The board of public works has received the ordinance directing it to advertise for bids for paving and curbing all the streets in the city not already paved and curbed, and will at once advertise for such bids. The county assessors met at the county commissioners' room yesterday afternoon for instruction and consultation. Messrs. Wheeler and Shriver of the council, and Mr. Berlin of the commissioners made short speeches.

Frank Devine, a character well known to the police who is now serving a twenty days' sentence, is wanted at Valentine for horse stealing. He will be turned over to the Valentine authorities as soon as he has served his sentence here.

The firemen were called to the gas department of the Omaha smelting works at 9 o'clock yesterday, but the damage was slight. Through carelessness hot ashes had been thrown up against a frame structure which caught fire. The loss will not exceed $50.

R. H. Butcher, the traveling salesman for the Consolidated coffee company, who died at Fremont yesterday morning, has been on the road for the past twelve years, and with his present employers for four years. He was an unmarried man and was thirty-eight years of age. His remains will be sent to his old nome in Virginia for burial.

Out of the Race.

Mr. Ralph Breckenridge has written a letter to Senator Manderson withdrawing his candidacy for the office of assistant district attorney. "I have listened to advice," he said, "and have come to the conclusion that my business interests will be best subserved if I let the other fellows chase after polit-ical honors while I saw wood."

They Broke Up the Dance. F. W. Green reported to Chief Seavey yesterday that Henry Martin, Jack Croft and William Sweency attempted to break up a party at Mrs. Lina Heply's home at Thir-teenth and Corby streets Monday night. The fellows refused to pay the charge of 25 fellows refused to pay the charge of 25 cents, and after having been put out disturbed the peace of the respectable people who were inside. Warrants will be issued for the arrest of the men mentioned.

The Value of School Buildings. Secretary Piper and Superintendent of School Buildings Welley, by order of the board of education, will start out in a few days and ascertain the value of each school building in the district at the present time, as well as the amount of insurance carried. A meeting of the committee of the board of trade on the relief of the South Dakota sufferers was called for 9 o'clock yesterday morning, but only the chairman was present. He adjourned himself and the others were notified to meet at 12. At that hour the only person in the room was Rev. J. R. Crum, a Presbyterian minister of Dunmeith, N. D., who came prepared to testify that the farmers of his locality are on the verge of starva-tion. He will apply to the real estate ex-change for help in his work.

Scheme for Saving Them. The finance committee of the board of education, at a meeting Monday night reported favorably on a system whereby the pupils in the public schools can place their little savings in a bank. There were only propositions from two banks, the Dime Savings and the Globe loan and trust banks. The matter has been referred to a committee, which must seject one of the two named.

The object of the scheme is to give the children an opportunity to save their "pin" and "candy" money, and still have children an opportunity to save their "pin" and "candy" money, and still have a bank account. The bank selected by the committee will furnish deposit books and whatever necessary stationery is required for the pupils. They will also send a collector once each week to all of the schools and gather in the small amounts from the little ones. Each deposit will be carefully noted on a book and handed over to the teacher in charge of the room.

The affair looks small on the face of it, but in Lincoln last year over $2.000 was deposited by the pupils in the public schools, it is estimated that in Omaha it will reach $5,000.

The matter will be reported on at the next

PARKS CAN'T BE BOUGHT.

Handicapped Commissioners Have to Rely Upon Donations. Dr. Miller of the park commission, says that most of the people are laboring under a misapprehension concerning the powers of the commission in regard to the purchase of parks. "The only power we have," said he, "is to spend money in the improvement of parks, and we are prohibited by the wording of the laws to spend a cent in any other way. The commissioners cannot buy a foot of ground or even expend money to put a sidewalk around a park. We, of course, deeply regret this fact as now is the time for Omaha to buy the ground for her future

"We hear the questions frequently, 'Why don't the park commission buy extensive grounds for parks?' 'Why don't they buy a tract of 200, 300 or 500 acres, instead of ac-cepting small tracts that are offered here

"Nothing would please us better than to be allowed to purchase such tracts and commercially it would be a great investment for the city. Now is the time to buy such lands while the city is young and outside property can be purchased at low figures. New York city has saved herself $10,000,000 by purchasing land for parks at the proper time.

If I had my way I would purchase [1,000 acres, and when Omaha gets a population of 400,000, which she is sure to have inside of twenty-five years, the wisdom of such an investment would be shown, although it might be ridiculed now as being wild. Property contiguous to parks always enhances in value. The citizens of Philadelphia showed their wisdom in pur-chasing grounds for parks at the proper time, and the saving of money in purchas-ing at that time, and the increase in taxes on the property near by has made a material difference in the city's wealth. "We are glad to accept ground for parks as this is all that we can do at present. But the offers do not come very fast. In Manaeapolis the property owners have to fairly beg the city to accept their proffers as the park commissioners there have already more than they can han-

"But the thing that would please us the most now," continued Dr. Miller, "would be to have the persons owning property along the line of the proposed boulevard to pursue a liberal policy that will be an advantage to them in every form by giving us the rightof-way. Most of the citizens along the pro-posed route have been liberal, and I notice the persons owning the most valuable propthe persons owning the most valuable property have been the most generous, while small property owners have pursued an obstruction policy. All we ask this season is sufficient ground to start the boulevard at the northeast and southeast portions of the city. The boulevard need not be paved, as a dirt road would be better for fast driving provided it is kept in good shape.

The Lowe's addition public improvement club, which with the South Side citizen's association, is taking an active interest in the distribution of the fund for improvements for the coming season, has entered a protest against the proposed, even temporary, payment of the viaduct damages out of the general fund. At a largely attended meeting of the club Monday night the following was unanimously adopted:

that we protest as taxpayers against the

"Later On," J. Gratton Donnelly's latest nusical farce comedy, will be presented at Boyd's opera house on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week by the popular comedians, Hallen and Hart. The company supporting the stars is a very able one, comprising some of the best known people in this line of business. Mr. Harry Hine, manager of "Later On," is in the city.

Already many inquiries are being made regarding the engagement of the Emma Juch English grand opera company, which appears at Boyd's opera house on Monday evening, March 31, in Gounod's opera of "Faust." Emma Juch will appear in her peerless character of "Marguerite."

Some funny things happen on the stage. During the rehearsal of Bronson Howard's "Shenandoah," before the production of the play, the gentleman who was cast to play Captain Thornton, the confederate officer, in going through a scene in which he is placed under arrest by two union soldiers, took occasion to say to the men, who, he supposed, were ordinary everyday "supers," that they were to take hold of him so and so, and "now" he said, "be sure when the order of many legislations. him so and so, and "now" he said, "be sure when the order of march is given to put forward your right foot." The men made no reply, but a day or so later, the actor's breath fell two feet when he was informed that the men who figured with him in the arrest scene were United States regulars, twenty of whom were from the Brooklyn navy yards, appearing nightly in "Shenandoah." The beauty of having genuine solders in a military play is manifest in the smoothness and accuracy of all the marching scenes of "Shenandoah," which will be presented at Boyd's opera house for three nights and a matinee, commencing Thursday nights and a matinee, commencing Thursday evening.
