GASOLINE STOVES REVOLUTIONIZED

BY THE NEW PROCESS.

The greatest discovery of the 19th century. No more smoke, no more trouble. The moment you turn on the gasoline, that moment the gas is ready, the same as though the stove had been running for hours. It will pay any one to only see this great invention. No housewife can get along without one after using it for one month. Stoves will be shipped to anyone who desires them throughout the State of Nebraska.

THE RECEPTION OF THE SEASON

Luncheons and High-Five Atternate in Chasing the Flying Hours-Movements of Society's Votaries-Local Gossip.

Lent is coming on apace with its show of ashes and repentance and time to spare for things left undone during the winter. The good resolves of the new year are worn out or forgotten long since and Ash Wednesnay will offer an occasion for another soul's wash day for the women in society. Even if a deep religious fervor does not hold and austain them they have an amount of precious time not covered with the woof and warp of engagements, to use or abuse.

The flying heels, the joy-finished chocks, the diamoid shoulders have had their day, why not give the brains a chance body and conscience-crowled heart be a foust for thought and the mind, let ressen detirene folls for his bonner and, the result will be a finished the single properties of the sound and the result will be a finished the single properties of the sound in the result will be a finished the transport of the dance and all the delightful intoxicating things that go to make up the season.

their greecful training green and the beaters and doep withdow soats wore filled and banked with temsamis and parti-colored. The supper was arranged in the billiard from with one long table and round and half-round ones about the sides of it close to the walls.

Hosses in all their enchanting variety, in a continuous stratch on the main table, held the eyes with delighted admiration being arranged in group after group of beauty. The salads and ices arranged in flower forms were aimost as attractive as the real posites. The menu was varied and inviting and the portice was so good as to do away aimost solirely with the bothersone pushing and crowding that detracts so much from the planaure of large outertainment.

A WEEK WITH WAGE-WORKERS

Short Talk With President Hannon of the Plumbers' Union.

VISIT TO THE ELECTRIC LINEMEN.

New Feature of Omaha Cornice Manufacturing—News and Notes of the Various Unions and Labor Organizations.

A Talk wish Hannon.

President Hannon of the National plumbers' association is a jound sontleman as well as being a thorough plumber and an educated mechanic.

He likes commany and he likes to talk. In fact, he is a splendid presiding officer.

Durang his visit to Omaha he made many friends, who would be pleased to have him return. The master plumbers treated their week, and the convention proved a decidedly satisfactory success.

Mr. Hannon was seen by a reporter and asked in regard to the ignoral condition of labor, and particularly in regard to the plumbers.

"It has been a bad winter for plumbers," said Mr. Hannon. "The weather has been unfavorable, the harvest is im and the profit less than half it was one year not, estimating from a national standpoint. But the good part about the condition of affairs is that harmony prevails on every hand. There is no strife among the men or bossess and no trouble whatever is anticipated."
