

THE CITY.

John Riskey, editor and proprietor of the Polk and Zapadu Printing Company, the consideration being $10,000.

General E. F. Test has received official notice of his appointment as a special census agent for Nebraska. His work will consist in the compilation of Nebraska mortgage statistics.

James Wright and George Horton were arrested while trying to sell three pairs of new pants in a saloon. The goods are supposed to be stolen property. Both the men have been in jail before.

It was stated in real estate circles yesterday that Judge Neville will start east in a few days, presumably for Washington. His object is said to be in line with his plans to erect a large building in this city.

Some cotton baling in a dry goods store at 265 Eleventh street was discovered to be on fire about 7 o'clock Monday evening. The fire was extinguished before much damage was done. The chemical engine was the only apparatus used.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the German American Savings bank, Saturday afternoon, the following directors were elected for the ensuing year: Charles Kaufman, Theodore Oleson, J. F. Helon.

So few members of the Pennsylvania society turned out Monday night that it was decided not to transact any business. It was reported that full arrangements had been made for a social Thursday evening at 1315 Capitol avenue. The society then adjourned to meet at the same place next Monday night.

The city clerk's office is being repainted and repaired. The removal of the dust of ages from the walls and ceilings of the room has rendered the office almost unrecognizable. The city engineer's office will also be renovated. Panel windows will be placed in the outside door, leading into the office, thus affording more light.

Personal Paragraphs. George Lowry of Lincoln is at the Murray. J. L. Robson of Chanpelle is a guest of the Casey.

J. W. Meyers of Sidney is stopping at the Casey. A. E. Atkin of Kearney is stopping at the Paxton.

F. H. Pinney of Fullerton is a guest at the Millard. N. T. Cook of Fremont is a guest at the Millard.

A. J. Metcalf of Kearney is stopping at the Merchants. Charles B. Rice of Steele is registered at the Casey.

J. W. Holmes of Kearney is stopping at the Paxton. E. J. Cosana of Hartington is registered at the Millard.

F. L. Burrill of Fremont is stopping at the Millard. William Waring of Falls City is a guest at the Millard.

Charles E. Hamaker of Beatrice is a guest at the Merchants. Miss Linton of Lincoln is among the guests of the Paxton.

Mayor H. P. Waggoner of Atchison, Kan., is a guest at the Paxton. Charles A. Wiebe and C. N. Ray of Grand Island are guests at the Murray.

A. Wanner of the Western Newspaper union returned from Central, Wyo., yesterday. Mrs. Dan H. Porter and children of Sundance, Wyo., called at the Paxton building yesterday.

B. S. Field left Monday on a business and pleasure trip in the manufacturing centers of the east. Governor Thayer was in the city for an hour last evening, on his way to Plattsmouth to attend the reunion of the First Nebraska regiment, which he led to the front in the days of the rebellion.

Sergeant Kinswater's New Watch. Sergeant C. C. Kinswater, company K, Second United States infantry, of Fort Omaha, who has been drilling company I, Iowa National guards, of Hull, Sioux county, for a few weeks, was made the recipient of a fine gold watch by those under his tutelage. Lieutenant Henry made the presentation speech.

Marriage Licenses. Licenses were issued yesterday to the following parties by Judge Shields: Name and Residence. Age. William T. Mason, Omaha, 30. Eva A. Fox, Omaha, 19. Mathias Kalsbeier, Omaha, 37. Maria Anderson, Omaha, 37. Frank Martzhan, South Omaha, 25. Annie Heegstedt, South Omaha, 24.

Illegals. Jack Goughan, a tough who has given the police more or less trouble, was before Judge Heasley on the charge of lilying. He had but little defense for himself, but on the promise that he would give up Omaha inside of an hour a sentence of forty days was suspended. Mike Kearns, another tough, who has been previously tried for robbery, was committed for twenty days.

School Matters. The committee on buildings and property from the board of education held a brief session to discuss certain grades and improvements in the interest of school property which will be brought before the city council. Suggestions were made by each member. Superintendent James recommended many improvements which the board will consider at a general meeting of architects followed, but no definite action was taken.

