An Exhibition of Muscle.

The classes of the Young Men's Christian association gymnasium are arranging for an athletic and acrobatic exhibition to be given at the opera house Friday evening, April 11. The programme will also include vocal and instrumental music, and the entertainment will undoubtedly prove Interesting. A simitar exhibition was given two years ago, at the close of the first season of the "gym," and was a great success. It is desired to purchase additional apparatus, and it will re-quire about $150 to make the desired purchases. There should be no difficulty in realizing this amount from the entertainment. There are now over two hundred pupils in the various classes, and about seventy five of these will take part in the

IN AND ABOUT THE BLUFFS.

Public Interest Increases in the Helmick Murder Trial.

WILL CLOSE UP THE GAMBLERS.

The Murphy Temperance Meetings-The Gymnasium Pupi's-The Boat Cinb Wak is up-General and Personal.

The Egg-Throwing Tragedy. The third day's trial of the Helmick murder case, as it is called, drew a larger audience than on either of the preceding days. There was even some demand for standing room. Inside the bar there appeared for the first time Mrs. Palmer, the widow of the man whom the defendant killed, and her mother, Mrs. Porter. Both were dressed in deep mourning. Next to them were seated Rev. Mr. Helmick and his family. A large number of ladies were also inside the railing and several of the prominent clergymen of the city. Much interest was manifest, especially in the cross-examination of those witnesses for the state who admitted that they were members of the gang which was bent on assaulting the preacher and thus getting even for his interference in the wooing of Palmer and in uttering from the pulpit scathing criticisms of Sunday baseball and every day saloons.

The first witness yesterday was a young man named Sweeney. He was one of the gang that went to Helmick's house for the purpose of egging him. He claimed that so far as he knew, the only purposa was to throw eggs, and that there was no idea of doing bodily harm. None of the party had weened every eggs, as he knew. weapons, except eggs, so far as he knew. They might have had them, though. He joined the gang at the solicitation of Palmer. who, according to all the witnesses, seemed to be the ringleader. Sweeney had been tending bar and playing baseball. He had heard that Rev. Mr. Helmick had said that heard that Rev. Mr. Helmick had said that no one of any decency would engage in baseball on Sunday and had made other uncomplimentary remarks in a sermon one Sunday night. Such remarks had aroused the indignation of some of the boys, but the witness denied that it had led him to make threats against Helmick. He admitted that he had repeated a remark made by one of the other boys that if Helmick made any more such statements in his sermon he would get such statements in his sermon he would get a lively shaking up. The witness denied originating this statement, or endorsing it, but simply that he told someone else that an-other of the boys said this. Young Sweeney other of the boys said this. Young Sweeney testified that shortly before the party went to the house to egg Helmick, the day of the shooting, he was warned by City Marshal Sells not to go. Sells asked him if the boys were going to egg Helmick that night, and said that if they did it would be the worst thing they ever did. He communicated the warning to the other boys, but they went just the same. He was afraid there was going to be trouble, and so made different excuses to get away. He went to the church excuses to get away. He went to the church to see if He'mick was there, he not being at nome, and afterwards went down town to see if he could find out about him, leaving the other boys watching at the house. The eggs were provided by Palmer, and divided up among the gang, each having about six.

The great interest of the day centered in the examination of Dave Oliver, who was with Palmer in Helmick's barn when the shooting occurred. Oliver is a low-browed, coarse-featured, sulky acting sort of fellow, whose appearance in the witness stand was by no means a favorable exhibit for the state, if he was a fair sample of the material which made up the egg throwing surprise party. He was at first much embarrassed at being called upon to speak before so large an audience on so delicate a subject. As he ocaudience on so delicate a subject. As he oc-cupied the chair most of the day he got a lit-tle used to it, and so far recovered his au-dacity as to be able occasionally to give a pert answer to some distasteful cross-ques-tion. For the most part he answered with such a low numble that he had to be con-stantly admonished of the danger he was causing to the outstretched necks of the jurymen who were trying to catch his words, He also had a far-away look aimed at the opposite side of the room. His memory was as bad as his mumbling, and in the hands of Attorney Sims, who cross-examined him sharply, he seemed to be undergoing a massage and sweat treat-ment. Officer testified that he went with Palmer to Helmick's barn to get the horse. While there Helmick returned, and shouted, "Get out of my barn." Palmer jumped out of the door and threw something. He sup-posed it was an egg. It was so dark that he could not distinguish Helmick except by his voice. Helmick fired and Palmer jumped back into the parn. Helmick told them to come out and he would not shoot. They hurried out and joined the other fellows in the street, and then they went down town. Oliver hurried out of Neola, going to Avoca, but returned in a day or three they have a street.

but returned in a day or two. Jim Hardman, a teamster, was the next witness. He lived in the same block as Helmick, right across the alley from the Helmick, right across the alley from the barn. He was in his yard, heard the shot and after the shot heard Helmick say, "Get out of my barn." He hurried to Helmick's barn with another man, who was visiting at his house, and was soon joined by another neighbor. He disagreed from the offer witnesses in the order of the shot and the shout and also in regard to the darkness of the night. The state has a theory that it the night. The state has a theory that it was not so dark but that Helmick distinguished Palmer before he shot, and shot because of the animosity between them. The defense had shown from the state's own witnesses that a man could not distinguish another more than a few feet away. Hard-man made the distance thirty feet, in his opinion. On cross-examination an attempt was made to get the witness to admit that he had an animosity against Helmick because he thought that Helmick suspected him of having stolen grain from this very barn. The witness denied this stoutly, and denied having made any threats.

