Immediately after the adjournment he telegraphed to the general passenger offices of the Trans-Missouri association as curious and melancholy a circulat as a helpless representative of an organiza-tion which finds itself unable to accomplish the objects of its existence could indite. It didn't say so in so many words, but it meant "Hoys, some of you have broken your agreement and have cut rates. I am power-less to do anything about it. Go as you please and cut all you want to."

This circular related that whereas certain lines in the association had, contrary to their nerement, announced without authority of the association a rate of $10 between the Missouri river and Pueblo, Denver and Col-orado Springs, effective March 8 (Missouri Pacific), 10 (Rock Island), and 11 (Santa Fei respectively; and whereas, these same lines had likewise announced or actually begun the unauthorized sale of tickets from association points on the basis of the $5 rate between the Missouri river and Chicago. Therefore, all lines in the agreement are authorized to sell tickets from association points to the east as the basis of the $5 rate commerce commission of their intertion so to sell, as the Trans-Missouri association will on the 13th make effective a rate sheet in accordance with this notification. These rates take effect today and every office in town has prepared claborate cards which will be posted in the windows before 6 o'clock. A Husband Doubted.

Mrs. Joseph Schultz was missed from her home in Columbus, this state, about ten days ago. Her husband explained that she had gone to Omaha to visit an uncle who lived at 1308 South Thirteenth street. The neighbors are doubtful of this story and have written to Chief Seavey to ascertain if the woman is in the city. Foul play is suspected.

A BEE reporter called at the above number. The first floor is occupied by a butcher; overhead Mr. and Mrs. Schnectenberger live. Mrs. Schnectenberger is a midwife. She was asked about Mrs. Schultz, but pleaded ignorance, and claimed to know nothing of her. It was learned, however, that a strange woman has been rooming at her house for the last ten days, and persons who have seen the woman say that she answers to the de-scription of Mrs. Schultz. The police will investigate the matter today.

THE HOSPITAL BONANZA.

The Fat Plum the Contractors Will Have With Extras.

An effort will be made to have Superineast Sunday night. tendents Coots and Shane go over the work at the new county hospital at once for the purpose of making their report to the meeting of the commissioners on Friday on the bill of extras submitted by Contractors Ryan & Walsh. The two superintendents, while not required to do this work, have agreed to do it, Mr. Coots readily, and Mr. Shane after some hesitation, as he said there would almost necessarily be some hard feelings created by the difference of opinion that exists between the contractors and the superintendents as to the value of the extra work performed. Ed. Walsh, one of the contractors, in speaking of the proposed examination of the work by the two superintendents, said: "It is only proper that the commissioners should have the work examined by their representatives. While we are not bound by the report of the superintendents, I am satisfied that Mr. Shane will fairly estimate our claims. I would not be willing to have Mr. Coots pass upon them alone, however, Mr. Coots pass upon them alone, how because he is known to be against us."

One of the county commissioners esti-mates that Ryan and Walsh will clear at least $30,000 on the contract for the hosipital even if they don't get a penny of their huge bill of extras. "They made," ho says, "over $2,000 on the unstering $1,000 on the stone work on the plastering, $2,000 on the stone work and $1,000 on the painting, by sibietting the work and bringing it that much under the estimate on which they received the con-tract. Then they must have made $5,000 or $4,000 on the iron work, as the commission-ers' estimate was a very libe al one. But their big pull was on the brick work. They will get paid for fully six million brick at $11 per thousand. They made the brick on the grounds and put them in the walls at $7 a thousand or here in the walls at $7 a thousand or less, leaving them a clear profit of $4 on each thousand brick or $24,000 on the job. If the contractors carry their grievances into court, as is now threatened, it will be shown. I predict, that they had a rich thing in their contract."