Children's Street Car Tickets. A great many people are complaining that they cannot secure children's tickets on the cable and motor cars and suppose that they are no longer sold. Even so, the stockholders of the street railway company are paying the regular fare of 5 cents for their children, being unaware of the fact that they can secure tickets at reduced rates. The company is unable to secure children's tickets from the conductors, they can find them at the headquarters of the company at the cable power house on Twentieth and Corn streets. But the conductors will soon be supplied with the required tickets.

Orders for Pa'ti Tickets. The mails yesterday brought Manager Boyd a very large number of orders from outside parties for seats at the Patti performance next evening. This there are a great many coming to see the opera. "The Barber of Seville," in which Mme. Patti appears, will draw the great majority of strangers. The opera will be performed on arrangements and returns home that evening. The seats covering both the grand and balcony are being made up to hold the coming trains, and thus save hotel bills. The seats covering both the grand and balcony are being made up to hold the coming trains, and thus save hotel bills. The seats covering both the grand and balcony are being made up to hold the coming trains, and thus save hotel bills.

Put on the Brakes. If you find you are going down hill in point of health. Failing strength, impaired digestion and assimilation are the marks of declining vitality. Check these and other indications of premature decay with the grand vitality and restraining tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Beginning at the fountain head, the stomach, the bitters remedies its inefficiency, corrects its errors, and sets it vigorously at work. The digestive organs is thus enabled to thoroughly separate from the food its nutritive principles, which the blood assimilating, is enriched. Thus is the system nourished, and being nourished strength, and abnormal waste of its tissues ceases. Anemia, the source of all ailments, a regular habit are also re-established, and the various functions now operate more in their natural and healthful groove. The bitters, moreover, is a specific for and prevention of malarial complaints, rheumatism, biliousness and kidney troubles.

A PROLONGED DEBAUCH.

It Costs an Oklahoma Postmaster Much Money. "I want a warrant for the arrest of my husband," said a well-dressed, pretty female, as she hastily entered the police court room Monday evening. "I know right where he can be found if you will send an officer at once."

"What is the charge, madam?" asked Judge Heasley, who was at that hour preparing to leave his court. "He is drunk and disorderly, and has neglected me for more than a week. His name is J. S. Manning."

The woman is the same one who, a few days ago, asked for police assistance in finding her husband who, she said, was somewhere in Okla. Manning is a postmaster and has a lumber yard at Guthrie, Oklahoma territory. The warrant was issued and the constable Manning had been arrested and fined $4.50. He paid.

The woman was stopping at the Metropolitan hotel, but was put out both for cause, although she had paid for her room. While Manning was at the central police station the detectives supposed that they had caught a bad man and accordingly put him into the sweat box, stripped and searched him and took an accurate description of him. Among other things found was his postmaster's commission from Washington.

Manning's wife is an invalid and lives in Des Moines, Ia. When he left for Oklahoma at the time of the boom she was not able to accompany him. Now he is returning from Chicago, where he attended a national convention of lumbermen. This woman who claims to be his wife is only a common creature who got into a car with Manning in the old Buckingham theater in this city. The arrangement was that the woman should receive the money which Manning won over into Iowa and visited his relations. Upon his return, through the woman he formed the acquaintance of "Reddy" O'Neill, Ed Miller, Ed Hootery, Jimmie O'Donnell and others. Manning went on a drunk walk and lost $400 in a few days.

The gang occupied so much of Manning's time that he was unable to attend to his business. He was arrested and searched, but no money was found. He was released on $1000 bail, and almost as early as the other tramps.

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

THE RAILROAD BUDGET.

A Variety of Interesting and Important News. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul officials had expected to change their time-table next Saturday, but General Agent Nash induced them to abandon the idea. They seemed to think that it would be necessary in order to compete with the Union Pacific-Northwestern's through vestibule train, which will leave here for Chicago at 4:45 p. m. Mr. Nash, however, argued differently, and so effectively that they took his advice and will leave matters stand just as they are. He contends that the Milwaukee train will secure more business by making its departure from here as late as possible so as to catch east-bound travelers who arrive from western points on the afternoon trains and want three or four hours in Chicago, which is the case with a large majority of them.