Dr. Harvey was called to testify as to the

The Murphy Meetings. A full house and happy minded audience greeted Francis Murphy at Masonic temple last evening. The early part of the meeting was interspersed with songs by the choir and Mrs. Snyder of Creston, Ia., speeches by Rev. Snyder of Creaton, Rev. G. W. Crofts, Mr. Hayden and Mr. Huobard of this city-a neat plan of Mr. Murphy s to distribute the verbiage of the evening. The remarks of Mr. Murphy turned the thought to the hopeful outlook of a world growing better. His touching allusion to the death of young Abraham Lincoln yester day in London awakened the remembrance of that great grief that swept the land when the great Abraham Lincoln's life went out. He said no soil on earth but America could produce such a man. And then he paid tribute to the men of the west, for out of the west were to come the great men of the future. He described the orphaned family future. He described the orphaned family and the mother taking up the burden of the whole family; then the boy working his way through college, to be placed at the head of it; then sent to the legislature, to congress, to the senate and finally to be taken by the people and placed in the highest office in the gift of the people, yet in the crowning glory of that hour he places the chaplet of honor upon the mother's brow and the kiss of love on the mother's lip.

These meetings will close next Sunday night. Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock Mr.

Murphy will hold a meeting at Masonic tem-ple for s.en only. The meetings are held each evening and are free to all. The water runs when Bixby plumbs.

State Banks Must Report. LINCOLN, Neb., March 5 .- Special to THE BEE j-Auditor Benton has made a call on all state banks to make a report to the banking department showing their standing at the close of business February 28, 1890. This call is made in pursuance of the banking ing act passd at the mat session of the legis lature, which provides that the auditor shall call for three such reports at some past date during the year. The last call was made for October 31, and it is confidently expected that the coming report will show the banks of the state in much better condition than at any previous time.

FEATHERSTONE IS SEATED.

Hill of lilinois Cast the Only Republican Vote Against the Contestant -An Exciting Time in the House.

Senate. Washington, March 5 .- In the senate today the bill increasing the pension of the widow of General Warren was taken up and on the question of passage the vote wasyeas, 19; nays, 6. As there was no quorum voting there was a call of the senate, when thirty-six senators, less than a quorum, answered. Thereupon a motion by Mr. Platt directing the sergeant-at-arms to request the attendance of the absent senators was agreed to. After some minutes the presiding officer (Ingalls) informed the senate that the ser agant-at-arms had just reported that there were twenty-two senators in the restaurant; they had been all notified to attend and they had declined to do so. In a few minutes however, several disobedient senators en tered and explained that they were discussing the merits of two Columbia river salmon, weighing between thirty-five and forty pounds each, which had been shipped to Colonel Montgomery of Portland, Ore, who was visiting Washington, and by him served up for the delectation of his friends in the upper house,

The chair announced that as there was quorum now present and as 2 o'clock had arrived the educational bill was before the senate as unfinished business and the Warren pension bill would remain on the calendar.

Mr. Barbour addressed the senate in advocacy of the educational bill, and Mr. Plumb made an address in opposition to the House. WASHINGTON, March 5 .- In the house today the consideration of the Arkansas election case of Featherstone vs Cate was resumed and the contestee was accorded the floor to speak in his own behalf.

Mr. McRae of Arkansas in a four-minute speech defended and eulogized the people of his state.

Mr. Houks of &Tennessee, who has charge of the case for the majority of the committee on elections, made a presentation of the claims of the contestant. In conclu-sion Mr. Houk urged that the colored people sion Mr. Houk urged that the colored people of the south should be given a fair chance. "No man can hold a seat on this floer who was returned by means of rifles, clubs and fraudulent ballot boxes." He was in favor of a national election law. At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Houk demanded the previous question.

Mr. Hill of Illinois (rep.), who is supposed to be opposed to the claims of Featherstone, rose and asked unanimous consent to address the house. There was a good deal of dress the house. There was a good deal of dress the house. There was a good deal of excitement exhibited during the roll call, and the vote was very close. It resulted—Yeas, 145; nays, 141. So the previous question was ordered,

Mr. Outhwaite then offered as a substitute for the first resolution reported by the majority, declaring Cate not entitled to his seat, a resolution declaring Featherstone not entitled to it. Rejected—Yeas, 138; nays, 144, Mr. Hill of Illinois voting with the democrats. Mr. Springer moved to recommit the case to the committee on elections with instructions to the sub-committee to proceed to Ar-kansas to investigate the election in the First district of the state. Mr. Boutelle suggested the propriety of a provision that the members of the committee be permitted to return to Washington

Mr. Springer's motion was defeatedyeas, 136, mays, 146. During roll call a great deal of confusion existed. Mr. Outhwaite, calling the speaker's attention to the fact that order

Mr. Speaker-The house will be in order. The gentlemen will take their seats and cease conversation. Mr. Crisp, who was standing in one of the aisles, objected to being pointed out.

Mr. Speaker-The chair did not point out he gentleman. After a heated argument between the speaker and Mr. Crisp, the latter said; "The only point I desire to make is that the speaker goes too far when after be has obtained order and a gentleman is attempting to find his seat, business is suspended and an individual member pointed out in this Mr. Speaker-The chair does not think any gentleman ought to consider himself any exception to the request made by the speaker that the gentlemen should take their seats.

The vote declaring Cate not elected was yeas, 147; nays, 138; and Featherstone was seated by—yeas, 145; nays, 135, and the oath of office was administered to him by the speaker. Adjourned.

Nominations. WASHINGTON, March 5 .- The president today sent to the senate the following nominations: Isaac Clements of Illinois to be peusion agent at Chicago, William T. "Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred diseases, there is none, within the range of my experience, so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About four years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel comparatively secure."

— Mrs. L. L. Brown, Denmark, Miss.

"A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continual use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected."—Horace Fairbrother, Rockingham, Vt.
