where cattle sold at a much make the general general sellows where eaths sold at a much my caterday. They were sold early and, as it were, on the sour of the moment, and would not perhaps have brought the same money later in the day. On the other hand, there were cattle in the yards which the sellers thought had to sell at very little more than they would have brought yesterday. In addition to the local demand of the dressed beef operators there was a good shipping demand, and the market opened earler and was more active than on many days of late. The beeves here sold at $4.3063.50. Cow stuff also sold higher, the supply being light and the dethe sales at $3.25\(\text{20}\). So. Cow stuff also solid higher, the supply being light and the de-mand fair. Some choice heights went as much fair. Some choice heights went as the supply solid solid of cows were needly at $2.00\(\text{20}\). There were a few feeders here today. There was some trading in that kind of cattle. A bunch of high grade Polled Angus sold for feeders at $3.45.

11 the hog market was active and a shade higher today. The bulk of the hogs sold at the same price as yesterday, that is at $0.00 (260.07); but the proportion of the sales at the latter price was larger and there were also more at $0.70 and a very large choice load as high as $0.75.

is generally believed to be the one. Initial trades were on a basis of 78%. The price was held with considerable firmness around 78%,0675% for quite a time. It then worked down to 78% for quite a time. It then worked at the bottom, with February quoted at 74% for the bottom, with February quoted at 74% for March at 760 and July at 76% for the corn tanket, and, for such a show moving body, remarkable activity characterized its action today. This change was due to the drop which the delivering out of about 500,000 bushels before the opening brought about. The market, however, was rips for such a docline. The One Pressing Need of Omaha's Business Organizations.

AN ANTIDOTE FOR ANTIQUITIES

The Real Estate and Building Business for the Past Week-Comparative Figures - The Bank Clearings

A Necessity Real and Pressing.

"If the business men expect Omaha to become a great city," said a well known business man, "they must organized it is the duty of each member to be present at the duty session. By doing so we encourages others, gams a personal advantage, and enhances the reputation of Omaha as a progressive vity. A Chicago board of trade man would rather lose his dinner every day than absent himself from 'change. If you sak him to stay away he will consider you an idiot. His engagements on 'change are paramount. Ten to one he will liveleyou to go along. Omaha business men can learn this lesson to great advantage. These are more especially banners, office men, builders, architects, real estate men and property owners generally. Editors, jobbers, manufecturers and corresponding lines are not expected, nor should they be required to turn out daily. Emerapencies only are necessary for them. But for the office man there can be an excase. He fails in his duty as a good citizen. Given an organization of which be should be a merebra and is not, and neglects its daily sessions, where he can gain and give knowledge, or devote his best thoughts to bus over profit and the prosperity of Omaha and does not, set him down as a sham, a drone, or an ass. He ought to go where he is needed. Omaha has no use for him. We want men are withing to make Omaha a metronoits. A man who stays in his office all day, except the noon hour, expecting others to hint him up on any but the first day of the month is a "cheatrut." He is an antiquity. He is less useful than an Egyptian mummy. The mummy teaches of the jaar and sak if this is man teaches nothing, he knows nothing, he cards not fresh ideas by coming in contuct with his follow men. He is a biank. He ought to de. Omaha will be glad to bury header of the card of the palace conspicuous by his vacancy. Look around and see those doing business on this antiquated triungle and sak if this is why raneas City, St. Paul and Minneapolis have been on organized. These man his office an

The Realty Market.

Business in real estate has been very brisk during the past week. The big transaction of the week was the sale of the N. B. Falconer property on Douglas street near Fifteenth, forty-four feet, for $75,000. The purchasers represent a Boston syndicate of capitalists who propose to levest a large amount of money in Omnha property during the coming year. The number of minor deals has been very large, the members of the Real Estate Exchange making reports of numerous sales each day. The total for the week is much less than that of the corresponding week of last yoar, in which the Fowler property in South Omsha was sold to the Omsha Packing Company for $250,000. The figures following showing the total real estate transactions and building pormits for the week and month and the corresponding period for last year:

Bay. 1859. 1890. 1899. Monday $71,302 $22,475. Thesislay $46.55 $1,596. Wednesding $20,103 $4,385. Friday $1,365 $5,728. Saturasy $1,355 $5,728.

The nermits for the mouth do not make a very flattering showing, as the weather for the first two weeks of the year was a successful bar to the concemplation of any immediate improvements. While the aggregate permits are less than for last year, they show an increase over the business of January for the two preceding years, as shown by the following figures:

He knows that there is no present domand for such a hotel and has just up those brick boxes for the accommodation of a few small dealers and will got his money out of thom before there is any demand for a hotel. Yet can rest assured that his hotel will be ready for eccupancy before the postoffice is."

It is expected that the work of damolishing the old shells that now grace or disgrace the postoffice sit will commence very soon, as the appraisonents are practically disposed of and the money for the property is expected to be disbursed some time during the result of the oldest hotels in the state of the commence of the oldest hotels in the state of the commence of the oldest hotels in the state. The facility is succeeded to be disbursed some time during the month.

The new Delione hotel, at the corner of Fourteesth and Capitol avaina, is marrly completed and will be a very hundsome hotelers. A prominent and well known hotel man from Springfield, Ill, has an option on the place and will probably open it as a first class European hotel about the lat of April.

Johnson Brothers have taken full advantage of the fine building weather—and some that hasn't been so fine—and are working all available forces on the Ames buildings, at the corner of Sixteenth and Farnam and at Eleventh and Harony. The buildings have been partially enclosed on that work may be carried on even in the coldest weather.

Work on the city hall has been temporarily suspended. Contractor Cools has a good start, and with any sert of link will succeed in having the building resaly for the finish received in the processing of the present year.

Almost every property owner on Sixteenth street, from Dodge to Casa, is figuring on some kind of improvement in keeping with the new postoffice, and as soon as that structure is started an immense amount of building on Sixteenth street will follow.

The Sixteenth street will follow.