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

"It is nonsense," says Mr. Nash, "to suppose that anybody already on the Union Pacific-Northwestern train line in Chicago, would change cars at this point for the sake of riding on some exclusive road. For the Union Pacific to hold our train until 6 o'clock. Then it arrives in Chicago at 9:30 the next morning, and the passengers are almost as early as the other tramps."

Indigestion

It is not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lako, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla, I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price 25 cents a bottle. Sold everywhere.

Foot Belts for Motors. The managers of the street railway company are attempting to fix up some sort of a combination by which the motor can ring the bells on the front of the cars with their feet. It is necessary that the motor keep one hand constantly on the switch bar and the other on the brake, and the necessity of removing either hand to ring the bell at crossings, or when emergencies arise, occasions much delay.

An experiment is being made with motor car No. 2, whereby the motor rings the alarm by simply pressing on a lever with his foot. The bell, however, in this case has to be placed under the car and the sound is somewhat muffled. It has been suggested that if the bell were placed on the front of the car it could be easily manipulated with some simple contrivance worked by the foot and the sound would be as clear as it is at present from the bells on the top of the cars.

A Cure for Rheumatism. They know how to cure rheumatism in Pennsylvania. Mr. J. F. Meighan, a Pittsburg cigar dealer, awoke one morning with an attack of rheumatism in his right arm. Working around the store during the forenoon made it worse. By noon the pain was so severe that he could not raise his hand to his head and could not carry his arm in a sling. One of his customers, on learning the facts, went across the street to E. E. Heck's drug store, and at his own expense procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and persuaded the cigar dealer to try it. It eased the pain and the rheumatism soon disappeared. The next morning he could use his arm, and by the second morning was entirely well. This is only one of the many severe cases of rheumatism that have been cured by this valuable remedy. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by all druggists.

Two more farmed chickens have been turned in by the police, and young Fred Copeland is suspected of doing the job again. One of them was for $2.25, drawn on the Nebraska National bank in favor of R. S. Kimball and named "Omaha Hardware Co." The other was for $1.00, drawn on the same bank in favor of C. A. Arverson and named "Richardson Drug Co." The amount is $3.25. Both the chickens were turned in on a legal holiday.

Dr. Hinghwaout, one of the best dentists in the west, extracts teeth without pain, insensibly, without the use of any anesthetic, and without the slightest risk. Clean and strong, 1500 Douglas, Omaha.

Returned to Omaha. Madam Blanch, the lady mind reader who has been about on business for a few days, returned last night. She can now be consulted with confidence on all things pertaining to the future by calling at her parlors, 322 North Sixteenth street, between the old and station property; absent friends is a specialty.

Supervisor's Estrogens. An arrangement is being perfected for a meeting at Superior on Saturday in the interest of a proposed extension of the B. & M. from that point to 130th City, Kan., a distance of 90 miles.

The proposed meeting is the result of an agitation of the subject by the superior board of trade. The members of the Kansas immigration society who were in Omaha several weeks ago were so favorably impressed with the city that they have returned to their homes and are to be touched by the projected line are heartily in favor of it as furnishing them an outlet to the Omaha market.

A call has been made for a meeting of delegates from all of the towns situated at Superior, on Saturday, March 1. Those who live in the country will send a delegation of a dozen members.

AN EATING SORE. Henderson, Tex., Aug. 23, 1890.—"For eighteen months I had an eating sore on my tongue. I was treated by the best local physicians, but obtained no relief; the sore gradually growing worse. I could not eat or sleep, and was entirely cured after using a few bottles. You have my cheerful permission to publish the above statement for the benefit of those similarly afflicted." C. B. McKinnon, Henderson, Tex. Sold by R. C. McKinnon, Henderson, Tex.

W. BAKER & CO'S Breakfast Cocoa. It is absolutely pure and it is soluble. No chemicals are used in its preparation. It has more than 200 years of experience and is the most economical, pure and healthful food ever prepared. It is sold by all grocers and druggists. Sold by Grocers everywhere.

A New Time Table. A new time table goes into effect next Sunday on the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley road. The only change made, however, is in the departure from Omaha of the York, Lincoln and Valley road, which now leaves now at 6:10 p. m. Under the new arrangement, it will leave at 5:45 p. m.

A New Line to be Opened. Next Monday the Union Pacific will open for business the new extension of the

Indigestion

It is not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lako, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla, I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties.